Chapter 1081: The Location of the Material of Nuclear Weapon Is Exposed!

In the jungle of Zhongdong, the network signal on Fang Qiu's phone was still strong as he was using a satellite phone, despite that there was no cell tower within a hundred kilometers.

After browsing all kinds of information on the forum, Fang Qiu was about to log out.

But before he clicked to log out of the forum, a prompt suddenly popped up under his account.

"There is a new post in the user group you're in."

Seeing this prompt, Fang Qiu paused for a moment and then clicked into it.

However, the webpage changed, and Fang Qiu found that he was led to the home page of the forum.

He looked down.

As expected, he saw a new post. This post was posted 30 seconds ago, but at this moment, the title of the post had become bright red.

On the forum of underground forces, the popularity of the posts and topics was not controlled by the administrator of the forum, but it changed automatically according to the popularity of the posts themselves.

The title of the post becoming red meant that the post had become very popular in just 30 seconds.

Then, he looked at the title.

“Shocking news! The raw plutonium materials were found in the north of the Yisral! See the pictures attached to find the truth!”

Fang Qiu, who was flying fast in the air, suddenly stopped when he saw the post. He frowned unconsciously and clicked into the post immediately.

There were only seven words at the beginning of the post: “Please take a look at the pictures!”

Below the line of words was a series of clear pictures.

There was a description for each picture.

“From the photo, we can clearly see that these two tubes as thick as fists look like ordinary tubes. They don’t seem to be suspicious.

“These tubes are about 30 centimeters long. Their usage is still unknown.

“However, everyone, pay attention to this.

“There are two characters on the tubes in the photo: Pu.

“Ordinary people do not know that ‘Pu’ isn’t an English word, but a symbol of an element. This element is plutonium.”

...

...

All the people on the forum were shocked and started discussing it passionately after they saw the post.

“Oh my God! Could this place be the location of the raw plutonium material mentioned in the plutonium material map?”

“The chemical symbol of plutonium is really ‘Pu’!”

“This place looks really like a mine.”

“One thing happened after another! The matter about John Doe has just come to an end. Now, people are hesitating about where to hunt John Doe, the location of the plutonium mine is exposed! That is to say, the plutonium material map is useless now. What everyone is going to fight for next is this mine!”

“It’s strange. As soon as Huaxia made an announcement, the location of the plutonium mine is exposed. What a coincidence.”

“There is something more coincidental. According to the map, this mine is located on the border of the territories under the Truth Division and Gospel Division in Zhongdong. There are more than a dozen forces of all scales near that place, which could be considered the most complicated place in Zhongdong.”

“Goddamnit! It seems that a war is about to break out!”

“These local forces aren’t a threat. After all, most of them are following the lead of the Gospel Division and Truth Division. No matter how bold they are, they won’t be able to make too much trouble. The most terrible thing is that the Black Mamba Mercenaries, which is ranked fifth among all the mercenary organizations in the world, is stationed there.”

“It seems like the Murican military base is not far from that place.”

...

Fang Qiu couldn't help frowning as he browsed through the heated discussion on the forum.

He learned a lot of information from the post, such as how sensitive the location of the mine was, and the fact that the Murican military base was not far away from that place.

In the following time, in addition to the underground forces, such as the Truth Division, the Gospel Division, the mercenary organizations, and the foreign forces, even the military forces might join the fight for the plutonium mine.

After all, the matter had been blown out of proportion. Huaxia's announcement had hindered Murica's ambitions and plans of seizing the plutonium material map.

Without the map, what else could Murica do? They could only watch as Huaxia found the plutonium mine and exploited it. Even if they wanted to seize the mine secretly, they would definitely be discovered and expelled by Huaxia. After all, now Huaxia was not afraid of Murica at all. On the contrary, Murica began to be a little afraid of Huaxia.

"Murica knows very well that once the plutonium mine is occupied by Huaxia, it would be left behind by Huaxia, which is evenly matched with it now and would advance forward."

Fang Qiu frowned and murmured, "So, Murica will definitely participate in this fight. It's unlikely that they would use their troops to seize the mine, so the probability of them sending metahumans there to fight for it will increase exponentially. Once Murica takes action, the other forces will definitely follow the suit as well. In this way... they will really cause chaos in Zhongdong!"

"What closely linked schemes!"

"At first, they used the map to draw these big forces to Zhongdong. After the map disappeared, they immediately used the holy fruit to replace the map. When they found that their plan of triggering a war in Zhongdong failed, they used their trump card—exposing the location of the plutonium mine. They're determined to ignite the fire of war in this place."

“Before that, the Nirvana Organization wants to gobble the mine up secretly, doesn’t it?”

At the thought of this, Fang Qiu nodded to himself.

Judging from the current situation, his efforts in Zhongdong had finally worked. Although the Nirvana Organization’s trap was ongoing and getting bigger and bigger, Fang Qiu at least forced them to expose the location of the mine so that the organization failed to exploit it.

The members of the Nirvana Organization were all desperados. If they were able to exploit the mine, it would be too much of a threat to the whole world.

“Nirvana Organization has really invested a lot in it!”

Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes, searched with his mobile phone, and confirmed the direction of the plutonium mine. Then he stepped forward again and quickly disappeared into the forest.

...

“A plutonium mine? Is it really a plutonium mine?”

In the hall of the headquarters of the Truth Division, Ameer, the head of the division, the fat Divine Envoy, and the old military counselor were excited the moment they received the news.

Ameer, in particular, was shocked to hear the news. He knew very well what this mine meant to the Truth Division.

As soon as his subordinate finished reporting, he said with great enthusiasm, “Transfer all the people that we can mobilize around the mine to that place right now. Transfer all the free people that we can mobilize under our jurisdiction to that place, too. We must get this mine!”

...

“Send our people over there immediately!”

Like the leaders of the Truth Division, the three leaders of the Gospel Division received the news and instantly became excited and fanatical at their headquarters. Without even thinking, they immediately sent their people over. They even sent our several standard armed forces, looking like they were ready to start a war directly!

Soon, the Truth Division received the news that the Gospel Division had sent out armed forces and even all the experts under their command.

“Military Counselor, what do you think we should do?”

Ameer looked at the old military counselor and said, “That mine is located within the jurisdiction of both our division and the Gospel Division. Now the Gospel Division has sent almost all the available forces under their command there. If we go there like this, will we be at a disadvantage?”

“Yes.”

The old military counselor nodded and said, “Be patient. The Gospel Division has sent so many people over there just to tell the world that they are determined to get the mine. The more people they send, the stronger their combat capability will be, and the more easily they would attract people’s attention. Since they like to help us attract people’s attention to the matter, why should we compete with them now?”

“You’re right.”

Ameer’s eyes lit up.

“That mine is located within the jurisdiction of both our division and the Gospel Division. We have a reason to go there, and I believe that when we arrive there, the Gospel Division won’t dare to cross the line. Since they have sent most of their men out, their headquarters must be poorly guarded. If they dare to plot against us in the mine, then we can attack their headquarters directly. The members of the Gospel Division are no fools, so they won’t plot against us.

“However, after all, we have to get the mine, so we will send some people who are not very strong there openly, and we will need you to go there to protect them secretly, Divine Envoy. At least, we must guard our rights over the mine.”

Speaking of this, the old military counselor looked at the fat Divine Envoy.

“Don’t worry, military counselor. I’ll go there quietly tonight and finish what you asked me to do.”

The fat Divine Envoy swore solemnly.

...

...

All the major mercenary organizations, arms dealers, and various underground forces all sent out spies to the plutonium mine at the same time. They wanted to find out about the current situation at the mine and then decide what identity they should use to intervene in it.

...

While all the underground forces in the world were racking their brains to think of ways to get a share of the profits from the mine, the Black Mamba Mercenaries, emboldened by their geographic advantages, posted a post on the forum of underground forces!

“Announcement: the Greenwich Mountain Range is under the territory of us Black Mamba Mercenaries!”

It was just a simple line of words.

But it gave everyone a strong sense of provocation.

Could the Truth Division and the Gospel Division agree to it?

Could the other mercenary organizations agree to it?

Could the envoys from the major five countries agree to it?

...

L'hexagone, which had lost its first envoy, immediately sent a new envoy over there when they heard the news.

Isabel, the special envoy of Anglan, Lester, the special envoy of Murica, and Yakov, the special envoy of Rashk, received an order from their countries respectively at the same time. They immediately set off for the Greenwich Mountain Range, where the mine was located!

As the special envoy of Huaxia, Fang Qiu naturally wouldn't lag behind. While heading to the Greenwich Mountain Range, he paid attention to the posts on the forum of the underground forces.

To his surprise, he found that the forum had been in chaos and was flooded with all kinds of news.

"Is this Black Mamba Mercenaries courting death?"

Fang Qiu shook his head and said speechlessly, "They insisted on taking the mine as their own territory. Aren't they taking the initiative to cause contradictions?"

Chapter 1082: 84,000 Thoughts!

"Desire..."

The news on the forum of the underground forces made Fang Qiu very helpless.

He came to Zhongdong just because he wanted to stop the plans of the Nirvana Organization. It took him a lot of effort to crack their plans one after another. However, the Black Mamba Mercenaries, which was ranked fifth among all the mercenary organizations in the world, took the lead in jumping into the trap of the Nirvana Organization again in such a chaotic situation.

This really gave Fang Qiu a headache.

But there was nothing he could do.

The Nirvana Organization's plan this time was so meticulous that it was impossible for him to guard against each step they took.

...

After all, the Nirvana Organization had always remained in the dark. It was too difficult to gather information about them. No one in the world knew what they were going to do or what their next plan was.

In this case, Fang Qiu could only passively deal with it, and adopt measures appropriate to the situation!

"Beep, beep, beep..."

Just as Fang Qiu was about to put away his mobile phone and hurry on his way, his mobile phone suddenly rang.

...

It was Li Ji undoubtedly.

Fang Qiu had turned off his phone, and only Li Ji could get through Lin Yu's phone.

"Hello?" Fang Qiu answered the phone.

"I finally got through."

Li Ji's voice came from the other end of the line. He said, "I don't know why, but the satellite signals in your area seemed to have been jammed. I had to make several calls before I could get through to you."

"Oh?"

Fang Qiu was stunned and said, "I didn't feel it."

"There are many strange places in the world that can't be detected by satellites, not to mention the places with jammed signals."

Li Ji answered and then asked, "Did you see the news on the forum of the underground forces?"

"Yes."

Fang Qiu nodded with understanding.

"I think the location of the plutonium mine was deliberately exposed by the Nirvana Organization. We have investigated the matter based on the information of the man who posted the post on the forum, but we found nothing. It is an anonymous account with its IP address hidden. Even if we find the IP address, it would be useless. The Nirvana Organization will not easily reveal their location."

Speaking of this, Li Ji paused and added, "The higher-ups also know the news. We need you to go to the Greenwich Mountain Range area immediately to protect the plutonium mine while ensuring your own safety. No matter what, you can't let others get the plutonium materials in the mine!"

Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows upon hearing this and immediately asked, "Do you also think that it is a mine full of extracted plutonium materials instead of an unexploited mine?"

"Although I'm not sure, I think it is very possible."

Li Ji said, "If it's an unexploited mine, there won't be any outcome no matter how big the dispute is. After all, it would take a lot of effort to exploit a mine. Compared to an unexploited mine, the ready raw plutonium materials are more attractive and can arise everyone's desire to fight for them."

"That's what I thought."

Fang Qiu nodded and said, "Since the Nirvana Organization has gone this far, they will definitely not use a mine that is waiting to be exploited to incite a war. Therefore, inside the mine, there should be materials that have been extracted from the mine."

"The order from the higher-ups is very firm. We must not let others get the raw materials. If possible, we can join hands with the envoys of the other four countries to maintain the peace of the world."

He reminded him at once.

"Okay."

Fang Qiu nodded in understanding.

...

He hung up the phone.

This time, knowing that the situation was urgent, Fang Qiu didn't hesitate. After hanging up, he rushed to the Greenwich Mountain Range.

Along the way, there were many high mountains and deep forests.

Without any scruples, Fang Qiu exerted the power of a guru to fly in the forest.

“Hmm?”

After flying for about half an hour, all of a sudden, Fang Qiu saw a green military canvas tent deep in the forests in front of him.

It was a tent similar to a huge Mongolian yurt.

“Is it a military base?”

At first glance, Fang Qiu clearly knew that this was a military base.

After all, except for the military base, no other non-military forces would use such a large piece of military camouflage canvas to build tents.

He landed on the crown of a tree.

Looking at the military base in front of him, Fang Qiu found that the base was more like a rest stop for the army during the training. So it was quite different from a traditional military base. For example, there weren't many soldiers stationed there, and there weren't many weapons either. In fact, there were only two helicopters.

“Helicopters?”

Seeing the helicopters, Fang Qiu immediately smiled.

Then he moved.

With a whoosh, he directly rushed into the military base, got into a helicopter, and started it without saying a word.

When the soldiers in the base found it, the helicopter had flown more than 30 meters high in the sky. Most of the soldiers thought that it was their companion that was driving the helicopter, so they just asked each other about it in confusion and did not stop it.

They didn't know that someone had seized their helicopter until the helicopter had flown far away. They could only inform the scout to track down the helicopter's whereabouts.

...

After the helicopter started flying in the sky steadily, Fang Qiu looked back and shook his head with a smile.

He knew that this was the local government's army.

"No wonder they can't defeat the underground armed forces. They have such a low level of vigilance and are so slow to react. Their combat capability is so weak," he thought.

In Huaxia, every soldier would always be on full alert and ready to take action against any accidents whether they were in deep mountains or in their camps, which no one dared to invade.

"Beep, beep, beep..."

Suddenly, his phone rang.

It was a call from Li Ji.

“Hello?” Fang Qiu answered the phone again.

He knew that Li Ji must have something to tell him since he had just called him.

“I have news for you.”

Sure enough, as soon as Fang Qiu answered the phone, Li Ji immediately said, “We have managed to uncover the secrets behind the plutonium material map you brought back. The location of the plutonium materials that was marked on the map turns out to be the Greenwich Mountain Range. It is exactly the place where the mine is said to be,” Li Ji said in a serious tone.

The meaning behind those words was clear. The mine had been exploited. Additionally, the three tons of plutonium raw materials were still stored inside!

“Hiss...”

Fang Qiu took a deep breath and replied, “I know.”

“Earlier, I had hoped that the location marked on the map was not the Greenwich Mountain Range. In that case, the mine on the Greenwich Mountain Range would remain unexploited or only a small part of the mine would have been exploited. Unexpectedly, things ended up like this.”

Li Ji continued in a solemn tone, “Although it is a difficult task for you, and the higher-ups also know that it’s impossible for you to complete it alone, we have no other choice. We can only place all our hopes on you. No matter what, you must prevent others from getting the plutonium materials. If you have any requirements, just tell us!”

...

Fang Qiu’s face was also particularly grave.

A mine was completely different from three tons of plutonium ore.

It was impossible for people to carry away a mine, but it was possible that they could carry away three tons of ore. Fang Qiu could stop one person from seizing the ore, but he couldn't stop it if there were a hundred and even ten hundred people.

Three tons of ore must contain many pieces of ore.

With the strength of the Truth Division and Gospel Division, they could lead thousands or even tens of thousands of people into the mine together, and if each of them carried a small piece of ore, together, they could easily take away three tons of ore.

If that happened, Fang Qiu could only chase after one person at a time.

It was impossible for him to get every piece of the ore back!

Moreover, there were so many forces coveting the ore, and there was even a Murican military base nearby. It was simply impossible for Fang Qiu to guard three tons of plutonium ore in this situation!

More importantly, Fang Qiu himself could not take away three tons of plutonium ore, so he could only stay there and guard the mine. Besides, those special envoys from the so-called alliance around him might launch a sneak attack against him from behind at any time.

Therefore, it was basically impossible for him to complete the task.

No matter how powerful Fang Qiu was, he could only defeat a limited number of opponents.

If those big forces hired some people to grab the ore and paid them ten dollars and even a hundred dollars for each piece of plutonium ore they got, the locals would definitely do anything to seize the ore.

At that time, there would definitely be another bloody slaughter!

"Give me five minutes. I need to think about it," said Fang Qiu.

“Okay.”

Li Ji responded and immediately hung up the phone.

He put away his phone.

While driving the helicopter steadily in the sky, Fang Qiu emptied his mind completely and then closed his eyes, as if his soul had left his body. He used his consciousness to observe those thoughts in his mind.

Buddha once said, “Within a few seconds, one can have 84,000 thoughts in his mind.”

In Buddhism, 84,000 shouldn’t be understood literally. Instead, it meant that something was uncountable.

What Fang Qiu needed to do now was to find the inspiration among those uncountable thoughts in his mind, to find out how he could finish this task alone!

One minute, two minutes...

...

When three minutes and 50 seconds had passed, Fang Qiu suddenly opened his eyes.

“I found it!”

Finally, he found that inspiration with a flash of determination in his eyes. He immediately took out his mobile phone and called Li Ji.

“What’s going on?”

Li Ji answered the phone.

“Has the United Countries sent some people there?” asked Fang Qiu directly.

“Yes.”

Li Ji answered and then added, “It has great significance in terms of symbolism, but it doesn’t have a huge actual effect.”

“Give me their contact information,” said Fang Qiu.

This time, he was going to make a big move!

“I’ll send them to you now,” Li Ji answered without asking for the reason.

“Wait.”

Before Li Ji could hang up the phone, Fang Qiu shouted again and said, “I want the phone numbers of the special envoys from those other countries as well.”

“Well, it would be a little difficult. But since the situation is tense, it won’t be that difficult to get their phone numbers.”

Li Ji paused and said, “Give me ten minutes. I’ll send them to you in ten minutes.”

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu answered and hung up the phone directly.

Ten minutes later, the phone numbers of the special envoys from the United Countries and the other four major countries were delivered to Fang Qiu's mobile phone.

Li Ji called him once more.

"I've received the numbers," Fang Qiu answered the phone and said. "You must cooperate with me in the future. Wait for me to contact you."

"Okay."

Li Ji replied, "I'll be waiting for your call. Come on!"

Chapter 1083: Video Chat Among the Special Envoys of the Five Countries

"Buzz buzz..."

The hovering sound of the helicopter's propeller kept echoing in the sky.

In the cockpit, as soon as he hung up the phone, Fang Qiu immediately called the special envoys of the other four countries.

He first called Lester, the special envoy of Murica.

When the call got through, he heard Lester's voice. "Hello?"

"I'm John Doe," Fang Qiu answered blandly.

"You've finally shown yourself!"

As soon as he learned that it was John Doe, Lester immediately cheered up and asked in a threatening tone, "Where are you now? Where are the plutonium material map and the holy fruit?"

"Do you want others to get the materials for the nuclear weapons?" Fang Qiu didn't answer his question but changed the topic.

"Of course, I don't!" Lester replied immediately.

Until now, Murica still wanted to take the three tons of plutonium ore for themselves. As the Murican envoy, Lester knew well that even if he could not get his hands on the three tons of ore, he must not allow them to fall into the hands of other underground forces, mercenary organizations, or these countries in Zhongdong.

"I see."

Fang Qiu continued, "Since you don't, then please download an app named WeChat. I'll tell those special envoys from other countries to have a video chat together."

After that, he hung up the phone directly.

Then, Fang Qiu called Isabel and Yakov.

When they received the call from Fang Qiu, Isabel and Yakov were not as excited as Lester. Isabella spoke in all kinds of seductive and charming tones, trying to arouse Fang Qiu's desire, just like she did in the past.

But Fang Qiu just ignored her.

In the end, Isabel, who had failed in her attempt, could only download the app as she was told.

Compared with Isabel, Yakov behaved very normally. First, he asked Fang Qiu what his purpose was. Without Fang Qiu's answer, he still began downloading the app without any complaint.

Both of them knew that John Doe had been able to get everything he had now because of his great strength. Therefore, even if they wanted to take back the plutonium material map and holy fruit from John Doe, they would never show their intention too obviously.

Most importantly, they were not confident that they could confront John Doe head-on.

After that, Fang Qiu called the special envoy from L'hexagone.

"Hello?"

When he got through, he heard a young man's voice.

"Are you the new envoy from L'hexagone?" asked Fang Qiu.

"Who are you?"

"I'm John Doe!" answered Fang Qiu.

"John Doe?"

Upon hearing this name, the new envoy from L'hexagone was obviously stunned. Then his tone became slightly deep as he asked, "Why did you call me?"

"Do you want others to snatch away the plutonium mine?" asked Fang Qiu.

"What do you mean?"

The L'hexagone special envoy was confused. Why did John Doe suddenly call him and ask him such a question?

“If you don’t want such a thing to happen, download a communication app called WeChat. After you download it, I will start a video call with you special envoys from the other four major countries.”

After that, Fang Qiu hung up the phone.

The special envoys from the four countries all reacted differently.

Based on what Fang Qiu had felt, Lester was the only person among them that was hostile toward Fang Qiu. The special envoy from L’hexagone was a little cautious. Except for those two people, the other two special envoys all acted normally.

After the call, Fang Qiu immediately created a WeChat account with John Doe’s exclusive phone number, logged in, and started waiting.

Soon, he saw that the four special envoys all had created their WeChat accounts through the function option of adding friends according to their phone numbers.

After making sure that the four of them had created their own accounts, Fang Qiu immediately set up a chat group and named the chat group “World Peace Keepers”, which sounded a little naive.

In fact, when the envoys from the other four countries saw that name, they all burst into laughter.

After setting up the group chat, Fang Qiu immediately started a video call with them.

The four didn’t hesitate and immediately answered it.

“John Doe, I haven’t seen you for a few days. I thought you would have a hard time. I didn’t expect you to still look so handsome and masculine.”

Isabel giggled the moment she picked up the video call.

“Who is that man? I didn’t see him before.”

The new envoy from L’hexagone immediately caught Lester’s attention.

It was a young man who looked in his twenties. He had a baby face and yellow hair with freckles all over his face.

“I know you guys.”

The envoy from L’hexagone laughed and said, “You’re Lester, the special envoy from Murica, Isabel, the special envoy from Anglan, Yakov, the special envoy from Rashk, and John Doe, the special envoy from Huaxia.

“Nice to meet you guys. Please allow me to introduce myself.

“I’m Bernard, the new special envoy from L’hexagone. Now, I have arrived in Zhongdong and I’m looking forward to meeting you guys, especially John Doe.”

The other three envoys all looked at John Doe.

They were curious about whether this new envoy from L’hexagone would be hostile to John Doe since John Doe had killed the previous envoy from L’hexagone.

Besides, Bernard looked very young. Since he had been appointed as a special envoy, it meant that he wouldn’t be any weaker than Abel. Then, how strong was he? What kind of a metahuman was he?

“Everyone.”

Just as Lester was about to utter his thought, Fang Qiu interrupted him. Lester didn’t know whether Fang Qiu did it intentionally or not. “I know you guys want to get the plutonium material map, but I have sent it back to Huaxia. Just now, I received a piece of news that the secrets behind the map have been uncovered. The location of the three tons of plutonium materials marked on the map turns out to be the Greenwich Mountain Range, just as someone had posted on the forum of the underground forces before,” Fang Qiu said.

“We’re all from the five major countries, so we all know well that our priority now is to guarantee that the mine won’t be snatched away by someone else or some other forces, instead of getting the mine.

“Since you have downloaded the WeChat app and picked up the video call as I asked, it means that you all agree with me. So from now on, we have the same goal. In order to guard the mine against the forces from Zhongdong and even from all over the world who are coveting the mine, we must unite together!”

Upon hearing the words, the other four envoys began to frown.

Just as Fang Qiu said, when the location of the mine was exposed, they realized that they wouldn’t be able to seize the mine and should focus on guarding the mine. First of all, they had to ensure that the mine would not fall into the hands of others. As for who would get the mine in the end, they were not sure now.

“The location marked on the map is the same place as what has been exposed now?” Lester asked.

He narrowed his eyes as a look of doubt emerged on his face.

The other three envoys were surprised as well.

No one expected that the secrets behind the plutonium material map would be made public.

Of course, these four special envoys also suspected that it was a trick played by Fang Qiu or Huaxia to deceive them.

“I want to know who leaked the information. If you guys from Huaxia have uncovered the secrets behind the plutonium material map, could I understand the matter as it is you guys who released the news?” Bernard asked with a smile.

“No.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, “I made it very clear just now that we have just uncovered the secrets behind the map. But the location of the mine has been exposed for several hours, so it’s obvious that Huaxia is not behind this. Moreover, it has been a conspiracy from beginning to end!”

Fang Qiu frowned and asked, “Have you heard of the Nirvana Organization?”

The four envoys shook their heads.

They had never heard of the Nirvana Organization before, and the last time they heard this name, it was Fang Qiu who mentioned it to them.

“Let me give you a brief introduction to this organization.”

Fang Qiu said, “Nirvana is a particularly evil and self-righteous organization. They hold the belief that there shouldn’t be any pain in the world. If you’re suffering from physical pain or leading a hard life or under some circumstances alike, they would think you’re suffering and they think they should save you through Divine Intervention, that is to kill you.

“In the eyes of the members of the Nirvana Organization, they should be the one, instead of you, to judge whether you’re suffering or not.”

Fang Qiu took a deep breath and continued to add, “Do you remember the two men that suddenly appeared when we were fighting for the holy fruit? They were members of the Nirvana Organization. Before I grabbed the holy fruit from them, I heard them talking about their plan. They wanted to use the plutonium material map to start a big war in Zhongdong, to save the people who were suffering in their eyes through Divine Intervention. They wanted to destroy the source of the pain of the people in Zhongdong, and they thought the main source of the pain was the Truth Division and Gospel Division.

“When the plutonium material map disappeared, they replaced it with the holy fruit. After the holy fruit was snatched away by me, they made the location of the plutonium mine public. All of this was part of their plan.

“If things go on like this, Zhongdong will be completely embroiled in a large-scale war, and once this happens, it won’t benefit your countries, right?”

At this point, Fang Qiu stopped talking.

“Hmph.” Lester snorted sarcastically and said, “This won’t benefit Huaxia either, will it?”

“That’s right.”

Fang Qiu shrugged and nodded. “So, we need to join hands!

“Everyone, what do you all think?”

The four envoys nodded in agreement, including Lester, who nodded his head the moment Fang Qiu finished speaking.

Although they all had their own intentions, they put them aside for the time being when they were faced with a true mission. They knew that they should unite against those other forces.

“Good.”

Seeing that everyone had agreed, Fang Qiu nodded with satisfaction and told the four of them his plan.

After listening to the plan, the four envoys were shocked by it.

“Are you sure that you have the ability to persuade the Black Mamba Mercenaries?” Lester asked.

“They won’t reason with you! Whether or not we can convince them is very important.”

Fang Qiu replied with a smile, “If we fail to persuade them, then let’s defeat them!”

Medical Master

Chapter 1084: Persuading the Fifth Mercenary Group!

Hearing Fang Qiu's words, the four people changed their faces immediately.

Beat them if they couldn't be persuaded!

These words fucking excited them!

If anyone else said that, they really wouldn't believe it, but things were different when it was John Doe.

Although they didn't know him very well, they were well aware that John Doe was absolutely qualified to say this. The most important thing was that since John Doe said so, he must be able to do it.

"Okay." Hearing John Doe's words, the four of them nodded without hesitation.

"We'll wait for your news." Yakov was the first to speak. "As for Greenwich Mountain Range, we won't rush over there for now. Let's talk about it after everything's settled there."

The others nodded in agreement, even including the Murican special envoy Lester who had no objection!

"Thank you." Fang Qiu nodded, logging out of the group chat then.

Putting away his phone, Fang Qiu continued to drive the helicopter forward and soon arrived at his destination.

Greenwich Mountain Range was a particularly unique and long mountain area in Zhongdong.

The whole mountain range was connected in strips. There were no other mountains except plains on both sides. Since it was backed by high mountains, people could enter the mountains and occupy a commanding height at any time. Plus, because of its wide terrain, woods and rivers, this mountain had become the place where many medium-sized forces in Zhongdong chose to settle down. At the same time, when the large forces of other countries came there, they would also choose Greenwich Mountain Range as the first foothold.

It was also because of this that Black Mamba Mercenaries ranked fifth in the world immediately occupied a good position when entering Zhongdong!

Fang Qiu saw a mine in the distance.

It was a mountain that looked a bit special. It was attached to one of the mountains in Greenwich Mountain Range. Compared to other high mountains in Greenwich Mountain Range, this mountain looked a bit barren. No matter the flowers, plants, or trees there, they were relatively malnourished.

“According to the photos on the forum of the underground forces, it should be here.” Murmuring, Fang Qiu drove the helicopter and quietly flew to the sky above the mine to observe for a while. Then he found a place to land the helicopter and hid it.

“It seems that I am the first to arrive.” After getting off the helicopter, Fang Qiu couldn’t help sighing with emotion, “Running can’t compare with high technology indeed.”

He walked around the mine until he made sure that no one else had come here, and then hid, quietly coming to the northeast of the mine where a temporary encampment had been obviously set up at the foot of the mountain!

There were three small tents and a large tent.

There were still many armed soldiers guarding the place outside. Fang Qiu even caught sight of a tank among them.

“Black Mamba Mercenaries!” With his eyes focusing on the tent, Fang Qiu could clearly see that on the big and small tents, there was a sign of a black mamba that coiled up, raised its head, and stuck out its tongue!

“A tank has even been brought. How hard they work!” Fang Qiu smiled indifferently, then moved and rushed straight to that place even though there were many guards.

At the foot of the mountain, Fang Qiu paused for a moment and then attacked from the guard’s blind spot. He directly rushed into the big tent with extreme speed in an instant.

At this time, within the tent, a bearded man was seated before a wooden table, eating something!

“Shew!” With the sound of breaking wind, Fang Qiu suddenly dashed into the tent.

The bearded man looked up. The moment he saw Fang Qiu, he stood up in shock.

“You, you...” Pointing at Fang Qiu, the man was obviously stunned, but as soon as the shock passed, the expression on his face suddenly turned into a pleasant surprise. He pointed at Fang Qiu excitedly and said, “You are the special envoy of Huaxia, John Doe, who has the holy fruit?”

Without any hesitation, the bearded man flipped over the table at once, moved his body, and was about to hit Fang Qiu.

“Clang!” But right at this moment, an ear-piercing sword roar, like the roar of a dragon, suddenly rang out.

Hearing this voice, the bearded man felt a chill on his chin, and a piercing feeling instantly surged into his heart. The slight pain in his throat made him stop in an instant as if time had stopped. He just stood still in a posture, seeming to be about to hit Fang Qiu.

He looked down, just seeing the long sword in Fang Qiu’s hand pressing against his throat.

“You, you...” The bearded man’s pupils instantly contracted.

The shock in his eyes immediately burst out.

He had carefully looked for John Doe’s information and clearly remembered John Doe’s appearance in his heart, so he recognized Fang Qiu as soon as he saw him!

When he had his head turned, he didn’t think about how powerful John Doe was at all, only knowing that as long as he caught John Doe, he could get a lot of benefits!

Therefore, he attacked John Doe as soon as possible.

But the fact was that before he could even make the first move, he had already been in a disadvantageous position, which made him very incredulous and shocked. Even if he thought that John Doe had strong strength, he had never expected that John Doe could be so strong!

“Answer my questions.” Fang Qiu put on an indifferent look, glanced at the bearded man, and asked, “Do you want your Black Mamba Mercenaries to die, or live?”

“Just you?” The bearded man seemed to have heard the funniest joke in the world. Even though there was still a sharp sword against his throat, he still laughed at Fang Qiu and said, “You don’t have such powerful strength!”

“I know very well whether or not I possess the strength to do so.” Fang Qiu shook his head and then sneered, “But I know you do!”

“Hmm?” The bearded man was stunned and confused. He didn’t understand why John Doe said that.

“What you’ve done is sending Black Mamba Mercenaries to hell!” Fang Qiu snorted and said, “The news that the plutonium primary mineral is here has spread among the underground forces all over the world. Instead of making use of your advantage, you have claimed sovereignty over the place, which has already made Black Mamba Mercenaries a thorn in the flesh of all underground forces!

“Why do you think these underground forces are here?”

“You’ve marked the mine as one of your own territories to show your ambition of taking the mine for yourself. Do you think the Truth Division or the Gospel Division will agree? Do you think other forces from all over the world will agree?”

“Not only will they not agree, but they will also turn you Black Mamba Mercenaries into a target. No matter who gets plutonium primary mineral in the end, they will attack you first, and you will be the first one to be killed!”

Hearing that, the bearded man was stunned for a moment, breaking out into a cold sweat.

He really hadn’t thought of this before.

Originally, he wanted to scare all the major forces away in the name of Black Mamba Mercenaries and then monopolize the three tons of plutonium primary mineral. But now when he thought about it carefully, there were also other forces from all over the world in addition to the local ones in Zhongdong!

If these forces were to really target the mercenary company, then the consequences would be unimaginable!

“We, we quit now.” Hesitating for a moment, the bearded man said, “We quit. We don’t want it anymore!”

“Of course,” Fang Qiu smiled indifferently and said. “However, once you quit, it means that Black Mamba Mercenaries ranked fifth in the world has lost its stronghold. You don’t even dare to fight and admit defeat. Do you think how many people will laugh at you?”

The bearded man furrowed his brows.

“What do you mean? If you are afraid that I will be laughed at when I quit, what do you think I should do?” The bearded man seemed to be a little angry.

He was just a rough man who neither was as smart as others nor like to deal with sophisticated people, so he gave people a feeling of recklessness. But it was his recklessness that helped him to lead Black Mamba Mercenaries to reach the fifth position in the world step by step.

"I have an idea. Not only can it help you retreat calmly, but you can also get some benefits!" Fang Qiu smiled.

"What?" asked the bearded man at once.

"As long as you listen to me and do as I say, I promise that not only will the reputation of Black Mamba Mercenaries not be harmed, but you can also get some unexpected benefits," said Fang Qiu.

"What unexpected benefits are they?" the bearded man didn't stand on ceremony and asked directly.

"You're quite direct." Fang Qiu shook his head with a smile and said, "Then I'll get straight to the point. As long as you Black Mamba Mercenaries do as I say, then the five countries will definitely keep an eye on you in the future. You will not be stumped in many things, and even the United Countries will recognize your identity. Of course, the premise is that you have to be a formal mercenary company rather than doing evil on the battlefield anymore!"

"Hmm?" The bearded man's eyes lit up.

Whitewashing?

This was the dream of every underground mercenary company.

Now, the big companies on the surface earned much more money than the mercenary groups of the underground forces, and they were very safe. The present underground forces were all thinking about how to clear their identities, but it was too difficult.

Of course, Black Mamba Mercenaries had thought about it, but they had never found a good way.

Now, they had actually met such a good opportunity!

“Okay, if you can really do what you’ve promised, I will do what you said.” The bearded man immediately nodded in agreement.

“Very good.” Fang Qiu nodded with satisfaction. Then, after chatting with the bearded man for a while, he rushed out of the camp of Black Mamba Mercenaries and hid in the forest on the mountain.

Then, he immediately called Li Ji.

“Hello?” When the phone was connected, Li Ji’s voice came.

“I need your help. Through various means, let all the underground forces in the world believe that Huaxia has cracked the map, but the place recorded on the map is not in Greenwich Mountain Range. Make sure that everyone thinks that it is revealed inadvertently,” said Fang Qiu.

“No problem!” Li Ji nodded at once.

“McKen Mountain Range,” Fang Qiu added. “Just say that the location of the plutonium primary mineral cracked is in McKen Mountain Range!”

Before this, Fang Qiu had carefully calculated that McKen Mountain Range was where the spies of all the major forces could quickly reach. And that was why he decided on this place.

“Okay, I’ll report the arrangement right away,” Li Ji responded and hung up the phone!

Chapter 1085: Huaxia Leaking the News!

“Beep...” After finishing his words, Fang Qiu immediately clicked on the WeChat group and sent video chat invitations to the special envoys of the four countries.

The four of them were originally waiting for Fang Qiu’s call. As soon as the video call came, it was immediately connected.

“Okay.” Seeing that the four of them come, Fang Qiu promptly said, “Now you turn around and go to McKen Mountain Range. I’ve already settled it!”

The four of them nodded in unison.

Hanging up the video call, they immediately changed directions at the same time and rushed quickly towards McKen Mountain Range.

As the special envoys, these four people had been being watched since they entered Zhongdong.

Especially after the news of the plutonium primary mineral in Greenwich Mountain Range was announced, all the major forces that came to Zhongdong and the local forces tried their best to pay attention to their whereabouts.

After all, they represented the current five major countries. They would receive any news at once.

Hence, the changing directions of the four people immediately aroused the doubts of all the forces in Zhongdong.

Now it was the time for everyone to rush to Greenwich Mountain Range and be ready to rob the primary mineral. Why did they suddenly change directions at this time?

Didn’t they want the plutonium primary mineral?

Impossible!

“What is going on? Are they not targeting the primary mineral?” At the headquarters of the Truth Division, Lord Ameer was baffled as he heard the news.

To be honest, what they were most afraid of was not the so-called world-class forces, but the five major countries. The envoys of the five major countries were just the biggest threats to them, especially John Doe from Huaxia!

After all, these people were backed by powerful countries. Once these countries wanted to compete, their chances would be very slim.

“No, something must be going on.” The old military counselor furrowed his brows and said, “Continue to monitor and see where they’re going!”

“Interesting.” In the Gospel Division, confronted with the puzzled leader and Divine Envoy, the old military counselor with a hunchback suddenly laughed and said, “It seems that some news has been exposed. As the special envoys of the four countries, it’s reasonable for them to get the news before us. But... what kind of news can make them give up the plutonium primary mineral in Greenwich Mountain Range?”

“Now, nothing is more important than the primary mineral!” The lord shook his head and said, “Continue to monitor closely and see where they’re going on earth!”

At the same time, the major forces and mercenary groups from other countries also quickly received the news that the four envoys had turned up in another direction. Although they came from foreign countries, their information-gathering systems were not bad.

Undoubtedly, the actions of the four special envoys instantly became the focus of the entire Zhongdong. Everyone was particularly perplexed about what the four of them were going to do, so they had no choice but to continue to follow them.

Just when all the forces in Zhongdong were attracted by the sudden change of the four special envoys, a piece of news came out from an extremely famous underground organization as Li Ji reported the arrangement in Huaxia.

This organization was called Letter Organization, which was the only underground organization in the world that made a living by selling all kinds of information. Under normal circumstances, it would never leak any information without getting money, but as long as a piece of information had been leaked out, its credibility could reach more than 80%.

“According to Letter Organization, Huaxia has deciphered the information on the plutonium material map, confirming that the three tons of plutonium primary mineral are in McKen Mountain Range!” As soon as this news appeared, it was immediately posted on the forum of underground forces.

There was even an ID account that was verified by Letter Organization, which gave the news a like.

The forum was in an uproar instantly.

All the people who read this post mentioned Letter Organization and asked if it was true.

Of course, Letter Organization did not respond.

But even so, the news soon attracted the attention of all the major underground forces in the world.

“Although the news sent by Letter Organization has been fake before, it is almost certainly true. Is it also true this time?”

“Could it be that the plutonium mine in Greenwich Mountain Range that was exposed on the forum before is a fake?”

“How could the careful Letter Organization leak such important news?”

“Which piece of news is true on earth?”

For a moment, people of all the major forces looking forward to plutonium primary mineral frowned one after another.

Originally, everyone was ready to send people to Greenwich Mountain Range as soon as possible, but as the news came out, they all wavered.

“Who should I believe?”

“Give me the map.” At the headquarters of the Truth Division in Esfahan in Zhongdong, the old military counselor, who saw the news, immediately asked someone to fetch the map. After he looked at it carefully, his eyes suddenly lit up.

“Military Counselor, how is it?” Ameer hurried to ask.

“It is reported that the four envoys are all changing their directions on the way to Greenwich Mountain Range. Judging from the map, though their directions are different, the final destination is the same, McKen Mountain Range!” The old military counselor unfolded the map, narrowed his eyes, and began to think as he spoke.

“What?” Ameer raised an eyebrow and said, “Isn’t McKen Mountain Range in the news just leaked by Letter Organization? Could it be...?”

“Lord,” the old military counselor thought for a moment and then quickly said, “I need you to contact the Divine Envoy immediately. At this time, he hasn’t arrived at Greenwich Mountain Range yet. Let him rush to McKen Mountain Range and explore the truth first. If the primary mineral is really in McKen Mountain Range, we can also have a head start. If it’s fake, no one can get away plutonium primary mineral in Greenwich Mountain Range for a while!”

“Okay.” Ameer immediately took out his mobile phone and ordered the Divine Envoy.

The same went for the Gospel Division.

It was the same for forces from all over the world and other countries!

Before that, they really didn’t understand why the envoys of the four countries suddenly turned around. Now everything was clear. If the information revealed by Letter Organization was true, then the four envoys would have a great advantage in the next round of the competition for plutonium primary mineral!

On this side, Fang Qiu continued to hide in Greenwich Mountain Range. After about an hour, he finally received news from the special envoys of the four countries.

They were all ready.

“Beep...” The phone rang.

Fang Qiu clicked on MMS and entered Satellite Reception Channel to receive the data and drawings sent by Li Ji.

Based on the contents of the drawings, Fang Qiu carefully calculated, with the result that he found that he only had about three hours at most.

Now, the movements of the four special envoys had completely attracted all the forces. Next, as long as they gave up Greenwich Mountain Range, he would be able to get the plutonium primary mineral before the forces could react!

That was Fang Qiu’s plan.

He was very clear that the plutonium primary mineral was the key point of this upcoming war. As long as he could move it away, all the problems would naturally be solved!

Without hesitation, Fang Qiu walked around Greenwich Mountain Range and instantly spread out his Divine Consciousness to completely cover the area within 50 kilometers. As expected, there was nothing unusual and no one was rushing over from 50 kilometers away.

In the meantime, Fang Qiu also carefully explored the situation near the mountain range. After making sure that there were no spies sent by major forces, he went down the hill, taking out his mobile phone to call the Murican envoy, Lester.

“Hello?” He picked up the phone and Lester’s voice came.

“What’s going on with your country’s armies? Have they already gone to McKen Mountain Range?” asked Fang Qiu.

Since Fang Qiu had told the four special envoys about his plan in the video call before and they had all discussed what they should do, Fang Qiu asked this question.

“They’ve already set off,” Lester replied. “It is estimated that they will arrive in four hours!”

“Okay.” Fang Qiu nodded with satisfaction and hung up the phone.

Then, he called the envoy from Rashk, Yakov, asking the same question.

Yakov’s answer was especially positive too. It was the same as Murica, and even a little faster.

After receiving the answer, Fang Qiu immediately felt relieved.

This was an extremely important part of the plan. If something went wrong with this part, there would be a tighter time frame!

If possible, Fang Qiu even wanted to transfer the troops of the five major countries to McKen Mountain Range.

However, Huaxia, Anglan and L’hexagone had no station troops in Zhongdong and only Murica and Rashk had them, so Fang Qiu could only mobilize the garrisons of these two countries.

The bigger the scale was, the more convinced the forces would become.

After all, the plutonium primary mineral was the material of nuclear weapons. In the case of knowing the exact location of the mineral, only by sending the armies of the five countries to guard it together would it be the safest and most attractive to the major forces.

Of course, what was the most important was that there was no force possessing the strength to fight against the garrisons of the two countries according to the current situation in Zhongdong!

The garrisons of Murica and Rashk were undoubtedly the guards of McKen Mountain Range, both attracting various forces and letting them think twice. This was exactly what Fang Qiu wanted!

After the call, Fang Qiu quickly returned to the big tent of Black Mamba Mercenaries.

At this time, the bearded man was pacing back and forth in the tent, looking a little impatient.

“You make a statement right away.” Arriving at the tent, Fang Qiu immediately said before the bearded man could react, “Tell all the underground forces in the world that it’s a misunderstanding that Greenwich Mountain Range belongs to Black Mamba Mercenaries. Black Mamba Mercenaries have no intention of occupying this area at all, and this area is open to everyone!”

The bearded man, who had been waiting for a long time, did not dare to hesitate. He immediately called his men over, released the statement on the forum of underground forces according to Fang Qiu’s request, and officially reconciled with all forces!

Once the statement was made, it was heard by the leaders of the major forces as soon as possible.

Everyone took a look. Even Black Mamba Mercenaries had abandoned that place and were willing to open it to everyone. That place seemed to be really useless.

For a time, all the major forces that had sent out spies one after another ordered their spies to go to McKen Mountain Range. Those who had not sent spies also sent people to the mountain range as soon as possible.

At this moment, Greenwich Mountain Range seemed to have been forgotten.

Chapter 1086: You All Fell for It!

“What’s going on?”

“It’s Huaxia, it’s John Doe. John Doe must have done it!”

In an inn of an unknown town in Zhongdong, the two young men of Nirvana Organization were very angry and anxious after receiving the news.

Looking at the young man at the peak of the ninth class, the ninth-class young man with one opened meridian asked anxiously, “Zhang Ying, what should we do?”

The young man who once disguised himself as the traveling companion and walked with Fang Qiu for a while, with the strength at the peak of the ninth class, opened his mouth and snorted angrily with red eyes, “How should I know?”

This time, the plan of Zhongdong was handed over to him by the organization. As long as he could do this well, he would be appreciated by the high-level management.

He had been waiting for this opportunity for a long time.

Therefore, in order to ensure that there was no problem, he made a series of plans and carried them out step by step without the slightest delay.

However, John Doe’s appearance destroyed his plans one after another, which made him very embarrassed and uncomfortable.

Because the last plan of the organization was just the holy fruit, after the holy fruit was robbed by Fang Qiu, and his plan was destroyed, he had no choice but to ask the organization for help. As a result, with the purpose of fully completing this plan, the organization even took out the plutonium primary mineral!

Originally, he had thought that a fierce battle would have broken out in a short period of time in Zhongdong once the plutonium primary mineral was revealed.

Nevertheless, he hadn't expected that John Doe appeared again. This time, he ruined his plan like before. Although it seemed that he was just stalling for time, he knew very well that John Doe could transfer the primary mineral away soon!

As for him, he could only look on helplessly.

Now, he didn't dare to stand out and say that the news about McKen Mountain Range was false, because as long as he said it, he would definitely attract the attention of others. If he continued to remain anonymous, no one would believe him at all. Compared with a piece of anonymous breaking news, the armies of Murica and Rashk were more worthy of attention!

More importantly, his anonymous account had been monitored by all the major forces in the world since the last breaking news came out. Now as long as he logged in, it would only take a few seconds for them to find out his exact position. At that time, they would take the initiative to take action against him even without John Doe.

Moreover, if he dared to post something on the forum, he would be more likely to be suspected—How did he know that McKen Mountain Range was not a real destination?

If he was so sure, wouldn't it expose that he already knew about it, so as to verify Fang Qiu's words about the conspiracy?

At that time, everyone would not fall into their trap so easily.

The young man named Zhang Ying became terribly upset because of Fang Qiu.

After the statement of Black Mamba Mercenaries was released, Fang Qiu immediately asked the bearded man to take all the members to the plutonium mine on Greenwich Mountain Range, ready to break into the cave and move out the primary mineral in it.

Leading a large force, Fang Qiu released his Divine Consciousness and kept an eye on the area within 50 kilometers around him, ensuring their safety.

Under the scan of his Divine Consciousness, the area within 50 kilometers was as clean as ever without spies from any force. Even the medium-sized forces that had been stationed around the mountains were attracted to McKen Mountain Range. Even if some small forces left some people to guard the mountains, they were quietly removed by Fang Qiu.

Eliminating all the threats, Fang Qiu kept an eye out for his surroundings, led all the members of Black Mamba Mercenaries and went all the way to the mountainside of the mine with the strength of Guru Realm.

Here was the location in the photos that had been exposed on the forum.

In the middle of the barren mountain was a mine cave.

The mine cave snaked all the way down from the mountainside to the foot of the mountain, and it was even lower than the foot of the mountain, arriving at the deepest part of the mine.

Fang Qiu caught sight of a black iron gate!

On both sides of the iron gate, there were dozens of wooden pillars as thick as water buckets supporting the excavated mine.

"It's inside." After reaching the gate, Fang Qiu took a careful look, finding that the lock on the gate was actually a password lock. Without the password, it could not be opened.

"We can't get in?" The bearded man came forward, reached out, and slapped hard on the big iron door. Then he frowned and said, "Judging from the echo of this iron door, it is at least 30 centimeters thick, equivalent to an ordinary wall. If we use explosives, it will likely cause the collapse of the mine and bury all of us here.”

“What if I don’t use explosives?” asked Fang Qiu.

“Impossible. You cannot open such a thick iron door without explosives.” The bearded man immediately shook his head and said, “I believe you now. If it wasn’t a conspiracy, how could someone install such a thick iron door in the mine?”

Speaking of which, the bearded man immediately narrowed his eyes, seeming to finally understand the serious situation!

“Step back a little. I’ll give it a try,” Fang Qiu warned.

The bearded man retreated with his men at once.

While waiting for them to retreat, Fang Qiu shouted in a low voice, “Great Hand of Destruction.” He waved his right hand and immediately attracted all Qi of Heaven and Earth around him. Then he slammed his palm out fiercely.

“Bang!” There was a loud bang.

The cave began to shake all of a sudden. Rubble kept falling, scaring the people of Black Mamba Mercenaries.

However, the quake did not last long.

When it stopped, all the members of Black Mamba Mercenaries, including the bearded man, were stunned!

“Thud...” A loud bang came out the next moment.

They saw that the thick iron gate in front of them was directly knocked to the ground by John Doe.

A large iron door that was at least 30 cm thick!

A single slap dealt with it?

At this moment, all the people present looked at Fang Qiu with different glances.

Before that, John Doe was just an ordinary expert in their eyes. No matter how highly he had been thought of, they did not think that John Doe could be strong. After all, they were the fifth-ranked mercenary group in the world, and they had their own pride.

But now, all of them were shocked at the sight of this scene!

This was definitely not what men could do! How could John Doe do this?

Seeing the thickness of the iron gate, Fang Qiu himself was also amazed.

He hadn't expected the iron gate to be so thick. It must be more than a dozen tons.

Of course, more than a dozen tons was not a big deal for Fang Qiu, not to mention that he was using the power of a guru. Since it was the first time that he had used the Great Hand of Destruction based on the power of a guru, Fang Qiu didn't even dare to use too much strength!

"There's not much time left; hurry and move!" Fang Qiu shouted.

"Brothers, take action!" With a wave of his hand, the bearded man immediately let all his people rush behind the iron gate. There was a huge raw material device in the spacious space, which was filled with plutonium materials!

It had been shown in the plutonium material map that there were three tons of plutonium materials, but things were different when it came to plutonium primary mineral.

Three tons might not seem heavy, but there were too many raw material devices, which were very troublesome.

Fortunately, the men from Black Mamba Mercenaries were all quite strong and they had sufficient manpower. Moving these minerals should not cost them much effort!

“Fuck. Even if I get so many primary minerals, I can’t move them away.” The bearded man looked at the ore filled with primary mineral and couldn’t help but complain, “Even if you move it away, you can’t extract it.”

“We still have two hours,” Fang Qiu said. “There’s not much time left for us.”

The bearded man immediately made a phone call and asked his people to drive the big truck in. Then they worked together to load all plutonium materials and the devices into the truck. The result was several trucks in total.

An hour later, the work finished.

All the people drove the trucks and quickly sneaked them out.

When leaving the mine, Fang Qiu checked the time. It had been three hours since the beginning of the plan.

“Judging from the time, the plan has probably been seen through on the other side,” Fang Qiu said to himself.

In McKen Mountain Range, being watched by all the forces, the four envoys came to this mountain range, which was larger than the mountain range. After waiting for the spies sent by all the forces to come, they just took all the followers for a ride for an hour according to the plan they had discussed with Fang Qiu.

Seeing that it was about time, the four special envoys then gathered. Lester let out a cold laugh. "All of you, come out."

People from all the major forces, who had been following them, stood out one after another.

"Hehe..." As soon as the people appeared, a mocking expression slowly emerged on Lester's face. He said to everyone, "I didn't expect that we'd deceive so many people."

No sooner had he said that than all the people were stunned.

Then, everyone's expression changed.

"You heard me," Lester proudly laughed as he said, "You all fell for it!"

As soon as the words came out, all the people chasing after him fell into confusion at once.

They'd fallen for it?

Was this a trap?

There were no plutonium materials here at all?

In an instant, they all figured out what had happened, and at the same time, the anger inside of them rose.

Some of them even flew into a rage instantly, ready to attack the four.

However, thinking about the nearby armies of Murica and Rashk, and that there was a big country behind each of these four people, they knew that they couldn't afford to offend them at all.

Helplessly, this group of people who were cheated could only suffer silently in anger!

Of course, the first thing the spies did was to report to the forces behind them immediately after they knew they'd been cheated!

There was no doubt that the first ones to receive the news were the Truth Division and the Gospel Division.

"What?" At the headquarters of the Truth Division, the old military counselor, who had always been very calm, blushed with anger after receiving the news and said, "I've been cheated. Have I been cheated?"

"John Doe. It must be John Doe. He is not in McKen Mountain Range. It must be him!"

Medical Master

Chapter 1087: The Initial Show of the Great Hand of Formlessness!

"Great, great..."

At the headquarters of the Gospel Division, a hunchbacked old man narrowed his eyes immediately when he heard the news that he had been deceived. His face was extremely gloomy, and he said through gritted teeth, "Even the old man from the Truth Division failed to fool me. I didn't expect that John Doe from Huaxia tricked me this time!"

The angry Lord asked, "John Doe?"

"Among the special envoys of the five countries, only four are in the McKen Mountain Range. John Doe, the special envoy of Huaxia, hasn't shown up yet. I'm afraid that the special envoys of the other four countries are used as bait by him to lure us. This is all his trap!"

The military counselor held the cane in his hand tightly and added unwillingly, "Huaxia, such a big country, is shameless enough to play tricks on us. It's really hateful!"

"Military counselor, do you mean that everything is arranged by Huaxia?"

The Lord was shocked.

"No."

The military counselor shook his head and explained, "All this must have been arranged by John Doe, and Huaxia merely offered him some support. I didn't expect that the Black Mamba Mercenary Group, the world's fifth mercenary group, would cooperate with the five countries!"

The military counselor's eyes flickered as he mentioned this, and he hurriedly added, "Let everyone go and stop them immediately. Maybe there is still hope!"

At the same time, the Truth Division and the Gospel Division each sent out a large force to rush to the Greenwich Mountain Range.

The other mercenary groups and major forces that received the news later also sent their men to stop Fang Qiu and the others.

Despite their efforts, Fang Qiu had already escorted the transport trucks out of the Greenwich Mountain Range and was heading for the McKen Mountain Range from another remote road that he had selected earlier.

He had done the calculation.

Now, the troops of Murica and Rashk stationed in Zhongdong should arrive at the McKen Mountain Range in less than an hour. If he took a roundabout approach and moved from the Greenwich Mountain Range to the McKen Mountain Range, he might be able to buy some more time. As long as he reached the McKen Mountain Range and was protected by the troops of Murica and Rashk, the three tons of plutonium materials would be safe!

There were many trucks.

Although Fang Qiu took a remote road, he could easily leave a trail.

Therefore, he did not ride in any truck. Instead, he stood on the roof of the second truck and vigilantly observed the surroundings, lest the fleet should be attacked.

The journey went on smoothly for half an hour.

“Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh!”

Just as Fang Qiu was halfway there, ear-piercing whooshing sounds suddenly assaulted his ears.

In fact, Fang Qiu, who had been monitoring his surroundings with his Divine Consciousness, had long discovered that these people were catching up with them, but he didn't order the fleet of trucks to stop. It was not a long journey, after all, so it would be nice if they could go a little further.

Accompanied by the whooshing sounds, a group of young men in black suddenly rushed out of the mountain forest on the side and directly stopped the first truck in the middle of the road!

In the first truck, the bearded man's face changed. He immediately opened the door, got out of the truck, and looked at Fang Qiu!

“Nirvana.”

Fang Qiu jumped from the roof of the second truck to the front of the first truck. He stared coldly at the three people in front of him and said, “Your organization really went all out. Of the five people here, two of you are Half-step Gurus, one is at the peak of the ninth class, and two are at the ninth class with one opened meridian!”

He could tell at a glance that these people were from Nirvana because Zhang Ying was one of them.

The five people didn't seem to be surprised by John Doe's accurate guess of their strength at all.

After all, it was well-known that John Doe could kill Half-step Gurus.

It was because of this that the Nirvana Organization immediately sent reinforcements and directly transferred two Half-step Gurus and one ninth-class Martial Superior with one opened meridian over after hearing Zhang Ying's report.

In their opinion, no matter how powerful John Doe was, there was absolutely no way he would survive a fight with these five!

They had to get the plutonium materials back!

On the other hand, every Black Mamba Mercenary was terrified at Fang Qiu's words.

The bearded man's face instantly darkened.

He wasn't weak either.

Thus, he knew exactly how powerful those five people were.

"You all can continue the journey."

Sensing the bearded man's intention to participate in the fight, Fang Qiu turned around and said to him, "Leave this place to me. Go according to the original route."

The bearded man asked with a frown, "Are you sure you can handle it?"

He knew John Doe was very powerful, but he couldn't fight against five people alone, could he?

“Don’t worry!”

Fang Qiu nodded with certainty and then waved his hand, saying, “I’ll stop them. You go first.”

“Ha-ha...”

“Stop talking big!”

The two Half-step Gurus laughed grimly at the same time and said, “Let’s see how you will stop us!”

“Swoosh!”

Before they could make a move, Fang Qiu moved, held the sword in his right hand, and rushed to the five people at an extremely fast speed. In an instant, he engaged the enemy.

“Hmph, Black Mamba Mercenaries, go to hell, all of you!”

Zhang Ying’s face was gloomy. He avoided a direct confrontation with John Doe. Instead, when John Doe engaged the two Half-step Gurus, he flew straight toward the fleet, trying to kill the Black Mamba Mercenaries first.

Seeing that, the bearded man immediately jumped out of the truck and got ready to take action.

But right at this moment, a cold snort was heard all of a sudden.

“Get lost!”

Zhang Ying was less than two meters from his original position when John Doe, who was fighting the two Half-step Gurus, suddenly flashed and rushed straight in front of him, blocking his way.

The two Half-step Gurus looked embarrassed at this sight.

Zhang Ying was shocked.

“Two Half-step Gurus failed to stop John Doe?”

“How could this guy be so much more powerful than I thought?”

When Fang Qiu stopped Zhang Ying, the others from Nirvana immediately rushed to the Black Mamba Mercenaries from different directions, but they were all stopped by Fang Qiu.

Not to mention rushing into the fleet, it would be very difficult for them to go even one meter forward with Fang Qiu’s obstruction!

This caused the five experts from Nirvana to look terrible.

“So powerful!”

Seeing that John Doe was able to stop five experts by himself, the Black Mamba Mercenaries couldn’t help but exclaim. Even the bearded man was stunned by John Doe’s might.

“Hurry and leave!” Fang Qiu shouted.

The bearded man no longer hesitated. He immediately got into the truck and led the fleet forward.

He remained unmoved no matter how those people tried to attack the fleet because he knew that with John Doe’s presence, these people could never deal any harm to the fleet!

As expected, the five members of the Nirvana Organization were all forced to fight Fang Qiu, and not a single one of them could escape.

None of them expected such a situation before they came here!

A Half-step Guru shouted angrily, "Don't hold back. Let's kill him first, and then chase after the fleet!"

At his words, the others no longer hesitated. All their attention was now focused on John Doe instead of on the fleet.

"Humph." Fang Qiu snorted.

He withdrew his guru's power soon after he came out of the mine. Therefore, he had always shown the strength he gained after his recultivation.

It was precisely because of this that the five members of Nirvana were shocked by his combat strength.

However, it was not easy for him to deal with these five people with only his strength after recultivation, and it was even challenging for him to resist them.

As a result, he didn't hesitate at all when he made sure that the five people were going to launch an all-out attack. He immediately dispersed the divine sword in his hand, clenched his right hand into a fist, and swung it in the air!

"Whoosh, whoosh, whoosh..."

The Qi of Heaven and Earth in all directions immediately gathered quickly. Within 500 meters of Fang Qiu, it began to move restlessly.

The faces of the five people changed instantly when they sensed the restlessness of the Qi of Heaven and Earth, and they all turned their heads to look around.

The restlessness of the Qi of Heaven and Earth made them feel a sense of crisis, as if there would be horrible attacks coming from all directions at any time.

Fang Qiu, on the other hand, didn't care whether they were afraid or not.

"Great Hand of Formlessness!"

Panic-stricken, the five people didn't know what John Doe was going to do. Fang Qiu waved his right hand. The turbulent Qi of Heaven and Earth within a 500-meter radius suddenly contracted and grew. Without giving them any time to react, Fang Qiu punched one of the Half-step Gurus.

"Bang!"

No one could see what exactly had happened. With a loud bang, a Half-step Guru suddenly flew backward and spat out a mouthful of blood.

"What's going on?"

The other Half-step Guru suddenly grew anxious.

"Be careful!"

The injured Half-step Guru finally stabilized his body and said, "I'm not injured, but half of my internal Qi has been dispersed by him!"

"What?"

When the other four heard this, they were instantly stricken dumb.

"His internal Qi was dispersed?"

“How could this be possible?”

The internal Qi was something invisible and untouchable inside the human body. Even if one mobilized his internal Qi, it would only be like hitting the air if he were to punch it. The attack would have no effect on it at all.

“How could John Doe disperse the internal Qi inside the human body?”

The five of them were extremely startled!

This kind of attack was really terrifying.

It couldn't do much physical damage to the human body, but who could withstand his internal Qi being dispersed totally by two punches?

Without internal Qi, wouldn't he be tortured and killed?

“Damn it!”

The uninjured Half-step Guru was a little scared. He thought it was John Doe's unique skill to kill other Half-step Gurus. Before he could come up with a way to deal with this move, he was unwilling to fight with John Doe. As such, he immediately yelled angrily, “Ignore him. Chase after the fleet with all your might!”

As soon as he finished speaking, he took the lead in chasing after the fleet.

“Since all of you are digging your own grave, I'll show you my true strength!”

Fang Qiu gave a cold snort and no longer hid his strength. He directly burst out all his strength in the Guru Realm. His speed and strength had increased several times in an instant. With a flash, he rushed straight to the front of the Half Step Guru and then struck him without hesitation.

“Bang!”

An enormous energy palm descended from the sky.

Fang Qiu didn’t give his opponent any chance to react. Under his control, the palm hit the Half Step Guru who was the first to rush out.

The huge force smashed the man straight into the ground.

To everyone else’s surprise, the Half-step Guru, who was on his way to chase the fleet just now, lost his vitality in an instant.

This sight left the four people who were still alive dumbfounded!

Medical Master

Chapter 1088: You’re a Guru!

On the relatively hard mountain road, a palm print about two meters wide and half a meter deep appeared.

In the palm print, the eyes of the middle-aged Half-step Guru bulged out, and the whites of his eyes around his black pupils were even covered with dense web-like blood vessels.

This person lay parallel to the palm print, and his whole body was embedded in the ground.

“Pfft, pfft...”

Blood kept oozing out of his slightly opened mouth like a small spring.

Apparently, this person was no longer breathing.

That sort of appearance was something that would only appear when one died in panic and fear.

The remaining Half-step Guru, who had lost half of his internal Qi, Zhang Ying, and two other ninth-class young men with one opened meridian were all petrified with fear at this scene!

The four of them had planned to follow the man's command and quit the fight directly, aiming for the plutonium materials.

Little did they expect to see this happen!

"How is this possible?"

Looking at the dead body lying in the palm print on the ground, Zhang Ying's eyes widened, as if he had seen something terrifying and unbelievable. When he turned to look at Fang Qiu, his face instantly turned pale and he said in horror, "How is this possible? How is this even possible?"

Zhang Ying was not alone. The Half-step Guru with only half of his internal Qi left and the other two young men seemed to have lost their souls, completely rooted to the spot.

The person in front of them had killed a Half-step Guru with one palm strike?!

A Half-step Guru could never be an ordinary person!

They all believed that there must be someone in this world who was able to kill a Half-step Guru, but they didn't believe someone could kill a Half-step Guru with a single stroke of the hand.

Even a guru couldn't do this, could he?

How could John Doe possibly do that?

They were engulfed by panic and thrown into emotional turmoil.

The face of the Half-step Guru, who had been hit by the Great Hand of Formlessness and had had half of his internal Qi dissipated, especially, changed greatly. He no longer had the word “enemy” in his mind and also forgot that he was here for a mission. There was only one thought in his mind, which was to escape for his life!

John Doe was a terror!

Fang Qiu was likewise astonished.

This time, in order to keep the plutonium materials, he did not hold back at all. After the outbreak of his strength in the Guru Realm, he focused most of his power on this move, the Great Hand of Destruction.

Before, he could knock down a thirty-centimeter thick iron door with a little strength.

Now, with eighty percent of his strength, he killed a Half-step Guru with a stroke of the hand.

Only then did he deeply experience the horror of the Great Hand of Destruction.

From the day he learned this technique, he knew very well that its power was closely related to his own strength. The stronger he was, the more power he could bring out of it.

He had experienced it before.

However, the power of the Great Hand of Destruction that broke out this time had completely exceeded his expectations.

“Sure enough, there is a huge gap between the Guru Realm and other realms.”

Fang Qiu sighed with emotion in his heart.

He knew that the reason why the Great Hand of Destruction could burst out so much power was because of his strength in the Guru Realm!

Compared with others, a guru was much closer to the Qi of Heaven and Earth. Being able to sense, attract, and control the Qi of Heaven and Earth in his hand made a guru even more terrifying!

Under these circumstances, how could the Great Hand of Destruction not be powerful?

Of course, it was the same for the Great Hand of Formlessness!

“Revenge, we must take revenge!”

While everyone was in a state of shock, the Half-step Guru with only half of his internal Qi left suddenly shouted, “Attack together! He can’t do anything to us!”

Hearing that, Zhang Ying and the other two ninth-class young men with one opened meridian were ready to take action at once.

“Swoosh...”

But right at this moment, the Half-step Guru moved his body and ran away!

He was afraid.

The Half-step Guru who came here with him was slightly stronger than he was, but even so, he was struck dead by John Doe with a single move. As such, his fate could easily be predicted.

He didn’t want to die.

However, he knew that he had no way to escape.

The only way he could think of was for Zhang Ying and the others to stop John Doe.

He was a Half-step Guru, and the three young men led by Zhang Ying were not as strong as him. It was necessary to exchange their lives for his!

The three young men, who were about to attack, noticed the escape of the Half-step Guru immediately.

At this moment, all three of them had ashen faces!

They knew that they had been betrayed.

If even a Half-step Guru couldn't survive, how could the three of them survive Fang Qiu's attacks?

"Trying to run?"

Fang Qiu snorted.

How could he let these people escape now that he had shown his power in the Guru Realm?

Obviously, these people were the main force of Nirvana. It would be a good thing for the whole world if one more of them died!

"Woosh!"

With a movement of his body, Fang Qiu directly caught up with the Half-step Guru in the blink of an eye with his strength in the Guru Realm. Before his opponent could run far, Fang Qiu rushed straight in front of him, blocked his way, and struck him straight.

“Ah... Fuck off.”

A furious roar sounded.

The Half-step Guru shouted in panic. He burst out all his strength without the slightest hesitation and threw a fierce punch at John Doe.

He had wanted to use this punch to force John Doe to retreat so as to give himself a chance to continue his escape.

“Slap!”

Unexpectedly, John Doe didn’t dodge the punch. Instead, he struck the Half-step Guru with his palm but didn’t kill him this time.

After all, it took a lot of energy to use the Great Hand of Destruction, so Fang Qiu didn’t use it again.

His palm met the other party’s fist.

Unexpectedly, Fang Qiu ended up grabbing his fist!

The fist that carried all the power of the Half-step Guru was caught by Fang Qiu just like that.

It was as if an adult had grabbed the fist of a child, and everything was within his control.

“Hmph.”

Fang Qiu gave a cold snort.

Holding his opponent’s fist, he moved and pulled him straight back.

Zhang Ying and the other two young men had run away separately.

“Bang!”

Fang Qiu waved his hand in mid-air.

He directly threw the Half-step Guru, who had been scared out of his wits, on the other Half-step Guru, who had been killed.

The moment Fang Qiu threw the man, an extremely powerful hidden force burst out from his palm and rushed straight into the man’s body, wreaking havoc and instantly crushing his internal organs.

Another Half-step Guru was killed!

While smashing that man, Fang Qiu moved and first caught the two ninth-class young men with one opened meridian before throwing them together with the bodies of the two Half-step Gurus.

At last, he caught up with Zhang Ying.

“You, you...”

Zhang Ying was scared. He had just run a kilometer, but John Doe had already caught up with him.

“Why don’t you chase after the others?”

In incomparable panic and fear, Zhang Ying shouted such a sentence.

“The others?”

Fang Qiu sneered and said, "I'll take you to see them now."

"Swoosh!"

Without giving Zhang Ying any time to react, Fang Qiu grabbed his collar and dragged him back to his previous position.

Then, he threw Zhang Ying to the ground.

"Ah, ah..."

The moment he landed, Zhang Ying bounced up and retreated in panic.

In front of him were four corpses!

The two Half-step Gurus and the two ninth-class young men with one opened meridian, who had just been sent by the organization, were all dead.

At this moment, with his empty eyes on John Doe, Zhang Ying's mind went blank and he knelt on the ground, as if he had a nervous breakdown.

"H-how is this possible?"

He murmured, "How could you have killed them? How could this have happened?"

Fang Qiu stepped forward, ready to take action.

"Guru."

Zhang Ying suddenly raised his head and stared at John Doe, saying, "Only a guru could do such a thing. You are a guru, a guru!"

"You are the second person to know my secret. The first one is dead."

Fang Qiu stepped forward and waved his right hand.

"Clang!"

The sound of a sword sounded.

Not even the shadow of the sword could be seen, but there was a very thin blood wound on Zhang Ying's neck.

"You are a guru. You really are..."

Even as he rolled his eyes, Zhang Ying remained in a state of indescribable shock.

Yes.

He didn't expect that.

If he had known that John Doe was a guru, and if he had known that John Doe was so powerful, how could he have dared to make trouble for John Doe?

Now he knew that, but it was already too late!

He was the only person in the Nirvana Organization who knew John Doe's real strength. If he was allowed to go back alive, maybe the next purpose of the Nirvana Organization was to kill John Doe instead of starting a world war.

However, how could Fang Qiu let such a thing happen?

“Phew...”

After killing all of them, Fang Qiu heaved a sigh of relief, dispersed the power of the Guru Realm, and then looked at the five corpses with a frown.

“The body is the clue. As long as there’s no body, there’s no way they can trace it back to me, much less know that I killed the envoy of L’hexagone.

“This time, I have to destroy all the clues.”

With a stir of his mind, Fang Qiu immediately thought of Abel’s ability.

To turn the internal Qi into the fire.

He had also used it before, but he didn’t turn his internal Qi into flames. Instead, he directly used his internal Qi to burn some small things, such as a secret letter containing important news.

But this time, if he wanted to incinerate these five corpses directly, he would have to use Abel’s ability.

Fortunately, Fang Qiu’s spiritual force was strong enough, making it very easy for him to separate the fire-attribute energy between heaven and earth and use the control technique of the Great Hand of Destruction to control it.

This was also the main reason why he disdained learning from Abel.

With a stir of his mind, Fang Qiu immediately gathered all the fire-attribute energy between heaven and earth before using his internal Qi as the catalyst to ignite this energy.

Then, with a wave of his hand, the energy flames instantly spread to all five bodies, burning fiercely.

Unlike ordinary flames, these flames reduced the five bodies to ashes that scattered with the wind in less than a minute!

“Not bad. It’s a must-have skill to kill and rob.”

Clapping his hands, Fang Qiu smiled and closed his eyes.

He used Insight to check his meridians.

He found that it seemed impossible for him to stabilize his realm as he had promised the old master in his current situation. After the battle just now, there was a faint sense of breakthrough again.

Medical Master

Chapter 1089: John Doe from Huaxia!

“Another breakthrough is on the way.”

Fang Qiu gave a wry smile.

During this period of time, he had tried his best to suppress it. Even when he fought with an expert of the same level, he always ended the fight as soon as possible, for fear that his strength would be improved again in the fight.

And yet, he was once again on the verge of breaking through.

He had thought that as long as he didn’t deliberately use fights to hone his strength, he could stabilize his realm step by step according to what the old master said.

Under the circumstances, if he encountered a stronger opponent, he would directly burst out the strength that could kill the other party in an instant, like what had happened just now.

If he had wanted to break through, he would have never killed these five people so easily.

Because he had broken through once before, it was so easy for him to make a breakthrough in his cultivation now.

He also found that when fighting with people with the strength of a guru, it was faster to make a breakthrough than to practice wholeheartedly.

After all, when the internal Qi circulated in the body, it had to flow in the meridians that had not yet been opened.

Under the circumstances, it would be strange if he didn't break through quickly.

"It seems that I have to use less of my guru-level strength in the future."

Looking at the ashes on the ground scattering with the wind, Fang Qiu let out a long breath, clenched his fists, and muttered, "However, I'm not far from the Guru Realm. After reaching the Guru Realm again, I won't be as restrained as I am now."

Right after he finished his sentence, he sank his Qi into his Dantian and pressed down all the internal Qi in his body, leaving only a small amount in his meridians to suppress the feeling of an upcoming breakthrough.

After all this was done, he immediately set off and chased after the Black Mamba Mercenaries.

Although he suppressed his internal Qi, he didn't slow down much.

It didn't take long for him to catch up with the fleet.

In the passenger seat of the first truck, the bearded man saw Fang Qiu through the rearview mirror and immediately raised his hand, signaling to the fleet to stop.

But right at this moment, Fang Qiu said, "Don't stop, keep moving!"

With a swoosh, he had already landed on the top of the truck.

At his words, the bearded man waved his hand, signaling to all the vehicles to move on.

While the truck was moving, the bearded man opened the door, jumped onto the roof, sat next to Fang Qiu, looked him up and down carefully, and then asked with a puzzled face, "Where are those people?"

"I killed them all," Fang Qiu replied blandly.

"Killed them all?"

The bearded man looked at Fang Qiu in shock.

"Yes."

Fang Qiu nodded gently.

The bearded man was stunned.

Those five people were not easy to deal with. The weakest one was almost as strong as he was, slightly weaker at most. It would be pretty good if he could engage one of them.

He was already shocked when he saw John Doe fighting the five men alone.

Now, when he heard that John Doe had killed all five of them, he instantly felt unreal!

How could John Doe kill two Half-step Gurus and three ninth-class experts in such a short period of time?

The bearded man instantly felt his throat go dry.

“My, my name is Anderson Wilson.”

The bearded man stretched out his hand to Fang Qiu and said, “You can call me Will.”

“I know.”

Fang Qiu turned to look at the bearded man and said, “I know everything about you, and that’s why I sought cooperation with you. You should be glad that what you have done over the years has not caused too much harm or killed any innocent people.”

Will was quick to breathe a sigh of relief.

Indeed, after deciding to persuade the Black Mamba Mercenaries into cooperating with him, Fang Qiu immediately investigated this mercenary group. To his surprise, he found that it almost never did anything that was harmful to the country. Most of the missions the Black Mamba Mercenaries accepted were on the frontlines. Although some of their small tasks were harmful to some people, affecting their lives and even taking some people’s lives, compared with the real villains, they had done too little evil.

Therefore, Fang Qiu was willing to make peace.

Otherwise, he could have killed the bearded man and disguised himself as the bearded man. After he was done, he could have taken care of everyone in this mercenary company.

Cold sweat trickled down his forehead when Will heard John Doe’s words.

He believed that with John Doe’s strength, he could easily crush him as easily as crushing an ant.

Fortunately, he could be considered to have latched onto this powerful backer.

If he hadn't been obedient and refused to cooperate with John Doe at that time, he would have died a long time ago.

The fleet moved all the way forward.

Will had been sitting next to Fang Qiu and chatting with him from time to time.

Half an hour later, the fleet finally arrived at the McKen Mountain Range.

The troops of Murica and Rashk had arrived in advance. According to Fang Qiu's request, there was a temporary military base on the McKen Mountain Range that was very suitable for defense!

The scouts of the major forces came to the Greenwich Mountain Range one after another.

When they arrived at the mine, they saw a large iron door that had been blasted open. They also saw the remnants left behind from the transport of the plutonium materials. There were also evident tire marks of trucks driving out of the mine!

Obviously, this was where the plutonium materials had been.

Without any hesitation, the scouts immediately sent the news back to the organizations behind them.

The leaders of the major organizations became angry as soon as they received the news.

Soon afterward, the Divine Envoys of the Truth Division and the Gospel Division, as well as scouts sent by the major forces, immediately followed the tire marks of trucks and chased after the fleet quickly.

To their surprise, after chasing at full speed for more than 40 minutes, they found that they had returned to the McKen Mountain Range. Near the end of their chase, they also found that the four special envoys, who had shown their hand to them more than an hour ago, had leisurely walked into the military base, and the tire marks were also connected to the military base.

A closer look revealed that this makeshift military base was made up of troops from more than one country. It was actually a combination of Murica and Rashk.

Everyone was dumbfounded at this sight.

A military base jointly formed by two countries. Was this a joke?

Faced with such a situation, the people of the major organizations could only turn around and leave helplessly.

Although they clearly saw that the trucks loaded with the plutonium materials were in this military base, they didn't have the courage to get them!

It was clear that these plutonium materials had been seized by the five countries. If they fought for them now, it would mean that they were openly against the five countries. Even if there were only the troops of Murica and Rashk here, they did not have any capital against these two great powers.

Once something went wrong, their respective forces as a whole would be eliminated!

They all knew that there was no hope of getting the plutonium materials.

This time, they were completely fooled!

The four special envoys, apparently, had been attracting their attention. In addition to the four special envoys, there must be another person commanding in the Greenwich Mountain Range, and this person must be John Doe!

Because up to now, John Doe still hadn't shown up.

As the special envoy of Huaxia, John Doe was definitely one of the most concerned about the plutonium materials. He would never stand by and do nothing. Under this premise, the only person who could do all this could only be John Doe!

Soon, all the scouts left.

The whole story, as well as the news that the plutonium materials had been transferred away secretly and protected by the garrisons of the two countries, quickly swept across the major forces in a short time!

Not only the Truth Division, the Gospel Division, and those mercenary groups, but also the Letter Organization and many major forces of the whole world received this news at the same time.

All the forces were stunned by this news.

"What?"

"It's John Doe. It's actually John Doe?!"

"Damn it, so many people were fooled by John Doe?"

"The Letter Organization is also an accomplice!"

"Even the Truth Division and the Gospel Division have been deceived. John Doe did a good job this time. He has deceived the whole world."

"What a roundabout tactic! He stealthily transferred the plutonium materials in a short time. So many people were chasing after him, but they failed to stop him!"

“John Doe is so awesome. Not only is he powerful, but he is also so smart!”

In no time, all the major forces in the world who had their eyes on the plutonium materials became furious.

They had spent all that time and effort but ended up getting nothing. Worse still, they even got played like a fiddle. This was simply too humiliating.

“A group of idiots!”

At the same time, in the living room on the second floor of a large villa located at the edge of a prosperous big city in Zhongdong, a thin middle-aged man in black, with black eye sockets and gray hair, smashed a marble table with anger burning in his eyes.

“Seventh Venerable.”

A young man knelt on the ground, trembling, and said, “I got news from the forum of underground forces that the culprit of our failure in this mission is still John Doe!”

“John Doe!!!”

The middle-aged man who was addressed as the Seventh Venerable clenched his fists tightly. He gritted his teeth and a frightening aura surged out of his body. The marble fragments scattered all over the ground were reduced to dust the moment this aura rippled over.

This scene startled the man who was kneeling on the ground!

The Venerables were the top fighters of the organization.

As a subordinate, the only thing he knew was that the top ten protectors in the organization were all called the Venerables, and they were all gurus!

“Investigate!”

The Seventh Venerable inhaled deeply to suppress the fury inside him. He then said furiously, “Go and immediately investigate just where those five protectors have gone!”

“L-lord.”

The kneeling man said in a trembling voice, “We have checked it out. There are traces of the five protectors in the Greenwich Mountain Range. As for their current situation, we are carefully searching for them, but it is very likely that they have already...”

On the forum of underground forces.

“What the fuck! Is that the end of it?”

“No way! The map has been taken back to Huaxia by John Doe, and the holy fruit has been taken away by John Doe too. Now even the plutonium materials of such a large volume were taken away by John Doe?! Aren’t those forces too fucking stupid?”

“Now the plutonium materials are guarded by the two armies, and everything in Zhongdong is over.”

“John Doe is behind all this.”

“John Doe of Huaxia has really risen this time. Who would have thought that this guy has almost reversed the situation of Zhongdong by himself? He is so amazing!”

Medical Master

Chapter 1090: Clearing the Name of the Mercenary Group

“Is the chaos in Zhongdong really over just like that?”

“Why do I have the feeling that there are two parties against each other this time? One party, which may be the Nirvana Organization that John Doe mentioned, wants to cause a large-scale war, and the other is John Doe, who has been shuttling back and forth between light and shade!”

“Now that I think about it, it seems like that’s the case!”

“This explains why John Doe was able to snatch the map, the holy fruit, and the plutonium materials. It’s all because he was fighting with the person who secretly incited the battle.”

“In this case, John Doe has destroyed three schemes now!”

“These are all baseless speculations. John Doe is also a person with desires. Both the plutonium material map and the holy fruit are what the major forces are competing for. So it comes as no surprise that John Doe wants them. Maybe this so-called conspiracy is just to distract everyone!”

“In any case, the strength John Doe has shown in Zhongdong has exceeded everyone’s imagination.”

“John Doe of Huaxia is very well-known!”

On the forum of the underground forces, all kinds of heated discussions continued, and John Doe was the most attractive topic.

It was because John Doe’s performance in Zhongdong had simply been too terrifying. In terms of military force and intelligence, he had almost overwhelmed all the major forces.

But of course, these forces were not stupid.

The reason why they had been deceived was that Fang Qiu’s elaborate plan had worked. At that time, it was easy to fall into the trap he had set.

Looking back at it, that plan was indeed too rough and simple.

Nevertheless, they had fallen for it.

In Huaxia, Li Ji, who had not dared to contact Fang Qiu too much, could only keep an eye on the intelligence department and the underground force forum all the time.

Of course, before he saw the various news on the forum of the underground forces, the intelligence department of Huaxia had sent intel.

After learning that Fang Qiu had safely delivered the plutonium materials to the two countries' armies, Li Ji breathed a sigh of relief.

He could see now that Fang Qiu was very smart.

As a matter of fact, if there was no other way, the Murican special envoy would ask for help from the Murican troops. At that time, they would rush to Greenwich Mountain Range as soon as possible and take the plutonium materials for themselves.

And this was what all the major forces and countries did not wish to see.

Undoubtedly, the other countries also hoped to take control of the plutonium materials.

But only Murica and Rashk had sent their armies to Zhongdong.

As for Fang Qiu, he had given the plan to the four envoys so that they could keep each other in check.

Murica and Rashk had checked and balanced each other through station troops, and the other countries would balance one another diplomatically. In this case, no one dared to pocket all the plutonium materials.

Had it been only to protect the plutonium materials, why would Fang Qiu need to put in so much effort?

On the other side, the other four countries had received feedback from their respective envoys at once.

Knowing that the plutonium materials had been safely protected by the armies of the two countries, the four countries breathed a sigh of relief, expressing their gratitude to Huaxia.

After all, the whole plan had been carried out by John Doe and Huaxia.

Without this plan, the competition for plutonium materials would not have ended so easily, and it might have resulted in a world-shaking war in Zhongdong.

There was no doubt that Huaxia's measures had kept the peace.

After receiving thanks from the four major countries, Huaxia immediately stood up and said, "Keeping world peace is our consistent aim. We will try our best to stop whatever threatens world peace and create the safest environment for the people!"

Also, the security department and the high-level leaders were all very happy with Fang Qiu's action, deeming it truly inspiring.

Before that, none of the five countries had refused to admit their strengths, especially Murica, which had not cared about the other countries due to its powerful armed forces and technology.

But this time, even Murica had no good way to deal with such a situation. If John Doe had not put forward this plan, the plutonium materials would have been lost. Even though not completely, a large part of it would have been gone.

Plutonium was what nuclear weapons were made of. So if there was anything the whole world did not want, it was to lose it.

But perhaps no one knew what this meant to the five major countries and the whole world.

There were smugglers that trafficked in gold, drugs, arms, and even people, but none of them dared to smuggle materials related to nuclear weapons.

It was not that no one had tried to smuggle the materials before; but that those who had the nerve to do so were immediately suppressed and destroyed by the five major countries.

Hence, the materials of nuclear weapons had become a sore spot for all the smugglers that they even dared not go near them.

Besides, many underground forces in the world wanted to have nuclear weapons.

For them, nuclear weapons meant the right to challenge a big country. They could even want for nothing throughout their life by threatening.

But they could not get them.

Therefore, after learning that the plutonium material map had been sold, they could not wait to come to Zhongdong.

One could imagine how much control the five major countries had over the materials of nuclear weapons.

And this only showed the great importance of nuclear weapons.

It was exactly the kind of thing that could not be taken lightly, lest it fell into the hands of terrorists.

But, confronted with such a crisis, John Doe had saved the day by himself, protecting three tons of plutonium.

How could the four countries not be convinced?

How could Huaxia not become renowned?

In the military base of Murica and Rashk allied forces in Zhongdong, the members of the Black Mamba Mercenaries found a place to gather. The allied forces did not even give them a tent, but they did not show any hostility towards them.

It was the first time they had lived in harmony with the army, which made them feel great, and they soon fancied clearing their name.

“What should I do next?” following Fang Qiu, Will asked in a low voice.

“There is a meeting next, so they are setting a meeting room. You go with me,” said Fang Qiu.

“Okay.” Will nodded quickly.

After a while, Fang Qiu led Will into a tent set up by the Murican soldiers.

Inside the tent, a conference table and many stools had been put up. In addition to Fang Qiu and Will, the special envoys of the other four countries were also there.

Moreover, there were also some people sent by the United Countries.

Seeing Fang Qiu, all the envoys changed their expressions immediately.

Before this, they had thought that John Doe was just a powerful man with not much wit.

But now, those who had personally participated in his plan and fooled all the forces had a deep understanding of his wisdom.

A strong person could be subdued through various methods, and a clever person could also be defeated by martial power. But how could someone who was both strong and intelligent be quelled?

There was no way. He simply could not be subdued.

This was what the four countries' envoys were thinking about.

In particular, the Murican special envoy, Lester, was no longer looking at Fang Qiu with eyes full of desire; he was looking with deep fear now.

Only now did he understand that the real reason why John Doe had gotten everything he wanted was not by sheer luck but thanks to his strength. He was so powerful that no one could question his ability.

Not just the four envoys but also the people from the United Countries, led by a young-looking man wearing glasses, appeared stunned when they looked at Fang Qiu.

They had come here to solve this problem although they had no solution whatsoever. To their surprise, John Doe had solved this troublesome problem just like that, which they found unbelievable.

"Since everyone is here, let's officially start the meeting now." Fang Qiu glanced at everyone and said, "The reason why I asked to hold this meeting is to discuss how to deal with the aftermath!"

Everyone was dumbfounded.

"What we did has implicated and offended some people, so the purpose of this meeting is to discuss how to deal with the aftermath." Fang Qiu smiled, turned to Will next to him, and continued, "Let me introduce him to you first. This is Anderson Wilson, the head of the Black Mamba Mercenaries."

Everyone looked at Will, nodding.

Will also nodded at everyone in response.

He was a rough man who did not go by flattery and just wanted what he deserved.

And Fang Qiu knew that. Therefore, after the introduction, he said directly, "The Black Mamba Mercenaries has helped us a lot carry out this plan. Without its help, it would've never gone so smoothly. So I need to clear its name now. Although it is a mercenary group, it has maintained world peace this time. I hope that the five major countries and the United Countries can recognize the Black Mamba Mercenaries. In other words, I wish you allow them to get out and stand openly in front of the world rather than stay in the shadows."

Then, he paused before he added, "Will has promised me that the Black Mamba Mercenaries will not do any evil deeds from today on. If it breaks this promise, it will be dealt with according to the law!"

"Yes!" Will answered immediately.

"I agree."

"I agree, too."

The four envoys nodded in agreement one after the other.

Seeing that the four special envoys had agreed, the representative of the United Countries could not refuse. So he immediately said, "It is not a problem. I will report it at once!"

Excited, Will looked at Fang Qiu with a face full of gratitude.

On the other side, the representative of the United Countries had already started to make an application.

"All right." After the application was completed, the representative of the United Countries said promptly, "The higher-ups have confirmed that they can be incorporated into the off-staff armies of peace-keeping forces. As long as they don't do anything bad again, everything will be fine."
