Chapter 1001: The Earthly Immortal Pill Appears in Murica!

“Do you mean that your company is willing to give the exclusive authorization of Holy Flowers Formula to my company?”

The man with tanned skin, a representative of Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company, appeared surprised immediately as soon as he heard He Xue’s words.

“The Holy Flowers Formula is a new product developed by our company. As soon as launched in Huaxia, it has become very popular among many people. Now the domestic goods in Huaxia are already not available, let alone those in the international market.”

He Xue smiled and said, “Our company could give the priority to you, but I couldn’t promise you all the detailed issues such as the agency fee, the launch date, and so on!”

“No problem,” the representative immediately followed up and said happily. “As long as you can sign a priority agency contract of Holy Flowers Formula with my company as you said, everything will be fine.”

“Okay,” nodding her head, He Xue replied, “I will immediately get the Legal Department to supplement the contract.”

In the afternoon, with great excitement, the representative of Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company signed a supplementary contract with He Xue.

Of course, the only condition of this contract was that Renyi Group must give priority to Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company when it was ready to give out the international agency rights of Holy Flowers Formula.

However, if some parts of it or Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company didn’t meet any requirements, Renyi Group could hand over the agency rights to other companies at any time.

To put it simply, this contract had a legal meaning. It had no restrictions on the Renyi Group, while huge restrictions on Aaron International. So even if they signed it, it was still not certain whether Aaron International could really get the agency rights in the end!

The contract was signed.

“Well, let’s do everything according to your company’s requirements. The first batch of Life-prolonging Earth Pills will officially be sold in three days. First, it will be sold in Murica, and then spread to other countries. From today on, our company will carry out a large-scale promotion in the international market.

“I believe our cooperation will be very pleasant.”

After signing the contract, the representative of Aaron International left happily.

He Xue also immediately returned to the cultivation base, back in the office.

“Done.” As soon as she saw Fang Qiu, He Xue immediately walked up and said proudly, “I’ve blocked the representative of Aaron International. The next release also will be done according to our plan.”

“An exchange of benefits?” Asked Fang Qiu with a smile.

Even though Fang Qiu didn’t take charge of this matter, in fact, he still had control of the whole thing. Although it seemed it wouldn’t affect anything if the two drugs were sold at the same time, it would definitely have a great impact on Aaron International when that happened.

An international big company would never let go of such a problem easily!

Therefore, Fang Qiu thought from the very beginning that the only way to completely solve this problem was to exchange benefits.

“It’s not an exchange of interests.” Nodding her head, He Xue said, “Originally the dealership rights of Holy Flowers Formula are planned to be given to them. It can be said that the agency rights of Trillium Root-Securing Pill and Life-prolonging Earth Pill are meant to test Aaron International Pharmaceutica Company. Although the solution to this problem is to sign a supplementary agreement with Aaron International and promise to prioritize them firstly, we still have the final say even if this agreement is signed.

“I’ve thought about it. If Aaron International has done well in the operation of Trillium Root-Securing Pill and Life-prolonging Earth Pill, we can totally hand over the agency rights of Holy Flowers Formula to them. But if they don’t do it well, we can still change to other companies at any time.

“However, I didn’t talk to them about the price. I just promised them non-essential agency rights, that’s all.”

Hearing that, Fang Qiu smiled, satisfied. “You really deserve to be the right-hand man of our Renyi Group. I have high hopes on you!”

This time, He Xue still had done a good job.

“Then, let’s just wait and watch the show quietly.”

With a smug smile, He Xue replied, “Perhaps the international market would stimulate the growth of Life-prolonging Earth Pill sales at home.”

“Well, I have to hurry to prepare the goods. You can continue to be idle.” After throwing a contemptuous glance at Fang Qiu, He Xue turned around and left.

At 8 p.m. on the very day, which was 8 a.m. in Murica, after the representative of Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company returned, he reported the negotiation information to the higher-ups. Then, as planned, Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company immediately began to play the commercial in Murica!

Speaking of Murica, undoubtedly, the largest site was Harmony Square!

Early in the morning, Harmony Square was already packed with people.

The advertising board, which could be counted as the most expensive one in the world, officially began to play the of Life-prolonging Earth Pill.

“It’s a magical pill from the mysterious East: Life-prolonging Earth Pill, a unique pill in the world. It could help recover energy, eliminate fatigue, and strengthen your body. There is a limited amount of these pills. Preorder officially starts tomorrow night!”

On the billboard, there were excellent words and vivid pictures.

In addition to the commercial produced by Aaron International Company, there were also comments from some Huaxia users and famous medical experts from around the world.

As soon as this was played, it immediately attracted the attention of many people in Harmony Square.

In order to see clearly the users’ comments in the , some people even had been standing in Harmony Square and staring at the big screen for a long time.

Of course, in addition to the place with the densest crowd, the TV networks of other states also began to play the same . Though it was not on TV 24 hours a day, it was played pretty frequently.

Soon, this commercial swept over the entire Murica.

“Mysterious pill?”

In a room, an old man with white hair saw the and asked with a puzzled face, “What’s this pill from the mysterious East?”

“Grandpa.”

Beside the old man, a young girl who was making breakfast immediately replied with a smile after hearing that question, “This is a particularly popular oriental pill now. It’s called the Life-prolonging Earth Pill and there’s another one called Trillium Root-Securing Pill. Both of them are entirely made from herbs without any additives. The most important thing is that the effect of these two pills is particularly good. Many people on the internet even couldn’t buy them because they’re out of stock.”

“Sounds good.”

The old man chuckled and said, “If the effect is really as good as in the , I shall need a few sets.”

The same situation was happening in cities and villages all over the country.

The young people all couldn’t wait to buy these two kinds of pills. Those elders who didn’t have much access to the internet also had developed a strong interest in these two kinds of pills after the introduction of their family’s juniors. They all said that they wanted to have a try.

In that case, as soon as the Life-prolonging Earth Pill appeared in Murica, it immediately became a popular product that everyone wanted.

It was just like the limited edition clothes, trousers, and shoes by some big stars who cooperated with some top brands, having caused a sensation among the younger generation.

Not to mention those in Murica, even people all over the world hadn’t expected that some medicine would become a fashionable item one day and be popular among the fashion icons.

After all day long, the was played countless times, covering all the customers to the greatest extent. There even formed several particularly hot topics on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Whether they were ordinary people, fashion icons, influencers, or socialites, they all participated in these discussions.

As these celebrities joined in, they even attracted a lot of famous stars.

Soon, it was eight o'clock in the evening.

The Life-prolonging Earthly Immortal Pill had officially been put on sale.

There were a total of 100,000 boxes of Life-prolonging Earth Pills in the first pre-sale batch.

The pre-order method was the same as that in Huaxia.

As soon as the pre-order started, because of the popularity on social media and attractive effects of the two drugs, in just three minutes, 100,000 boxes of Life-prolonging Earth Pills were sold out at a unit price of 1,500 dollars, just like in Huaxia.

After the sale was over, all the consumers in Murica were shocked at how fast they went out of stock.

In the case of such a hot and limited purchase, whether on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram, many people began to post photos to show off that they had got it.

Those who really wanted but didn't get it began to complain on the internet.

In addition, there was also another group of people, who were already attracted but still wanted to wait and see.

After seeing so many people showing off on the internet, they couldn't help but begin to question it.

"You all have been deceived by the pharmaceutical company, haven't you?"

"That's right. How can some medicine be taken for fun? And it's so expensive."

"An is always deceptive. How could the medicine be as effective as that?"

Although there were many discussions and queries, everyone didn’t care at all. Those who got it were still happy, while those who didn’t still felt bad.

At the same time, Aaron International Pharmaceutical Company also released the pre-order record on the official website, Twitter, and Facebook account.

All kinds of pre-order details were revealed. At the same time, they announced that the goods had been delivered to areas with orders according to the addresses of all the buyers. Moreover, they had cooperated with several large drugstores in each area. At the latest, the day after tomorrow, the buyers could go to these large drugstores to get the medicine according to the pre-order code. If necessary, they could also use the pre-order code to apply for express delivery on the official website!

As expected, two days later, many people who had ordered received the medicine and began to try it.

It turned out that after taking these two drugs, everyone found that their effects were both just amazing.

“Awesome. The Life-prolonging Earth Pill is the best medicine I’ve ever taken. It’s amazing. I feel energetic and much better after taking only one pill a day.”

“The Life-prolonging Earth Pill’s effect is too amazing. I swear I’ve never used such good medicine, and it’s purely from plants. I don’t think Life-prolonging Earth Pill should be called a medicine at all. It should be called an energy supplement!”

Chapter 1002: The Price Causes Anger!

“What a magical oriental pill.”

“Is this the crystallization of traditional medical skills?”

“So magical! I’ve never taken such a pill. The effect is so good. This pill is simply amazing.”

“Are you sure that there are no additives in this pill? Are you sure this pill isn’t produced and manufactured from addictive plants? Why do I feel like I’m already crazy about it and addicted to it?”

As more and more people got the medicine, all kinds of feedback also spread around the Internet.

Overall, almost everyone who had taken one of these pills agreed that the effects of these two pills were really, really amazing!

Many people also started to share experiences of taking the pills online.

Those who bought pills recorded the time when they took them each day, recorded how they felt all day after they tasted it, and shared it with the others.

This attracted the envy of all the people online.

With the countless favorable comments, the score of the Life-prolonging Earth Pill, which was given by an authoritative pharmaceutical website in the Murica, immediately soar like a rocket.

In just one night, this medicine had received the highest rating in Murcia’s history, with a score of 9.8 out of 10.

This score shocked everyone.

At the same time, those who were waiting to see and those who doubted the two medicines had completely become the fans of the Life-prolonging Pill with the appearance of the high score and infinite positive comments on the Internet. They were particularly eager to take the next opportunity to try it out personally.

Although the language was different, just like in Huaxia, the Internet in the Murica had also exploded with unprecedented enthusiasm with the popularity of the Life-prolonging Earth Pill.

Almost as soon as one opened a social networking site, the first thing one would see was a discussion about the Life-prolonging Earth Pill.

In this situation, when a Huaxia overseas student saw the heated discussion on the Internet, he felt very proud and immediately made a lot of screenshots of all the popular comments on the Internet. He also translated them into the Huaxia language one by one and finally posted them directly on domestic Weibo.

“May our magnificent Huaxia thrive! The products produced by Huaxia must be the best! @Renyi Group @Hua Yuan Pharmaceutical Corporation @Huaxia Chinese Medicine @Fang Qiu @Central TV Station.”

Such a Weibo post was accompanied by a long picture that contained the very foreign comments with translated text attached.

At first, this post did not attract much attention. After all, this Weibo user did not have many followers.

Soon, Renyi Group’s and Hua Yuan Pharmaceutical Corporation’s official Weibo accounts reposted it quickly.

As these two big companies reposted it, it immediately drew the attention of many people.

“Haha, did they mention Fang Qiu in their post?”

“Awesome! Awesome Huaxia!”

“Yes, Renyi Group is the pride of the nation!”

“Good, good, foreigners sure know what’s what.”

“Won’t you foreigners thank us properly? Even if we produce more Trillium Root-Securing Pills and Life-prolonging Earth Pills, our domestic consumers can still buy all of them. You can buy them because we are nice, you know?”

“Haha, that’s great... Finally, they know how we felt when we tried to order an iPhone.”

“These foreigners actually do this too?”

“See, there are many magical things in Huaxia. It’s just a drop in the bucket.”

“It’s time for you to see the mystery and greatness of our medicine!”

Everyone commented one after another.

Undoubtedly, the patriotism of the netizens was fully shown at this moment. They felt inexplicably excited when they saw this Weibo post.

However, when the netizens were talking about it on Weibo hotly. This blogger, once again, had updated a Weibo post.

“@Renyi Group is awesome!”

It was a simple sentence, followed by a picture as well.

The content of this picture was no longer the comments of foreign netizens about the Life-prolonging Earth Pill, but a common screenshot.

It was the preorder page of Aaron International Pharmaceutical.

On that page, it clearly showed that the unit price of Life-prolonging Earth Pill, surprisingly, was US$1,500!

Netizens at home were amused to see this picture.

“What! 1,500 US dollars?”

“It’s so expensive! But I’m very happy, haha.”

“Huaxia needs such companies that can make money abroad. Renyi Group, I’m rooting for you!”

“It’s amazing. 1,500 dollars for a box, which is nearly 9,500 yuan. It’s only 1,000 at home, but it’s 9,500 abroad. As soon as it goes abroad, the price has increased ninefold. Renyi Group is amazing.”

“Oh my God, Renyi Group is making a lot of money!”

“I finally understand why Hua Yuan is willing to be merged by Renyi Group. It’s because Renyi Group is really too damn capable. It hasn’t been long since the group was established, but it has already expanded its market to the international level. Judging from such a high unit price, the money made by Hua Yuan Pharmaceutical Company can only be one-ninth of that from the entire international market.”

All sorts of heated discussions were wildly spreading on Weibo.

Meanwhile, the Life-prolonging Earth Pill immediately attracted a lot of attention in the domestic market.

Fortunately, it was produced for a long time, and the amount of Life-prolonging Earth Pills in the market was huge, which allowed the distributors to make a big profit.

However, the purchasing frenzy suddenly stopped before long.

On Weibo, many people were complaining.

“Damn it, I bought ten boxes at a time. I was going to be a purchasing agent. Even if I couldn’t sell 10 boxes at a time, I could still make a lot of money by selling them one by one. But after I bought them, I realized that these two drugs were banned and I couldn’t carry them on the plane. If I secretly take them out and get caught by the Customs, they will be confiscated. This move is so strict, isn’t it?”

“Oh my God, it’s not easy for Huaxia to make an international hit. Such a good opportunity for us to be a purchasing agent, and then it’s banned?”

“One less way for us to make money!”

Without a doubt, on Weibo, the topic quickly appeared.

#Root-Securing Pill and Earthly Immortal Pill banned?#

The topic instantly led to countless people joining and discussing it.

“I strongly demand that we be able to take the Life-prolonging Earth Pill out of the country!”

“Strongly demand!”

“I agree that we should be able to take it abroad; why can’t we take abroad what we bought?”

“Ouch, you opportunists, you’ve had your karma this time, haha!”

“Although I would love to be a purchasing agent, and I would love to take this opportunity to make a lot of money, seeing you guys angry and the foreigners unable to buy Life-prolonging Earth Pills at a cheap price no matter what, I feel inexplicably happy, hahaha...”

“I’m against it. You just can’t take it out of the country!”

“What makes you oppose it?”

“Because I’m poor and I can’t afford to go abroad!”

“That’s funny. Hahaha.”

Soon, countless people gave likes to those who opposed it.

Of course, everyone knew that they were just joking.

After all, if one could really take it abroad, everyone in the country could afford to go abroad. After all, one box would make money nine times its price, and even if it was cheaper and sold at three or four times its price, people would still get rich by being a purchasing agent!

At the same time, different from the patriotism felt by netizens at home, the Murica netizens, after learning about the price in Huaxia, felt shock and anger about the huge price difference!

“Is this a scam?”

“Why? Why is there such a big price difference? Why do we have to pay so much more to buy in our country? I can buy nine sets in Huaxia with the money for one here!”

For a while, there was an angry backlash on the Internet.

However, this also made the Life-prolonging Earth Pill even more famous. In any case, as long as one went online, one could see discussions about the Life-prolonging Earth Pill everywhere.

And meanwhile, as one of the top international companies—Aaron International Pharmaceutical, had expected this to happen, so they had prepared for it early on.

After the public opinion was completely blown out of proportion and made sufficient publicity, Aaron International Pharmaceutical immediately issued a statement on its official website, Twitter, and Facebook accounts.

“Statement on the sale price of ‘Life-prolonging Earth Pill’!

“First, the Life-prolonging Earth Pill is made from extremely rare and particularly limited substance, making it impossible to be mass-produced. We can only meet the domestic demand in Huaxia to the greatest extent as much possible. So the units in the international market are very few, which is the very important reason why these two medicines have only been introduced to the international market after being famous in Huaxia for so long!

“Second, our company paid a great big price to get the agency rights, or the company in Huaxia would not have wanted to export it.

“Third, I believe that everyone who buys the Life-prolonging Earth Pill knows that the effect of the Life-prolonging Earth Pill is particularly amazing. It is a top-grade product that cannot be measured by money. It is a top-grade product that brings us health that can’t be bought with money, so the price will inevitably increase.

“We hope the public will continue to support us!”

The statement was released and was immediately reposted on Facebook and Twitter by Murcia netizens.

Everyone took a look.

“That sounds reasonable.”

“Those things are rare, and there’s nothing wrong with selling something so rare at a slightly higher price, right?”

“Yes, it’s not easy to get this. If you think it’s too expensive, don’t buy it.”

“It’s not easy to get these two medicines from Huaxia. Don’t make trouble. If we continue to make a fuss and they stop exporting the medicines, we really can’t buy them then.”

“That’s right. Huaxia has always been mysterious and inactive in the international market. It’s normal for them to sell it at a low price at home. If it’s a bit expensive abroad, then so be it. As long as the effect is good, everyone can just ignore it. Anyway, we earn much more than the Huaxia people.”

Soon, the netizens in the Murica stopped protesting.

But at that time...

After the agency company saw that people were no longer accusing, it immediately posted a new message on social media.

“Due to the success of the first pre-sale of the Life-prolonging Earth Pill, our company has decided to launch a similar product in the near future, named ‘Trillium Root-Securing Pill’, which has similar effects as the Life-prolonging Earth Pill. But there are restrictions to its use. For those who cannot buy Life-prolonging Earth Pill, they can purchase Trillium Root-Securing Pill, and if they need it, they can consult Chinese Medicine practitioners for purchase at nearby Chinese Medicine drugstores.”

Medical Master

Chapter 1003: Discrimination?!

Its would definitely be lower than at which he sold them, so even if he did not earn much money from each box he sold, he could earn a considerable amount given that there were so many people paying the deposit to buy it, which showed that the pill was popular in Murica.

“This Trillium Root-Securing Pill is really a great honor for doctors of Chinese medicine who earn a living in foreign countries.

“I don’t know who came up with the prescription, and I must thank him greatly if I know.”

Those doctors of Chinese medicine in other clinics in Huaxiatowns were as happy and excited as the doctor in the Ancestral Hall of Traditional Chinese Medicine.

Then, in the next 3 days, there was a long queue in front of every Chinese Medicine clinic.

In these 3 days, the doctors prescribed medicines for those who were not suitable for taking the Trillium Root-Securing Pill to nurse their health, so they made a lot of money.

By the third day, the Trillium Root-Securing Pills were finally sent to every clinic.

The people who had booked the pill 3 days ago all came to get it, and doctors of Chinese medicine also made a fortune as a result.

Soon, the first batch of people who got the pill noticed that the effect of Trillium Root-Securing Pill was amazing after they took it, and then they posted that quickly online one by one.

Previously, the Life-prolonging Earth Pill had caused a greatly heated buzz on the Internet, and this time, the Trillium Root-Securing Pill had turned the whole Internet upside down.

As the heated discussion on the Internet spread, many people in Murica went to look for Chinese Medicine doctors offline for reservations, treatment, and prescriptions.

All doctors of Chinese medicine were both tired and happy throughout Murica.

Since they had lived in Murica for all year round and did not know much about the domestic environment in Huaxia, these doctors could not help but be curious when they saw so many people buying Trillium Root-Securing Pills. They tried one box of it and found that the effect of this pill was really amazing!

“Who... who invented Trillium Root-Securing Pill?”

“That’s awesome.”

“Exactly, the medicine of our motherland is the greatest and the most mysterious and powerful!”

“What a powerful effect! Whoever worked out this prescription must be a master.”

For a while, the foreign doctors of Chinese medicine sighed with emotion.

Quickly, after the Life-prolonging Earth Pill, the good news of the crazy demand for the Trillium Root-Securing Pill was also sent back to Huaxia quickly, and it also caused a burst of joy again on a domestic media platform.

In Capital City, seeing the good news from abroad, Yang Ningyuan couldn’t help exclaiming, “This He Xue is exceptional indeed!”

“Certainly,” Li Qihua, who rarely came to the company, also echoed the sentiment. “He Xue is like the Monkey King, and Fang Qiu is like the Buddha. With the two of them, we can make a lot of money by just following them. What’s more, we will make a huge amount of money which will make people envious.”

“These two are a perfect match.”

Yang Ningyuan nodded and said, “I’m glad and feel a little lucky that we signed the merger agreement. According to the current situation and with the shares we have, our annual income will be more than 6 billion. Moreover, the company hasn’t been listed yet, and it will become a real business giant after being listed!”

“I can’t agree more.” Li Qihua sighed with emotion again and again.

“Boss, I did a good job, didn’t I?”

In Beijiāng, after receiving the good news, He Xue came straight to the office to see Fang Qiu, and said, "Shouldn't you give me the bonus I deserve?"

"As it should be, the bonus has been ready for you," Fang Qiu smiled and took out the Holy Flowers Formula that he had made himself and handed it to He Xue.

After getting the formula, He Xue turned around and left with pleasure.

"The group's business is almost done, so it's about time that I found a place to see patients."

Chapter 1004: The Second Season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor Starts!

"After this consultation is over, I have to rush to Comores."

Sitting in front of the desk, Fang Qiu recalled the promise he had made to the President of Comores at that time.

Solving the problem within one year; however, Fang Qiu had not been able to find time to do so until now.

After he resolved everything, it was almost time to settle the matter.

At the thought of this...

Fang Qiu logged into Weibo with his computer and searched through the dense comments for the next location to treat the patients.

However, there were too many comments. Fang Qiu didn't find one after looking for a long time.

But this time, “Beep...”

Suddenly, his cell phone rang.

Fang Qiu put down the distress of choosing the place to treat the patients temporarily. He took out his phone and discovered that it was Director Li Huawen, whom he hadn’t spoken to in a long time.

“Hello, Director Li.”

Fang Qiu answered the phone, wondering what the matter was with Director Li this time.

“Fang Qiu.”

Director Li Huawen’s familiar voice came from the other side of the phone. He said, “It’s been a long time. I haven’t seen you for a while. How’s it going? Have you been living a good life?”

“Thanks to you, it’s all right,” said Fang Qiu with a smile.

“Hey, why hasn’t there been any news about you recently? There seems no big news about the Chinese Medicine you developed. Are you giving up being a doctor of Chinese Medicine ’cause you are famous?” Director Li Huawen asked with a smile.

Of course, this was just a joke. How could he not know Fang Qiu’s tenacity when it came to Chinese Medicine?

“Of course not. Chinese Medicine has been sold on the international market. Isn’t that big news?” Fang Qiu said.

“That’s not what you did, either.”

Li Huawen smiled and said, "Forget it. I don't want to argue with you anymore. Let's get down to business."

"What is it?" Asked Fang Qiu hurriedly.

"Here's the thing." Director Li Huawen said, "As the ratings of the last season of the 'Young Chinese Medicine Doctor' are very good and they have successfully released a large-scale impact on the culture of Chinese Medicine, I received a notice from the leaders in the station that the approval of the second season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor has been issued. We have already begun to prepare for that. You are the champion of the first season of the 'Young Chinese Medicine Doctor'. How about making some contributions to the second season of the 'Young Chinese Medicine Doctor'?"

"What kind of contribution?"

Fang Qiu smiled bitterly and said, "I've won the championship of the first season. I can't go to participate in the second season again and win the championship, right?"

"Of course not."

Li Huawen curled his lips and said, "After discussion, I reached an agreement with the leaders of the TV station. We want to invite you to participate in the program as a guest judge of the second season of the 'Young Chinese Medicine Doctor'."

He and the leaders of Central Television were well aware that Fang Qiu was the driving force behind the success of the first season of "Young Chinese Medicine Doctor." Although there were still many loyal viewers in the second season, the ratings would not be as high as they were in the first season, unless they could see Fang Qiu in every episode!

Therefore, Director Li Huawen and the leaders of the TV station decided to invite Fang Qiu to the position of guest judge.

"Well, it's not appropriate."

Fang Qiu quickly shook his head and said, "Although I won the championship of the first season, I'm just a college student now. Moreover, my current status in the Chinese Medicine industry is not even a highly-skilled doctor. I'm not qualified at all. I don't dare to be a judge. Director Li, please do me a favor and let me go, okay?"

"No," Director Li Huawen immediately replied sternly.

"To be honest," Fang Qiu gave a wry smile and added, "Director Li, I really don't have time to attend the show now. I really can't be a guest judge."

"You brat." Director Li Huawen was speechless and said, "You don't feel grateful, do you? Don't you want to be on the show that made you famous?"

"That's not what I meant. I really have something urgent to do."

Fang Qiu smiled helplessly and said, "Don't you want me to make big news? When I'm done with this matter, you will see big news."

Hearing that, Li Huawen was stunned.

Judging from the current situation, it seemed that Fang Qiu really had something important to do.

"That's it."

After thinking for a while, Director Li Huawen said, "You don't have to be a guest judge. You have to at least make some contributions to our second season. Don't you want to publicize Chinese Medicine more?"

"Of course I do."

Fang Qiu immediately replied, "I can help with that, but in terms of time..."

“Okay, I know you don’t have much time.”

Director Li Huawen curled his lips and said, “Now I officially invite you to join the recruitment team for the second season of the ‘Young Chinese Medicine Doctor’. You only need to participate in the first and last episodes of the show. Even if you don’t appear in the other episodes, you have to appear in these two episodes, okay?”

“Okay, let’s do this.” Fang Qiu nodded in agreement.

“Very well, it’s settled then.”

Director Li Huawen nodded with satisfaction. Then, his tone changed, and he said mysteriously, “I’ll tell you something in advance. One of the judges in this season is someone you’re very familiar with.”

“Oh?”

Fang Qiu thought about all the highly-skilled doctors he knew but still couldn’t figure out who it was in the end. He immediately asked, “Who is it?”

“You’ll know when the time comes.”

Director Li Huawen said with a smile.

“Is it really have to be that secretive?”

Fang Qiu smiled wryly and said, “You’ve aroused my curiosity, but you didn’t tell me who it is. Aren’t you deliberately making me sad?”

“Haha, didn’t you make me sad too?”

Director Li Huawen laughed and said, “We’re even now.”

Fang Qiu was speechless.

In the capital, in the Central Television Station and in the meeting room of the show of the second season of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor”, “It’s time to release the official Weibo post to publicize!” As soon as Director Li Huawen hung up the phone, he immediately gave the order.

He was not stupid.

The small talk with Fang Qiu at first was just a casual remark. As a big director living in the capital, how could he not know the news that the Trillium Root-Securing Pill and Life-prolonging Earth Pill were popular abroad? The reason why he called Fang Qiu at this time was to take advantage of this to make a good for the second season of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor”.

Just like that, as soon as the order was given, the publicity department, which had already been prepared, posted it on Weibo immediately.

“#The second season of the ‘Young Chinese Medicine Doctor’ officially issued a Chinese Medicine Summon Order. There is no limit to the area. Anyone under 30 years old can participate in it. The general convener of this season is XX (Please look forward to the announcement).”

Because the last season had laid a solid foundation for the masses, the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” had millions of fans on Weibo.

After the Weibo post came out, seeing this, everyone was immediately excited.

When the loyal fans of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” saw this post, they were all thrilled.

“After waiting for so long, it’s finally here.”

“I’m looking forward to it. The last season’s shooting was so good. I hope this season can be better.”

“Will Fang Qiu participate in this season?”

“Guess who this general convener is. I guess it is Fang Qiu because his name is two words, and I pretend to ignore it deliberately.”

As soon as this comment came out, it immediately attracted countless netizens’ likes and comments.

“Hahaha, it’s obvious. It’s Fang Qiu at first glance. His name is just two words!”

“This question is not difficult at all.”

“Why didn’t you learn from ‘Run Wild & Survive’ and just create a sketch so that everyone can have a guess?”

Soon, in the heated discussion among netizens, this post was reposted and viewed by an increasing number of people.

Everyone was excited when it was announced that the second season of “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” would be released. Despite the fact that they were not die-hard fans of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor,” such a good show was worth watching!

Apart from the netizens, the other variety shows were also made aware of the news as soon as it became available. As netizens predicted, all major variety shows believed that the so-called general convenor must be Fang Qiu.

However, at the thought of Fang Qiu’s name, they felt so tough and didn’t know what to say.

For a moment, the whole variety show industry was in an uproar!

After the two shows of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” and “Old Way Survival”, all variety shows were afraid of Fang Qiu. This guy was really good at it.

The point was...

With Fang Qiu’s appearance in the show, it would not only compete for the ratings, but also the advertising fee!

After all, at this time, after a large sum of advertising fee was invested in some variety show, a large-scale company couldn’t invest in a second one.

Now, as soon as Fang Qiu appeared, the advertisers must have swarmed to him again. How could they live?

As expected, as soon as the official Weibo of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” released the news, many large companies were ready to take action. They all called the crew of the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” to inquire about the title, s, and so on.

Of course, the Central Television was not stupid.

Since they earned a lot from the first season, they would definitely not sign s and naming contracts with any company in private this season. Even if they wanted to sign a contract, they would have to hold a business fair first and wait for these large-scale companies to bid.

On the other side, countless young Chinese Medicine doctors were itching and prepared to join the competition after seeing the news.

In the eyes of these people, there were too many things that the “Young Chinese Medicine Doctor” could bring to them. Of course, some of them were doctors who really worked hard for Chinese Medicine, while others were just going to study. Of course, there were also those who went for fame and profit.

After all, Fang Qiu's success in the "Young Chinese Medicine Doctor" was obvious. Just the 60 million fans on Weibo were enough to ensure that he would not have to worry about food and clothing for the rest of his life.

Perhaps some of them were going to study Chinese Medicine in order to be famous.

This time, in addition to a large number of Chinese Medicine apprentices, the students of the University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine were also well prepared. All of the teachers encouraged the students to take part in the competition. Those with good grades wanted to win the championship, while those with bad grades wanted to study. After all, the last champion came from UJCM, and UJCM students had two seats in the top ten last season, which was the school's honor.

Of course, there was no definite requirement from teachers and leaders to leave this honor in the school. They simply allowed the students to treat this competition as a test, a self-promotional test!

Chapter 1005: Jiang Mengjies in Second Season!

At night, when all discussed this, soon, the official account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor released a totally new Weibo post again.

"#The Second Season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor# announcing the general convener is Fang Qiu who is the champion of the first season!"

In addition to this Weibo post, there was also a photo of Fang Qiu when he won the champion.

As the Weibo post came out, everyone was amused.

"I've already guessed it. Do I need you to announce it?"

"Haha, in fact, I think you'd better not announce it. It's not always preferable to announce it."

“As it is known, it’s Fang Qiu. There is nothing to announce. We’ve already known it for a long time.”

“It’s really Fang Qiu. Haha, I guessed exactly.”

“It’s a riddle to which you already know the answer.”

Everyone mocked the official Weibo account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor.

Seeing the comments, the official Weibo account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor could only helplessly send an extremely depressed emoji.

It seemed to want to win in the ridicule of thousands of netizens, because when everyone kept mocking, the official Weibo of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor released a Weibo post.

“#The Second Season of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor# Who will be the judge of this season? Let’s take a bold guess. I promise you won’t be able to guess who it is. The list of the judges will be officially announced at 8 o’clock tomorrow morning. And you will be shocked when the time comes.”

As the Weibo post was made, the netizens couldn’t help laughing.

“Hahaha, it’s so funny.”

“Why do I feel that this official Weibo account is run by a girl? I can even imagine her blushing with anger. She is so cute.”

“I’ve been a fan of this super cute official Weibo girl.”

“Who are the judges? It’s none of our business. We’re going to see the contestants, especially Fang Qiu. We won’t guess who the judges are.”

“Yes, I won’t guess. Let you be anxious.”

“I’m not going to guess. We’re not going to guess anyways.”

For a moment, while laughing, netizens began to tease the official Weibo account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor. They also gained more than a million followers on the official Weibo of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor.

The official Weibo account, which had only a few million followers at the time, saw its followers increase rapidly after it announced that Fang Qiu was the general convener. The number of followers continued to grow. It had nearly 10 million before 12 o’clock that night.

Of course, the number of followers did not have much effect on the official Weibo account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor. At most, it was just an for the sponsors and the title sponsor.

In Jingbei University of Chinese Medicine, at 9:30 p.m., Jiang Mengjie, who had just finished two evening classes, returned to the dormitory.

As soon as she entered the room, “It’s Fang Qiu. The official Weibo account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor has announced that the general convener of the second season is Fang Qiu.”

“It’s a pity that I didn’t attend the first season. I can’t miss the second season.”

“I heard that the students of UJCM have begun to prepare for the second season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor. Almost all the sophomore students will go to attend it.”

“Really? There are so many people?”

“Is UJCM trying to win with a large crowd?”

“Didn’t you know? Now all the people who study Chinese Medicine consider the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor as a trial. They all want to use the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor to see what level they are at and also learn some knowledge from it.”

“I’d like to take part as well. However, due to my level, I’m afraid I’m not qualified.”

“Yeah, I don’t know how many awesome people will go this time, and after the popularity of the first season, there will definitely be more people signing up this season than the previous one. If we go to participate in it, we will be drowned in the sea of people, won’t we?”

While speaking, everyone in the dormitory turned to look at Jiang Mengjie.

Jiang Mengjie was the strongest person in this dormitory; others were not qualified to participate in the competition, but Jiang Mengjie did. After all, Jiang Mengjie had also participated in the competition of the eight universities and got a very good result.

Jiang Mengjie was no worse than Jiang Miaoyu in the eyes of Jingbei University of Chinese Medicine students. In the first season of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor, even Jiang Miaoyu could achieve such a high ranking. Jiang Mengjie was more than capable!

“Why are you guys looking at me like that?”

Sensing her roommates’ eyes on her, Jiang Mengjie was stunned for a moment and asked.

“Mengjie, you can attend the competition.”

One of them hurriedly ran to Jiang Mengjie and said, “Think about it. When you took part in the competition of eight universities competition, your performance was better than Jiang Miaoyu’s. Jiang Miaoyu got into the top ten with such good results in the first season. When you participate in the competition, you will definitely be in the top three or even the champion.”

“I’m not as awesome as you said.”

Jiang Mengjie said with a wry smile, “You’ve set me a goal of being in the top three or even the champion. How can I dare to participate in the competition?”

“Mengjie, you underestimate yourself. Your medical skills are amazing, your studies are so good, and you can get full marks in several exams. If you attend and do not get in the top three, you can get a good result at least.”

Another person came forward. “Yeah, Mengjie, you must attend the competition this time and win honor for Jingbei University of Chinese Medicine.”

“What’s more, your grades are so good now that it will be very difficult for you to continue to improve, but the situation will be changed when you join the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor. You will definitely meet more awesome people and learn more things from the competition.”

“Right, just go.”

Her three roommates kept encouraging Jiang Mengjie with their words.

Motivated by the three of them, Jiang Mengjie thought for a long time.

Finally, she agreed.

After agreeing, she directly took out her mobile phone to find Fang Qiu’s WeChat account and sent a message to him.

“I want to participate in the second season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor.”

On the other side, receiving the message, Fang Qiu opened it and took a look. After a slight pause, he smiled.

Jiang Mengjie took part in the competition?

In fact, he had thought about it in the first season, while he didn’t know why Jiang Mengjie didn’t sign up for the first season but chose to participate in the second at this time.

However, since she was going to participate, Fang Qiu had to wish her luck.

A thought came into his mind.

Fang Qiu immediately replied, "I'll wait for you in the last episode."

In the dormitory, receiving Fang Qiu's reply, Jiang Mengjie immediately opened it to check.

After reading it, she smiled.

Aside, her three roommates looked at Jiang Mengjie wickedly. They smiled playfully and said, "Look, look. Is our great beauty Jiang Mengjie in love?"

"It shouldn't be a question; this should be an affirmative sentence. Jiang Mengjie is in love!"

"Haha, she is blushing."

"Tell us quickly, who captured the heart of campus belle of our Jingbei University of Chinese Medicine?"

In the face of the three people's questions, Jiang Mengjie didn't answer, but just smiled and said nothing.

The next day, at eight o'clock in the morning, under everyone's expectation, the official Weibo account of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor was finally updated on time.

"#The Second Season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor# The three judges are Mr. Li Zhengtang, Mr. Yang Juanyong, and Mr. Xu Miaolin. Mr. Huang Zhengren, one of the judges of the last season, can't be a judge anymore because of his busy schedule. But with Mr. Xu Miaolin, I believe that the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor will be more exciting this season. Please look forward to it!"

As soon as this announcement was released, it immediately caused a heated discussion.

“Who is Xu Miaolin?”

“Xu Miaolin? This name seems quite familiar.”

“Has he been in the news before? Is he Fang Qiu’s teacher?”

“I knew where I heard it before. When you mentioned it, I remembered that Xu Miaolin is Fang Qiu’s Chinese Medicine teacher. He said it himself and admitted it in person.”

“Fang Qiu’s Chinese Medicine teacher? That’s amazing. How could the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor invite him here?”

“Awesome. They even invited Fang Qiu’s Chinese Medicine teacher. It seems that the show is more attractive this season.”

“I’m very skeptical if Fang Qiu’s Chinese Medicine teacher can be as good as him.”

“How can he be Fang Qiu’s teacher if he’s not awesome?”

For a moment, netizens began to have a heated discussion.

In the discussion, many people searched the Internet and used various methods to search for information about Xu Miaolin. As a result, they soon found the profile of Xu Miaolin on the official websites of the University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine and the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor.

Xu Miaolin was a teacher of the University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine, Fang Qiu’s teacher, and a top physician of Chinese Medicine in Jiangjing City. He was once known as the future of the Chinese Medicine industry and was regarded as a master by all in the industry. He was one of the only 50 highly-skilled doctors in Huaxia.

He was good at all fields of Chinese Medicine.

The netizens who were looking for a brief introduction were stunned at this point.

Soon, these netizens quickly posted Xu Miaolin's profile on Weibo.

Everyone took a look.

As soon as the post was made, it went viral.

"What the f*ck, he's so awesome."

"So many titles? The future of the Chinese Medicine industry? He deserves to be Fang Qiu's Chinese Medicine teacher. He's amazing!"

"He's so awesome. With this background, he's more than qualified to participate in the latest Young Chinese Medicine Doctor."

All the netizens were shocked by Xu Miaolin.

At the same time...

Fang Qiu, who was still in Beijiāng, also saw the lineup of the judges of the second season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor immediately. When he saw the words "Xu Miaolin", he was completely stunned.

He didn't even think about it.

Fang Qiu quickly took out his mobile phone and called Xu Miaolin.

“Hello?”

“Hello?” The phone was connected.

“Mr. Xu, are you really going to be the judge of the second season of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor?” Fang Qiu asked in amazement.

“Well, although I’m old, at least I’m still a member of the Chinese Medicine circle. Before I’m completely eliminated by the Chinese Medicine circle, I should make full use of my energy to find young talent for Chinese Medicine,” Xu Miaolin said.

“Sure.” Fang Qiu said with a smile, “Your student won the championship last season, and then you go to be a judge. Don’t embarrass your student this time.”

“A competition at this level is a piece of cake for me. It’s very easy to deal with,” Xu Miaolin said proudly.

“Okay, you can do it,” Fang Qiu said with a smile and then hung up the phone.

Looking at the computer on the desk in front of him, Fang Qiu, who was originally smiling, suddenly showed a bitter look on his face.

Since yesterday, he had read a lot of comments on Weibo and finally found a place where he could do his treatment. It was a small town located in the remote area of Guizhou.

Medical Master

Chapter 1006: A Different Chinese Medicine Hospital

Lin Zhai city of Guizhou province was a city in a remote mountainous area in Southeast Huaxia.

Just like Nanjiang, Guizhou was vast with abundant resources, and there were numerous places that had not been developed yet. Hence, the jurisdiction of every city covered a wide range of areas. However, given the lack of development in this province, such a provincial city was less than half the size of first-tier cities in other provinces.

The reason why such a situation occurred was that it was located in a remote place. It was so distant that it was nearly unreachable by the central government. Not only was it difficult to manage this place, but it was also arduous to implement many policies related to urban construction and poverty alleviation here. If the government didn't put enough effort to alleviate poverty, it wouldn't make a difference at all. However, if it made great efforts, it would cost a considerable amount of money.

There was a small town in Lin Zhai, which was called Shanli.

Fang Qiu saw the name of this town on Weibo.

Strangely, there were numerous people who mentioned Lin Zhai and Shanli on Weibo. Many of them even specifically explained why Fang Qiu had to go there.

"Lin Zhai is a remote city. There are only four subordinate counties comprised of plenty of villages. Many ethnic minorities lived there. According to the news, countless people got flu in Lin Zhai a month ago. The news media is still following this matter now."

Seeing this comment, Fang Qiu immediately searched for keywords such as Lin Zhai, Shanli, and flu.

As he searched, he saw several news reports.

Only after reading these news reports carefully did Fang Qiu know that there was indeed a flu pandemic there. It had been going on for more than a month, which wasn't cured yet.

After reading the news, Fang Qiu decided to go to Lin Zhai!

As Fang Qiu made up his mind, he immediately searched for the phone number of Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital on the computer. He then took out his phone and made a call.

"Hello, Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital. What can I do for you?" When the phone was connected, the voice of a nurse at the front desk came.

"Hello, I'm Fang Qiu," Fang Qiu didn't hesitate and immediately said, "I hope I can see patients in your hospital for a day. If possible, can you help me reach your director?"

"Fang Qiu? Okay, hold on, please. I'll transfer your call to the director right away," the nurse responded in excitement.

"Beep, beep..." After the transferring sound rang twice, the phone was picked up.

"Hello?" A slightly deep voice came from the other end of the line.

"Hello, I'm Fang Qiu," Fang Qiu said, "I saw the news online that there is a flu pandemic in your city. It just so happens that I'm about to have a consultation this month, so I wonder if I can see patients in your hospital."

"Yes, of course, you can!" Hearing that, the director immediately became excited and hurriedly said, "When will you come? I'll try my best to arrange everything."

"The day after tomorrow," said Fang Qiu.

"Okay, no problem." The director immediately nodded without any hesitation as if he was catering to Fang Qiu instead of the other way around.

"Thank you. See you the day after tomorrow." Fang Qiu expressed his gratitude and hung up the phone.

After answering the phone, the director of Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital was ecstatic.

He thought to himself, "Fang Qiu is coming. He actually wants to come to this small city. Regardless of whether his medical skills are good or not, at least he's very famous. Moreover, with him here, the patients have a good chance of surviving. Even if he can't cure them, his reputation will definitely cause the media to report it on TV. At that time, there will definitely be more experts coming over."

At the thought of this, the director didn't hesitate, immediately picked up the phone on the desk, and said, "Call all the seriously ill patients immediately and ask them to come over the day after tomorrow."

The person on the other end of the line asked, "What about the patients without phones?"

The director said firmly, "Go pick them up."

"Director, you know the geography here. Besides, many patients live in remote mountainous areas. If we go to pick them up, we must set off now so that we can bring all of them here," the person smiled wryly on the other end of the line.

"Then go get them now," the director immediately responded and said, "No matter what, we must bring all the patients who are seriously ill here the day after tomorrow."

"What happened? Why are you in such a hurry?" Asked the person on the other end of the line.

The director said in excitement, "It's Fang Qiu. Fang Qiu is coming."

"Fang Qiu? Really?" The person on the other end of the line also cried out in surprise and then immediately said, "I'll do it now. Don't worry. I'll definitely bring all the patients here!"

After confirming where he would have the consultation, Fang Qiu did not announce the consultation address on Weibo as before. This time, he was only going to see the condition of the flu. It would be inappropriate if he attracted patients from other regions after announcing it. After all, that was a remote mountainous area and the people there needed help more urgently.

Meanwhile, the director of Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital did not make any publicity, nor did he inform the media to publicize it.

Everything was patient-oriented.

On the third day, Fang Qiu came to the gate of Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital early in the morning because he got on the plane in the middle of the night.

When he got out of the car, he still found it rare while looking at the empty hospital gate in front of him.

After all, every time he did consultations, any Chinese Medicine hospital he visited would be crowded with people. It was rare to see such a hospital that was not packed at all.

"It seems that this hospital is thinking of the same thing as me." Fang Qiu nodded to himself.

"Welcome, welcome!" When he was about to enter the hospital, someone called in excitement.

He looked up.

A middle-aged man in a grayish-blue suit was walking out of the clinic hall of the hospital in surprise. He ran straight to Fang Qiu and held his hand.

"Hello, may I ask who you are?" Asked Fang Qiu politely.

"I'm the director of Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital. My name is Lin Chao," said the middle-aged man.

"Hello, Director Lin," Fang Qiu hurriedly greeted him with a smile.

"Nice to meet you. Shall we get in first?" Lin Chao replied and then pointed to the hospital.

"Okay," Fang Qiu nodded.

With Director Lin leading the way, Fang Qiu walked into the hospital.

But as soon as he entered the hospital, Fang Qiu saw a large number of patients in the clinic hall. They all came with their families. Some were wearing normal clothes while others were wearing all kinds of ethnic clothes, such as the clothes of the Miao, the Dong and the Yi.

These people were significantly different from those in the city.

Their skin was a little dark. It should be the tan color that people in the city envied very much. But the tanned skin didn't make them look handsome and muscular like what people in the city imagined. Instead, it made them look particularly withered though they already looked weary at such a young age.

Fang Qiu saw a woman holding a baby in her arms with a blue cloth. There was nothing decent on the baby's body, only rags of different colors.

Fang Qiu also saw an old man with a bamboo basket which was nearly worn out on his back. He was sitting on a chair in the waiting area. He opened his mouth from time to time, and he lost all his teeth. His aged appearance made people sympathize with him.

There were also many different people.

Seeing these people, Fang Qiu fell silent.

Without further ado, he directly asked the director to take him to the consulting room and immediately began to see patients!

As he started to see patients, the patients who were waiting in the hospital all walked into the consulting room full of expectation. After being treated, they came out with relief.

Unlike the patients, Fang Qiu, who was sitting in the consulting room, was in a heavy mood because he found that these patients were all suffering from serious diseases.

The most important thing was that this place was remote. As he judged from their clothes, these people were not rich. These serious diseases could be cured in the city, but in such remote mountainous areas, they could only resign themselves to their fate.

This problem made Fang Qiu feel heavy-hearted!

The strangest thing was that Fang Qiu had seen many patients in a row, but he didn't find any patients suffering from the flu, which made him very confused.

When he was searching earlier, he decided to come here especially because of the flu pandemic. However, when he started seeing the patients here, he didn't even see any patients with the flu. It was really strange.

Although feeling puzzled, Fang Qiu did not ask but continued to treat patients.

It took Fang Qiu a whole day and night to see all the patients with serious diseases lining up in the hospital.

It was early morning the next day. After all the patients were treated and left, the director walked into the consulting room, carried a bowl of warm local food, placed it on the table in front of Fang Qiu, and personally made a cup of tea for Fang Qiu. "Come, eat something."

"Thank you," Fang Qiu thanked him.

"You're being too polite. I should be the one to thank you on behalf of all the patients in our hospital." As Director Lin spoke, he took out a thick envelope from his trouser pocket and handed it to Fang Qiu. Meanwhile, he said, "It would be great if you could stay with us. The medical conditions here are too poor."

"What's this?" Fang Qiu was stunned when he saw the envelope that Lin Chao handed to him.

The director said, "This is your consultation fee."

“No need,” Fang Qiu immediately shook his head and said, “I’ve never accepted any fee. It’s a free clinic. I can’t break the rules.”

Hearing that, Director Lin fell silent for a while, then put away the envelope and said to Fang Qiu, “On behalf of all the patients, thank you again. I really hope there can be more doctors like you so that the medical conditions here will not be so bad.”

Fang Qiu smiled.

“By the way,” after taking a few bites of the food sent by Director Lin, Fang Qiu thought of the flu pandemic and asked, “I’ve seen several news reports that there is a serious flu pandemic here. Why haven’t I seen a single patient with the flu after treating so many patients here?”

“That’s because of me.” Director Lin gave a wry smile and said, “I didn’t ask them to come, and I didn’t tell anyone that you were here.”

Fang Qiu frowned.

At this moment, the nurse, who had been helping Fang Qiu for a day and a night in the consulting room, suddenly walked in from the table at the door with misty eyes and said, “Doctor Fang, don’t get him wrong. The director did this out of kindness. The patients you treated during this period are all poor people who had suffered from serious diseases for a long time. Hence, after the director knew that you were coming, he made up his mind to give priority to their treatment. After all, you only stay in our hospital for a short time. You may not come here again.

“Besides, these patients didn’t pay for their treatment. The hospital also covers their treatment fee. The director even personally asked staff in the hospital to pick up many patients in the remote areas by car.”

Medical Master

Chapter 1007: The Current State of Healthcare Is Worrying

After listening to the nurse’s explanation, Fang Qiu didn’t hesitate. He stood up and bowed low to Director Lin.

"What are you doing?" Seeing this, the director went forward in a panic and quickly helped Fang Qiu up, saying, "I'm not only the director of a Chinese Medicine Hospital but also the director of Lin Zhai Chinese Medicine Hospital. I should be responsible for all the patients here. It's my job to do all these things. I should really thank you for coming all the way here to help me and the patients."

"I'm a Chinese Medicine practitioner," Fang Qiu said to the director and then added, "Director Lin, I've decided to stay for another three days. Please inform the patients to come over. I hope I can try my best to help."

"Really?" Director Lin was extremely surprised.

The nurse at the side also rubbed her misty eyes and smiled.

"Yes," answered Fang Qiu with certainty.

Director Lin said in excitement, "Okay. You should get some rest. You can rest for at least half a day before you see the patients. You've been seeing patients for a day and a night. We must make sure you have enough rest."

"Okay." Fang Qiu nodded in agreement.

"Xiaoliu, you can get off work. Go back home and have a good rest," the director said to the nurse and then added, "Don't tell anyone that Fang Qiu will stay for another three days for now. I have other arrangements."

"Okay." The nurse nodded and left.

"Let's go, Dr. Fang. I'll take you to a room to have a rest." As they spoke, they walked out of the consulting room and headed for the private room that they had prepared for Fang Qiu in advance.

As they arrived, Fang Qiu found that although the room was small, it was well-equipped. There was a sofa, a tea table, a television, and a bed.

“Director,” sitting down on the sofa in the room, Fang Qiu asked, “why are there so many patients with serious diseases here? Don’t you have doctors here? I can tell that many of those patients only got the serious diseases because they didn’t get the treatment on time.”

“Alas...” Director Lin sighed deeply and said in a very heavy tone, “Yes, we are short of doctors. In some places, there is only one small clinic within nearly 10 miles, so many people’s treatment has been delayed. Unless they are so sick that they can’t stand it anymore, they won’t go to the city. After all, in this region, all the roads are nearly mountain roads. It takes a lot of time to go to the city. And they also need to spend a lot of money, so many patients don’t like to come. They can’t even afford it. The essence of this problem is that the doctors are not enough.”

Fang Qiu nodded and said, “If there were a doctor in every village and every town, the minor illnesses might not turn into serious ones. And there wouldn’t be so many patients with serious diseases. Didn’t you go to find some doctors?”

“It’s useless even if we find them,” Director Lin said with a wry smile, “the restrictions on the Medical Qualification Certificate are very strict. After all, it’s a matter of life and death. We can’t allow any mistakes. Besides, although the national subsidy and the aid of poverty alleviation have been issued, the living conditions here are too harsh. Who is willing to come here?”

Fang Qiu fell silent.

Although he didn’t see the mountain roads mentioned by the director in person, he could tell that the living conditions in this place were indeed too harsh from the city construction and the patients he saw yesterday.

Even Lin Chao, the director of the municipal Chinese Medicine Hospital, was wearing a suit with a style of the 1990s. It could be imagined how harsh the conditions here were.

“I want to discuss something with you,” said Director Lin.

“What is it?” Fang Qiu nodded.

"If you're going to stay for three more days, I hope you can spare one day to treat other patients with serious diseases. There are not many of them left. One day should be enough."

Speaking of this, Director Lin paused and said, "I'll announce to the public that you only see patients in our hospital for two days."

"Okay." Fang Qiu nodded at once.

He also knew that he needed to get his priorities right.

Since he was about to see patients, those who had serious diseases should be given priority.

"Then you take a rest first. I'll arrange it now." As he spoke, the director stood up and left.

Fang Qiu was the only one left in the room.

He pondered for a while and then took out his cell phone to call Li Ji.

"Hello?" When the phone was connected, Li Ji's voice came. He asked, "What's the matter? Did something happen?"

"I want to ask you if you can help me get an investigation report," said Fang Qiu.

"Investigation report?" Li Ji was stunned and said, "There are various kinds of investigation reports. Whether you can get it or not depends on the type of investigation report you want."

"I want an investigation report related to all the remote mountainous areas in Huaxia, which mainly focuses on medicine. It's best to count how many doctors are needed in these remote mountainous areas. If you can do it, please try to make it as detailed as possible," said Fang Qiu.

“No problem.” Li Ji immediately nodded and said, “The higher-ups have always paid special attention to the medical conditions and medical personnel in the poor mountainous area. People have been doing research on this field. It won’t be a problem to get such a report. However, although I know what you want to do and these materials are not confidential, you have to give me a reason why you need this, right?”

“Get me the report first, and then I will decide what to do,” said Fang Qiu.

“Okay.” Li Ji nodded and said, “I trust you. The higher-ups also trust you.”

He hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

Fang Qiu walked to the bed in the room and sat down, closing his eyes to have a rest.

There were still three days left, so he had to adjust his state to the best.

Fortunately, he was a martial arts practitioner. If he were an ordinary man, it would be impossible for him to hold on.

He rested until two o’clock in the afternoon.

When it was time to officially start work in the Chinese Medicine Hospital, Fang Qiu got up and came out when he heard some sounds outside the door.

He then found that there was a young nurse guarding at the door.

“Do people in the hospital start working?” Asked Fang Qiu.

The young nurse said timidly, “They’re already at work. Your consulting room is ready, but the director asked me not to disturb you. He said that you had been working for a day and a night, so he wants you to rest for a while.”

“It’s okay. I’ve already got enough rest.” Fang Qiu smiled slightly and said, “Let’s go.”

After saying that, Fang Qiu returned to the consulting room and continued to see patients.

When he was back in the consulting room, Fang Qiu found that this Chinese Medicine Hospital was already packed with people unknowingly.

When Director Lin spread the news that Fang Qiu was going to see patients in the Chinese Medicine Hospital for two days, it suddenly caused a sensation in this third-tier city.

Everyone heard of Fang Qiu.

However, no one expected that Fang Qiu would come to Lin Zhai.

Now, as soon as people heard the news, countless people rushed to the Chinese Medicine Hospital in the first place.

In the hospital, Fang Qiu also officially started doing consultations.

The first patient was the patient who got serious flu, who was mentioned on the news.

After examining the patient, Fang Qiu found that it was not as serious as he thought. It was merely a simple seasonal flu, so he immediately prescribed some medicine for the patient.

Then, he saw more than ten patients in a row, all of whom suffered from seasonal flu.

When he discovered this situation, Fang Qiu directly wrote down a prescription that was specifically used to treat seasonal flu and asked the nurse to give it to the director so as to ask him to publicize it.

After receiving the prescription, the director was overjoyed and immediately began to publicize it.

Fang Qiu sighed with emotion in his heart.

“How can a simple small disease develop into flu? The medical and health conditions here are really insufficient. There are so many doctors in big cities, but few doctors want to come to the small city.”

The more Fang Qiu thought about it, the more he wanted to sigh.

While Fang Qiu was seeing patients, the director quickly spread the prescription given by him. Although people didn't know who wrote this prescription, those who tried it felt that it was particularly effective. Hence, people tried to cure the flu according to this prescription.

Of course, everyone was silently thanking the people who gave out the prescription.

In the consulting room, Fang Qiu kept seeing patients for two days consecutively. After he finished seeing all the patients, another group of patients with serious diseases came. It took him another day to see all the patients with serious diseases.

Seeing the second group of patients with serious diseases, Fang Qiu felt heartbroken.

It was the same as three days ago.

He found that numerous patients got serious diseases because they didn't get the treatment on time. Originally, their diseases didn't have to become so severe.

After seeing all the patients, Fang Qiu returned to the private room to have a rest and found that the investigation report he asked for had already been sent by Li Ji a day ago. He immediately checked his email and read the report carefully.

“According to Statistical Bulletin on the Development of Health Undertakings of our country, there is a total of 6.203 million health professionals in the country by the end of last year.

“Among them, people working in hospitals at all levels account for 3.706 million of the number while there are less than 2 million people working in community health service stations and town clinics. There are only about 20,000 hospitals in the whole country, but the total number of community health service stations and town clinics exceeds 70,000.

“The data also shows that there is a shortage of medical staff in the community and town clinics. What’s more urgent is that there is a shortage of general practitioners in the countryside.”

Fang Qiu knew that the general practitioners here referred to the doctors that could deal with common diseases, frequently-occurring diseases, and general emergency cases in the outpatient clinics. This kind of doctor was extremely important to patients in the countryside.

“According to the ideal ratio, there should at least be 600,000 general practitioners in the country. But there are only 78,000 in our country. And these people’s medical skills are worrying!”

Fang Qiu fell silent after reading the investigation report.

He didn’t expect that there was actually such a huge gap!

There was a lack of 600, 000 general practitioners.

It seemed that apart from Lin Zhai, there were many other places in the country that was as miserable as Lin Zhai.

As he was constantly thinking about it, Fang Qiu frowned more deeply.

As he was pondering, Fang Qiu took out his phone and called Chen Yinsheng.

“Hello?” When the phone was connected, Chen Yinsheng’s voice came.

“Vice President,” Fang Qiu called him respectfully and then said, “are there any statistics about the employment condition of graduates of major TCM colleges in our school?”

Chen Yinsheng asked, "The Ministry of Education will collect the information every year. Do you want these statistics?"

He knew that Fang Qiu must want to do something good with the data, so he didn't ask for the reason why he needed it.

"Yes, if possible, please send a copy to me," said Fang Qiu.

"Okay, I'll find it for you now. I'll send it to you in five minutes," Chen Yinsheng answered and hung up the phone.

Chapter 1008: Fang Qiu Will Give a Lecture

Five minutes later, there was a sound of the email notification.

Fang Qiu logged into his email with his cell phone and tapped on the new email to have a look.

It was the data sent by Chen Yinsheng. He immediately tapped on it and read.

After he read it, Fang Qiu's brows furrowed even more deeply.

"According to the investigation report, various medical colleges in our country recruit about 600,000 medical students every year, but only 100,000 people can eventually become doctors. The number of talent loss has reached 500,000, which accounts for 84%. And among them, the admission ratio of Chinese Medicine students is very small. The ratio of becoming doctors is even smaller, only one-tenth."

As he saw this, Fang Qiu's heart skipped a beat.

500,000 people were lost among 600,000. Among the remaining 100,000 people, the students who chose western medicine needed to be deducted. The rest of them also needed to be selected through exams. In the end, only one-tenth of them were left.

These people were not one-tenth of the 100,000 people. Instead, it was one-tenth of the remaining people after he deducted those who chose Western Medicine, the people who weren't admitted to colleges, and people who failed to finish college among the 100,000 people.

Fang Qiu didn't even dare to calculate carefully because he knew that if he were to calculate it according to this figure, the final result would certainly shock him!

He took a deep breath and continued to read.

"According to the report, there is a shortage of rural doctors all over the country now. Even though there are more people studying medicine, it's still hard to retain talents in grass-roots health institutions. Nowadays, undergraduate colleges basically don't cultivate rural doctors for the countryside. In addition, people nowadays are used to city life and are reluctant to go to the countryside. There are also problems such as salary, treatment and so on. As a result, there are fewer and fewer rural doctors, but there are more and more urban doctors.

"The School of Health Humanity of Bekin University conducted a survey on the employment preference of the 380 medical undergraduate students. The final result showed that 80% of the medical students hoped to stay in the big city, and less than 20% of them were willing to go to the grassroots.

"Before this, there are still college students in some county or town clinics when the government guaranteed the job assignment of graduates in the past. Now most of them had left or were about to retire, but the follow-up medical practitioners couldn't keep up.

"There are very few top talents among the medical students, and a large number of them go abroad in recent years. There are even fewer people who are willing to go to the west regions or the grassroots. In the future, how can people living in the countryside see a doctor?"

This data was a dialogue in a reporter's interview with a higher-up of the Ministry of Education.

After reading it, Fang Qiu was completely silent.

On the one hand, remote villages were in urgent need of doctors.

On the other hand, there were very few doctors due to the talent loss.

Moreover, doctors nowadays were unwilling to go to the countryside and hoped to stay in the city.

Under such circumstances, it formed an unhealthy ecological environment.

Because of the loss of talents, there were more and more places that lacked doctors. And it was rather difficult to develop such places without doctors. Besides, doctors were reluctant to work in these places.

These three problems opposed each other, making the whole thing come to a dead end.

Of course, the best solution was to develop the remote mountainous areas.

However, it was not easy to do so. It would take at least a decade or two to build a city, and it would take several years to draw people to the city after construction. Besides, this was a remote mountain area. Even the roads here were loess mountain roads, not to mention building a city. It would take so much time to make other constructions.

The government was also vigorously supervising and urging people to help and develop the remote mountainous area, but it would take too long. What Fang Qiu saw now was a big problem that needed to be solved immediately.

Fang Qiu wanted to solve this problem.

But how should he solve it?

There was a knock at the door.

Just as Fang Qiu was thinking with a frown, Director Lin knocked on the door and came in.

“Director Lin.” Fang Qiu stood up to greet him.

Director Lin asked, “Doctor Fang, did I disturb your rest?”

“No,” Fang Qiu answered with a smile.

“Okay.” Director Lin smiled, then rubbed his hands and said, “Well, in order to thank you for your help to our hospital and the patients in the past few days, I want to treat you to a good meal to express my gratitude.”

“No need,” Fang Qiu immediately shook his head and said, “I still have something urgent to deal with, and I’ve already booked the flight ticket. There are less than 30 minutes left before I board the plane. I was about to say goodbye to you. Then you came.”

“So soon?” Director Lin was stunned and said, “Anyway, you need to have a meal before you leave. You have helped us so much when you’re in Lin Zhai these days. I’ll feel bad if I can’t treat you well.”

“Director Lin, we are all Chinese Medicine practitioners,” Fang Qiu said with a smile, “This is what we should do. There’s no need to thank me.”

Seeing that Fang Qiu was determined not to eat this meal, Director Lin held Fang Qiu and wanted to send him some local specialties, but Fang Qiu declined.

Helplessly, Director Lin could only drive Fang Qiu to the airport in person. He didn’t turn around and leave until Fang Qiu’s plane took off.

On the plane, Fang Qiu had been worrying and thinking about how to solve the problem that there was a lack of doctors in rural areas.

But after thinking about it during the whole trip, he couldn't come up with any good ideas.

He then came back to the office of the cultivation base in Beijiang.

"You're here?" When he saw He Xue in the office, Fang Qiu's eyes immediately lit up and he said, "I have a question. Could you help me think if there is any solution to it?"

"What is it?" He Xue asked curiously.

Fang Qiu said, "I went to Lin Zhai in Guizhou province this time. That's a remote mountain area. The city is not big, and all kinds of conditions there are miserable. It's very troublesome for the people in the countryside to even go to the city to see a doctor. Because there is a lack of doctors in the village, many minor diseases have turned into serious diseases because patients don't get treatment in time. The problem now is that the loss of medical talents is huge. There are very few doctors willing to go to the countryside. Without doctors there, the rural areas can't develop, which causes people's minor diseases to turn into serious diseases in the remote mountain area. From your point of view, is there any way to solve this problem?"

After saying that, Fang Qiu looked at He Xue expectantly.

However, after thinking for a while, He Xue shook her head decisively and said, "This is related to people's livelihood in the whole country. With the development of the country, this kind of thing will gradually become less and eventually disappear. But if you want to solve it now, there's indeed nothing you can do. Even the government can't do anything about it. What solution can I think of?"

Fang Qiu gave a wry smile after hearing that.

Then, he finally made up his mind, gritted his teeth, and said, "I want to give it a try!"

"What do you want to do?" He Xue was stunned, thinking she had misheard him.

"I want to give it a try," said Fang Qiu again with a determined look.

“Damn!” He Xue curled her lips, looked at Fang Qiu as if she were looking at an idiot, and said, “Hey, you really have a hero complex. Does this matter have anything to do with you? Why do you care so much about it?”

“It’s related to me.” Fang Qiu immediately shook his head and said, “I’m a Chinese Medicine doctor. All the things related to patients in the world have something to do with me!”

Hearing that, He Xue was helpless.

She forgot that this guy was truly a doctor.

Soon, the preliminary of the second season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor officially began.

It was still the same as the first season.

Every provincial city had a site of registration.

All registration sites accepted everyone to sign up for the competition.

The University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine was once again selected as one of the registration sites.

The registration this time would last for three days, but within merely one day, the number of people signing up for the competition on the UJCM registration site was equal to that of the first season.

Of course, all this was due to the success of the first season of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor.

Though Fang Qiu was in Beijing, he also cared about the school.

Fang Qiu immediately bought a flight ticket to Jiangjing after seeing so many people signing up for the competition on the forum of the University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine.

When he went back to school, Fang Qiu ran straight to the Vice President's office without even going to his dormitory.

"Knock, knock, knock..." Fang Qiu knocked on the door and walked into the office.

"Fang Qiu?" At his desk, Chen Yinsheng looked up at Fang Qiu and asked with a smile, "Didn't you see patients in Guizhou two days ago? Why did you come back so soon?"

"I come back as soon as the free clinical treatment is over," Fang Qiu answered with a smile, then walked to the desk and sat down. He said to Chen Yinsheng seriously, "President Chen, I want to give a lecture at school to all the graduates of the fifth year in college and graduates of the third year of postgraduate. Is that okay?"

"A lecture?" Chen Yinsheng glanced at Fang Qiu in surprise and said, "That's a good thing. Your seniors are waiting."

"So, you agreed?" Asked Fang Qiu.

"Yes, I agree." Chen Yinsheng nodded with a smile.

"Thank you, President Chen." Fang Qiu thanked him hurriedly.

Chen Yinsheng then made a call in front of Fang Qiu and asked the staff of the publicity department to inform the whole school that Fang Qiu would give a lecture at nine o'clock tomorrow morning in the conference hall!

Soon, various notices were posted on big bulletin boards of the school, and such notices were also written on the blackboards everywhere.

It only took one afternoon before the news that Fang Qiu was going to give a lecture spread throughout the campus.

“Fang Qiu is going to give a lecture?”

“I also want to listen to it, but this lecture seems to aim at graduates.”

“This lecture is held just in time. It’s going to be the graduation season in more than a month. Now those seniors who are about to graduate are so adrift. If Fang Qiu holds this lecture, maybe he can help them guide the way.”

“The school has given a strict order. We must go!”

“I’ll be upset if they won’t let me go. I really want to hear what Fang Qiu is going to talk about in this lecture.”

The whole school was talking about it.

In Dormitory 501, Fang Qiu didn’t sleep all night or even stay in the bed. Instead, he had been sitting at the desk under the bed and prepared his speech with his laptop.

This time, the reason why he rushed back from Beijiang was that he attached great importance to this matter. He hoped that through his lecture, everyone could have one more choice when they graduated!

The next day, it was at eight o’clock in the morning.

Fang Qiu was having breakfast in the school canteen.

However, as soon as he appeared, he attracted many students to stop and watch. They all stared at him as if he were a national treasure and said hello to him.

Fang Qiu also greeted them.

After breakfast, Fang Qiu went straight to the lounge of the conference hall to have a rest.

At this time, Chen Yinsheng was already sitting inside.

Medical Master

Chapter 1009: Sorry! I Want to Go But I Dont Dare!

“Ready?” Chen Yinsheng, who had already arrived, immediately asked with a smile when he saw Fang Qiu in the lounge of the conference hall.

“Okay,” Fang Qiu nodded.

“There are lots of lectures in our school. When you came back from the Medical Conference, I actually wanted you to hold a lecture and tell the students about the situation of the World Medical Exchange Conference, so as to broaden the students’ horizons. However, as soon as you returned to school, you took the class-ending exam and then disappeared,” Chen Yinsheng said with a smile.

Fang Qiu just smiled.

Seeing that Fang Qiu seemed to have something on his mind, Chen Yinsheng was slightly stunned.

However, he didn’t care too much about his reaction. Instead, he said, “Although I don’t know the topic of your speech, it’s definitely not about you at the World Medical Conference, nor about meridians and Qi. So I won’t ask specifically. After the speech starts, I’ll listen carefully. Today, I’ll be just one of your audiences. I believe that no matter what you talk about, it will definitely be very exciting!”

“Thank you,” Fang Qiu nodded to Chen Yinsheng.

Although Chen Yinsheng didn’t do anything, he trusted him so his words were enough.

Trust was the greatest support that the other party gave him.

He had been preparing the contents of today's speech for a long time.

Soon, time was up. "Come on, I'm watching you below the stage."

Chen Yinsheng walked out of the lounge with Fang Qiu.

At the moment, the meeting hall was already packed with people. All the graduating students of the department of Chinese Medicine were here.

If it were someone else giving a lecture, there would not be so many people.

Because no one was willing to miss Fang Qiu's speech.

Looking at the numerous seniors in front of him, Fang Qiu took a deep breath and then stepped onto the stage.

Chen Yinsheng also walked to the front of the stage and sat down in the middle of the first row.

"Clap, clap..." All the people clapped and applauded Fang Qiu, as he went on the stage.

"Thank you all," Fang Qiu thanked with a smile, walking to the stage.

"Thank you very much for coming today. You are all my seniors. As a sophomore, I am not qualified to give a lecture for you."

As soon as these words came out, everyone shook their heads. If Fang Qiu was not qualified to give them lectures, there were few in the school.

“Everyone is about to graduate. Today, I want to share my learning process of Chinese Medicine and my experience with you,” said Fang Qiu.

Hearing that, everyone immediately straightened up. He was about to say something useful.

“Everyone knows that Chinese Medicine pays attention to the overall thinking and dialectical thoughts. This is the content of the first class that everyone starts in university, but how can these be reflected in the process of diagnosing?”

Next, Fang Qiu talked with assurance. It was about his experience in diagnosing and learning.

Everyone on the scene was fascinated, and many people directly turned on their mobile phones to record while Chen Yinsheng was watching below with a smile.

This was indeed a necessary lesson for these students who were about to graduate. An hour and a half later, the lecture was over.

Everyone still wanted to hear more and they benefited a lot.

On the stage, Fang Qiu suddenly fell silent for a period of time.

Everyone looked at Fang Qiu curiously, a little confused.

The silence lasted for a minute. The scene was extremely silent, and the atmosphere gradually became slightly heavy.

The next moment, Fang Qiu’s action shocked everyone. With a serious face, Fang Qiu bowed three times with great sincerity to all the people in the hall.

This scene directly stunned everyone.

No one expected Fang Qiu would bow three times abruptly.

On the stage, after bowing, Fang Qiu straightened up, looked at all the people present sincerely, and said, "The three bows made by me are on behalf of countless patients in the future to thank you for choosing the path of studying medicine, and to thank you for saving them or even a family in the future.

"However, I run into some things a few days ago. I wanted to tell you all about what happened to me sincerely.

"Is everyone willing to listen?" Asked Fang Qiu.

"Yes!" The audience cheered.

Who was Fang Qiu? One of the most popular people in the country that people were willing to sit and chat with now.

But a story that Fang Qiu was so serious about and kept until the end of the lecture was definitely not an easy and pleasant story.

Below the stage, Chen Yinsheng also raised his eyebrows slightly.

He seemed to have guessed the content of Fang Qiu's lecture, because he knew that Fang Qiu went to treat patients in L City in G Province, which was a famous remote mountainous area in the country. Fang Qiu might have run into something there.

On the stage. "This is a real story," Fang Qiu asked, "do you know there is a G Province in our country?"

Many people nodded.

"I have promised before that I will choose a place for a free clinic for a day every month. And the place is the L City of G Province this month, which has been announced before. You might know it.

“However, is the name of L City in G Province similar to our Jiangjing, a big city as well?

“No. Due to the fact that you have never been to that place before, you do not know much about the situation there,” Fang Qiu shook his head and seemed like saying to himself.

Then, he added with a serious face, “When I first arrived in L City, I also felt that it is a big city. It was just that the construction of the city was a little worse than that of Jiangjing, but there were all kinds of things that a city should have. But when I walked into the Chinese Medicine Hospital of L City led by Director Lin Chao, my values were completely changed.

“Not every city will be crowded with patients. In front of me, the entire hall and corridors of the hospital are full of seriously ill patients. They are all waiting for me to treat them.

“At first, I thought that the hospital was afraid of an accident, so they did not publicize the news that I went to the local place to diagnose patients. But when I spent a day and a night diagnosing all the patients in the hospital, I found that all of them were seriously ill!”

Hearing that, all the people present became curious.

They were all seriously ill? Wasn't this too much of a coincidence?

It was said that the flu over there was quite serious, but they didn't know that so many patients required intensive care.

Everyone became confused.

Fang Qiu looked at everyone and said, “I didn't know until the end.

“L City is in a remote place. The jurisdiction of the whole city is very wide, and there are very few subordinate counties. But there are many villages and towns in the mountainous area and many people of ethnic minorities.

“In those places, roads haven’t even been built yet. It will take two days for the people there to enter the city even if there is a car to pick them up.

“Director Lin Chao told me that there were many serious patients in those remote mountainous areas. So when he knew that I was going to be in diagnostics, he didn’t spread the news. Instead, he secretly asked the staff of the hospital to take seriously ill patients to the hospital. These people didn’t have money, and even the treatment fee was paid by the hospital.”

Hearing that, all the people present were shocked.

Just as Fang Qiu said, ninety percent or even ninety-nine percent of them had never been to that place, so they didn’t know the poor condition of that place.

“Director Lin Chao is a real Chinese Medicine doctor. He really stands by the patients’ side,” said Fang Qiu.

Everyone nodded.

Chen Yinsheng took the lead in applauding.

Lin Chao who was devoted to Chinese Medicine was indeed a very good Chinese Medicine doctor. Seldom people could be able to put the interests of the hospital aside for the patients.

All of a sudden, the audience burst into applause.

“To put it bluntly, Director Lin Chao is really one of the best Chinese Medicine doctors I have ever met.”

Fang Qiu praised him again and continued, “Later, Director Lin Chao told me specifically about the situation in L City. Just as I saw in the free clinic, all the serious diseases I treated were delayed into serious diseases. There were very few people who had serious diseases. The reason why those people developed serious diseases was that they did not get comprehensive treatment for minor illnesses. If they had been treated earlier, there would not have been so many serious diseases.”

He paused and gave everyone some time to digest the information.

After a while, he continued, "After I found this situation in L City, I asked someone to find very authoritative information. According to the information, there is currently a shortage of general practitioners in Huaxia villages and towns, a total of 600,000 people!

"This number sounds huge, but actually, each level medical university in our country recruits 600,000 medical students every year. However, among these 600,000, 500,000 people outflow. After excluding the various conditions during the study process, only one-tenth of the students can become doctors in the end!"

Hearing the data, all the present people were shocked.

Everyone was silent. Even the Vice President, Chen Yinsheng, was the same.

He knew part of the information, such as the data on the students who became doctors after graduation, which he found for Fang Qiu. Although he knew that the probability of it was very small, he didn't know that the shortage of national doctors in villages and towns was so big!

600,000 in total. In addition, only one-tenth of the students became doctors. Comparing these data, the gap was immediately revealed.

On the stage, "I'm done telling my story."

After speaking out what was on his mind, Fang Qiu took a deep breath and then said to everyone present, "The reason why I said this is that I hope you can have another choice after graduation, considering remote mountainous areas and villages as one of your choices."

Fang Qiu bowed deeply to everyone!

There was no applause. All the people present fell silent.

It seemed that the crowd didn't know how to respond.

Fang Qiu didn't step down. It seemed that he was waiting for an answer.

After a long time. Finally, "I'm sorry." A student took the initiative to stand up, bow to Fang Qiu, and then said with red eyes, "I'm also a doctor. I also want to save people, but this society is cruel. After graduation, we have to buy a car, house, support the old, and make plans for our family. I also want to go to the remote mountainous areas and save those patients, but I dare not go!"

Everyone looked at the student. No one nodded or shook their heads. Everyone remained silent.

On the stage, Fang Qiu looked grave and looked at everyone. From everyone's expression, he knew that they agreed with the student's words.

He fell silent. After a long time, Fang Qiu gently exhaled.

"Okay, thank you. This is not a moral kidnapping. I just told you about reality. Finally, I wish you a bright future and that you can save more people on practicing medicine. Thank you all."

After that, he bowed and stepped down. But the moment he stepped off the stage, he made a decision, a crazy one!

Medical Master

Chapter 1010

After getting o

Invite All the Bosses of Medicine Companies to a Meeting!

ff the stage, Fang Qiu directly turned around and walked into the lounge on the left of the conference stage.

Everyone also got up and left.

There was no noise. Everyone was thinking.

It wasn't that they didn't want to do this. It was this world and this society that made them fear doing so.

To put it bluntly, if they struggled to survive in a city, maybe they could live a carefree life and save more people. But if they went to that remote mountainous area, they couldn't live a wealthy life and might even get sick. In those places, with medicine, disinfection and other aspects below standard, it would be really troublesome if one got sick. One's salary in those places was even not enough for them to afford their own medicines.

This was the reality! This was society!

When everyone left, Chen Yinsheng, who had been in the first row, immediately got up and walked into the lounge.

He opened the door, and saw Fang Qiu sitting on the sofa with a gloomy face. Chen Yinsheng said instantly, "I'm sorry."

Only then did he know the purpose of Fang Qiu's speech. Unfortunately, this purpose wasn't achieved.

"This was not moral blackmail." Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "I just told them a real situation and gave them a choice. As for their decisions, they are not up to you or me."

"You've done very well," Chen Yinsheng said.

Fang Qiu didn't reply. He just shook his head with a wry smile.

When the lecture was over, all the graduates left the conference hall.

Outside the hall, many students were waiting for their seniors to tell them the content of Fang Qiu's speech.

However, when these graduates came out, they didn't look well. No matter who asked about the speech, they didn't say a word, which made everyone more curious.

Fang Qiu had already left through the back door of the conference hall. After booking a ticket back to Beijing, he left for the airport directly.

Fang Qiu returned to the planting base at two o'clock in the afternoon.

"My big boss, you're back already?" He Xue's teasing voice came when Fang Qiu entered the office. "How's your worldwide problem? Has it been solved?"

"Not yet." Fang Qiu turned down the corners of his mouth and said, "But I've got an idea. I need your cooperation."

"No problem!" He Xue spread her hands. She thought for a little while and said, "It seems that you've already made up your mind. But I have to remind you that if you have any big plans, you'd better report them to your girlfriend. Otherwise, she would be angry if she knows later."

Speaking of this, Han Xue pretended to be a little girl and added, "At the beginning of a relationship, the boy must consider the feelings of the girl. Even if it's just a small mistake, the girl will feel that you don't care about her. This is the most fragile phase of a relationship, and you have to handle it well."

Fang Qiu showed a bitter smile. He knew that He Xue made a joke about him. But thinking about it, he agreed that she was right.

Since he had made such a big decision, it was really necessary for him to tell Jiang Miaoyu. Otherwise, after he finished his plan secretly, Jiang Miaoyu would blame him again.

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu took out his phone and dialed Jiang Miaoyu's number without hesitation.

Seeing this, He Xue said, "I'll leave you lovers to catch up." Then she left directly and had no intention to stay and eavesdrop.

"Hello?" Jiang Miaoyu answered the phone.

Fang Qiu didn't conceal any information and told his whole plan to her on the phone.

Hearing that Fang Qiu was going to do such a big thing, Jiang Miaoyu was stunned at once!

"Have you really decided to do so?" Jiang Miaoyu asked in surprise.

"Yes, I've made up my mind," Fang Qiu nodded and answered.

"I support all your decisions." Jiang Miaoyu agreed and said, "We are all Chinese Medicine doctors. I know why you want to do this. If I were you, I would do the same thing. So I support you!"

"Thank you. It's great to have your support," Fang Qiu thanked her, "okay, I have to go. You go and take care of your business, too. Don't worry about me."

Finally, Jiang Miaoyu hung up the phone with understanding.

She knew that Fang Qiu was going to do something big, and she couldn't disturb him.

"Phew." After having made the phone call, Fang Qiu let out a long sigh and murmured, "Now I have no concerns. Next, I should find an opportunity to reveal this plan."

Obviously, if he wanted to attract the public's attention, he had to find a particularly good opportunity.

But judging from the current situation, that kind of great opportunity did not exist. But fortunately, there was Renyi Company, which had already become an international brand.

"If I want to publicize this plan, I'll hold a press conference directly!" Fang Qiu nodded and said to himself.

This time, he was going to make something big.

Right at this moment, the phone in his pants pocket suddenly rang.

He took it out and saw the call was from Director Li Huawen.

"Hello, Fang Qiu?" Li Huawen's voice came from the other side of the phone and sounded a little ashamed.

"Director Li, what can I do for you?" Fang Qiu asked curiously, "As far as I know, the preliminary selection of the second season of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor has just begun. The callback hasn't started yet and the final contestants of the show haven't been selected either, right?"

"I knew that you cared about our show," Director Li Huawen said with a smile.

"I just read from the news." Fang Qiu smiled.

"To tell you the truth, I do need your help." Director Li Huawen paused for a moment and continued, "The second season of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor is already in preparation. It won't be long before the official shooting. Unlike the first season, many advertisers have contacted us when this season was just settled, hoping to sponsor, advertise and so on. But there are too many advertisers, and it's not easy for us to choose. Therefore, the leaders of the TV station decided to hold an advertising investment fair. Before the official shooting of the show, we need to confirm the sponsors and advertisers first."

"That makes sense." Fang Qiu nodded with understanding.

“The advertising investment fair will be held on the day after tomorrow. Although you haven’t participated in the whole shooting process of the second season, you’ve promised me to be the person to call for Chinese Medicine doctors. You will definitely show up in the first and the last episodes. So I want to discuss with you in the hope that you can attend the advertising investment fair this time. Let the public see you and help promote our show. What do you think?” Li Huawen asked embarrassedly.

Apparently, he also knew that he was purely using Fang Qiu, so he felt ashamed from the bottom of his heart.

However, he didn’t know that Fang Qiu was eager to find an opportunity like this. He brought the opportunity to Fang Qiu directly.

After he heard Director Li Huawen’s words, Fang Qiu’s eyes immediately lit up. He knew that this was the opportunity.

“Okay, I will attend,” Fang Qiu immediately nodded and agreed, “but I have a request.”

“What’s your request?” Director Li Huawen asked instantly. He was really shocked and couldn’t believe that Fang Qiu agreed so quickly since he had always thought that Fang Qiu would refuse him.

“I want to use the fair to do something. Of course, I won’t disturb the fair. You hold the fair as planned. I just need to announce something to all the media when the fair ends,” said Fang Qiu.

“What do you want to do?” Director Li Huawen was stunned, and then immediately asked in a low voice, “Are you going to make another piece of big news?”

“You’ll know when the time comes,” Fang Qiu answered with a smile and asked, “What do you think? Do you agree to this term?”

“Sure.” Director Li Huawen immediately nodded and said, “Why not? What you want to do has nothing to do with the advertising investment fair, and you’ll announce the news when the fair is over, so it is really irrelevant to us.”

“Okay, it’s settled then.” Fang Qiu nodded with a smile and hung up the phone.

Then, Fang Qiu immediately called He Xue.

“What’s up?” He Xue answered the phone and asked.

“Send a message to all the pharmaceutical companies in Huaxia immediately. Tell them that Renyi Group will invite all the bosses of pharmaceutical companies to have a meeting at Shenghua Hotel in the capital,” Fang Qiu said and then added, “The time will be four days later. By the way, tell them that there are benefits to share with them.”

“What benefits will be shared with other companies?” He Xue felt confused and asked.

“I want them to spend money,” Fang Qiu changed his tone and said in a deep voice.

He Xue was stunned.

She had never seen Fang Qiu like this. Normally, Fang Qiu was always laughing and joking. She didn’t think of him as a serious man. But now, he was obviously different, as if he had become another person.

However, because she was not beside Fang Qiu, He Xue didn’t know what Fang Qiu looked like now. She just imagined from his tone.

Undoubtedly, If Zhu Benzhen and the others were here, it would be easy for them to tell that Fang Qiu was definitely going to set someone up!

After hanging up the phone, He Xue immediately sent a message to the major companies.

Here, Fang Qiu began to plan secretly.

The reason why he chose Shenghua Hotel was that Director Li Huawen told him that the advertising investment fair of the second season of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor would be held here, too.

Shenghua Hotel was not far from Central Television.

Moreover, since Renyi Company's international investment fair was successfully held at Shenghua Hotel, here had become a blessed place for the business field.

Ninefold! The offer was ninefold higher than the domestic price. Who in the business field had ever seen such an awesome investment fair?

Although it had nothing to do with Shenghua Hotel, in the eyes of these business people, Shenghua Hotel was counted as an auspicious place.

Therefore, the advertising investment fair of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor of the second season was held here, with the hope to get a good start.

Soon, all the bosses of the major pharmaceutical companies received a text message from He Xue.

Seeing the message, all the bosses were confused for a moment.

"What on earth does Renyi Company want to do?"

"Judging from the current situation, Renyi Company is about to become the largest pharmaceutical company in Huaxia. It has gained huge fame in the international market. Since such a big company promised that there would be benefits, I definitely will attend."

"I'd like to see what Renyi Company is planning secretly."

Soon, all the bosses of the pharmaceutical companies decided to attend the meeting.

Even if they hadn't figured it out, they were still prepared to attend.

In addition, many of them were going to attend the advertising investment fair of Young Chinese Medicine Doctor anyhow. They could attend the meeting as well.
