

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 252

Chapter 252 The voice made Gregory inexplicably feel a tinge of fear , Yeyes , this is Gregory He cleared his throat , trying to keep his rone as normal as possible .

But inside , he was panicking Who could this be , calling him with such a tone at a time like this ? A business partner ? No way that wasnt possible anymore .

He didnt have any partners left .

Could it be someone coming to collect debts ? But it wasnt time for repayments yet .

While Gregory was overthinking , the man on the other end spoke again .

Hello , Im Mr.

Byron Beaumonts assistant Byron Beaumont ? Gregory froze , searching his memory for the name .

Suddenly , he was shocked , From Harrowfell ? Yes , thats correct .

Im Byrons assistant , and my last name is also Beaumont .

The calm and steady voice reached Gregorys ears , making his heart pound .

Byrons assistant calling him ? Gregorys mind went blank , completely stunned .

Thanks to Paisley , he had coincidentally met Dominick , which was already something he couldnt have dreamed of before .

For someone like Gregory , it was unimaginable to even come close to the Vanderbilt family .

After all , the Sullivans had no chance of even stepping into the Vanderbilt familys circle .

Yet even Dominick was just a younger member of the Vanderbilt family .

Gregory had never even dreamed of meeting someone like Paul .

And now , Byron Beaumonts assistant was calling him personally ? In Harrowfell , the Beaumont and Vanderbilt families were equals two of the most powerful clans .

Thinking of this , Gregorys knees started to feel weak .

He had to grab onto something nearby to steady himself , and his voice softened .

May I ask what this is about ? he asked .

Sensing Gregorys overly fawning tone , Dylan Beaumonts voice grew colder .

Twenty ve years ago , did you adopt a three- year old girl from Angel Orphanage ? Gregory was utterly stunned by the question .

Could this call be about Brittany ? Gregory hesitated to answer , and Dylans displeasure became evident .

Mr.

Sullivan , did you hear my question ? Y yes , I heard ! Gregory nodded repeatedly , his submissive tone a stark contrast to his earlier aggression toward Christina .

After a moments thought , he said , Im sorry , Mr.

Beaumont .

The adoption process was handled by my wife .

I only signed the paperwork , so Im not sure which orphanage it was .

Please hold on .

Ill ask my wife .

After receiving a clearly impatient reply , Gregory quickly turned to Christina , who was still crying over Brittany .

Calm down and listen to me .

Back then , when you adopted Brittany , was it from Angel Orphanage ? Hearing this , Christina nodded .

Yes , why ? Whats going on ? What happened to Brittany ? Christina became visibly agitated whenever Brittany was mentioned .

After con rming the details , Gregory ignored Christina and resumed the call .

Mr.

Beaumont , Ive con rmed it .

Yes , twenty ve years ago , my wife and I adopted our daughter Brittany from Angel Orphanage .

Christina , still unaware of what was happening , assumed Gregory was refusing to help Brittany because she was adopted .

Honey ! Im telling you , Brittany is not our adopted daughter ! Shut up ! Gregory had no patience for Christinas outbursts and moved to another spot to continue the call .

1/3 19:36 Tue , 18 Feb Chapter 252 35 % Wait , did I just hear your wife say someone isnt your adopted daughter ? Dylan caught Christinas comment right away .

+23 Gregory hurriedly explained , No , you misunderstood .

Brittany is our adopted daughter , but weve always treated her as if she were our biological child .

Alright .

The assistant wasnt suspicious and continued , In that case , please bring your adopted daughter to meet our master tomorrow at 10 a.m.

What ? Gregorys mind began piecing things together , but he still asked , Why ? We suspect that your adopted daughter is actually Mr.

Byron Beaumonts long lost niece .

W what ? His niece ? Gregorys voice shot up several octaves .

He was struggling to process this revelation .

What did it mean for Brittany to be Byrons biological niece ? Gregory didnt know much about the Beaumont familys current structure , but if it were compared to the Vanderbilt family -Pauls niece , who was Pauls sons sister , was technically Dominicks aunt .

If Brittany really was Byrons lost niece , then the Beaumont familys young generation would have to address her as Aunt , which would give her an extremely high status .

Gregorys legs turned weak , and he stumbled back onto the sofa .

Christina didnt know what was said on the phone , but seeing Gregory like this , she assumed he had just suffered a major blow .

Her heart sank into despair .

She thought that , even if Gregory now knew Brittany was his biological daughter , there might still be no way to save her .

Its still uncertain .

We can only con rm once we meet in person , came the cold , businesslike voice of Dylan over the phone .

Gregory understood it was a reminder not to get too excited yet , as nothing was confirmed .

These kinds of matters always required a paternity test before being nalized .

Alright , I understand , Gregory replied .

Good .

Ill send the meeting location to your phone shortly .

Please be there tomorrow at 10 a.m.

sharp .

With that , the call ended abruptly , leaving no room for Gregory to respond .

The call left Gregorys head buzzing .

Only after it ended did he realize Brittany was still being held at the police station .

How was he going to bring her there tomorrow ? Honey , who was that ? Were they asking about Brittany ? What happened ? Christina asked anxiously .

Gregory excitedly grabbed Christinas hands .

Weve made it ! Were about to hit the jackpot ! Christina was completely confused , but Gregorys expression seemed genuine .

Whats going on ? Its the Beaumont family ! Brittany might be part of the Beaumont family ! She might be Byrons niece ! Gregory excitedly recounted every detail of the call with Dylan .

After hearing it , Christina stood there in a daze , lost in thought .

Gregory assumed she was stunned with joy and remembered that Christina had seemed to want to tell him something about Brittany before the call came in .

By the way , what were you saying earlier ? Brittany is what ? he asked .

Christina snapped out of her thoughts as Gregory nudged her .

Taking a deep breath , she resolutely said , Oh , nothing .

I just wanted to say that weve raised Brittany as our own daughter for so many years .

We cant just abandon her like that .

2/3 19:36 Tue , 18 Feb Chapter 252 35 % Yes , Brittany was adopted .

Paisley is my biological daughter , Christina convinced herself .
