

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 748

Wang Yun immediately added fuel to the fire. "Counterfeit? Wow, they look the same!"

Xie Huaqiang explained, "Aunt Wang, look at my watch. This is Rolex's Green Submariner. It's given this name because its dial plate is green. There's also the Black Submariner, which has a black dial plate. There are no other colors in this collection. Yet, his watch has a blue dial plate. It's not even a replica. It's fake. Even the counterfeit manufacturer would try to replicate Green Submariner by using a green dial plate. This is my first time seeing a blue one. I guess you have bought it from the night market? Haha."

Xie Huaqiang kept harping on this matter and was not ready to let him off easily. He wanted everyone to know the difference between a wealthy man and a poor bloke.

He wanted them to know who was the real Prince Charming!

Zhu Linlin knitted her brows and felt something was amiss.

The watch she was wearing now was a gift from Qin Jun. It was a Patek Philippe that cost over a million, and it had been certified as a genuine product.

The ruby he bought her was also a luxurious item.

Since Qin Jun could afford to buy such expensive gifts for others, why would he use a counterfeit one for himself?

"Jun, your watch is not a fake, right?"

Xie Huaqiang burst out laughing. "Linlin, you believe his blue watch is real? You should trust me since I'm a Rolex watch enthusiast! Haha!"

He continued to mock Qin Jun in front of Zhu Linlin. By shaming Qin Jun, he thought she would have a good impression of him.

Qin Jun looked at his watch and was not bothered by what he said. He did not really care whether it was genuine or counterfeit.

Only a nobody like Xie Huaqiang would pay so much attention to a watch. To Qin Jun, a watch was just a watch as long as it could tell the time.

But he believed it should not be a fake watch. After all, Ye Xuanyuan's patients were all rich and powerful elites.

How could they give him a fake watch?

Just when the atmosphere turned awkward, someone knocked on the door. "Hello."

"Come in."

"Young Master Xie, I'm the owner of this restaurant, Fang. I heard you're here, so I thought I'd personally bring you a bottle of wine."

Xie Huaqiang was all smiles. He did not know how who Fang was, but at least the latter knew him.

Though that bottle of wine cost little, it felt great to be recognized by the restaurant owner.

"Thank you, Mr. Fang."

The moment Xie Huaqiang raised his hand, Mr. Fang saw the Rolex watch on his watch, and his eyes glistened.

“Wow, Green Submariner. Young Master Xie indeed has good taste.”

“Are you a collector as well?”

Mr. Fang answered, “I know a little about watches, and yes, I’m a collector. Sometimes when I’m free, I’ll also help others to verify their authenticity.”

Upon hearing that, Xie Huaqiang immediately got interested.

“Oh? What a coincidence. My friend here has a “luxury watch” here. Perhaps you can help him verify its authenticity?”

He intentionally emphasized the words “luxury watch” sarcastically.
