Chapter 1741 Disguise and Frame Up!

The helicopter entered the desert.

Soon, it approached the area where the Yuan Yang Fruit was located.

The pilot of the helicopter didn't dare to land too low, for fear that it would accidentally destroy the Yuan Yang Fruit. So the air-drops were put down at a height of dozens of meters in the air.

The supplies were slowly dropped from the high air.

Just then-

"Swoosh..."

A very sharp breaking through-the-air sound was heard suddenly.

Then...

A fist-sized stone, wrapped in an overbearing energy Qi, whizzed toward the helicopter's fuel tank like a bullet.

In an instant...

"Boom!"

There was a loud explosion.

The moment the stone hit the helicopter's fuel tank, a great force burst out from the stone, and with a huge explosive force, it quickly destroyed the fuel tank.

In the sky...

A loud explosion echoed.

With the explosion of the fuel tank, the whole helicopter was immediately detonated.

Enormous flames soared into the sky.

The helicopter exploded into several segments in the raging flames and quickly fell from high air.

Seeing this scene...

Everyone from the Autranssy authorities was furious in an instant.

In the daytime, their opponents robbed the supplies loaded in the military truck, but at least they didn't kill.

But in the evening...

Those people not only destroyed the helicopter when they failed to snatch the supplies, but they also killed the men on the helicopter.

"Damn it, you've gone too far!"

The official spokesman of Autranssy roared with a purple face.

“I’ll make you pay the price for killing our men!”

Mason was enraged too.

Others might not know, but as an SS-level expert, Mason saw clearly from which direction the stone was shot.

Without any hesitation...

“Swoosh...”

Mason moved in a flash.

Mason charged straight in the direction where the stone had shot out from, quickly rushing forward.

It was a sand dune there.

Mason, who had rushed over, climbed over the sand dune without a second thought. He didn’t care which country or force they were from. He went straight to kill.

Behind the sand dune...

A group of people didn’t even have time to react before two of them were sent flying by Mason’s palm. Then, the energy hammer condensed in Mason’s hand and smashed down fiercely.

With a few moves, Mason nailed the few people hiding behind the sand dune into the sand like driving nails and killed them.

Seeing Mason angry...

People from the other forces immediately set off, heading to approach the location of the Yuan Yang Fruit quickly.

All forces had already thought it through.

As long as Mason left, everyone would force their way in, find an opportunity to destroy the bombs under the ground and drive the Autranssy authorities away.

However...

Even though Mason was furious to make his move, his attention had always been on the area where the Yuan Yang Fruit was.

Therefore...

When the various forces approached the area where the Yuan Yang Fruit was, Mason immediately retreated and took out the remote detonator, without any hesitation.

“It would appear that all of you are going to die together?”

Mason’s loud shout spread out.

Instantly, the whole battlefield quieted down.

Far away from the battlefield...

In a small town on the outskirts of the desert.

The moment the helicopter appeared, Fang Qiu noticed it. But he neither left the town nor intended to follow it in.

However...

When he heard the loud noise of the helicopter being shot down, he could no longer hold it in.

As he knew...

The helicopter was shot down, which meant that all the countries had completely fallen out with the Autranssy authorities.

In that case...

The safety of the Yuan Yang Fruit became a big problem.

It was true.

Fang Qiu was worried about the Yuan Yang Fruit.

For Fang Qiu, of course, the bigger the conflict between the forces from all countries in the world and the Autranssy authorities, the better. But, the premise was that nothing would happen to the Yuan Yang Fruit.

Once the Autranssy authorities were forced to a dead end, they would have to detonate the bombs and blow up the Yuan Yang Fruit. By then, everything would be doomed.

Fang Qiu was full of worry.

He quickly came to the desert.

Very soon, Fang Qiu approached nearby the area where the Yuan Yang Fruit was. He completely suppressed his aura and hid behind a sand dune. After carefully observing the situation over there, he quietly lurked into the sand, approaching the location where the Murican was. He was going to take the opportunity to find out something.

After a short while...

Fang Qiu got to the underground area near Murica's camp and stayed still. Then he closed his eyes and concentrated on activating his Divine Consciousness.

On the ground, everything within 100 meters immediately appeared in Fang Qiu's sight.

It was a pity that Fang Qiu couldn't capture the situation of the Yuan Yang Fruit. However, it happened to cover all the foreign forces within 100 meters.

"Damn it, the Autranssy authorities are too shameless.

"They threatened us with bombs as soon as we got closer. They're shameless to the extreme!"

"Humph, let them be arrogant for just a couple of days. When the top-notch spiritual fruit ripens, we will teach them a big lesson."

"The Autranssy authorities are most afraid of John Doe, but not us."

"John Doe has been hiding in the dark. Who knows when he will show up? When the time comes to snatch the top-notch spiritual fruit, probably, he will suddenly appear and run away. If so, all our efforts will be in vain!"

One by one, the discussions spread into Fang Qiu's ears.

The closest group to Fang Qiu, Murica, was already discussing how to deal with John Doe!

“John Doe is always a threat. Anyway, we must get rid of him first. Even if we can’t, we have to find a way to force him to show up. By then, someone will naturally punish him.”

Tony said with a gloomy face, “We can’t let the accident that occurred in Belgon happen here again.”

Tony knew very well.

Why did so many things happen in Belgon?

It was because he joined hands with the Nirvana Organization to kill John Doe but failed and let John Doe escape. Since then, John Doe had been hiding in the dark.

If it weren’t for John Doe...

The speed-up technique would not have been destroyed.

If the speed-up technique in Murica’s hands had not been destroyed in Belgon, the Nirvana Organization would not have sold the speed-up technique at a marked price. If Nirvana had not sold it, Nirvana and Murica would have been the only two forces that owned the speed-up technique in the world.

If John Doe hadn’t made trouble, all the countries would have surrendered to Murica by now!

The more the Murican thought about it, the angrier they became.

They also knew that John Doe must be keeping an eye on the Yuan Yang Fruit. Therefore, whatever it took, the Murican would not give John Doe any chance to touch the Yuan Yang Fruit, ever and never!

The best way to stop John Doe was to kill him before the Yuan Yang Fruit got ripened!

“Now, tell me what you think.”

Tony glanced at all the people from Murica and said, “How can we force John Doe to show up?”

As soon as these words were spoken...

Everyone from Murica was lost in thought.

After a while...

“I have an idea.”

One of them suddenly said, “Huaxianese always care about their reputation, don’t they? Since John Doe hides in the dark, let’s use this to set him up. If he doesn’t show up, we’ll destroy his reputation!”

After his words...

Tony’s eyes lit up, and he immediately said, “Tell me your idea in detail.”

“Disguise.”

The man immediately said with a smile, “I suggest that we can find someone to disguise himself as John Doe. Let him attack the top-notch spiritual fruit and the forces of Autranssy authorities in the identity of John Doe, finding a way to snatch the bomb remote detonator from them. If he succeeds, we won’t have to worry about the bombs all over the ground. Instead, we can threaten other forces with it.

“Even if he fails, we can make John Doe and Autranssy become enemies.”

Speaking of this...

The man grinned obscenely and said, "If John Doe stands out to explain, he will show up. By then, we just stand by and watch Little Saint Lord of the Nirvana Organization kill John Doe. If John Doe doesn't come out, the Autranssy authorities will put him on the hostile list and will even mobilize various high-tech forces to search for him.

"It is in Autranssy after all."

"Once the Autranssy authorities are involved, John Doe will have nowhere to hide."

As soon as he said that...

The eyes of all the people from Murica immediately lit up.

It sounded...

This was indeed an excellent plan.

Whatever the result was, it would be very beneficial to Murica.

"This is a good plan."

"I am in favor of it."

"It's a win-win plan. John Doe is doomed this time."

"Shall we discuss this with Little Saint Lord? I'm afraid that when Little Saint Lord sees the John Doe disguised by our man, he cannot help but make a move to hurt our man."

Hearing everyone's words, Tony laughed with satisfaction and said, "I'll inform Little Saint Lord. Let's carry out this plan. I don't believe that John Doe will continue hiding."

"So let's go get the mask ready."

The man said.

"Okay."

Tony nodded and said with a smile, "Don't waste time making the mask too realistic. It just needs to look a little similar. After all, John Doe has always liked wearing a mask."

"Got it."

The man who proposed nodded in response.

Then...

The group of people immediately divided their work and got ready to carry out the plan.

Under the ground...

Fang Qiu heard everything that the Muricans talked about.

Fang Qiu got a little nervous.

He didn't expect that the Muricans would be so vicious to come up with such an idea.

But...

Fang Qiu was not anxious.

He quietly left the underground and retreated a few kilometers away before he finally came out of the sand.

Knowing Murica's plan, Fang Qiu didn't consider what on earth to do. Since they had decided to do so, wouldn't he fall into their trap if he stopped them now?

Therefore...

Fang Qiu was ready to wait.

He would like to see how Murica was going to play the game.

The following day...

In the evening...

"Swoosh..."

The sound of rushing wind suddenly broke the silence in the air.

In the desert...

A figure wearing black clothes rushed out of the darkness in a flash, heading straight for the central area occupied by the Autranssy authorities.

However, his target was not the unripe Yuan Yang Fruit, but the strongest expert of Autranssy, Mason.

Next to the Yuan Yang Fruit...

As soon as this figure appeared, Mason immediately stood up.

Seeing the black shadow rushing towards him, Mason immediately went up to it without hesitation.

In the blink of an eye...

The black shadow and Mason fought fiercely.

Chapter 1742 Real Or Fake John Doe

“Bang, bang, bang...”

The sound of fierce fighting could be heard.

In the desert, people from various forces who were resting, recovering, and thinking of ways, quickly got up to check as soon as hearing the fighting noise.

The desert, which had been quiet, suddenly became a little chaotic.

All the forces looked over from afar.

Right before him...

The black shadow, who came from nowhere, was fighting fiercely with Mason at lightning speed. Surprisingly, while fighting fiercely, he managed to find time to touch Mason with full purpose as if he tried to steal something.

All the surrounding forces were confused by this situation.

As for the Autransian officials, who were the parties, their expressions all changed. They had seen through the purpose of the man in black, which was to snatch the remote detonator that had been in Mason's hands always.

Under everyone's gaze...

The man in black gradually shifted his focus. Instead of fighting with Mason head-on, he tried all means to steal something from Mason.

The man in black withstood Mason's attack while trying to find a way to steal.

As a result, Mason's body was almost touched all over, but the man in black could not find the remote detonator. It seemed that the remote detonator was not on Mason at all.

The heart of the man in black sank.

After confirming that he couldn't find the remote detonator, he escaped immediately without hesitation.

Seeing this scene...

Everyone from the Autranssy authorities frowned.

They didn't expect that someone would attack them at such a time.

Fortunately...

They had been well prepared for this.

The remote detonator was no longer kept with Mason.

Yesterday, after being attacked by the various major forces, they returned to their camp.

To prevent such a thing from happening again, Mason carefully discussed it with the Autransian officials and decided to transfer the remote detonator to another person.

Unless it was absolutely necessary, that person would never take the initiative to hand over the remote detonator.

Therefore...

No matter how hard the man in black tried, he couldn't find any clues about the remote detonator from Mason.

Of course...

While they were secretly rejoicing about their preparations, everyone from Autranssy authorities transferred their attention to the man in black who had suddenly appeared.

They were very curious about who the man in black was.

He looked very similar to John Doe.

But...

However, Mason, who had fought with John Doe earlier, knew very well that the man in front of him didn't seem to be John Doe. Even though the man had been trying his best to suppress his aura, Mason could distinctly feel that the aura of the man was quite different from that of John Doe.

As for the others, they had never fought with John Doe, so they did not know this at all.

“John Doe from Huaxia!”

When the man in black retreated and was about to escape, the official spokesperson of Autranssy immediately shouted at the back of the man in black, “The next time you come, it will be the day of your death!”

As soon as he finished speaking...

Mason landed on the ground and stood next to the official spokesman of Autranssy.

“This man doesn’t look like John Doe.”

Mason said.

“I knew it.”

The Autranssian official spokesperson nodded and said, “I can see that this man’s fighting style is completely different from John Doe’s. He is also very strong. However, John Doe is a little faster than him in speed, strength, and reaction. Judging from your previous fight with John Doe, I don’t think this man is as good as John Doe.”

“Then why did you call him John Doe?”

Mason questioned closely.

“To intimidate these people.”

The Autranssian official spokesperson frowned tightly and said, “These people are getting more and more reckless and bolder. Although the news that we have driven John Doe away has already spread before they arrived here, they didn’t see it with their own eyes. This is a great opportunity to let them know that even John Doe is no match for us.”

“Don’t you think that this man in black is very likely to be sent by one of the forces?”

Mason asked in reply.

“So what?”

The Autransian official spokesperson smiled lightly and said, “Their purpose is obvious. They want to take away the remote detonator from you, but they failed. It means that their operation has failed. In addition, even if the man was sent by them, he deliberately disguised himself as John Doe. It is obvious that they want to frame John Doe, and probably, they want to take this opportunity to lure John Doe out.

“For us, John Doe, who has been hiding in the dark, is also a great threat.

“Since it’s so, why don’t we go with the flow?

“After all, it’s a good thing for us if they can force John Doe out of the dark.”

Hearing that...

Mason looked at the official spokesman in front of him in surprise.

Mason did not expect this guy to be so meticulous. No wonder he could be selected as the spokesperson by the Autranssy authorities.

...

“John Doe?”

“It turned out to be John Doe!”

“Judging from his dressing and appearance, he is indeed John Doe.”

Hearing the Autransian official spokesman’s shout, people from all forces around began to talk.

Apparently...

No one had expected it at first.

The man in black who suddenly appeared was John Doe.

However, judging from the strength shown by the man in black, he was indeed similar to John Doe. He could not only come so abruptly but also leave so easily.

“It seems that John Doe hasn’t given up yet.”

“Why on earth does John Doe want to snatch this spiritual fruit?”

“With John Doe’s strength, this spiritual fruit is completely useless to him. Moreover, except for John Doe, no one else from Huaxia has come this time. It’s a little strange.”

“Could it be that Huaxia wants to use this spiritual fruit to cultivate another John Doe?”

“If that’s the case, Huaxia really cultivates another John Doe, I’m afraid that the international status of Huaxia cannot be surpassed by any other country.

...

In the discussion of all the forces...

The man in black soon fled far away and didn't return.

Meanwhile...

Those Muricans, who were standing outside of the crowd, had been watching from aside. When they saw that the Autransian officials did not send anyone to chase John Doe and even took the initiative to call out John Doe's name, they couldn't help laughing.

So far, their plan had been carried out very successfully, with every step almost perfect.

If it had to say something that was not perfect...

There was only one, which was the remote detonator.

The remote detonator was not with Mason, and they failed in getting it.

Little Saint Lord of the Nirvana Organization knew Murica's plan because Tony had communicated with him in advance. So Little Saint Lord had been carefully observing the surroundings, not wishing to miss any clues.

However...

When Little Saint Lord discovered that the remote detonator wasn't with Mason, he frowned.

For Little Saint Lord...

Killing John Doe was very important, and so was getting the Yuan Yang Fruit.

At present, John Doe was not a big obstacle. The biggest obstacle was the bombs all over the ground. If he had to choose between immediately forcing John Doe out and solving the bomb crisis, Little Saint Lord was willing to choose the latter, for he could get the Yuan Yang Fruit as long as the bomb crisis was solved.

No one present was a match for Little Saint Lord, and no force dared to go against him either.

As long as the Yuan Yang Fruit was here...

John Doe would definitely show up.

Therefore, it didn't matter whether John Doe showed up or not at this time.

But it was a pity that...

The Autranssy authorities were not stupid.

They had transferred the remote detonator of the bombs in advance.

Now...

No one knew who the remote detonator was on. It might be on the Autranssian official spokesman or one of the 10 S-class experts, and it could be on those with weak strengths.

They couldn't catch all people from the Autranssy authorities one by one to check, could they?

All people present, including everyone from each force, were stunned.

No one had expected that the Autranssy authorities would play the same trick as John Doe did.

John Doe played a trick to turn himself from the surface to the dark so that no one could find his position, and the Autranssy authorities used John Doe's method to secretly transfer the remote detonator of the bombs from Mason to another person so that no one could not find it.

In this way, the threat on the surface became a hidden one.

Under such a situation...

All the major forces had to be more careful and cautious.

It was because...

They didn't know when and where the remote detonator would suddenly detonate the bombs.

When the bombs were detonated, they might not even have a chance to retreat or escape.

Notably...

The Autranssy authorities had taken advantage of the weakness of all the forces, making them unable to exert any strength.

...

In the distance...

"Swoosh..."

After rushing out of the crowd of people from the Autranssy authorities, the man in black kept fleeing quickly. Soon, he arrived at the back of a sand dune five kilometers away.

“Hee, hee...”

The man in black couldn't help grinning when he quietly stopped there.

He heard it.

As he was escaping, he heard shouting from the official spokesman of Autranssy.

As expected, those people took him as John Doe.

It meant that his plan had succeeded.

So he was very excited.

He immediately tore off his mask and started to change his clothes. He was going to quietly return so as not to be discovered by people from Autranssy and other countries, ensuring the perfection of this plan.

However...

When he was taking off his clothes in excitement, he didn't notice that a black shadow abruptly appeared behind him like a ghost without a breath.

All of a sudden...

“Who is it?”

Halfway through taking off his clothes, the man in black suddenly screamed and immediately turned his head.

Just then...

A voice was heard.

“Great Hand of Nihility!”

An invisible wave of energy fluctuation quietly spread out in all directions.

In an instant, it covered an area within 10 kilometers.

The moment the Great Hand of Nihility struck out, the man in black turned his head and saw the person in front of him.

“John Doe!”

The man’s eyes widened, and his face instantly turned deathly pale.

He didn’t expect at all that John Doe would show up there.

It was not until then that he realized that the most imperfect part of his perfect plan was what he was experiencing right now.

Chapter 1743 Everyone Is a Little Confused...

The man in black was a Murican.

He had been expecting to force John Doe out of the dark, but he never thought about the way John Doe would show up, let alone John Doe showing up at the place he removed his disguise.

That was to say...

Their plan was performed perfectly in front of the Autranssy authorities, but in fact, it had long been seen through by John Doe.

Otherwise, John Doe would not show up here.

“Swoosh.”

Looking at the man in front of him, Fang Qiu attacked immediately without hesitation.

“Swoosh!”

The man moved and immediately retreated.

Fang Qiu had observed and found that the man in front of him was a remarkable talent of the earth element, whose strength was indeed at the SS level, but in terms of real combat capability, he was not as good as Mason.

However, the desert was full of sand, so he could absorb a lot of earth energy from underground.

In this case...

He could barely suppress Mason.

The reason why Murica selected this man to pretend to be John Doe was that he was the most similar to John Doe in the melee attack.

“Sure enough, you make your appearance. Haha.”

After dodging the attack from John Doe...

The Murican man suddenly burst into laughter and was about to call for help.

“Swoosh.”

Fang Qiu didn’t give the Murican man any chance at all.

Fang Qiu moved and rushed before the Murican man in an instant. With a wave of his right hand, Fang Qiu threw a fierce punch with a numerous amount of energy Qi.

Seeing this...

The Murican man realized that John Doe would not give him any chance to speak.

So he immediately activated all the energy in his body, trying to stir up the surrounding Heaven and Earth energy to attract Fang Qiu’s attention.

Sure enough...

As soon as he moved, the surrounding Heaven and Earth energy immediately boiled over.

Fang Qiu felt the boiling Qi of Heaven and Earth.

He frowned and immediately stopped attacking.

“Haha...”

Seeing John Doe stop, the man from Murica immediately laughed and said, “John Doe, you’re doomed. Our people are on the way here, and Little Saint Lord of Nirvana will also come with them. It is the day of your death today!”

“Really?”

Fang Qiu suddenly smiled.

The Murican man was stunned.

To his surprise, John Doe was not afraid at all.

“Someone come over! John Doe is here.”

An idea popped into his mind, and the Murican man immediately shouted out loudly with all his strength.

As it turned out...

John Doe was still motionless.

He just stood in the place and looked at the Murican man.

The Murican man realized that something was not right. Why was John Doe so calm?

He quickly turned his head and looked five kilometers away.

To his surprise...

People over there had no reaction as if they didn't notice what was happening here at all. They did not notice the unusual Heaven and Earth energy, nor did they even hear his shouts.

This situation stunned the Murican man in an instant.

He couldn't understand what was going on at all. It was only five kilometers away, but why did people over there not hear anything?

What was going on?

Even if others couldn't hear it...

Little Saint Lord of the Nirvana Organization was supposed to sense it, but why was there no movement at all?

"You've gone through a big battle, and just now, you released most of your energy. You don't have much energy remaining to use, do you?"

Fang Qiu looked at the Murican man and asked.

When the Murican man heard that...

His face immediately turned pale. He hurriedly tried to absorb the Heaven and Earth energy to recover.

What Fang Qiu said was true.

To imitate John Doe well enough...

When he rushed into the camp of the Autranssy authorities and fought fiercely with Mason, he almost used 80% of his energy.

Just now...

To stir up the boiling of the Qi of Heaven and Earth and hold the energy to shout out, he had used up the remaining 20% of his energy.

As he knew, as long as he shouted and the Heaven and Earth energy moved, everything would come to an end.

All the forces over there would rush over as soon as possible.

By then...

John Doe couldn't escape even if he had wings.

However, against his expectation...

There was no movement from the other side.

In this case, if he absorbed the Heaven and Earth energy and recovered a little, he could quickly run over there and lure John Doe right there.

It was only a five-kilometer journey, and he could get there soon.

The Murican man thought...

Even John Doe could not kill him in such a short time.

However...

When he was about to absorb the Heaven and Earth energy, his face instantly turned deathly pale, as he found that the space around him had completely turned into a vacuum. There was no energy at all. Even the ground, which was originally full of earth-element energy, had no trace of energy currently.

Instantly, he felt his throat dry up.

And all the energy in his body was used up. There was no trace of energy around him at all.

That was equivalent to a supercar that could accelerate to 100 kilometers per hour suddenly running out of no gasoline in an instant.

He couldn't move!

Fang Qiu strode forward.

Seeing Fang Qiu coming over, the Murican man shrank his pupils with his eyes full of horror!

Five kilometers away...

"John Doe is so good at enduring. We've already done it to this extent, but how can he still endure not to come out?"

Tony led the people from Murica, stood together with Little Saint Lord, and carefully observed the surrounding situation. But after a long time, he did not find anything wrong.

This made him very confused.

"If he could be lured out so easily, he would not be John Doe anymore."

Little Saint Lord shook his head indifferently.

He said so, but he was also very curious inwardly.

“Why hasn’t John Doe shown up yet?”

“Logically, John Doe should have rushed out a long time ago with his temperament.”

“Where are your men?”

After pondering for a while, Little Saint Lord asked.

“He is five kilometers away.”

Tony replied, “It’s about time for him to come back.”

“Just five kilometers. It doesn’t need to take so long.”

Little Saint Lord narrowed his eyes. He seemed to have realized something.

“It seems so.”

Tony thought it seemed to make sense. He asked in confusion, “Why hasn’t this guy come back yet?”

Just then...

There was a sudden commotion in the crowd of Autransssians.

Hearing the noise of commotion from the Autranssy authorities, all the forces immediately got up and walked up. They were going to see what tricks the Autranssy authorities were going to play again.

However...

When all the people from various forces went up to check, they saw...

There was a corpse lying on the edge of the occupied area of the Autranssy authorities.

With a closer look...

It was exactly the man who had appeared out of nowhere and launched a sneak attack on the Autranssy authorities.

Seeing this scene...

Everyone was stunned.

Wasn't that man John Doe?

Hadn't John Doe run away?

Why did he fall into the hands of the Autranssy authorities? And why did he seem to have been dead?

"Really?"

"John Doe is dead?!"

"That man has no breath at all. Obviously, he is dead."

"Would John Doe die so easily?"

“Who says no? There was no sound at all. How did this person die?”

All the major forces began to talk.

Everyone already believed that the man in black must be John Doe. However, according to the current situation, they started to doubt it.

How would John Doe die so easily?

Nearby...

When people from Murica saw this scene, their expressions instantly became embarrassed, especially Tony, whose face turned purple.

Just now, he wanted to assign someone out to find this man back.

But in a twinkling...

This man had become a corpse and fallen into the hands of the Autranssy authorities.

What the hell!

Next to Tony...

Little Saint Lord looked depressed.

Just now, he predicted that there might be something wrong. As it turned out, it indeed went wrong.

On the side of the Autranssy authorities...

Seeing that everyone gathered around and talked about it...

The Autransian official spokesman stood out and said, "Everyone, are you all curious? You all want to know what's going on, don't you?"

As he spoke...

He swept his gaze at the people from various forces present.

"Since everyone wants to know, I'll tell you."

The Autransian official spokesman walked to the corpse with a smile, squatted down, and said, "I don't know who it was just now, but a man in black suddenly appeared not far ahead of us. That man in black held this man in black in his hand. When he showed up, he directly threw this man in black over here."

"Where is he?"

Little Saint Lord immediately jumped out to ask.

"If I'm not mistaken, he is in this direction."

The Autransian official spokesman pointed in the direction where the man in black appeared.

Then...

Little Saint Lord immediately flew up and searched carefully in that direction, but found nothing.

At the scene...

The Autransssian official spokesman continued to tell everyone.

“Speaking of which, this man should be the one who rushed here and tried to snatch our remote detonator just now. His strength seemed to be good. Even Mason couldn’t gain the upper hand against him. But, how did this man die?

“I thought he was John Doe, but he doesn’t seem to be. John Doe won’t lose his life so easily.”

As he spoke...

The Autransssian official spokesperson turned the man over and took off his mask.

“Well, his appearance is quite like John Doe’s.”

Looking at this man’s appearance, the Autransssian official spokesman smiled.

Everyone took a look at the dead man.

It was indeed quite similar.

Even though they looked alike, everyone could tell at a glance that this man was not John Doe at all.

At this moment...

Everyone was confused.

They all shifted their gaze to Little Saint Lord of Nirvana.

Just now, Little Saint Lord had such an excited response. Was this man his subordinate?

But...

When they looked at Little Saint Lord.

They noticed that Little Saint Lord remained calm as if it had nothing to do with him.

In contrast, Tony, who was standing beside Little Saint Lord, had a gloomy look on his face.

Just then-

“Everyone, you haven’t seen this man before, have you? How could it be that no one knows such a person with powerful strength?”

As he spoke...

The Autransian official spokesman reached out, pinched the man’s entire facial skin, and then pulled it hard.

The human skin mask on the corpse’s face was torn off at once.

A face was revealed. It was very familiar to everyone present.

It was a Murican.

Everyone instantly turned to look at Murica’s group.

With a closer look, there was indeed one person missing in the camp of Murica, and the missing person was exactly the corpse in the hands of the Autranssy officials.

At this moment, the faces of the Murican turned extremely ugly to behold, and Tony's face darkened.

Chapter 1744 Everything Is Perfect

"If I'm not mistaken, this person is a Murican, right?"

People from the Autranssy authorities turned to look at everyone from Murica.

The way they looked at those Muricans was full of disdain.

"Do you need us to return the corpse to you?"

The Autranssian official spokesman waved his hand.

The two men next to him immediately stepped forward. They carried the body, walked toward the camp of Murica, and were about to return it.

"It seems that they don't need it."

Halfway, Mason stood out, glanced coldly at the people of Murica, and said, "You have to pay a little price for breaking into our territory."

As he spoke...

Mason waved his right hand, and an energy hammer instantly condensed in his hand. Then he suddenly swung the hammer.

Mason used the corpse like a ball and smashed it away with his energy hammer. Then, he rushed at Tony fiercely.

Tony waved his right hand.

A layer of blood-like energy spurted out of his palm and instantly wrapped around the coming corpse. Then the blood boiled.

In a very short time, the corpse was completely devoured by the blood and disappeared from everyone's sight.

"Humph!"

Taking back the blood-like energy, Tony snorted angrily and shouted, "John Doe, Murica is your sworn enemy. I must kill you once I get a chance!"

Hearing that...

People from various major forces at the scene looked calm on the surface, but in fact, they all sneered inwardly.

"Sworn enemy?"

"Is John Doe irreconcilable for you, or are you irreconcilable for John Doe?"

"You've already targeted him numerous times. How can you say that you're irreconcilable now?"

"Shame on Muricans."

"It's obvious that you failed to frame John Doe, but now you're abusing him angrily. You're really shameless!"

"I have to say that the idea of Murican is really good. They did lure John Doe out. Unfortunately, John Doe didn't buy it at all."

“Did Murican attempt to frame John Doe? Are they kidding?”

“You can’t even find traces of John Doe, who are you going to find to be your sworn enemy?”

Of course...

Even though all the major forces looked down on the Murican.

They knew that they could not make things difficult for Murica openly. Even the local official forces of Autranssy had no intention of getting even with Murica, so they just vented their anger on a corpse.

It was even more unworkable for them as outsiders.

After all...

The strength of Murica was very strong. In addition, Murica had already joined forces with Little Saint Lord of Nirvana. Once they got into a battle, they believed that Little Saint Lord would be very happy to help Murica. It was because Little Saint Lord had another purpose in addition to killing John Doe, which was to get the top-notch spiritual fruit.

Next to Tony...

After looking into the distance and still not finding any trace of John Doe, Little Saint Lord didn’t give up, and he immediately flew out to search in the direction where John Doe disappeared.

He was shocked inwardly.

It was just because of this shock that he was so anxious to catch up with John Doe and kill him as soon as possible.

Previously...

When John Doe appeared for the first time, killed one and left the other alive, Little Saint Lord doubted if John Doe had any technique that could completely hide his aura to escape Little Saint Lord's detection.

However, that incident did not alert Little Saint Lord much because the man who was killed was weak in terms of strength, and so was the other man who was knocked unconscious.

With John Doe's strength, it was a piece of cake for John Doe to deal with those two people.

But...

It was different this time.

The expert sent by Murica was at the SS level. He could fight neck and neck with the only SS-level expert in Autranssy, or even slightly suppress him.

Perhaps just for this reason, Murica didn't expect that John Doe would attack an SS-level expert in such a sensitive situation.

However, John Doe just did that.

And he did it quietly, not causing any noise.

How did he do it?

Little Saint Lord was very puzzled.

According to Tony, the longest distance that the Murican man who died could go out was five kilometers.

He could not be lured further away by John Doe, as he would definitely call for reinforcement once John Doe appeared.

Judging from this point...

It was very likely that the person had died somewhere five kilometers away from here.

At this thought...

Little Saint Lord got to the area five kilometers away from the Yuan Yang Fruit. He looked around carefully and immediately smelled blood in the air.

Following the smell of blood, he saw a pool of blood in the sand on the ground.

Besides...

The sand dunes nearby were in a mess due to the flow of energy. At a glance, it seemed that they had just gone through a fierce battle.

"Is this the battlefield?"

"How could it be?"

Little Saint Lord shook his head repeatedly and murmured inwardly, "No way. It can't be a battlefield here. This place is five kilometers away from the location where I was just now. If this were a battlefield, I would have detected what was happening here as was. It's impossible that I didn't feel anything at all."

Indeed...

Little Saint Lord had been detecting the surrounding situation.

However, since the beginning of Murica's plan was carried out, Little Saint Lord had sensed that the Heaven and Earth energy within ten kilometers was particularly quiet, without anything unusual.

Therefore...

He thought that this was absolutely not the scene of the battle.

However, everything in front of him told him that this was indeed the scene of the battle.

"How did you make it?"

Little Saint Lord narrowed his eyes, looked around, and murmured, "How on earth did you do it, John Doe?"

He didn't believe it.

He didn't believe that he couldn't perceive anything with his strength.

John Doe killed an SS-level super expert under Little Saint Lord's nose, but Little Saint Lord didn't feel it at all.

Such a situation shocked Little Saint Lord greatly.

Much to his surprise...

John Doe could have such great ability.

In this case, it would not be so easy for him to find John Doe if John Doe left this time.

Moreover...

After this time...

John Doe must be more vigilant and would never fall into a trap again.

This time, they misjudged.

Once again, Little Saint Lord flew up.

He searched around but still didn't find any trace of John Doe. Little Saint Lord had no choice but to turn around and went back.

After Little Saint Lord left...

Fang Qiu poked his head out of the sand.

Under the surveillance of his Divine Consciousness, Fang Qiu confirmed that Little Saint Lord indeed retraced his way. It was not until then that Fang Qiu showed up.

After he made his appearance...

Fang Qiu didn't hesitate at all.

He immediately hid in the darkness silently and left quickly.

Just now...

Fang Qiu had guessed that Little Saint Lord would definitely catch up with him. That was why he hid under the sand. If he ran away directly, Little Saint Lord would capture his track easily. So Fang Qiu decided to hide for the time being.

At the same time, he could also carefully observe the strength of Little Saint Lord.

According to his observation...

Fang Qiu found that...

Little Saint Lord's strength probably had reached the level of the Two-Flower Core Formation. With Fang Qiu's current strength, he could not fight against Little Saint Lord at all.

Hence, it was not appropriate to confront Little Saint Lord head-on for the time being. He'd better avoid Little Saint Lord for now.

Actually...

The problem that even Little Saint Lord couldn't figure out was very simple in the eyes of Fang Qiu.

First of all...

What Fang Qiu relied on most was the three moves of Ren.

Before Fang Qiu made his move...

Fang Qiu directly performed the Great Hand of Nihility and controlled the Heaven and Earth energy within ten kilometers.

As mentioned in the three moves of Ren, the Great Hand of Nihility not only controlled the Heaven and Earth energy but also a domain.

That was to say...

After Fang Qiu performed the Great Hand of Nihilism, the entire area within ten kilometers was under his control.

Before making a move...

Fang Qiu had planned it carefully.

The opponent consumed a lot of energy, so he should try his best to force the opponent to burst out all the remaining energy without fighting with him desperately when he attacked.

That was why Fang Qiu attacked and pursued the opponent wildly at the beginning and did not let him speak.

Only in this way, the opponent would feel that calling for help was feasible, and he would use his energy to call for help.

The opponent's energy was boiling and bursting.

Under the control of Fang Qiu, all of the energy was isolated and smoothed out.

Therefore...

Even if it was only five kilometers away, Little Saint Lord couldn't feel it at all because the Qi of Heaven and Earth in this domain was completely controlled by Fang Qiu. What Little Saint Lord could see was whatever sort of Qi of Heaven and Earth Fang Qiu desired for him to see.

In addition...

Fang Qiu built an isolation layer in his own domain according to the isolating method he saw when he built the space channel in Laozi Relic, directly isolating that Murican man from the outside world.

It was as if a short-term small-sized relic had been created.

Whatever the Murican man said inside, it was isolated and could not be spread out at all.

Fang Qiu even wrapped a layer of energy outside the area that could isolate sound waves to prevent any potential problems. Now it seemed that it was really unnecessary.

In other words...

All of this had been planned by Fang Qiu since the Murican came up with the dirty plan.

Everything was perfect.

There was no flaw at all.

Under cover of night, Fang Qiu returned to the town to rest.

The next day.

At noon.

The various major forces were still surrounding the area occupied by the Autranssy authorities.

But it was a little different this time.

In the daytime...

As the only powerful SS-level super expert in Autranssy, Mason left the camp in front of all the major forces.

When they saw Mason leave...

The ambition of people from the various major forces immediately began to surge. They came out one after another and were about to get close to the Yuan Yang Fruit.

Just then...

“Listen up.”

The official spokesman of Autranssy suddenly said, “If they dare to rush in, don’t hesitate and detonate the bombs immediately!”

Hearing that...

People from the various major forces immediately stopped.

They were dumbfounded.

They all knew that the remote detonator was not with Mason, but they had no idea who the detonator was on. Mason’s departure did not mean that they were safe.

With this in their minds, all the major forces had no choice but to retreat, for fear that the Autranssy authorities would really choose to perish together.

In the meanwhile...

As a super expert at the SS level, Mason went to a small town on the edge of the desert to purchase things in person, and he happened to go to the town where Fang Qiu was.

Chapter 1745 Explode the Military Truck!

“Eh?”

Worried about the Yuan Yang Fruit, Fang Qiu had been observing the situation in the desert with his Divine Consciousness.

Therefore...

At noon the next day, when Fang Qiu was having lunch, he distinctly sensed a particularly powerful and familiar energy aura, which was rushing toward the town from the depths of the desert.

“Mason?”

As Fang Qiu had fought with Mason before, as soon as Fang Qiu sensed this aura, he knew very well that the person on the way was Mason, the most powerful one and the only SS-level super expert in Autranssy.

“What is he doing here?”

“As soon as he left, no one in the Autranssy authorities could control the situation. Isn’t he afraid that people from the Autranssy authorities will be besieged by other forces?”

Fang Qiu was very curious.

Fang Qiu had completely disguised himself as a native, so he sat in a cafe and sensed Mason’s movements with his Divine Consciousness.

Soon...

Mason came to town.

After lunch, Fang Qiu just came out of the cafe and strolled on the street.

Mason looked different from when he was in the desert.

When he arrived at the town, Mason had completely turned into an ordinary man. With a wine pot in his hand, he looked like an alcoholic at first glance. He looked at the shops on both sides of the street while walking on the street. Soon, he brushed past Fang Qiu and walked into a convenience store.

Just then-

“Roar...”

A roar of the engine was heard.

Fang Qiu turned to look.

And he saw...

A military truck quickly drove into the town from another direction.

Hearing the roar of the engine.

Mason, who just entered the convenience store, immediately stuck his head out of the store and waved to the military truck. Then he continued to talk to the owner of the convenience store.

“Is he here to purchase supplies again?”

“Have they found a solution this time?”

Fang Qiu was puzzled inwardly.

Last time, the military trucks that came to purchase supplies were robbed by those foreign forces. All the supplies were divided up among the various forces, leaving nothing to the Autranssy authorities.

Now, why did the Autranssy authorities do this again?

Could it be that the Autranssy authorities were distressed by the destruction of the helicopter last time?

After all, the value of a military truck was nothing compared to that of a helicopter.

Fang Qiu knew that...

The Autranssian officials were not stupid. After all, they were officials of a country. Before they could find a solution to deal with the incident, they would not easily make a risky decision.

Then, what was the resolution of the Autranssy authorities?

In confusion...

Fang Qiu returned and walked straight to the military truck. Along the way, he looked steadily forward, just like a curious citizen, fixing his eyes on the military truck.

As it turned out...

When the military truck stopped at the door of the convenience store and Fang Qiu passed by it, Fang Qiu saw that there were bombs installed in the military truck.

Fang Qiu finally understood by then.

After being robbed by the various major forces last time, the Autranssy authorities were very angry. Now, they were going to take big revenge on the various major forces.

Fang Qiu laughed to himself.

In his opinion, those forces from all countries in the world would never have imagined that the Autranssy authorities would install bombs in the military truck.

This time, if they dared to rob this military truck again, a big drama would be on.

Before long...

People from the Autranssy authorities completed their purchase.

Mason climbed onto the roof of the car and sat down, and the others quickly carried the supplies into the car. Then, they drove the car toward the depths of the desert.

The town was a little far, so it was not until 4:00 p.m. that the military truck finally approached the area where the Yuan Yang Fruit was.

During the past few hours...

All the major forces were eyeing the Autranssy authorities covetously. However, they didn't know who had the remote detonator of the bombs that were buried all over under the ground, so they didn't dare to rush up or put too much pressure on the Autranssy authorities. They could do nothing but guard and observe who had the remote detonator.

However, a few hours had passed, and they found nothing.

Some people even thought that...

The remote detonator was probably returned to Mason and taken away by him.

They all believe that this idea was very likely.

However, no one dared to be certain of this.

What if the remote detonator was still here?

When these people were hesitant about whether to go up and force the Autranssy authorities to show the remote detonator...

“Roar, roar...”

The roar of the engine was heard from a distance.

People from the various major forces turned to look.

Over there...

A military truck was rushing over from a distance.

The one sitting on the roof of the truck was none other than Mason.

Seeing this scene...

People from the various major forces looked at each other.

Then...

They all grinned at the same time.

They had been holding back their anger for the whole afternoon. Now, they finally could vent it.

As for those who had the qualifications to come here...

They were all experts around the world. When they were alone or two or three teamed up, they might be afraid of Mason. However, with so many people gathered together, even if there were two Masons, it would be useless, not to mention Mason was alone.

People from the various major forces looked at each other and saw each other's intentions from their expressions.

They didn't bring supplies with them when they came to the desert.

When they were almost at their limits before, the Autranssy authorities sent them a big gift and provided them with supplies. Now, these supplies were almost used up. While it was true that metahumans could go without food or water for a few days without any problems, their bodies still needed them.

These foreign forces were different from Huaxia's forces. They had very little energy in their bodies, so it was difficult for them to maintain a perfect state for an extended period.

Therefore, they needed a large amount of water and food to maintain their physical condition.

If he wanted to snatch the top-notch spiritual fruit, they had to have some strength at least, right?

Before long...

The military truck approached a distance of one kilometer from the camp of the Autranssy authorities

People from the various forces couldn't help sneering. Then they immediately flew over from all directions and surrounded the military truck.

"I thought you had come up with solutions."

When the military truck was surrounded, Tony, the leader of Murica, stood out and sneered at Mason, who was sitting on the roof of the military truck that had been forced to stop. He said, "It turns out that you were assigned to escort military stores.

"Do you think you have the strength for this?"

As soon as Tony finished speaking...

People from various forces around burst into laughter.

"Do you want to rob our supplies again?"

Sitting on the roof of the truck, Mason narrowed his eyes and said, "Then don't blame me for being rude!"

"Ha-ha."

Tony laughed out loudly and glanced at Mason with disdain. Then he swept his gaze at the surrounding forces and said, "Everyone, he is the strongest person in Autranssy. With the existence of bombs, it is difficult for us to make a move against him. But now, he has come out on his own, inviting us to take action against him.

"In my opinion, today we should not only seize their supplies, but we can also unite and kill the only SS-level expert in Autranssy who is a threat to us on the spot!

“What do you think, everyone?”

Hearing that...

People from the various forces around immediately narrowed their eyes and stared at Mason.

Indeed...

Mason was really a headache for them.

If they could kill Mason, the only thing the Autranssy authorities could rely on was that bombing area.

Losing an SS-level expert was also a big blow to the Autranssy authorities.

In that case...

It would not be difficult to completely drive the Autranssy authorities out of this area.

Thinking of this...

They immediately stepped forward, ready to take action.

On the roof of the military truck...

When Mason heard these people’s voices, his face instantly turned ashen.

Although Mason was an SS-level expert, these people from various countries and forces could not be underestimated. The strongest among them was also at the SS level, especially Little Saint Lord of the Nirvana Organization, who was so powerful that he gave people an overwhelming feeling of oppression that could not be opposed.

Under such a situation, even a super expert at the SS level had nowhere to escape.

There was only one way.

That was fleeing!

“Swoosh.”

Without any hesitation, Mason moved and quickly rushed toward the area where the Autranssy authorities were located. As long as he reached that area, he would be safe.

For a super expert at the SS level, covering a distance of one kilometer would only take a few seconds.

Seeing Mason run away...

All the forces were going to pursue him.

When they were about to start chasing, Mason had already rushed out a hundred meters ahead. Even if they continued to chase, they could not catch up.

“Humph!”

“You’re quick on your feet.”

The leaders of the various forces complained.

“Ha-ha.”

Tony laughed and said, “Without the supplies of food and water, let me see how long you can hold on in this desert.”

After saying that, he immediately rushed forward and was about to snatch the supplies.

In the military truck...

Seeing this, the driver immediately jumped out of the driver’s seat and quickly ran to the side. After running for about a dozen meters, he lay down at once.

At the same time, he pressed the button of the remote detonator in his hand.

Instantly...

“Boom!!”

A loud explosion sounded suddenly.

The moment people from all the forces rushed to the side of the military truck, the bombs installed in the military truck exploded.

Enormous flames soared into the sky.

The terrifying explosive force blew up the sand on the surrounding ground all over the sky, which completely covered this area. A few people were too close to the military truck, so their faces were scratched across by the debris caused by the explosion of the military truck, leaving a gash of bloody wounds.

In this case, the faces of all people from the various forces turned particularly unpleasant.

No one had expected it.

The Autranssy authorities had installed bombs in their supply truck.

Were they going to blow them up?

Just then...

“Roar, roar...”

Another roar of the engine was heard.

In the meantime, another three military trucks drove over, swaggering.

The faces of the people from the various forces turned gloomy. They looked at each other and were going to snatch the supplies again. However, when they looked a closer look, they all gave up the idea in their minds.

It was because they saw that these trucks were all installed with bombs.

Without a doubt...

If they approached, all those bombs would be detonated in an instant.

They gritted their teeth in hatred.

As the three military trucks swaggered forward, people from all the forces had to hold back their anger and keep retreating.

Chapter 1746 Fang Qiu VS Little Saint Lord!

Under the circumstances...

The people of all forces did not dare to approach the military vehicle. As the military vehicles drive into the area claimed by the official side of Autranssy, they could only stand by and watch.

These people sent by the Autranssy authorities successfully met the military vehicles.

They beamed with pleasure.

This time, they did not suffer any losses. The military vehicle was blown up on a voluntary basis, so it didn't do much damage!

As the bait, Mason took a bottle of wine from the carriage of the military vehicle before him and drank it happily.

All the people sent by the Autranssy authorities disregarded these major forces. In their hearts, they couldn't help sneering at them.

In the eyes of these people...

As Autranssy natives, they were blessed with the natural advantage.

Not to mention one military vehicle, they could even blow up ten or twenty in Autranssy.

But...

These significant forces had no support.

These people standing here were all these forces had for this battle.

For the Atranssy authorities, blowing each one of them would be beneficial!

Therefore, the Atranssy authorities were not afraid at all!

Over there...

The faces of the people from the major forces turned livid.

They knew they had fallen into a trap set by the Atranssy authorities.

Fortunately, they didn't lose anyone this time. If they got closer and the people from Atranssy authorities placed more bombs, the result would be hard to guess.

It appeared that...

Their plan might not work. It was not easy to besiege the people from Atranssy authorities and force them to leave.

They would not dare to snatch any if more goods and materials were sent over. The power of this explosion was not destructive, but this blow might only be used to divert their attention. They could get fully prepared and rob these things. But what if the people from Atranssy authorities placed bombs two or even three times more powerful than last time?

To their dismay, this method was useless now!

"Damned!"

The Murica group's leader cursed furiously and turned to see Little Saint Lord beside him. He was curious how Little Saint Lord would react to the despicable act of the Autranssy authorities.

However...

When he turned his head, he found Little Saint Lord paid little attention to the Autranssian officials. Instead, he slightly swayed his head from side to side with his eyes closed. It looked as if he was sensing something.

Abruptly...

Little Saint Lord opened his eyes.

"Swoosh..."

Without any hesitation, Little Saint Lord zoomed off, leaving behind a string of shadows. He rushed in one direction and disappeared.

Tony was stunned!

By the time he came to his senses, it was too late to follow him.

"Did he find John Doe?"

In confusion...

Looking in the direction that Little Saint Lord disappeared, he shook his head and told his people to leave by waving his hand.

The other forces were in a fog.

They didn't know what Little Saint Lord had found. Why would he suddenly leave?

Looking in the direction that he vanished, they saw nothing.

...

Here...

"Swoosh, swoosh..."

The wind howled.

Little Saint Lord produced an electrifying burst of speed, moving in only one direction to chase John Doe.

He always believed that since John Doe came for the Yuan Yang Fruit, he would never give it up. When John Doe stopped guarding the fruit, the Autransian officials took over this job. Faintly, he felt John Doe must have been hiding nearby. Besides, John Doe would find a chance and come back!

Moreover, John Doe appeared twice in a row, ultimately confirming his guess.

The Murican who disguised as John Doe was killed.

Little Saint Lord had been thinking about how John Doe would sneak in again.

In the end...

He only thought of one possibility.

It was about the arrival of supplies that Autranssy authorities sent to the area by military vehicles or helicopters!

Hence...

Whenever the Autranssy authorities sent over the military vehicles, he wouldn't check these official staff or the military vehicles in the first place. Instead, he would mobilize all his strength to explore the surroundings thoroughly. He would even carefully watch every detail of the sand flows.

As a result, he discovered something unusual.

It was in this direction.

He had seen the sand flowing, but there was no such movement in other places. So, he had been focusing on this place to explore the situation.

While watching, he found someone walking out of the sand.

Because the person had just come out of the sand...

A trace of energy aura remaining on this person flashed past. It made him feel something wrong.

He got ready and darted out, vigorously pursuing the person!

He knew that...

This aura must belong to John Doe.

Only John Doe could hide his aura so well!

Sure enough...

Right after he made a move...

The energy aura swiftly changed its place and ran wildly into the distance. Obviously, the person also noticed him.

“How did he find me?”

Little Saint Lord was very confused.

In terms of hiding, no one could surpass John Doe. Even Little Saint Lord could only candidly acknowledge his inferiority in this ability.

But...

John Doe also showed an outstanding ability in detecting and perceiving energy. Facing a rival with such great perception and sense, Little Saint Lord had a sense of inadequacy.

This greatly surprised him. He had never imagined John Doe to be so powerful!

Yet...

While he was amazed by John Doe’s exceptional ability...

Finally, Little Saint Lord found something that gave him a little confidence: his speed.

John Doe was fast but was still a little slower than him. If he could maintain this speed, he could catch up with John Doe!

Ahead of him...

“How could he discover me?”

Fang Qiu looked surprised.

He had suppressed all his internal Qi and energy aura. How could he still be found?

“Perhaps, I was found at that time?”

Fang Qiu thought of the moment he had just come out of the sand.

After entering the sand, Fang Qiu had to keep a small amount of internal Qi around himself. It could resist the weight of sand on him and prevent it from pouring into his nose and mouth.

The trace of internal Qi was right next to him.

So, Fang Qiu could completely suppress this little aura of internal Qi.

But when he poked his head out of the sand...

He withdrew a little internal Qi around him. Subconsciously, he relaxed his control of this aura. Maybe at that time, a little trace of energy aura spread out.

Unexpectedly...

Little Saint Lord caught him sneaking around!

Fang Qiu exclaimed in shock.

Little Saint Lord appeared very young. But judging by the current situation, he couldn't be ordinary. After all, he managed to become Little Saint Lord of Nirvana Organization!

Before long...

Fang Qiu rushed out of the desert. However, instead of the town, he flew toward the Gobi Desert.

Flying high in the air, Fang Qiu kept removing the disguise on him and revealed John Doe's true features. He didn't want Little Saint Lord to see his disguised appearance. That would make Nirvana more wary of him in the future!

He arrived at the Gobi Desert.

At this time, Fang Qiu had taken off all the disguises on him and burned them down.

At this moment...

In hot pursuit of John Doe, Little Saint Lord finally saw his back.

"John Doe, you can't escape!"

Little Saint Lord stood behind John Doe, his steely eyes on his back.

He had been searching for John Doe for so long.

Eventually, he found John Doe!

Hearing him shouting, Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes, slowed down a little, and gradually stopped.

He turned around.

His eyes fixed on Little Saint Lord, who had been chasing after him relentlessly.

“Stop running?”

Seeing John Doe stop, Little Saint Lord said playfully, “I had thought the famous John Doe was a coward who could only hide and flee!”

“Well, you misjudged me.”

Fang Qiu smiled faintly and said, “I’m not the kind of person you said. I’m smart enough to choose the right time to escape and hide!”

After his words...

Little Saint Lord shook his head and sneered disdainfully, “If you had been smart enough, you wouldn’t have been found by me. Do you know you will soon die?”

As he said that...

Little Saint Lord suddenly activated his internal Qi, erupting a stream of overwhelming energy aura.

As the internal Qi in him burst out...

A touch of dazzling light flashed across his eyes simultaneously.

On closer inspection...

Two lotus flowers appeared in his eyes.

They were grayish-white lotus flowers emitting the horrifying aura of the dead!

Not merely in his eyes...

Fang Qiu also saw two lotus shadows condensed by his ashen energy under his feet when his internal Qi burst out.

The kind of energy looked very tranquil and absolutely harmless.

But...

The moment the energy appeared, the monstrous pressure it brought surged between heaven and earth. All the pressure crazily smashed down onto Fang Qiu.

In a split second...

Fang Qiu felt tremendous pressure bearing down on his heart with the weight of Mount Taishan.

The moment the pressure emerged...

Fang Qiu didn't dare to hesitate and immediately activated the golden energy in his body.

The golden shadow of a lotus flower instantly appeared at his feet.

The mighty Qi power at the Flower Core Formation Realm surged out and clashed with the pressure given by his rival!

"Interesting."

Little Saint Lord squinted at Fang Qiu, saying, "I didn't expect you to approach the Two-Flower Core Formation. As expected, we mustn't spare your life!"

His voice faded.

He didn't give John Doe any chance to react.

"Swoosh..."

He got ready to attack. Like a meteor, he fiercely charged at Fang Qiu, carrying considerable momentum. He moved at the speed of light as if he could even slice the space.

Over here...

"Hiss..."

Fang Qiu took a deep breath and adopted a fighting pose. In an instant, he reached a startling speed to confront his rival.

They watched from afar.

Like two fast-moving comets...

They collided head-on as fast as two flashes of lightning.

"Boom..."

Right after the crash, a wave of monstrous energy Qi rushed wildly in all directions like a tsunami.

Under the impact of this vigorous energy Qi...

The surrounding sandstones were instantly ground into sand, whirling all over the sky. From a distance, it looked as if a dense fog were rising.

The next second...

“Clap!”

A crispy sound was heard.

The two streams of energy crashed and canceled out each other. Only then did their palms knock against each other!

Chapter 1747 Cut Off Your Head With One Saber Strike

“Crack!”

With a loud crashing noise...

As their palms cannoned into another, great force exploded from Little Saint Lord’s hand. It slashed against John Doe like a raging torrent.

The next moment...

Under the impact of this enormous force, Fang Qiu was instantly knocked back.

This blast of force was overwhelming!

Fang Qiu could feel this force was at least 30% or even 50% stronger than his, though he had undergone recultivation.

The gap between them was excessively huge.

Fang Qiu was not injured, but the collision alone made his Qi and blood surge.

However...

Little Saint Lord didn't give him any breathing space.

"Die."

As the cold shout came, Little Saint Lord posed for attack and darted out before John Doe again. With a wave of his right hand, a stream of grayish-white energy suddenly surged and surrounded his arm. While waving his palm, he patted John Doe on the chest with the smell of death.

"Great Hand of Destruction!"

Fang Qiu no longer dared to hesitate and waved his right hand.

The surrounding Qi of Heaven and Earth immediately gushed over. Along with it, Fang Qiu's palm bumped into Little Saint Lord's head-on.

Strangely...

Little Saint Lord failed to beat Fang Qiu back through this collision.

"Gee?"

Little Saint Lord froze.

He didn't expect John Doe to ward off this blow.

Then, with a closer look, he found John Doe fighting against him with the Qi of Heaven and Earth.

"Humph."

As soon as he realized this, Little Saint Lord immediately snorted and said, "You should be killed for playing tricks!"

After that...

Another blast of energy Qi gushed out of his palm and fiercely hit John Doe, instantly sending him flying far away.

"Sure enough, I'm no match for a man with such power."

Fang Qiu let out a long breath.

He was well aware that...

With his current strength, he could never defeat Little Saint Lord.

Therefore, Fang Qiu had no intention of revealing his trump card. At most, he could use his Great Hand of Destruction.

Well...

Though Little Saint Lord possessed overbearing power, his speed and combat experience were much weaker than Fang Qiu had guessed.

In other words, Little Saint Lord could hold him down only in terms of strength and realm.

Even so, Fang Qiu could react fast enough during the fight to fend off his attacks. This way, he ensured that he could stay alive.

And just now...

Fang Qiu had tried it.

He could confront him head-on with his Great Hand of Destruction.

Even if his rival could further uplevel his strength, Fang Qiu could gather more Qi of Heaven and Earth to fight against him!

“Phew...”

He let out a long breath.

Secretly, Fang Qiu began absorbing and controlling the surrounding Qi of Heaven and Earth with his Great Hand of Destruction.

In fact, Fang Qiu could have used the Great Hand of Nihility to fight with him. However, he knew he was no match for him. Thus, there was no need for Fang Qiu to show more skills.

After all, this move was his trump card!

“You’re using the Qi of Heaven and Earth again. You seem very fond of utilizing external force.”

When Fang Qiu quickly summoned the surging Qi of Heaven and Earth over from all directions, Little Saint Lord discovered this in the first place. He immediately sneered and said, “The Qi of Heaven and Earth is not aggressive at all. At most, it can generate resistance like the air.”

“Do you naively believe you can stop me only by the Qi of Heaven and Earth?”

As he spoke...

Little Saint Lord waved his right hand.

Circles of grayish-white energy immediately surrounded him like swimming dragons, rushing fast to his right hand. Finally, it turned into a Horse-chopping Saber above his right hand!

The Horse-chopping Saber was transformed by energy. As soon as it took shape, a burst of sharp aura showed up. At this very moment, the surrounding Qi of Heaven and Earth began to surge abnormally. It did not dare to flow in that direction as if it had been daunted by something horrifying.

“With one slash, I’ll behead you!”

Little Saint Lord gave a deep cry.

Grasping the Horse-chopping Saber, he waved his right hand and raised it high.

A bright ray of light immediately shot out from the blade.

At a glance...

It was like a viper thrusting out its head to hunt.

Here...

Fang Qiu squeezed his right hand.

The fragments of the divine sword immediately appeared in the void and flew over from all sides. They gathered together piece by piece. At last, it condensed into a one-meter-long sword.

The moment the divine sword was formed...

Fang Qiu immediately activated his internal Qi and injected it into the sword.

He knew that...

This blow of Little Saint Lord was no joking matter, so he had to use his internal Qi.

The golden internal Qi was injected.

At once, golden radiance burst out from the blade of the divine sword.

As the golden light rose abruptly...

Rays of swift and fierce Sword Intent burst out from Fang Qiu, filling the void around. These rays of Sword Intent even turned into material objects, looking like real swords of energy. They whistled wildly between heaven and earth around Fang Qi.

Deafening sounds breaking through the air kept ringing in his ears.

They watched from afar.

They seemed to have divided the whole world into two parts.

Rays of saber light shot up, giving off terrifying and enormous pressure with irresistible momentum. They pressed down on everything in this space and paralyzed them all.

On the other side...

Thousands of long swords roared past.

The Qi of Heaven and Earth surged wildly, rolling between heaven and earth with full force. The scene looked particularly turbulent.

“God Slaying Slash!”

With disdain, Little Saint Lord looked at John Doe opposite him. When he gathered enough energy, he suddenly slashed at John Doe with Horse-chopping Saber.

Horse-chopping Saber was small. But as it went down, its flickering radiance shot out instantly. Like a full moon, it thrust toward Fang Qiu with a stream of unstoppable Qi power.

Over here...

“Great Hand of Destruction-Forming a Sword.”

All the Qi of Heaven and Earth drawn from all directions was forcibly poured into the divine sword. While Little Saint Lord brandished his saber and brought it down, Fang Qiu suddenly raised his right hand.

When the divine sword launched its attack...

Huge beams of sword Qi with energy came out of the sword, rushing toward the saber radiance coming at Fang Qiu.

The next moment...

“Boom!”

The moment the saber radiance and the sword Qi collided, the whole world turned brilliantly, blindingly bright.

The sounds of stones breaking spread across the Gobi Desert.

After some time...

The dazzling white light gradually faded.

Around them, layers of surging energy Qi darted out in all directions like sea waves. They flattened every place it passed, leaving nothing behind.

At the scene...

On closer inspection...

He was none other than Little Saint Lord of Nirvana Organization!

At this time, the Horse-chopping Saber in his hand had disappeared.

Instead, he had a confident smile on his face.

In his opinion...

Before John Doe broke through to the Two-Flower Core Formation, he could never bear that strike. It was absolutely impossible for him to survive.

Besides...

When the energy waves collided, he could feel the changing process. With the energy Qi he erupted, John Doe fought stubbornly and vigorously for a while. But even so, the energy Qi was destroyed by his saber light. Then, all the remaining energy crashed down on John Doe.

Under that tremendous impact, John Doe would die for sure!

“John Doe, ho-ho...”

Little Saint Lord looked up ahead.

There, he saw that...

A wave of energy fluctuation blew the figure far, far away.

At this time...

As the figure flew backward, a blood haze covered the sky.

That figure was pushed back into the distance and was going to fall.

Little Saint Lord had to make sure that John Doe had died. Immediately, he flew up to confirm John Doe's death.

However...

Just as he was about to move...

The figure fell from the sky. When it was less than ten centimeters from the ground, the figure abruptly turned around and slammed his right hand on the ground. With a swoosh, he rushed wildly into the distance at breakneck speed like a bullet.

Seeing this, Little Saint Lord was stunned at first.

In a flash, his expression changed.

Against all his expectations, John Doe was still alive.

It was okay that he was not killed.

But how could he run away so fast?

What the hell had happened?

He was sure he could kill John Doe with that strike, but what was going on before him?

How could John Doe withstand such an attack?

He was vomiting blood and on the verge of death. How could he still have the strength to escape?

“Stop right there!”

Little Saint Lord exploded with rage.

With a roar, he instantly chased after him.

In any case, he would never let John Doe escape.

If he failed this time, he might never get such a chance again!

Besides...

He had more things to do. Now was the best time to get rid of John Doe forever!

“Swoosh...”

Fang Qiu moved in a flash.

Little Saint Lord instantly raised his speed to the extreme and tried to catch up with John Doe.

However, he found John Doe was not slow and even faster.

This scene immediately stunned him.

Much to his surprise...

“John Doe could burst out with such astonishing speed.

“Then, how would I keep up with John Doe a moment ago?

“Did he do it on purpose?”

With this thought...

A surge of anger immediately rose in Little Saint Lord’s heart. Afterward, he pressed on to hotly pursue John Doe.

But after he ran after John Doe for a long time...

He still couldn't catch up with John Doe.

Knowing he was going to lose this opportunity, Little Saint Lord had to stop.

"John Doe?"

Gazing at his distant receding figure, Little Saint Lord took a deep breath. Gritting his teeth with hatred, he said, "You are indeed not simple. As an outstanding talent of the younger generation in Huaxia, you're even slightly stronger than Qingyun!"

Ahead of him...

Fang Qiu covered his chest with one hand and forced himself to get his breath back.

With his Divine Consciousness, he surveyed the situation behind him.

Realizing that Little Saint Lord did not chase after him, he felt a little relieved.

"Sure enough, his strength is impressive."

Thinking of the fierce battle with Little Saint Lord just now, Fang Qiu secretly breathed a long sigh of relief.

It was true that...

His rival appeared slightly stronger in strength because Fang Qiu wanted to give him the impression of weakness. His purpose was to sound out Little Saint Lord's real strength.

“Getting the Yuan Yang Fruit is indeed a tough mission!”

Fang Qiu nodded inwardly and murmured, “It appears that I have to find a way to reach the Two-Flower Core Formation first. If I gain the Yuan Yang Fruit this time, the old master will meet me, won’t he?”

Chapter 1748 Change My Mind State First

“Ew...”

As Fang Qiu flashed past quickly, the sweet taste of blood in his throat made him want to vomit. When a mouthful of blood gushed up, he forcibly swallowed it.

Although the battle just now was not fierce...

Fang Qiu suffered some injuries.

Well...

Little Saint Lord was overly confident in his strength.

That saber strike could be very destructive. Fang Qiu might have been wounded if he bore it head-on without relying on the Qi of Heaven and Earth. However, under the impact of the Qi of Heaven and Earth, the power of the saber strike was reduced by one-third. In addition, the sword Qi erupting from Fang Qiu offset more than half of the power. Not much impact force was left when the saber strike finally landed on Fang Qiu.

Fang Qiu was injured, but it was just an accident.

Before the saber strike, Fang Qiu had sensed his opponent’s strength. That was why he was confident that he could take the blow.

Because of this, Fang Qiu had enough confidence to handle the situation. As a result, he underestimated his rival's attack power. The remaining rays of saber hit and hurt him.

While scudding across the sky, Fang Qiu followed Little Saint Lord with his Divine Consciousness.

At last, Little Saint Lord disappeared from the detecting range of his Divine Consciousness. Only then did he put his heart at rest.

"According to the combat capability he had shown, Little Saint Lord should have achieved the Two-Flower Core Formation. I can't defeat him with my current strength. Though I hid my strong points, Little Saint Lord didn't exert all his strength either. I might have suffered greatly even with all my skills if he had put up a desperate fight."

"After all, there is a gap between us in strength and realms!"

Fang Qiu shook his head with a wry smile.

In the past, he could fight against those above his level.

But as his strength improved, Fang Qiu found it increasingly difficult to deal with more powerful rivals. After all, the strength of his opponents also became stronger. This rival reaching the Flower Core Formation Realm was exceptionally powerful. Only a few people in the world could do that. Those who could achieve the Flower Core Formation were never ordinary.

No matter how talented he was, there wouldn't be a huge gap between him and his top-level opponents.

After all, others also had spent a great deal of effort to get this far.

"I should find a place to rest first and see if I can find an opportunity to make a breakthrough!"

He nodded to himself.

Fang Qiu looked around.

He found he had arrived at a forest connected to the Gobi Desert.

The terrain here was very strange.

One side was the desolate and uninhabited Gobi Desert, while the other side was a forest zone covered with green grass and trees. Even the soil on the two sides was different in color. One side's soil was yellow, while the other's was red.

After a casual glance...

Fang Qiu was not in the mood to enjoy the scenery.

Instead, he went straight into the woods.

"This region in the north. It couldn't be far from the coastline."

Fang Qiu entered the woods.

He continued to fly fast all the way.

This time...

He would stay far away from the desert, so he wouldn't even return to the small town.

The best option for him now was to stay far away from the desert and go further away. Only then could he relax and search for a chance to make a breakthrough.

Fang Qiu had calculated it.

There were still eight days before the Yuan Yang Fruit ripened.

He still had time.

If he wanted to make a breakthrough during this period, he had to change his state of mind. He had to separate himself from martial arts and the competition for the Yuan Yang Fruit. All his attention should be focused on improving his realm. He had to abandon everything else to achieve something big in time!

He went on flying for an unknown period.

Finally, the sounds of sea waves came to Fang Qiu.

Fang Qiu rushed out of the forest.

At last, he saw the coastline.

It was a particularly remote coastline in the north. There were no high mountains but only a pure natural beach.

“Phew...”

He stopped by the sea.

Fang Qiu looked around, taking out some small ornaments from the pockets of his coat and trousers. Soon, he disguised himself as a native.

At this time...

Nirvana Organization and Murica must be looking for him everywhere.

In this case...

Fang Qiu couldn't expose his whereabouts. Otherwise, he would attract Nirvana Organization members here. Then, his plan to rest and make a breakthrough with this chance would fail!

Therefore, he had to disguise himself.

Fang Qiu had bought these materials to disguise when he first went to the town on the edge of the desert.

After all of this was done...

Fang Qiu immediately jumped up and flew toward the sea.

Autranssy was a vast inland country, yet many small sea islands were around it.

Therefore...

He had to leave to stay entirely away from the disputes in Autranssy.

Anyway, this place was not far from the desert, and he had plenty of time. There wouldn't be any problems as long as he returned in time.

Sure enough...

Not long after he went to sea, Fang Qiu saw an island.

This island was huge. It looked different from uninhabited islands. Flying in the air, Fang Qiu could see the traces of people living on the island.

With curiosity, Fang Qiu immediately approached the island.

On his way to it...

“Hee! Ha... &!@&#...”

A series of strange sounds suddenly reached Fang Qiu’s ears.

Fang Qiu looked in the direction of the voices.

Over there...

At the top of the island, a group of people gathered on a small grassland. But his view was blocked when he looked from the side.

With a closer look...

These people were all wearing leaves and bark connected by vines, each holding a polished wooden stick. They looked like natives of this island and didn’t seem to have been completely civilized.

Fang Qiu casually hid himself to observe everything before him.

As he looked over...

He found that...

This group of people surrounded a child placed on a stone in the middle of the flat ground. The leader, flatly raising a big black stick with both hands, danced freakily around the child. While dancing, he kept making all kinds of strange sounds.

The other three people stood in three different directions and formed an inner circle with the man carrying a big black stick. Together, they were dancing and humming.

Outside ...

A crowd guarded around, watching everything with shuddering awe.

Obviously...

The scene showed that...

The child must have been sick. Like practicing witchcraft, these people held a tribal ceremony, praying for a blessing to keep the child safe.

Fang Qiu carefully mobilized his Divine Consciousness to explore around.

He found that...

The child was indeed sick. He kept crying, screaming, and coughing. His little face was flushed!

Fang Qiu couldn't bear to see this.

Instantly, he flew over and descended from the sky.

On the island...

The group of people holding the ceremony around the child were all dumbfounded when seeing someone falling from the sky. In particular, the four people humming and dancing were stunned and instantly stopped. With a look of shock, they stared at the person falling off the sky, too scared to move.

Nearby...

After putting on makeup, Fang Qiu looked like a changed person. He landed next to the crying child. Sitting cross-legged, he stretched out his hands and helped the child up. Gently, he pressed the child's back with his right hand and began treating him.

He injected his internal Qi into the child.

As the internal Qi entered the patient...

The child's cries slowly stilled.

Afterward...

During the treatment, Fang Qi gradually steadied the child and calmed him down. In the end, the child fell into a deep and quiet sleep.

When the local natives around them saw this scene...

They suddenly widened their eyes in surprise. No one dared to disturb Fang Qiu, so they just watched from a distance.

Shortly after...

The child's illness was completely cured.

Fang Qiu gently put the child on the ground and stood up.

At this time...

All the people around knelt together. Raising their hands above their heads, they kept bowing to Fang Qiu.

They looked as devout as if they were worshipping a Heavenly God!

Their eyes on Fang Qiu were full of admiration.

Fang Qiu saw this.

But since he couldn't understand the native language, he knew he couldn't communicate with them. Therefore, he could only wave his hand and flash aside, flying straight into the nearby jungle. In no time, he disappeared before the group of people.

These people immediately knelt on the ground and kept kowtowing.

Upon entering the jungle, Fang Qiu quickly searched for all kinds of tools in the jungle and disguised himself as a native.

He smeared many brown things on his body, turning his skin dark brown.

From his appearance...

There was no discernible difference between him and those natives on the island.

After he did the makeup...

Fang Qiu found a branch and burned it into a stick by the flames transformed from his internal Qi. Then, he walked out again.

The whole process only lasted for a very short time.

When Fang Qiu stepped out of the jungle...

These original inhabitants were still kowtowing.

They heard the footsteps.

The group of natives raised their heads and saw Fang Qiu walking out of the jungle — he had disguised himself as one native.

This time...

These natives were even more shocked!

They knew no one else was on the island except them.

The only one who had ever entered the forest...

It was the Heavenly God who descended from the sky and saved the child!

Without any hesitation...

The group of people immediately worshipped him on bended knees and kowtowed.

After kowtowing several times, the leader with the big black stick stood up and ran to Fang Qiu joyfully.

“&%&$%...”

He said a pile of words, but Fang Qiu had no idea what he was talking about.

But...

Since he couldn't understand it...

Fang Qiu could only remain silent and put on an unfathomable look.

But next to him...

As the leader spoke, he suddenly lifted the big black stick and handed it to Fang Qiu. It looked as if he was going to offer it to Fang Qiu.

In this situation...

Fang Qiu wanted to refuse.

However, on second thought, he was already here, and this big black wooden stick seemingly symbolized power and status. Immediately, he accepted it and put the newly made black wooden stick in the native leader's hand!

His response provoked an uproar.

Getting the black wooden stick handed over by Fang Qiu, the leader of the natives suddenly knelt and shouted with great excitement. Then he stood up and jumped up and down!

Chapter 1749 The Heavenly God Saved You

Obviously...

The native leader was ravished with joy — he regarded the wooden stick from Fang Qiu as a reward from the Heavenly God.

At the sight of this...

Fang Qiu didn't show any expression on his face.

However, he smiled bitterly in his heart.

He had a feeling that he was fated to meet savages.

He had liberated a savage tribe in Egyptt. When he came to Autranssy, he met another native tribe possessing this island.

The key was...

All the people in this native tribe regarded him as a Heavenly God.

Fang Qiu couldn't get used to being worshipped by a group of strangers.

Well...

Since things had come to this point, he would let fate take its course.

Holding the big black stick, Fang Qiu walked along the road.

As he moved forward...

Behind him, the group of natives, led by their leader, suddenly ran up and followed Fang Qiu.

The native leader hurriedly ran to Fang Qiu, pointing to the path and saying something.

Fang Qiu was very distressed.

He was eager to know what this leader was talking about but couldn't understand a single word he said.

However, there was one thing that Fang Qiu was sure of.

The people on this island used a local language.

Autranssy's official language was Anglanish. But since these people were natives of this island, they must speak their own language.

It was normal that he didn't understand this language.

Since they had no common language, the locals began to make all kinds of gestures.

Fang Qiu could only listen carefully while trying to figure out the meaning of their gestures. With this, he could analyze and learn the language of these local people.

For others...

Without any prior knowledge, it would be a particularly difficult learning method. But what Fang Qiu needed now was to try to understand what these people were saying. Whether he could say it was not important.

They went forward.

Soon, they arrived at the beach at the edge of the island.

In the distance...

Waves kept rolling and rushing over.

On closer inspection...

Fang Qiu saw a person surfing in the sea.

But...

These mountainous waves were not suitable for surfing, but the person energetically rushed straight into the waves.

The waves only rose for a short period.

Soon, they smashed down on the sea surface.

This scene looked horrifying.

Aside...

The natives immediately pointed forward and shouted.

Fang Qiu walked in the front.

Seeing this, he rushed wildly into the sea and plunged into the water. Quickly, he swam toward the surfer who was slammed into the sea by the waves.

Because he had coated himself with brown vegetable oil, Fang Qiu controlled his internal Qi and isolated his skin from the seawater. This way, he could prevent the seawater from washing the vegetable oil away.

After all, he had spent some time making this brownish-black skin. It would be wasted if it was washed away after he entered the water.

As these natives saw Fang Qiu dive into the sea...

Their expressions changed drastically. At once, they howled with fear.

They had lived on the island for a long time. They feared the sea since they knew very well how destructive it could be. To be exact, they were afraid of the sea waves instead of the sea.

Under such a situation...

They didn't dare to go into the water because the waves were enormous. They feared something terrible would happen to them in the sea.

Therefore...

Seeing Fang Qiu dive into the water, they all became nervous. They kept waving and shouting to warn him.

But before their shouts died away...

They saw that...

Fang Qiu's head emerged above the surface of the water.

He appeared where the waves had just washed over. Holding a person by the head, he swam over with astonishing speed.

Not long after, he swam to the coast.

Fang Qiu picked the person up and walked to the shore, step by step.

These natives saw Fang Qiu coming back.

Right away, they shouted excitedly and ran fast to Fang Qiu. Then, they surrounded Fang Qiu and walked back to the beach.

After that...

Fang Qiu put him down on the beach and briefly examined him. After ensuring the person was fine, he gently patted his face and waited for him to wake up.

Soon...

"Puff..."

The surfer suddenly opened his mouth and spat out a mouthful of seawater. Slowly, he opened his eyes and woke up from a coma.

The moment the surfer regained consciousness...

He saw a group of natives surrounding him. Immediately, he breathed a sigh of relief.

Then...

He propped up his upper body and shook his head. Eyes on the native leader, he said something.

Fang Qiu heard the surfer speak.

His expression changed.

Could this guy speak this tribe's native language?

Wasn't this the language of the island's natives?

Judging from his figure and clothes, this person coming here to surf must be from a big city. How could he understand the local language?

Here...

Though Fang Qiu couldn't understand their language...

This surfer had begun communicating with the island's native leader.

"Did you save me?"

The surfer asked.

"No."

The native leader shook his head, and so did all the other natives. Then, they turned around and pointed to Fang Qiu. The leader said, "No. We won't get into the water if we can't guarantee our safety. Our Heavenly God saved you. Here, this Heavenly God got you out of the water!"

“Heavenly God?”

Hearing the native people’s words, the surfer was startled.

“Heavenly God? Seriously?”

“How could there be a Heavenly God here?”

He looked toward the group of people before him in confusion.

Afterward...

Under their guidance, he turned around and saw Fang Qiu.

This group of indigenous people regarded Fang Qiu as a Heavenly God. When the surfer learned about this, he couldn’t help laughing out loud.

“What a bunch of superstitious people.”

The surfer smiled and exclaimed in Anglanish. Afterward, he explained to all the natives in the local language, “He is just an ordinary person, not a Heavenly God. There is no Heavenly God in this world. Mankind is the dominator of the world!”

“No, he is.”

The native leader immediately shook his head and said, “We saw it with our own eyes. He flew down from the sky and cured our child. Also, he went into the water and saved you!”

“Coming down from the sky?”

The surfer turned to see Fang Qiu and said, "He doesn't have wings. How can he fly down from the sky? In this world, only beings with wings can fly in the sky. No human can do that."

"But we saw him flying. Everyone saw it."

The leader of the natives continued. As he spoke, he pointed to all the natives around him and said, "Each of us saw him fly down from the sky and cure our child. He is the Heavenly God!"

The surfer took a look at the scene.

This group of natives behaved like some people possessed.

Immediately, he gave a wry smile. Turning his head, he said to Fang Qiu in the local native language, "Don't play tricks. Who the hell are you? Where are you from? How could you fool these people?"

However...

Fang Qiu ignored him.

The surfer realized that this so-called Heavenly God didn't seem to understand what he was saying.

With a frown, he repeated it in Autransian Anglanish.

This time...

Fang Qiu finally understood what he said.

Well...

He didn't intend to answer.

Since he had pretended to be a native, he had to do it thoroughly. It would be boring if he were exposed at the very start.

An idea came to his mind.

Fang Qiu stepped forward.

Just now, when the man was in a coma, Fang Qiu gave him a simple physical examination, only to find something wrong with him. But he didn't check him thoroughly. Knowing the man was not in danger, he didn't do a detailed examination. But now, it seemed he could use this issue.

Walking to the surfer, Fang Qiu still pretended not to understand his words. Yet, he bluntly grabbed the surfer's hand and secretly checked his body.

Then...

He stretched out his hand and pointed at the surfer's lung, smiling mysteriously.

The surfer saw his action.

His expression changed drastically.

He understood what the so-called Heavenly God meant. No one else here but him knew he had lung cancer. The focus of infection was precisely in the place the Heavenly God pointed to!

Just because of that...

He had seen through everything and came to surf in such a remote place. It was because he liked surfing and the waves around the island were giant.

Because he often came here to surf, he gradually learned some knowledge of the native language and could make simple conversations with the natives.

Unexpectedly...

This time, the aborigines in brown and black pointed out his illness.

Could it be that he was really that amazing?

Of course...

He still didn't believe this person was a Heavenly God. In his opinion, this person was merely a human with some special skills. He was nothing in common with the Heavenly God.

There was no god in this world!

"My illness, do know it?"

In disbelief, he looked at Fang Qiu and asked in Autransian Anglanish that he was best at.

Fang Qiu understood his words but made no reply.

"You can treat me. Can you cure my illness?"

The surfer asked again.

He spoke two languages.

Fang Qiu heard his question.

But he didn't answer. Instead, he walked aside and picked up the big black stick from the native leader. Then, he turned back.

Facing the surfer full of expectation, Fang Qiu cracked a smile, revealing a mouthful of white teeth.

Then...

He waved his right hand violently.

"Pow!"

With a wave of his right hand, he hit the surfer's head with the big black wooden stick. The considerable force knocked the surfer out in an instant.

The natives witnessed this.

They immediately widened their eyes, looking at Fang Qiu in confusion. They didn't have a clue why Fang Qiu did this.

However, they did not dare to ask or disturb him.

Under their gazes...

Fang Qiu carried him on his shoulders and quickly left the beach. Coming to a grassland, he placed him flat on the ground.

Then, he began to conduct a detailed examination.

Chapter 1750 That's All? Was He Cured?

After the check-up...

Fang Qiu found this person did have lung cancer, middle-stage lung cancer.

It was not too difficult to cure him now.

The examination was over.

Fang Qiu immediately began to heal the patient.

He pressed his hands down on the patient's lungs and quickly poured his internal Qi into him.

Since all the internal Qi in him became golden, his golden internal Qi could produce more powerful effects in treating various illnesses.

Right after the golden internal Qi entered the patient...

Controlling his internal Qi, Fang Qiu drove it to his lung lesions and removed all the damaged parts. Then another flow of internal Qi tunneled into the patient's blood vessels and meridians, driving out the remaining cancer cells. In the end, these harmful substances were compacted into a ball.

The golden internal Qi enveloped these tumors and cancer cells and consumed them all, not leaving a little bit!

After all of this was done...

Fang Qiu heaved a sigh of relief and stood up.

He gestured to the natives, telling them to guard this person. When this person woke up, they could tell him he had recovered.

After his words...

By gesturing toward them, he meant he would walk around the island.

After that, he turned around and left.

In the center of the circle...

The native leader understood Fang Qiu. He wanted to follow Fang Qiu to inspect the whole island, but Fang Qiu rejected him. Thus, he could only stay with the others, waiting for the surfer to wake up.

Five minutes passed after Fang Qiu left.

The surfer finally woke up from his coma.

“Ah...”

As soon as he woke up, he reached out and painfully covered the back of his head. In pain, he moaned and straightened up. Looking around, he saw these indigenous people were still around him. Then he turned his head again to look for Fang Qiu.

He was in a towering rage.

He wanted to ask why Fang Qiu hit him!

“Where is he?”

After looking around, he didn't see Fang Qiu. The surfer immediately asked, "Where is the Heavenly God you just mentioned? Where did he go? Why would he attack me?"

"I told you he was not a Heavenly God but a liar. Don't you believe me?"

"See? He ran away after knocking me unconscious!"

"Now, don't tell me you still don't think he is a liar?"

Of course...

He said those words in the local language.

Therefore, all the natives understood his words. But everyone looked at him strangely. After all, these people saw their Heavenly God cure him. How could he say those disrespectful words?

"You misunderstood him."

The local leader looked at the surfer with a serious face and said, "Our Heavenly God saved you. Before you woke up, he had cured your illness. He asked us to guard here and tell you the news of your recovery. Besides, he didn't run away but is on patrol!"

The man who had been surfing heard the explanation.

Immediately, he sneered disdainfully and said, "He was obviously afraid. Listen, I have an incurable disease. This illness is usually terminal. How could he cure me? He was lying to you, trying to win your trust."

As he spoke, the surfer stood up and carefully checked himself. He found his arms and legs were fine, and no more wounds were on his body. Finally, he felt a little relieved.

“You mustn’t slander our Heavenly God.”

The indigenous leader glared at the surfer and said, “We saw Heavenly God cure you with the same method he healed our child. Since Heavenly God descended into the world, we have been following him. We have seen everything he did with our own eyes. So, we will never allow you to slander Heavenly God. If you hold on to your misguided idea, we will not welcome you to our island. Please leave!”

The surfer heard the warning.

He suddenly became speechless.

“Damn it!”

He cursed in Anglanish, “Feudal superstition activities can kill people. How could these people believe in the existence of Heavenly God? And they stay true to this belief. They’re being so irrational.”

At this time...

The sound of a siren came from the sea.

The surfer turned to look.

It happened that his companion came here to pick him up.

“I don’t want to talk nonsense with you. Heavenly God? Enough bullshit. It’s all fake.”

With a bellow of rage, the surfer went straight to the coast. Quickly, he boarded the ship driven by his companion and left.

On the way out...

He couldn't help but feel a little confused.

These aboriginals were very feudal and superstitious. But they must have witnessed something magical. Otherwise, they would never be so friendly to an outsider, not to mention having such a deep faith in him.

It meant...

That so-called Heavenly God should have some smart tricks up his sleeve.

He thought back on the whole matter.

That Heavenly God seemed to be able to tell his illness with a single glance.

But no one could tell if someone had lung cancer just by looking at him.

How did that person see it?

Did he have some special abilities?"

With doubts in his heart...

The surfer returned to the city where he usually lived by boat.

Because of the trace of expectation in his heart, he went to the hospital for a detailed examination upon returning to the city.

Eventually...

When he received the report, his expression drastically changed.

According to the report, he was entirely healthy. There was nothing wrong with him.

He even thought that the hospital's examination was wrong. On the spot, he asked for a re-examination. In addition, he emphasized that the hospital must examine his lung with the most advanced high-tech means!

When the result came out, he saw again that he had fully covered. There was nothing wrong with him at all.

It seemed as if his illness had never existed. It had completely disappeared!

This time...

The result was quite astounding to him.

"Heavenly God, he, he... Is he a real Heavenly God?"

Shocked to the core, the surfer took the examination report and walked out of the hospital. In a hurry, he told his friend about his experience on the island and the examination report he had just received from the hospital.

When his companion heard the entire thing, he found it rather hard to swallow and was absolutely astounded!

Both of them couldn't believe it, thinking it to be unscientific.

They all felt something was seriously wrong.

However, this matter happened right before them.

So, was it true?

“There must be a big problem with this matter.”

The surfer’s companion said, “Perhaps, you naturally recovered when relaxed. It may have nothing to do with the so-called Heavenly God on that island. ”

“But I still can’t believe it. Probably, that person is capable of that?”

The surfer asked in reply.

“If that is true, it will be amazing.”

The surfer’s partner thought for a moment and said, “We can find a way to prove it.”

“Yes.”

With a nod, the surfer said, “We can find a similar patient in the hospital and send the person to the island for treatment. If he cures the patient, it means he could make it. Otherwise, it proves he didn’t cure my disease!”

They lost no time in putting the idea into practice.

Without hesitation, they immediately ran to the hospital and found a cancer patient.

They let the patient do a thorough examination in the hospital. After confirming that the patient had cancer, they took the patient to the island.

When the patient heard of the place that could cure cancer, he immediately showed that he would never miss this chance.

Shortly before dusk...

They took the patient to the island.

At this time...

Fang Qiu had already settled down in the native tribe.

Seeing the surfer coming back from a distance, a native immediately rushed out of the island and stopped the surfer outside. How could he let the surfer in? He wouldn't give him any chance to offend their Heavenly God!

"We're here to express heartfelt thanks to the Heavenly God. I've recovered, but I have a friend who is seriously ill. We want to beg Heavenly God to treat my friend."

Blocked by the local people, the surfer quickly explained.

When the native heard his explanation...

He was pretty pleased with it.

At once, he told them they had to be very respectful when seeing the Heavenly God. Otherwise, they would be immediately kicked out.

The surfer nodded repeatedly. Then, the native took the three people in.

When Fang Qiu saw them coming...

He observed for a while.

He found that the two people had brought another cancer patient.

It was evident that they were here to seek medical treatment.

Of course...

After they said the main purpose of their visit...

Fang Qiu didn't turn them down. After all, he was a doctor and came here to change his mind. He might as well let everything run its course.

Since he was here, he must save the patient.

If no one came, he would live his life here.

This time...

As the two people watched him closely, Fang Qiu put his hand on the patient's cancer lesion. After activating his internal Qi, he gathered all the tumors and cancer cells in the patient's body and cleared them up.

After doing all this, he waved his hand to show he had cured the patient of the disease. Then he sat cross-legged and closed his eyes.

The natives instantly drove the three people away.

When the three of them were driven back to the boat, they were all stunned.

“That was it?

“Did he cure the cancer?

“Does he think of himself as a god?”

They were still filled with doubt when they went back to the city. To solve the puzzle in their hearts, the three people immediately returned to the hospital for a checkup.

This round trip took them less than two hours.

Soon, the result came out.

This patient was miraculously cured of cancer!

The examination report showed that he was not ill at all.

The moment the three people saw the report, they were dumbfounded!

“That Heavenly God cured the cancer for real?

“How was that possible?

“Did we meet a divine doctor?”

They walked out of the hospital in shock.

“By the way.”

The surfer looked at his companion and asked, "Your father is a government official responsible for the development of local tourism, right?"

When the man heard that...

Instantly, his eyes lit up.

"That's right."

When the official's son heard this, he immediately became excited and said, "I'm also working in the government office. I'm not in a position to make decisions, but my dad can do that. If we widely advertise this matter, a large number of people will be attracted here to see the Heavenly God. It will be a top-notch tourism project!"

"Wow, I have to tell my dad about this right now. I have to go back and discuss it with him."

After that...

He snatched the report from their hands, turned around, and ran away.
