Chapter 41 Grayson didnt reappear for the rest of the meal .

Paisley didnt bother checking on him either .

After cleaning up , she set Sienna up with her toys and got back to work on her emails .

 64 % 1 Sienna played quietly in her own space for a while but soon started sneaking glances at her mother , who was focused on her laptop .

When she was sure Paisley wasnt looking , she tiptoed over to thorack cabinet .

Grabbing a chocolate bar , a piece of bread , and a carton of milk , she carefully tiptoed toward the guest ioo Sienna thought she was being so sneaky , but every step she took was in Paisleys line of sight .

Paisley just raised her eyebrows , amused , and went back to her work without saying a word .

Inside the guest room .

Grayson lay sprawled on the bed , his face buried in the pillow .

Had cried himself into a sni ing mess , and his stomach was now growling angrily .

He was certain Paisley would eventually feel bad for him and call him out for breakfast .

But an hour passed , and no one came .

Shes really going to let me starve , huh ? What a cruel woman ! he thought bitterly .

Just then , a soft shu ing noise came from the other side of the door .

It sounded like a little mouse scratching at the wood .

Grayson sat up and stared at the door with his red eyes .

A second later , it cracked open just a sliver .

Then , a small , chubby hand reached through with a chocolate bar .

The hand carefully set it on the ioor before disappearing .

A moment later , the hand reappeared with a small bag of bread .

It was placed next to the chocolates Finally , a carton of milk arrived , adding to the growing pile of snacks .

When all three items were lined up neatly on the oor , the little hand hesitated .

Then , as if worried Grayson might not notice the s eming , Sienna gave a loud , exaggerated cough .

After pushing the snacks further into the room , she rapidly closed the door .

Grayson stayed frozen on the bed , staring at the chocolate , bread , and milk , lost in his thoughts .

Did she ... bring them for me ? Over the next little while , Grayson walked to the door without shoes and started eating the food Sienna had snuck him .

He enjoyed the food while thinking .

I dont like bread and milk .

 But why does the bread taste so soft and delicious , and the milk , so sweet and refreshing ? bad it .

 Instead Once he nished the bread and milk , he stared at the chocolate bar for a moment but he carefully stu ed it into his pocket .

Meanwhile , Sienna casually returned to her toy corner as if nothing happened .

 What were you doing , sweetie ? Paisley asked though she had already known the answer .

Sienna froze for a second , but she didnt even look back .

She put on a grown up voice and replied , Nothing , just sitting too long .

Lewis stretching my legs .

Paisley showed a smirk but didnt press her .

21:58 Mon , Jan 27 Chapter 41 Around 10 a.m.

 Paisleys assistant , Lucy , called with a work update , Ive got three things to report .

First , you were right Mr .

Andersons project has been delayed .

The original leads for the dsale lead and the second female lead dropped out , so now he has to recast those roles .

Paisley replied , Got it .

This wasnt surprising .

Shed seen this coming from a mile away so she hadnt cached to e it .

 After all , the leading roles in a toy fair drama should either be popular with a large fan base or have very astonishing records in other dramas .

 Brittany was nowhere near a big enough name to carry a lead role in such a massive production .

She didnt have the fan base or the acting chops to pull it o .

 Given that shed only made a cameo for herself with bit parts in web dramas and by stealing the spotlight on ceremonies , it was no shock she was getting dropped .

For an actor , the script was just one thing .

He valued other leading roles even more .

 After all , no actor worth his salt would risk a few months of shooting just to star opposite someone with so little credibility .

It made sense for him to drop out .

The second female leads exit made even more sense .

 She was a top tier celebrity , with enough pull that she couldnt possibly play second dille to someone like Brittany .

Even if she were willing , her fans wouldnt accept it Paisley was sure this was just the beginning .

More actors would likely drop out soon enough .

But that wasnt her problem .

She was just a screenwriter , and the director would have to sort out this mess .

It would take Brittany forever to get the leading role .

 Paisley asked , Whats the second thing ? Lucy continued , Nathaniel Beaumont from Axon Enterprises has opened a new polo club in Harrowfell and wants to invite you to the grand opening party .

Axon Enterprises ? Paisley thought for a moment , trying to connect the dots .

 Lucy then said , You saw him last year at the Lynford International Equestrian Competition .

He was one of the events investors , and he presented you with the champion award .

After that , you both went to the celebration party , and Mr .

Beaumont mentioned he would treat you to dinner when you were back in town Paisley found her memories .

Nathaniel had made a positive impression on her back then .

So , are you going ? Lucy asked , trying to gauge her interest .

 She then added , He said you could bring your family or friends doesnt matter how many . Paisley chuckled , catching the hint that Lucy wanted in on this .

It had been a while since shed gone out , so she agreed , Alright . lets attend it .

You handle the arrangements .

Got it , Lucy responded eagerly and then moved on to the third item .

The third thing is , someone in Harrowfell has reached out through a middleman to buy one of your paintings Someone wants to buy my painting ? Paisley raised her eyebrows and asked , Who is it ? Do you know ? Its through a third party .

I dont know who the buyer is , replied Lucy Paisley glanced at the time and found it was almost time to start making lunch .

Afterward , she was planning to take the kids 21:58 Mon , Jan 27 to the park .

So she replied only , No matter who it is , the answer is still no .
