Chapter 501: The Ratings Dropped!

Under the lead of the president of the Chinese Medicine Association, a group of seven people soon arrived at a community located in the great spot of the city.

Led by a young woman less than 30 years old, they took the elevator to the 23rd floor in one of the buildings.

This woman was the mother of the child.

“Please tell me about the child first,” Fang Qiu said in the elevator.

The president said, “Let me tell you. The child’s illness is not too serious, because it was discovered early. The treatment of Chinese Medicine has been carried out before, but it has not made much progress. Now the main symptom of the child is that his eyes are turbid. He’s always drooling and crying. He doesn’t laugh, and so on.”

“How old is the child now?” Fang Qiu asked again.

“We’ve just celebrated his one-year-old birthday,” the woman replied.

“Okay.” Fang Qiu nodded with understanding.

“Ding!” The elevator door opened.

The woman hurriedly went out and took everyone into the house.

As soon as he entered the door, Fang Qiu saw a man less than 30 years old half kneeling in the living room, leaning on a baby's bed in front of him, and looking at the baby in the bed.

"Don't be afraid, don't be afraid, sweetie. Mom has found a doctor for you, and you will soon be cured."

Perhaps because he was too absorbed, this man didn't notice anyone entering the door.

The woman ran up to ask the man, "How's the baby?"

As he heard that, the man suddenly turned his head and looked at Fang Qiu and the others. Then he quickly stood up and asked the president, "Uncle, who are these people?"

The president pointed at Fang Qiu and introduced him with a smile, "This is the doctor I invited to treat Xiaoxing. His name is Fang Qiu. He not only excels at medicine but is also very popular recently."

"This..." The man glanced at Fang Qiu and wanted to say something. However, he couldn't say anything. Instead, he went up to Fang Qiu stiffly and shook Fang Qiu's hand.

In fact, Fang Qiu could tell from his eyes that he was a little suspicious.

After all, Fang Qiu was too young.

In addition, in the past year, he had been worrying about the child's illness. He had no mood to pay attention to TV news and things on Weibo or anything else, so he didn't know Fang Qiu at all.

However, because he was recommended by the president of the Chinese Medicine Association, he couldn't just question and judge him, so he was a little embarrassed.

"You can just call me Xiaofang." Holding Fang Qiu's hand, this man really had nothing to say. He could only say one sentence.

Fang Qiu smiled slightly and said, "We have the same last name. Let me see the child first."

Xiaofang quickly took Fang Qiu to the bedside of the baby in front of the sofa in the living room.

The child's mother also hurried to the other side and made enough space for Fang Qiu.

Fang Qiu came to the baby's bedside and carefully examined the child's condition.

The president asked, "How about it? Can it be cured?"

Fang Qiu answered, "No problem."

"Really? You can cure it?" As the child's mother heard Fang Qiu's answer, her eyes turned red in an instant.

"Really? Can my child's illness really be cured?" Xiaofang's eyes also turned red.

In order to treat the child's illness, they had been running around for more than half a year. The child had not been cured at all, not to mention that they had spent so much money. The couple felt a great deal of heartache as they looked at such a lovely child who was emotionless.

Now, after visiting countless famous doctors and entered countless large hospitals that failed to cure their child, they finally saw hope.

At this moment, the couple was extremely emotional and they almost burst into tears when they gazed at the child.

"What are you crying for?" The president of the Chinese Medicine Association rolled his eyes at the two and shouted, "If you want to cry, you should wait until the child is cured!"

As they heard that, the two of them immediately wiped their tears.

The woman came up and said excitedly to Fang Qiu, "Doctor, please save my child. You have to save my child."

Fang Qiu nodded gently. "Don't worry."

He could tell that the couple really loved their baby. Their love and persistence deeply touched Fang Qiu.

After all, not every family could hold on to a child who suffered from child cerebral palsy, and they even discovered it so early, which meant that they must have suffered many hardships.

The president said to Fang Qiu, "Let's start the treatment."

Fang Qiu nodded. "Okay."

The president took out all the equipment he brought from the clinic and laid the silver needles on the tea table.

Fang Qiu carefully took the child out, placed him on the sofa, and asked the mother to hold him up.

Fang Qiu then took out filiform needles and began to perform acupuncture directly.

"Child cerebral palsy is a very serious disease about brain disability. At present, the child's condition is not too serious, so I choose to cure it with the method that can help improve the brain, activate blood, and dredge collateral channels."

The five doctors of brightness and the president all nodded in agreement as they heard what Fang Qiu said.

After he finished speaking, Fang Qiu directly stabbed the needles into the child's body.

The key points that he chose were Baihui, Sishencong, Jiaji, Xuanzhong, Zusanli, and Hegu.

Fang Qiu found that the child's heart and spleen were both weak in the previous examination. Therefore, Fang Qiu chose Xinyu and Piyu as the matching points.

As the needles pierced into the child's body, Fang Qiu assisted with the reinforcing method of the filiform needle.

As he twisted the needles, he directly mobilized his internal Qi to enter those points.

Although internal Qi was quite slight, Fang Qiu controlled it to stimulate all the acupuncture points and made the healing effect work to the greatest extent.

Three minutes later, he took out the needles.

"It's okay." Fang Qiu let out a long breath and put the filiform needles back.

Everyone fixed their eyes on the child.

On the sofa, the child actually moved.

Not only did he move, but he didn't drool. His turbid eyes became bright at this time. The rarest thing was that the child, who had never laughed before, actually waved his small hands and smiled.

As they saw this, the parents of the child were stunned.

The president of the association, as well as the five doctors of brightness, were also shocked!

Did it take him at most ten minutes to finish all these things together?

Absolutely no!

Fang Qiu just cured the child in such a short time.

How was that possible?

The six of them hadn't expected Fang Qiu to be so capable. And the combination of Qi and acupuncture worked so well.

The president of the association pointed at the child in shock and said excitedly, "What! Why, why is there a need for you to wait another week? With your capacity, I will give you the qualification of a doctor of brightness tomorrow!"

The five doctors of brightness not only didn't have any objections but also nodded in agreement.

They were too shocked.

Who could have expected that Fang Qiu could be so strong?

With Fang Qiu's strength, he was absolutely qualified to be a doctor of brightness!

"Ya, ya, ya..." At this time, the child suddenly cried out.

Hearing this sound and looking at the baby who was lying on the sofa, waving his hands and even starting to crawl, the couple couldn't bear it anymore. They burst into tears in an instant.

Tears welled up in their eyes. The two of them rushed to the child at the same time.

Looking at this scene in front of him, Fang Qiu smiled with comfort.

After a short while, as the couple calmed down, they turned around gratefully and wanted to kowtow to Fang Qiu.

Fang Qiu hurried to help him up to stop them.

The couple wanted to give Fang Qiu money, but Fang Qiu didn't accept it.

In the end, the couple could only invite everyone to stay in their house. Then, one of them went to buy food and the other one started to cook at home. It was not until 8 o'clock in the evening that they finally managed to prepare a table full of delicious food.

Everyone was having dinner joyfully together.

At the dinner table, the couple kept expressing their gratitude to Fang Qiu.

Seeing that the child had returned to normal, Fang Qiu was also delighted.

After all, this little guy's surname was Fang!

Fang Qiu and the others were having dinner, so they didn't know that the fifth episode of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor aired.

As before, there were a lot of people waiting in front of the TV before broadcasting, and more people were watching the live broadcast on the Internet.

The fifth episode required the contestants to decoct medicinal herbs.

Everyone was watching the show with great expectations.

After watching the show for five minutes, some people felt that it was quite interesting. But ten minutes later, some people were not happy.

“Where is Fang Qiu?”

“Why is there no Fang Qiu’s part?”

“Damn! Is this director a fool? It’s been more than ten minutes, and there is no picture of Fang Qiu.”

“I don’t want to watch it anymore since Fang Qiu isn’t in it.”

“What the fuck are we going to watch?”

On the Internet, many people had expressed their dissatisfaction.

In the blink of an eye, the name of Fang Qiu was covering the entire online live broadcast room, and all the bullet screens were about Fang Qiu.

Even so, everyone had no intention of stopping watching the show at all. Instead, they continued to watch it.

In the end, after the one-and-a-half-hour show was over, they found that there were only a few of Fang Qiu’s pictures!

Although everyone knew that Fang Qiu had already advanced without the need to participate in this round, they were very disappointed because they couldn’t see Fang Qiu make any eye-catching moves.

People looked forward to seeing Fang Qiu do something unexpected.

After all, the attractive points of this show relied entirely on Fang Qiu.

Except for Fang Qiu, there was no one that worthed following. In this kind of entertainment show, even if there were a few gorgeous and attractive women, it was difficult for them to carry the whole program.

Although Jiang Miaoyu and Leng Wenzhuo were absolutely stunning and many people loved to see their faces, it was still a little difficult for the audience to follow the show since the only attractive thing was beautiful ladies. There was no entertainment at all.

After the show was over, the netizens who were extremely disappointed all ran to the show's official Weibo account to leave their comments.

"What the hell is going on? There's nothing to see at all!"

"I strongly urge you to show more pictures of Fang Qiu. Without Fang Qiu, there's nothing to watch in this show!"

"Fang Qiu is commercially viable. Don't you want to continue the show?"

"I watched this show for Fang Qiu, but there were only a few shots of him in the end, and they only lasted for a few seconds. I'm rather speechless."

"I strongly urge the show's crew to keep Fang Qiu's shots. It's better if they are all about Fang Qiu's performance, just like the episode of collecting herbs."

"You don't necessarily need to give all the pictures about Fang Qiu, but these are just too few. At least you should give him more shots. The show's crew is really stupid."

For a moment, the Weibo of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor became popular.

A post that publicized the fifth episode only had thousands of comments and reposts three days ago. But in just ten minutes, there were nearly 100,000 comments.

This kind of terrifying increase in the comments even made those who were popular could not catch up with it.

In the face of such a situation, the show's crew was also very helpless!

In this episode, it was really impossible to release Fang Qiu's pictures, though they wanted to.

With the taunts of the netizens, the show's crew decided not to take any action at the moment.

The ratings of the show came out on the night.

The average ratings of the whole program were reduced to 4.1%. The highest point was 4.5% at the beginning. Then it kept dropping until it reached 3.3%.

At the same time, when other variety shows on other TV channels saw the statistics, they couldn't help but gloat, but they felt more bitter in their hearts.

Chapter 502: The Sixth Episode Is Mind-blowing!

Although the ratings of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor had dropped, it was good news for variety shows of other TV stations. But everyone was also very clear that the source of all this was Fang Qiu!

Last time, it was an exaggeration that they said Fang Qiu was carrying a variety show all by himself,

But now, they had to admit that it was true.

Without Fang Qiu, the ratings of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor dropped sharply.

If Fang Qiu didn't show up in the next episode, the ratings of the show might inevitably drop to 2%.

In Central Television, looking at the ratings reports, Director Li Huawen gave a wry smile.

In fact, this time he also wanted to have a try. After all, although Fang Qiu didn't participate in the process of decocting herbs, there were some other shots of him that could be used.

The reason why he didn't use them was that, on the one hand, he wanted more people to pay attention to Chinese Medicine, and on the other hand, he wanted to see how much influence Fang Qiu had on the show.

But he didn't expect that this test actually caused such an enormous stir.

"Oh, Fang Qiu, what am I going to do with you?" He shook his head with a wry smile.

Li Huawen threw the ratings reports on the table, then he suddenly thought of the next episode.

The next episode was filled with so many selling points.

The most important thing was that as the audience expected, it was all about Fang Qiu!

"Why don't we make a trailer of the next episode to cool down these people first?"

A thought came to his mind.

Li Huawen immediately took out his phone and called the publicity chief. He ordered, "Hurry up and edit the trailer of the sixth episode as soon as possible!"

As Li Huawen gave the order, the trailer of the sixth episode was soon released.

However, the trailer was rather short because it was produced in a hurry, which only lasted for 59 seconds.

In the beginning, everyone spontaneously resisted watching the preview because Fang Qiu didn't show up in the fifth episode. Many people even began to boycott the entire show, saying that they would never watch it without Fang Qiu.

Although everyone was furious, many of them couldn't help but watch the preview curiously.

They were astonished as they watched it.

"Oh my God, the sixth episode is definitely mind-blowing!"

"The sixth episode is freaking amazing!"

"What? Bozhi Tianxia went to the broadcast studio to challenge Fang Qiu!"

"It's all about Fang Qiu in the next episode."

People who had finished watching the preview made all kinds of comments.

Seeing these comments, the people who were going to resist the show and the preview couldn't help but watch it out of curiosity.

Less than an hour later, the click volume of the show's trailer actually exceeded five hundred thousand, and it was also growing at an extremely fast rate.

After watching the preview, all the people went wild on the Internet!

"Is the show going to play something big?"

“Bozhi Tianxia, you even went to the broadcast studio! Don’t you think you’re too bold?”

“Oh my God, he even brought a patient with him. It seems that he won’t give up until he gets what he wants. I wonder if Fang Qiu will accept it.”

“Can Fang Qiu cure the patient this time?”

“He couldn’t find Fang Qiu on Weibo and decided to go to the studio to confront Fang Qiu face to face. There is going to be a good show in the sixth episode.”

“It turns out that the reason why Fang Qiu has so few shots in the fifth episode is that the crew is preparing a big move in the sixth episode!”

Someone proposed, “By the way, the sixth episode should have finished recording, right? Let’s go to Bozhi Tianxia’s Weibo and have a look. Maybe we can see the result.”

Everyone who was very curious immediately ran to see Bozhi Tianxia’s Weibo.

However, they eventually found that the Weibo of Bozhi Tianxia was empty with all the posts disappearing, just like a new account.

Thinking that Bozhi Tianxia had deleted all his posts in Weibo before, everyone grew more curious.

“Could it be that the patient brought by Bozhi Tianxia has really been cured by Fang Qiu?”

“He has been looking for trouble with Fang Qiu before, but he suddenly deleted all his posts, and nothing was left. It seems that he was likely to be slapped in the face by Fang Qiu on the spot.”

Many people started to leave comments to analyze what might have happened.

This time, all the people became more curious.

Everyone wished they could see the sixth episode right away. However, the fifth episode had just finished airing. They had to wait for another week even though they were desperate to watch the next episode.

Everyone was speechless.

The show was so good at attracting people's attention.

Not just the viewers and netizens, people of the variety shows of other TV stations also watched the preview of the sixth episode of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor as soon as possible.

Previously, they firmly believed that the ratings of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor must enter a flat period and it would inevitably keep falling gradually. However, these people were all stunned as they saw the trailer.

They were thinking, "Damn! The ratings of the fifth episode did drop, but will the ratings of the sixth episode decline?"

Absolutely not!

Instead, a huge surge would even be expected!

There was no doubt that whether Fang Qiu accepted Yang Bo's challenge or not, whether Fang Qiu succeeded or not, the ratings of the sixth episode of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor would usher in an unprecedented surge, which might even exceed the previous peak and reach 5% or 6%!

The variety show groups of the other major TV stations were speechless and felt bitter.

This show didn't even give them a chance to survive!

After dinner, Fang Qiu returned to school.

When he was still in the couple's house, the president of the Chinese Medicine Association also offered to give him the consultation fee.

Of course, Fang Qiu didn't accept it either.

After all, the child's parents had already mentioned it once, but Fang Qiu didn't accept it at that time. Moreover, he had already been treated with a thank-you meal. It would be a little inappropriate to take their money.

By the time he got back to the dormitory, it was already 9:30 p.m.

In the dormitory, Sun Hao and the other two who had finished washing up were ready to go to bed after the lights were turned off.

"Knock knock knock..." Suddenly, there was a knock on the door.

"Who is it?" Sun Hao asked.

"Me," Fang Qiu answered.

"The youngest?" Sun Hao, who had just finished watching the trailer of the show, suddenly jumped up from the bed and rushed to open the door.

Zhou Xiaotian and Zhu Benzhen, who were lying in bed reading, also got up from bed immediately. Their faces were full of curiosity.

As he opened the door, sure enough, it was Fang Qiu.

"Bro, what did you do? Why did you come back so late?" Sun Hao asked.

Fang Qiu answered, "I went to see a patient."

"No wonder." Sun Hao nodded and said, "I was wondering why you didn't pay attention to the fifth episode this time. It turns out that there are few of your shots in it."

"I don't care even if I have my shots," Fang Qiu said with a smile.

"Bro," Zhou Xiaotian suddenly jumped out of bed, mysteriously walked to Fang Qiu, and said. "We've just finished watching the preview of the sixth episode. Did Bozhi Tianxia really go to the TV station to look for you?"

"Yes." Fang Qiu nodded.

At that time, he already knew that Director Li Huawen had taken a full picture of Yang Bo's trouble-making process to him and was ready to make it as the material of the sixth episode. And at that time, the director had also asked for his opinion. He agreed. Since the preview had been released, it would not be a problem to tell that to his roommates.

"I heard that he went to the studio with a patient?" Zhu Benzheng also came over and asked curiously.

"Yes." Fang Qiu nodded again.

Sun Hao followed up. "I heard that he challenged you and said that he wanted to prove that you were a liar."

"Yes, yes," Fang Qiu turned around and looked at the three of them speechlessly. "If you want to ask something, just tell me what you want to know once for all. Even though you don't feel annoyed after asking so many questions, I'll be very tired after answering them."

Upon hearing that, the three of them looked at each other.

In the end, Zhu Benzhen and Zhou Xiaotian fixed their eyes on Sun Hao.

It was obvious that Sun Hao had to help them ask the question that they were most curious about.

Sun Hao chuckled and asked, "Then I'll go straight to the point. I believe that with your temper, you will definitely accept the challenge. You're a fighter! That guy has chased you to the TV station. It's impossible that you don't fight back, right? Since you will definitely fight back, did you win or not? Have you cured the patient he brought?"

As he asked, the three of them gazed at Fang Qiu expectantly, waiting for the answer that they were eager to know.

"I remember," Fang Qiu frowned and said. "Last time, someone seemed to tell me not to be a spoiler. The one who acts as a spoiler is definitely not a good person."

The three of them became embarrassed at once as they heard that.

They were indeed the ones who said that.

However, they had said it when they were watching the first episode of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor, and now the fifth episode had been broadcast.

The most important thing was that Fang Qiu didn't show up in the fifth episode. There was nothing worthy of watching. Otherwise, they wouldn't be so concerned about the sixth episode.

Sun Hao smiled awkwardly and said, "Ha-ha... We're your buddies. We're just concerned about you. I didn't mean to let you be a spoiler but simply concerned about whether you won or not. If you win, we can celebrate together, and if you lose, we can comfort you, right?"

"Oh, you just don't understand our good intentions."

At the end of the speech, Sun Hao began to blame Fang Qiu.

Fang Qiu shook his head with a bitter smile as he heard that.

This guy was so glib. He could even turn bad things into good deeds.

“Yes, yes, yes, bro, we care about you.”

Zhou Xiaotian quickly echoed and asked, “What’s the result?”

Fang Qiu looked at the three’s big bright eyes in front of him.

He sighed softly. He turned around, pulled out the chair in front of the desk, and sat down. “What do you three think of my strength?”

“Awesome!” The three of them all gave him a thumbs-up.

“Do you think I can cure the patient?” Fang Qiu asked again.

“I think you can,” Sun Hao answered immediately.

“I don’t think so!” Zhu Benzhen shook his head and said. “After all, it’s in the TV station. In front of so many people, even if you have means, it’s hard to perform.”

“Just cut to the chase, bro. Have you cured him? Give me an answer,” Zhou Xiaotian urged.

“Since all of you think I’m so good, then why shouldn’t I cure the patient?” Fang Qiu asked with a smile.

The three boys’ eyes lit up at the same time as they heard that.

Zhou Xiaotian exclaimed at once, "Awesome!"

Zhu Benzhen g marveled and nodded at the same time. "You deserve to be a master with millions of fans."

Sun Hao jumped up excitedly and said, "I knew it! It's the same as I expected. You are a fighter! You never lose!"

Chapter 503: Find a Trace!

The next day, Fang Qiu got up early to practice martial arts and exercise as usual.

It was not until the library opened that he came to the reading room to look for Xu Miaolin.

At this time, Xu Miaolin just arrived and was carefully preparing for work.

Fang Qiu entered the room. "Mr. Xu."

"So early?" Xu Miaolin looked up at Fang Qiu in surprise.

Fang Qiu said, "I don't have anything to do, so I come over as soon as I see the library open."

"Oh, right." Xu Miaolin thought for a while and immediately stopped his work. He looked up at Fang Qiu and said, "Yesterday seemed to be the day you took the examination of doctor of brightness, right?"

Fang Qiu was stunned. "Seemed?"

Xu Miaolin nodded. "Then it's."

Fang Qiu was speechless.

The date was arranged by Xu Miaolin and the Chinese Medicine Association. How could he forget it?

Xu Miaolin asked, "How was the exam?"

Fang Qiu replied, "It's okay. If everything goes well, I can get the certificate of doctor of brightness this afternoon."

Xu Miaolin looked at Fang Qiu with a puzzled face and asked, "Hmm? So fast?"

"I encountered something yesterday." Fang Qiu nodded and told him the specific situation yesterday.

After hearing what had happened, Xu Miaolin nodded with understanding.

With Fang Qiu's strength, he was absolutely qualified to get the certificate of doctor of brightness.

Moreover, it was just a few days ahead of schedule. Even if he didn't get the certificate in advance, the result would still be the same.

Xu Miaolin asked, "Now you still have one more year. Now that you've become a doctor of brightness, then you must be ready to be a highly-skilled doctor, right?"

"Yes." Fang Qiu nodded with determination in his eyes.

"Based on your current situation..." Xu Miaolin hesitated for a moment and then said, "Now there are two possibilities for you to become a highly-skilled doctor. I have told you the first one. Even if you are already a doctor of brightness, you have to master at least three fields. And you should be proficient at them all. The second one is the certification of highly-skilled doctor!"

Speaking of this, Xu Miaolin paused for a moment as if he was calculating something. Then he continued, "You've been recognized by one highly-skilled doctor before, and the highly-skilled doctor's recognition is also one of the methods for you to become a highly-skilled doctor. At present, there are 50 highly-skilled doctors in total in the country. As long as you get one-third of these 50 doctors' recognition, then you can become one of them."

Xu Miaolin calculated. "One-third of the 50 highly-skilled doctors means over 17 people. You got one before, but now you still got 16 left."

"When I went to the show's recording, I got another doctor's recognition." Fang Qiu opened his mouth. "It was given by a highly-skilled doctor named Yang Juanyong."

"Oh." Xu Miaolin was a little surprised. Obviously, he didn't expect that Fang Qiu could be recognized by two highly-skilled doctors in such a short time.

Xu Miaolin said, "If that's the case, then you still got 15 left."

Fang Qiu nodded, "Yes."

"I didn't expect you to be so lucky," Xu Miaolin smiled slightly and said. "You must defeat a highly-skilled doctor in a certain field so that he can give you something rare. Although there is such a rule in the Chinese Medicine circle, at present, no one can become a highly-skilled doctor relying on the recognition of other highly-skilled doctors."

Xu Miaolin reminded, "So, you'd better do two things at the same time and make some preparations for the two methods."

Fang Qiu nodded.

Indeed, the best way to become a highly-skilled doctor was to use these two methods at the same time.

After all, the other highly-skilled doctors' recognition was really unpredictable. Fang Qiu was not sure when he could meet other highly-skilled doctors and also earn their appreciation.

Although that was the case, there was a highly-skilled doctor right in front of him.

Fang Qiu thought for a while and said with a smile, “Mr. Xu, why don’t you give me your recognition, and then you can ask Ms. Chu to give me hers. Then there would be only 13 left, right?”

Xu Miaolin chuckled and said, “You want it? Fine, but you have to earn it!”

Fang Qiu said with a smile, “Well, look at our relationship. You’re my teacher!”

Xu Miaolin replied seriously, “Yep. And you’re my student.”

Fang Qiu was speechless.

Fang Qiu then asked, “Fine. What should I do to earn it?”

Xu Miaolin said with a smile, “Actually, it’s quite easy. All you need to do is to get the first place in the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor. Then, maybe you’ll be recognized by two highly-skilled doctors at one time.”

Fang Qiu was even more speechless as he heard that.

After all, the competition for the highly-skilled doctor was also related to Xu Miaolin. Whether he could get married to Chu Yunyun as he wished or not also depended on whether Fang Qiu could become a highly-skilled doctor within a year.

Xu Miaolin was a competent teacher, but he was rather persistent when it came to Chinese Medicine.

Even if it was Fang Qiu, he would not easily give him his recognition. He believed from the bottom of his heart that the recognition of highly-skilled doctors was prepared for the future elites of Chinese Medicine. He couldn’t just give it easily.

However, since Xu Miaolin had made an offer, there was no way that Fang Qiu would turn him down.

Fang Qiu thought to himself, "It's just the champion of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor."

In the afternoon, Fang Qiu went to the Chinese Medicine Association to get the qualification certificate of the doctor of brightness, which was the same as that of the examination of the craftsman doctor. After he got the qualification, Fang Qiu also got a chance to choose one of the three treasure books given by the Chinese Medicine Association.

However, Fang Qiu didn't find any other books like Theory of Bonesetting and Secret Techniques of Acupuncture. The three treasure books were all ordinary ancient medical books.

"It seems that the treasure book with secret techniques is rare," Fang Qiu exclaimed and walked out of the association.

"Dee-dee-dee-dee..." As the president of the association walked him out, Fang Qiu's phone in his trouser pocket rang as soon as he went out.

He took out his phone and saw that it was from Li Ji.

Fang Qiu answered the phone, "Hello?"

On the other end of the line, Li Ji said, "Senior, we got some news. We have found the stronghold of the organization that escaped in Bhutan. It's hard to elaborate on it on the phone. I'm staying by the river outside the city right now. Let's meet and talk."

"Okay," Fang Qiu nodded and hung up the phone.

After such a long time, there was finally news.

He didn't know who leaked the information last time. Not only did the suspects run away, but he also was framed. If he hadn't been strong enough, he would have died.

Fortunately, he picked three Earth Treasures by the way, which was not bad.

This time, he wouldn't let them run away again!

Fang Qiu didn't think much about it and immediately took a taxi to get out of the city.

Instead of returning to school to change clothes, he chose to meet Li Ji with his real appearance.

He knew that his identity could not be hidden from these people. They probably had already known his real identity, so it was meaningless whether he wore the mysterious man's clothes or not.

Soon, he arrived at the place where Li Ji told him to meet.

Li Ji was standing under a few willow trees by the river and waiting for him.

He was so surprised as he saw Fang Qiu.

Although Li Ji knew that Fang Qiu was the mysterious man, he still couldn't hold back his emotions when he saw Fang Qiu walking towards him without hiding his identity.

He really couldn't figure out how a freshman could be so powerful!

Walking to Li Ji, Fang Qiu looked around indifferently. After making sure that no one was around, he said, "Tell me more details."

"They're in the Middle East." Li Ji just stared straight at Fang Qiu and even forgot to pay attention to the surrounding environment.

Fang Qiu arched his brows and said, "I want the specific address. I will find time to get there, but before I go, is there any way to help me train all the techniques of your special forces, especially the means of tracking?"

Fang Qiu still remembered that last time, it was because he didn't know any of these skills that he went there in vain eventually.

In case he couldn't find anyone when he went there this time, Fang Qiu could only try to learn all kinds of scouting and combat skills of the special forces.

Li Ji nodded immediately and said, "No problem. I can arrange it for you."

"As soon as possible." Fang Qiu nodded.

"Okay." Li Ji agreed.

In the school, the Apprentice Plan competition was over in the past two days.

Compared with the previous test, the scores of the students who took the Apprentice Plan were obviously much higher than those who didn't take part in it. This result made the university leaders quite satisfied.

After all, students' performances meant the foundation of a school.

This was the right move!

"Fang Qiu really did a good job." In the office, Chen Yinsheng, who had received the test results, was full of gratitude to Fang Qiu, not only because the Apprentice Plan had made their school lead the way, but also because it helped cultivate more talents for the Chinese Medicine industry. Looking at these capable students in the school, he could imagine how bright the future of the Chinese Medicine industry would be.

Chen Yinsheng thought to himself, "The first section is over. The second section of the Apprentice Plan training mode should be put on the agenda as soon as possible."

While thinking about the second section of the Apprentice Plan training mode, Chen Yinsheng was also thinking about the upcoming college entrance examination for enrollment.

There was no doubt that with the excellent performance of Fang Qiu and Jiang Miaoyu in the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor, University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine had become the most famous one among all the national TCM colleges.

Besides, because of this show, many candidates all over the country were willing to choose Chinese Medicine as their major.

Under the new data statistics, the number of students who applied for the TCM colleges this year might peak a historical high. And the number of those who applied for the University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine would definitely reach a historical high.

Chen Yinsheng was very gratified about it.

At the end of the day, the foundation of traditional Chinese Medicine was human.

The more people there were, the more advanced the development of Chinese Medicine would be. The more people there were, the faster the development of Chinese Medicine would be.

"Dee-dee-dee-dee." Three days later, Fang Qiu, who was reading books in the dormitory, suddenly received a call from Li Ji.

"Hello?" He answered the phone.

Li Ji's voice came. "I've arranged everything you need. Everything is based on your schedule."

Fang Qiu said, "I can do it now."

Li Ji said, "Because this is related to the country's confidential information, you have to ensure that your whereabouts will not be discovered by anyone. And we will not send people to escort you."

He continued, "What you have to do now is to go to Nanjiang in the most secretive way. You can take any transportation as you want. We will erase all your records and information about transportation. When you arrive at Nanjiang, someone will come to pick you up."

Fang Qiu nodded and said, "Okay, I'll leave now."

He hung up the phone. After packing up, Fang Qiu headed straight to the airport and boarded the passenger plane to Nanjiang right away.

Medical Master

Chapter 504: Using a Borrowed Knife to Ruthlessly Torture Others!

In Huaxia, Nanjiang had always been a particularly mysterious and complicated area.

This city was enormous, and the technology was not inferior to that of other megacities. Because it was close to three countries, it had even more powerful strength in trade.

Even so, most of the areas of Nanjiang were still covered by the forests.

There were plateaus, jungles, mountains that you couldn't see the top, abysses that you couldn't see the bottom, and deep forests that made you feel as if you were in a desert. There were also thousands of different species of birds and beasts and dozens of rare races hidden in the deep mountains.

Everything here was covered with an extremely mysterious atmosphere, which made it impossible for people to see through.

At 11 o'clock in the morning, after about three hours of flight, Fang Qiu finally landed at the Changshui Airport in Kundu.

He got off the plane.

As soon as he walked out of the airport passage, Fang Qiu saw a middle-aged man holding a sign with his name on it.

Of course, the name written on the sign was "John Doe".

At this moment, although Fang Qiu didn't wear the mysterious man's outfit, he was also wearing a mask to cover himself. After all, he was quite popular now. If he was recognized by others, he would be in trouble.

Li Ji repeatedly told him on the phone that he must hide his whereabouts.

"Let's go." Without any greetings, Fang Qiu went straight to the middle-aged man, just said one thing, and walked out of the airport.

The middle-aged man glanced at Fang Qiu.

He didn't ask anything and went out of the airport with Fang Qiu.

At the entrance of the airport, the middle-aged man got in a taxi, sat in the driver's seat, stretched out his head, and said to Fang Qiu, "Get in the car."

Seeing this, Fang Qiu was speechless.

The pre-arranged plan was to rent a taxi. This was too irresponsible, wasn't it?

Even though he was helpless, Fang Qiu could only get in the car.

“Boom...” The driver drove away.

“Where are we going?” Fang Qiu asked casually.

“The place you should go,” the driver replied expressionlessly.

Fang Qiu asked, “Aren’t you afraid that I’m the fake one? You don’t want to make sure if I’m the one you need to pick up?”

“Ha-ha.” The driver chuckled and reached out to point at his ear.

Fang Qiu finally understood.

It turned out that all the things he did had been watched by someone. No wonder it went so smoothly.

Obviously, this driver was not an ordinary taxi driver.

Fang Qiu then asked, “How long do we need to take on the road?”

The driver replied, “There are still 1,300 kilometers left.”

Fang Qiu smiled wryly. “So far?”

When he thought about it carefully, the place he was going to accept training was obviously not the location of an ordinary army, so it was normal for them to drive a long distance.

Fang Qiu said, “Then you should go into the city first.”

The driver was confused. "Hmm?"

Fang Qiu replied, "I'm going to buy something to eat."

"There are compressed biscuits and water under the seat." As he spoke, the driver took out a bag of compressed biscuits from his seat and began to eat.

Fang Qiu also took it out and started to eat.

Along the way, the two of them chatted with each other from time to time.

Sitting in the car, Fang Qiu just watched the sun rise from the east and set in the west, witnessing the beautiful and majestic mountains and rivers from the car window.

Eventually, more than ten hours later, the taxi was stopped.

"Get off the car," the driver shouted.

Fang Qiu then left the car.

By this time, the night had already fallen.

Fang Qiu now was at a small frontier inspection station, which was dozens of kilometers away from the nearest town. In addition to two rooms, a field, and the base in the back, there was nothing else in the station. There were mountains and forests all around. A road which was neither wide nor narrow wound in the deep mountain.

Fang Qiu asked, "What is this place?"

The driver chuckled. "The one you should stay."

At this time, several soldiers came over and the driver immediately greeted them. After he whispered a few words to one of them in his ear, the soldier trotted away immediately. The rest of the soldiers stood orderly around and continued to watch the situation on the road, not daring to relax at all.

After a short while, a rumbling sound was heard.

An olive green off-road vehicle suddenly rushed out of the nearby forest. Looking carefully, Fang Qiu found that the person in the car was the soldier who had just run away a moment ago.

As he approached, a soldier in camouflage uniform got off the vehicle and nodded to the driver.

“Okay, I finished here.” The driver got in the taxi and turned around to leave.

At the same time, the soldier got off the vehicle and walked to Fang Qiu. He took out a piece of black cloth from his trouser pocket and covered Fang Qiu’s eyes directly.

Fang Qiu didn’t resist either.

With his eyes covered, he was helped into the car. The car then drove away instantly.

Obviously, they did this so as to prevent the state’s confidential secrets from being leaked.

In order to cooperate with the army, Fang Qiu didn’t use his mental power to sense, so he didn’t know where the car was heading.

The car drove for another few hours.

Along the way, Fang Qiu tried to get some sleep, but he couldn’t make it at all because of the bumpy road. His buttocks were so painful.

He didn't know how much time had passed.

"We're here." All of a sudden, a voice was heard.

When Fang Qiu was about to take off the black cloth that covered his eyes, he suddenly felt that the driver got up and opened the door for him. Then he suddenly pushed him off the passenger seat directly, making him fall to the ground.

Fang Qiu immediately took off the black cloth.

As soon as the black cloth was pulled off, Fang Qiu immediately found that he was surrounded by desolate wild mountains.

In front of him, the off-road vehicle was still there.

But the man in the car had already disappeared.

He was surrounded by mountains with weeds and vines all over the ground. There was no way out at all.

Looking at everything in front of him, Fang Qiu smiled and said, "Is this a test?"

Meanwhile, he let out a soft laugh to relax and then listened carefully.

As expected, he heard some footsteps.

Immediately, he heard the sound and chased after them.

Of course, instead of using internal Qi, Fang Qiu ran away directly like an ordinary person.

It didn't take long for him to encounter the obstacle.

“Smack!” A crispy sound was heard.

As he ran, Fang Qiu stepped onto the trap. There was no doubt that his foot missed and he almost fell down. Fortunately, Fang Qiu reacted so fast. The moment he stepped on the trap, he immediately activated his internal Qi to stabilize his body. Then, as if he were walking on the flat ground, he stepped directly on the air.

At this moment, countless people were stunned in the surrounding forest.

They had been early ordered to hide in this forest, but they saw such an incredible scene when the man just arrived. How could they not be shocked?

But at the same time, the sound of wind breaking rang out. “Swoosh!”

Fang Qiu turned around and looked back.

A wire netting tied with sharp iron nails fell from the sky and smashed into the trap that Fang Qiu had just stepped into.

However, Fang Qiu had already walked past the trap, and the wire netting was useless now.

In the surrounding area, those soldiers who were hiding around and observing the trap in the dark were all stunned, for they were preparing to rush forward to encircle Fang Qiu as soon as he was caught by the trap.

They didn’t move at all.

Of course, this also depended on Fang Qiu’s previous performance of stepping on air. It set everyone in such a shock that they did not rush out to take action in the first place.

At the same time, Fang Qiu didn’t find any trace of these people hiding around either.

At this time, he was just an ordinary person. Although he used a little internal Qi, the moment he stepped out of the trap, Fang Qiu immediately withdrew his internal Qi.

After all, he came here to train.

Since he wanted to learn the scouting and tracking skills of the special forces, he had to learn them as an ordinary person. If he made use of his internal Qi and mental power, that wouldn't be real training.

Fang Qiu smiled wryly. "This trap is too vicious. It's going to kill me."

"Dee-dee-dee-dee..." At this time, the phone in his trouser pocket suddenly rang.

Fang Qiu took out his mobile phone and found it was from Li Ji.

"Hello?" Fang Qiu answered the phone.

Li Ji asked, "Senior, you should have reached the destination by now and met with our people, right?"

Fang Qiu nodded and asked, "Yes. What's going on right now?"

Li Ji smiled and said, "Here's the thing. We've arranged a special middle-ranking team to greet you. There are about a hundred people in this team. Their training today is to arrest you or hurt you, and your goal is to defeat them by using the means as an expert."

Fang Qiu was stunned and asked, "Oh? Any means?"

Li Ji nodded immediately. "Yes, any means will do."

Fang Qiu pursed his lips. "You're using me to train your soldiers, aren't you?"

Li Ji laughed and said, "Exactly. My purpose is to let them know how difficult it is to deal with martial arts masters so that they won't dare to be so arrogant and neglectful."

Fang Qiu nodded and said, "All right then. I'll try my best to let them know what a real master is."

What Fang Qiu just said made the special forces soldiers hiding in the forest so furious that they gnashed their teeth because when Fang Qiu answered the phone, he deliberately raised his voice so that they could hear what he said very clearly.

There was no doubt that they heard everything he said.

Who were they? They were special forces!

They were all selected from tens of thousands of people, and each of them had their own pride. What Fang Qiu said was simply too contemptuous of them.

"Bang!" Before he hung up the phone, Fang Qiu suddenly heard a gunshot.

It was sniping!

As the gunshot rang out, Fang Qiu immediately leaned to one side and dodged the bullet. The bullet passed by his shoulder with a sharp chill. And the strong airflow almost made a gap in Fang Qiu's clothes.

Fang Qiu was stunned. "Wow, that's a real one."

Fang Qiu knew that Li Ji had seen his true strength and he was also aware that guns and cannons couldn't hurt him at all, so he dared to let these special forces soldiers use real bullets.

However, as soon as they met each other, there was a trap and sniping. This was a little impolite, wasn't it?

In the distance, a special forces soldier who was well hidden on a small mountain was holding a telescope. He was startled when he saw Fang Qiu dodging the bullet.

“What the fuck, dodging the bullet? That’s too awesome!”

He wasn’t the only one.

In the command room of the base somewhere in the forest, several people were watching what had happened in the forest through the monitor.

Medical Master

Chapter 505: Who Is It? Give Me Another Shot!

In the deep forest of Nanjiang, there was a special training base, which was completely hidden under the green area.

In the command room of the base, a middle-aged man standing straight was facing a huge screen wall.

This screen wall was made up of countless small screens.

If you took a closer look, you would find that it was actually the surveillance video in the nearby forests on every small screen.

Obviously, these monitors were set up by the special forces.

“Hmm?” When the middle-aged man, who stood straight, was watching the surveillance with great interest, his face changed and his eyes widened suddenly.

He also saw it.

Fang Qiu actually dodged the bullet of a sniper rifle.

Although Li Ji had told him before that Fang Qiu was not afraid of the attacks of guns and cannons and their soldiers could fire as they wanted, he didn't expect that Fang Qiu was able to do this.

How fast were the bullets?

Ordinary people might not understand, but as soldiers, they knew it very well.

It was not impossible to dodge bullets. Ordinary soldiers could dodge the bullets consciously. But Fang Qiu could dodge the bullet when he didn't prepare for it at all. Therefore, it wasn't possible for ordinary people to dodge the bullets with such precision.

"It's horrible." The commander was rather shocked when he saw the figure on the surveillance screen.

"Hi, everyone, I'm coming." In the forest, after dodging the bullet, Fang Qiu hung up the phone and put away his phone. He then put his hands behind his back. As he walked forward, he turned his head to look at the mountains and forests on both sides. "Let me make it clear. If my attacks are too fierce, I'll send my apologies in advance. If you suffer in the end, you can only blame that you're too weak and I'm too strong!"

After he finished speaking, Fang Qiu paused and instantly stood still. He listened carefully to the movements around him, trying to find out where the people lying in ambush were.

But in the end, there was no sound after a few seconds.

This made Fang Qiu very speechless.

"It's no use being so sarcastic. As expected, these are well-trained soldiers." As he muttered, Fang Qiu continued to move forward.

In Fang Qiu's view, the purpose of his coming here was not to fight with this squadron of special forces but to learn scouting and tracking skills. He was not a soldier, so he did not need to obey military orders.

But the members of this team were different, for they were soldiers.

A soldier's duty was to obey orders!

And the order they received was to catch or hurt Fang Qiu.

Therefore, Fang Qiu wasn't anxious at all.

Under these circumstances, he didn't need to find these people. As long as he kept moving forward, these people would show up eventually. After all, Fang Qiu would soon get out of the ambush area. And once Fang Qiu found the base, their mission would fail.

"Swoosh swoosh..." As expected, just when Fang Qiu walked more than ten meters away, suddenly, ten people appeared on both sides, coming out from the bushes and trees all around. They rushed to Fang Qiu from all directions.

He looked around.

Each of the ten people had a sharp blade in their hands, and they all stabbed toward Fang Qiu fiercely together.

"Ha-ha, you can't hold it in anymore?" Seeing ten people suddenly appear, Fang Qiu grinned. He moved his feet, flashed out, and disappeared in front of them in an instant.

The ten people were stunned.

Before they could take back their hands and turn around in shock, they suddenly heard a sudden sound of beating.

“Bang!” With the sound of the beating, one of them who was about to rush forward was instantly thrown away.

Then there came the second and the third ones.

In the blink of an eye, the ten people who rushed up were all knocked away before they landed.

Fang Qiu showed no mercy.

These guys had set up a trap that could almost kill him at the beginning and continued to snipe him ruthlessly. If they were beaten now, it would be regarded as revenge.

However, Fang Qiu didn’t make them too painful either.

At the same time as he knocked down these people, Fang Qiu quickly pressed them on their necks, making them pass out before they fell to the ground.

On the commanding height over a small mountain not far away, a commander who was ranked as vice-captain couldn’t help but be shocked as he saw this scene through the sniper camera.

“Everyone listen up! Listen to me carefully. The enemy reaches the highest level of danger, so we must do everything possible to defeat him!” The vice-captain gave an order as he turned on the microphone.

Before this mission began, they had already received this order. Their superiors had told them that they would be lucky enough if they could hurt Fang Qiu. When they heard that, they were still not convinced.

After all, their team had a hundred people in total.

One hundred people versus one. It would be a great blessing to be able to injure him.

How was that possible?

Therefore, in order to show their strength, they had prepared early and decided to catch Fang Qiu no matter what it took. Even if Fang Qiu was really too strong for them to catch, then they must hurt him.

But now, seeing this scene in front of them, they were all dumbfounded.

Only then did they realize that their superiors didn't look down on them at all.

On the contrary, they had great faith in them.

After all, this man could even avoid a bullet of a sniper rifle. He was a super expert who could destroy a ten-person squad in an instant!

"You're too weak, aren't you?" Ten people were knocked out.

Fang Qiu curled his lips and said with a bored face, "Who attacked me with a sniper rifle just now? Give me another shot!"

In the end, no one responded at all.

There was no gunshot.

But everyone who heard these words was furious. They all felt that Fang Qiu was too arrogant.

How dare he say that they were weak!

Although Fang Qiu had already defeated a small team, it was only a small team. There were still nine other teams left. They wouldn't believe that they couldn't hurt Fang Qiu in the following battles!

"I'm just standing here and let you attack me. You don't even dare to hit me even though you have the guns in your hands?" Fang Qiu continued to laugh and mock them.

However, still, no one answered.

"The willpower of a soldier is indeed incredible," Fang Qiu exclaimed secretly.

In fact, he just wanted to provoke them and make these soldiers unable to bear it so that they could reveal their flaws.

Last time, he didn't pay much attention.

And this time, once the sniper really shot him, he could immediately locate the sniper based on the gunshot.

However, these soldiers of special forces didn't take the bait at all.

"If no one responds, I'm going to leave now," Fang Qiu said.

Seeing that there was still no response, he could only continue to move forward.

On a mountain in the distance, the vice-captain quietly got up, packed up his weapons, carefully hid his body, and began to move.

"Team Two, get prepared!" As the team was in place and hid, the vice-captain whispered, "The enemy has entered the scope. Aim at him and stand by immediately."

"Yes." The responses of nine soldiers came from the headset.

"Remember, when I shout, all of you shoot together," the vice-captain ordered.

“This... won’t kill him, will it?” One of the soldiers doubted from the headset.

“Yes, even if we don’t aim at the vital parts, but if ten of us shoot together, he will be disabled even though he won’t be killed, right?” another soldier asked.

Upon hearing that, the vice-captain was also a little worried.

However, he replied, “Do as I say. The superiors have told us that this person can’t be beaten to death or disabled!”

“What?”

“How is this possible?”

“Is he not a human being? How can he not be beaten to death if he is a real human being?”

“Yeah. We each have a sniper rifle in our hands. His body is made of flesh and blood, and he doesn’t even wear a bulletproof vest. As soon as we pull the triggers, his body will be filled with holes.”

“Captain, why don’t we use blanks?”

Hearing the worries of the team members, the vice-captain said after giving it some thought, “Let me ask the superiors.”

Then he changed the radio channel at once.

“Report, report.” In the command room of the base, the voice of the vice-captain sounded.

“This is the command room. This is the command room. Please go ahead.” On the side of the screen wall, a man in a military uniform sitting in front of the command platform immediately replied to the vice-captain.

The vice-captain said, “Report. In order to prevent great damage to the enemy’s life, I request to use blanks. I request to use blanks.”

Upon hearing that, the middle-aged man, who had been standing there and watching the surveillance video and had been shocked many times, immediately came over and said to the microphone on the control panel, “No need, use live ammunition!”

After the vice-captain received a reply, he said to the team, “Listen up.”

After cutting off the connection with the base, the vice-captain immediately transferred to the team channel and said, “We’re demanded to use live ammunition. We should just follow the order. The next thing we need to do is to employ the tactics.

“No. 1, No. 2, the main attacking point is the enemy’s rear position. Please block the enemy’s retreat.

“No. 3, No. 4, lock the right area and attack the enemy’s side leg.

“No. 5, No. 6, lock the left area and cooperate with the attack.

“No. 7, No. 8, assist in the attack.

“No. 9, No. 10, head-on attack, and I’ll assist you from the side.”

The vice-captain asked, “Do you hear me clearly?”

“Yes.” The voices of reply came one after another.

In the command room of the base, “Blanks?”

The commander curled his lips and rolled his eyes.

He had heard of Fang Qiu’s strength for a long time, so he knew that Fang Qiu was very likely to be a guru. He heard that the big incident that happened in Jiangjing was settled by him. From that battle, he was not even afraid of the rocket shell, let alone the bullets.

However, it was reasonable for the soldiers to be worried.

The commander was interested. “I’d like to take a good look at this powerful expert who seems to reach the guru level.”

Although he was not sure whether Fang Qiu was a guru or not, he was positive that Fang Qiu’s strength was at least at the sixth class, and he could even avoid the bullet of a sniper rifle, so why should he worry about Fang Qiu’s life?

Whether these guns could hurt him or not was unknown.

In the forest, the vice-captain aimed at Fang Qiu through the sniper scope. “The enemy has entered the blockade area. All of you, get ready.”

He waited until Fang Qiu reached the center of the blockade area.

He then gave the order, “Fire!”

In an instant, ten sniper rifles fired at the same time.

Gunshots came from all directions.

But at the next moment, everyone was dumbfounded.

When the gunshots rang out, Fang Qiu's figure flashed and he instantly moved to the open space next to him.

Those ten bullets couldn't even touch Fang Qiu, not to mention hurt him.

Medical Master

Chapter 506: This Guy Is Incredibly Powerful!

"Where is he?" As the vice-captain hiding in the distance saw Fang Qiu disappear in an instant, his face changed greatly.

He kept looking around, but he couldn't find a single figure.

"Answer me, where is he?" The vice-captain used the headset to contact his team members.

In the end, there was no sound coming from the headset.

Just a minute ago, there were still lively voices of the team members in the headset, but in the blink of an eye, it was dead silence.

The vice-captain suddenly felt a chill through him.

When the gunshots rang out, Fang Qiu easily sensed the positions of the ten people. Of course, he didn't use mental power. These ordinary special troops weren't powerful enough for him to use his mental power. Fang Qiu could judge the positions of them by detecting the flow of energy in the air.

It would be too boring if he used his mental power. It would have no fun if he could figure out all the positions of the 100 people in an instant.

According to the energy flow in the air, the positions of the ten snipers were quickly determined.

Fang Qiu didn't hesitate at all.

In a flash, he quietly appeared behind the ten people one by one. The ten people didn't even notice before they were directly knocked down by Fang Qiu on their necks and fainted on the spot.

The vice-captain quickly retreated because he was far away from Fang Qiu every time, which made it easier for him to retreat.

After dealing with the ten people, Fang Qiu continued to move forward.

Soon, he arrived at the third blockade area.

At this time, the vice-captain was observing the situation of the entire third blockade area at a commanding height at the edge of the fourth blockade area.

"The third squad, do you copy?" the vice-captain said.

"Copy!" Ten soldiers answered one by one.

Someone asked in the headset, "Cap, how was the situation at the front? Why didn't we hear anything?"

The vice-captain smiled wryly. "The first squad and the second squad were annihilated."

"What?" The faces of the soldiers who were lying in ambush in the third blockade area all changed.

The two teams were annihilated without making a sound.

How, how was this possible?

The vice-captain took a deep breath and said, "Listen to me carefully. Although there is only one enemy, this person is very powerful, and the bullets can do no harm to him. Don't be soft-hearted when attacking, otherwise, you will be the one who will be taken down."

There was a slight silence in the headset.

The vice-captain reminded them, "Just do as we say in the previous tactics. Use centralized sniping, do you copy?"

"Copy!" The responses of the ten people came from the headset.

At this time, a soldier reported as he intentionally lowered his voice, "Report, we've found the target. He's in the direction of 11 o'clock."

Everyone turned to look at the direction as they heard that.

What came into sight was Fang Qiu who was taking a walk leisurely in the forests.

At this moment, Fang Qiu looked fairly comfortable without any sense of nervousness, as if he were enjoying himself in touring around the forests, which made him look extremely relaxed.

The vice-captain ordered in a low voice, "Get ready."

In the third blockade area, the ten snipers got ready right away.

"No. 1 is ready."

"No. 2 is ready."

Listening to the reports coming from the headset one after another, the vice-captain breathed a sigh of relief.

Fang Qiu soon walked to the center of the third blockade area.

"It's here, isn't it?" Fang Qiu stopped and looked around.

He had been calculating along the way.

From the moment he took off the blindfold, he encountered a trap after walking more than 20 meters, and then he was ambushed by 10 people after walking 20 meters further.

Then, he walked more than 100 meters before he encountered the second round of attack.

Based on this distance, Fang Qiu speculated that each team's ambush area was 100 meters, so when he reached 50 meters, he would encounter the first ambush. When he reached 150 meters, he would encounter the second round of ambush.

If things went on like this, the place where they would ambush him in the third round should be 250 meters away.

When Fang Qiu stopped, it was 250 meters away from the initial spot.

On the commanding height of the fourth blockade, the vice-captain narrowed his eyes slightly, opened the whole channel, and said, "He found it! The original plan is canceled. Team Four to Team Ten, gather in the fourth blockade area and wait for orders."

After he finished speaking, he immediately turned on the third team's channel.

The vice-captain sneered. "He may have found out the scope of the blockade area, but even if he did, he wouldn't know our attacking point. If he doesn't move, we'll waste time with him."

They were special forces. It was impossible for Fang Qiu to figure out their tactics of jungle battle.

“Eh?” As expected, after standing at the exact position for a long time without sensing any movement, Fang Qiu arched his eyebrows and asked in surprise, “Am I wrong?”

He turned to look around again.

Without detecting anything abnormal, Fang Qiu continued to move forward.

After walking for about 20 meters, he came to a place where the trees seemed to be quite dense.

“Bang!” All of a sudden, the gunshot rang out.

Fang Qiu dodged quickly.

He heard that there was only one shot this time!

However, just as he was about to hide behind a big tree and rush toward the direction of that gunshot, another gunshot was heard.

“Bang!” Almost in a second, a bullet was shot into the big tree which was as thick as a bucket.

Fang Qiu dodged to the side again.

“Bang!” However, as soon as he moved, another shot rang out.

Before he could even fall to the ground, the bullet aimed at the position where he was about to land.

“Hmm?” Fang Qiu raised his brows. His body which was about to land on the ground stopped forcibly, spun fiercely in the air, and then quickly dodged to the other side.

“Bang!” As a result, another gunshot rang out.

They were giving one shot after another. Every shot was aimed at the position that Fang Qiu was about to land.

Generally speaking, it took a very strong reaction speed for a normal person to change his position so quickly. Without even standing steadily, it was impossible for him to change his position again because there was no way for him to borrow strength.

But for Fang Qiu, it was no big deal at all.

He could easily accomplish it by simply relying on his own strength.

“These are real special forces!” Fang Qiu marveled.

Now, he finally understood how strong the special forces were.

Whether he was right or not, the special forces’ temporary adjustment of tactics was completely beyond his expectation. Moreover, he was now standing in a dense forest. Under normal circumstances, no one would choose to ambush him in this place because there were too many bunkers.

But the special forces of the third team didn’t think so.

Although there were many bunkers, they still found perfect positions among those bunkers and covered the whole area without even leaving a single spot.

It seemed that this was a dense forest, but in the eyes of these special troops, this place was an empty field— a trap that no one could get out once they came in!

What was more, relying on the terrain, the ten snipers could track and even shoot the target in advance.

This kind of tracking and shooting did not give people any chance to survive at all.

Under these circumstances, even if ordinary criminals could dodge once, they would definitely not be able to escape it twice!

Fortunately, their target was Fang Qiu.

Although the special forces had laid a trap like a tight dragnet, as for Fang Qiu, this kind of dragnet was still too weak. After all, he wasn't an ordinary person.

"Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!" He moved extremely fast.

Under the continuous gunfire, Fang Qiu made movements that were against physics and dodged all the bullets that were shot at him effortlessly.

Seeing this, the vice-captain was completely shocked!

"This is a huge killing trap. Anyone who breaks in must die. Countless fierce criminals died in this siege. How could Fang Qiu avoid every bullet so perfectly?"

Compared to the vice-captain, the people who had already fired several shots were even more shocked.

However, those who had not fired their guns yet were expressionless. When they saw Fang Qiu's incredible strength, they didn't show the slightest emotion on their faces because they were soldiers.

In the command room of the base. "Oh my god, this guy is not a human being, is he?"

The commander was so shocked that he pointed at Fang Qiu who appeared on the monitor and turned to look at the person beside him.

All of a sudden, Li Ji had arrived at the command room.

Li Ji said, "I've told you that this guy is exceptionally powerful!"

When he spoke, his face was also full of amazement.

Although he had seen Fang Qiu's performance many times before, when he saw it again, he still couldn't help but be amazed because Fang Qiu's strength was too incredible and scary!

In the forest, ten people had fired their shots.

Fang Qiu didn't give them the chance to shoot in the second round at all. He took a step directly on the ground, flew up to the air more than ten meters high, and instantly got out of the snipers' sight. Then he moved and rushed directly to a hillside not far away.

A sniper was standing right there.

When Fang Qiu arrived, the sniper didn't notice it at all. When Fang Qiu's fingers touched his neck, he had already fainted before he could even react.

Then there came the second, the third one...

The sound of something breaking through the air could be heard in the forest.

Several seconds later, all 10 members of the third squad were knocked down.

The vice-captain who was in the fourth blockade area ran back quickly.

While running, he said to the headset, "The enemy is too strong. The rest of you, get ready for massive killing!"

The vice-captain knew it well.

Judging from Fang Qiu's invincible strength, it was obvious that they couldn't hurt Fang Qiu at all.

Then, the only way to complete this mission was to catch Fang Qiu!

There were so few of them that they were no match for him at all.

Therefore, as he retreated again, he transferred the remaining 70 people to ambush Fang Qiu in the fourth blockade area.

Soon, all the preparations of the ambush were ready, and they were waiting for Fang Qiu to get in.

The vice-captain was a little angry. "I don't believe it's not going to work this time!"

He had completed several tasks, and every time he returned with a successful accomplishment. He had never made any of his team members get hurt. But now, he had suffered a lot in this maneuver!

If this was a real fight, he would have lost thirty of his men.

How could he not be angry?

After taking down another ten people, Fang Qiu continued to move forward leisurely. While walking, he said, "Is this some kind of game of breaking through? Are you going to let me continue to break through until I pass this game?"

Medical Master

Chapter 507: One Versus Seventy!

Fang Qiu said as he walked, "I heard that you were a squadron made up by a hundred people. Now I've knocked down 30 of your men. If each ten of you takes one pass, then I'll have to go through another seven passes before I can finish this mission, right?"

After thinking for a while, Fang Qiu shrugged again and said, "It's too troublesome. Can't you come together?"

As a result, just as he finished speaking, all of a sudden, there was a sound of people standing up. "Swoosh!"

On the ground where no one could be seen previously, a large group of people showed up in an instant. These people, like mushrooms after rain, suddenly appeared from all directions and directly encircled Fang Qiu. Moreover, each of them had a gun in their hands, pointing at Fang Qiu.

"Oh." Fang Qiu was startled.

He didn't expect that these special troops were hiding so well. So many of them were standing next to him, but he didn't notice them at all.

"You're surrounded!" A voice came from the crowd. The man standing in front of Fang Qiu pointed directly at Fang Qiu's forehead with a gun.

At the same time, there were some noises coming from above.

Fang Qiu looked up and found that not only people around him but also a few people hanging on the branches were pointing at his head with guns. He was completely surrounded by the army and air force.

The vice-captain said to Fang Qiu as he walked into the crowd, "You'd better surrender."

Although it seemed to be a huge battle, he was speechless deep inside.

They were special troops, who were the elites among all the soldiers. They were trained to fight against the crowd with only one person. They were always proud of defeating the whole crowd with only one soldier.

However, this time, not only could they not fight against a group of people, but they also bullied one man altogether, which made him rather speechless.

In the crowd, aimed by countless guns, Fang Qiu didn't feel nervous at all. Instead, when he heard the vice-captain's words, he smiled calmly and asked, "Do you think you can make me surrender by this?"

"You've been surrounded. You won't be able to escape..." the vice-captain said.

However, before he had finished his words, a gust of wind blew suddenly. Fang Qiu, who was standing in front of him, suddenly disappeared.

He was gone!

This scene stunned the seventy people around.

"How is this possible?" Everyone panicked.

It was an actual tight dragnet. In this case, how could Fang Qiu escape?

But he just ran away anyway!

All of a sudden, a scream rang out. "In the sky!"

Everyone looked up.

They saw that Fang Qiu was falling rapidly from the sky and rushing straight into the crowd. He was like a ghost, moving fast in the crowd. Every time he stopped at a spot, someone would faint and fall to the ground.

“Spread out!” the vice-captain shouted.

Everyone scattered in panic.

But even so, Fang Qiu was still moving at a fast speed, constantly knocking people out.

Within one minute, seventy people fell to the ground!

In the end, Fang Qiu appeared in front of the vice-captain again and said with a smile, “You’re the last one.”

After Fang Qiu finished speaking, the vice-captain was hit by Fang Qiu before he could even react. His eyes went black and he passed out and fell directly to the ground.

Clapping his hands, Fang Qiu turned his head, smiled at the camera on the tree branch, and continued to move forward.

In the command room of the base, Li Ji and the commander standing in front of the screen wall were completely stunned by what they saw just now.

The two of them just looked straight at the screen without saying anything.

“He’s, he’s too powerful.” After a long while, the commander uttered in shock. Then he turned to look at Li Ji with worry, asking, “How many people like this are there in the whole country?”

Li Ji answered, “Not many.”

Only then did the commander let out a sigh of relief.

Because what Fang Qiu showed them was invincible capacity, which was almost at the level of a human-shaped nuclear bomb. It would be fine if there were fewer people like him in the country. But if there were many people like him, it would be a huge threat to national security.

Fang Qiu soon came to the base.

After seeing the position of Fang Qiu through the surveillance video, the commander and Li Ji took a look at each other and immediately walked out of the command room to greet Fang Qiu.

“Senior, you’re finally here.” Seeing Fang Qiu, Li Ji quickly greeted him with a grin and applauded with the commander.

“It seems that I’m not fast enough,” Fang Qiu replied with a smile.

Li Ji gave a wry smile and replied quickly, “No, no... That’s not what I meant.”

At this time, the commander walked forward and asked, “Excuse me, sir, are those soldiers alright?”

Fang Qiu nodded and said, “They’re fine. They will wake up in ten minutes.”

Only by hearing that did the commander let out a sigh of relief.

There were a hundred people. If all of them passed out like that, he was afraid that there would be problems. Even if he asked people to bring all the soldiers back, it would be a lot of trouble.

“Senior, let’s talk inside,” Li Ji said.

“All right.” Fang Qiu nodded and walked all the way into the base under the lead of Li Ji and the commander.

It was a green castle, which was completely hidden in the forest.

Fang Qiu still felt that he was in the jungle even when he entered the castle.

This place was a forest with all kinds of vines and shrubs, among which there were many large, camouflage-colored tents surrounded by creepers.

In the innermost part, there was a two-story building under a very wide tree.

The entire building was painted with camouflage.

Under the lead of Li Ji and the commander, Fang Qiu quickly came to the building, entered the first room, sat down, and chatted with them.

"Pitter-patter..." Ten minutes later, there was a loud sound of footsteps.

"Report." A shout came from outside.

"It's just the right time." The commander looked at the time and found that it did take only ten minutes. He immediately gave Fang Qiu a thumbs up, and then got up and went out.

As the commander looked at the one hundred people who were standing on the empty ground in front of him, his face darkened.

"Humph." A snort showed all his dissatisfaction.

All of the soldiers lowered their heads and looked rather gloomy.

This was the first time they had seen this inhuman power. This kind of power was so horrible that it made Fang Qiu look like a superman.

It was impossible for them to deal with him at all.

“Now you’ve seen it, haven’t you?” Walking in front of the square-shaped formation of a hundred people, the commander shouted with a solemn face, “You now know there is always someone better than you, right?”

“Don’t always think that you are so powerful just because you are a special troop!”

“I’m telling you, in this world, there are a lot of people more powerful than you!”

“After completing a few tasks and making some accomplishments, you feel invincible, don’t you? I admit that you’re doing very well in the face of ordinary enemies, but what about when you’re facing special enemies?”

“I’m very disappointed in your performance today!”

“Very disappointed!”

“Although you were not dealing with an ordinary enemy today, you have been trained so hard for so many years. Do you really have no chance to attack him at all? Have all these years of hard training been wasted in vain?”

Not a single one of the hundred people spoke.

Even though they felt very painful, they still raised their heads and puffed out their chests, listening to the lecture.

“Let me tell you, it was your conceit that made you so miserably defeated!”

The commander continued to reprimand, "Those who are conceited think that they are facing an ordinary person and believe that they can easily win no matter what kind of enemy they are facing!"

"Now, have you won?"

"Where's your pride? Show me!"

Everyone was silent.

The commander was right. They were too arrogant. Otherwise, they could have arranged more sophisticated plans and done better.

If they really did it, maybe they could change the situation of the battle!

Seeing the changes in everyone's expressions, the commander gave a cold snort and said, "Humph. Get lost. Go back to training and reflect on your actions!"

Upon hearing that, the vice-captain stood out and took the soldiers away.

After the lecture, the commander returned to the room.

"Are you done?" Li Ji asked with a smile.

The commander nodded and said, "These ignorant boys should be taught a lesson. Otherwise, they really think that they are standing on top of the world."

Li Ji said, "Well, since they are all back, it's time to talk about our matter."

"All right." The commander nodded and looked at Fang Qiu, saying, "I know that you especially came here for learning the special forces' skills such as lurking, scouting, tracking, and so on. There's no hurry. I'll send someone to elaborate it to you."

Fang Qiu nodded.

The commander said, "But before you start learning, I have a request."

Fang Qiu was stunned. "A request?"

The commander nodded with certainty and said, "That's right! I want you to help improve the strength of our squadron."

Speaking of this, the commander chuckled and continued to say, "To be honest, you are the youngest and the most powerful person I have seen in the past few decades. Since you are able to train yourself so well, then there is definitely a way for you to help me train these young fellas."

Fang Qiu pursed his lips and said, "Actually, they are already very strong. Judging by their performance today, I think that even a sixth-class Martial Superior won't be able to defeat them. And at present, there are only more than 1,000 sixth-class Martial Superiors in Huaxia. It's very impressive that these 100 people can reach this level without the help of kung fu. Moreover, they are special forces. They have to face various criminals, not kung fu practitioners. To deal with people in Wulin, our country must have special people or departments handling this. So I don't think it's necessary for them to accept my training."

Li Ji said, "Senior, you don't have to refuse. We've done you such a big favor. Maybe you should show your gratitude, right?"

Fang Qiu smiled wryly.

Although the time was short, it was good for the country to train these special troops. Moreover, these soldiers had good aptitudes. Furthermore, he came all the way here to study. Since he had to learn something from here, it was fair to leave something here.

"All right then." As he thought of this, Fang Qiu nodded gently. As he agreed, he asked directly, "How many people among these soldiers have practiced martial arts?"

“They’ve all practiced it before.” Li Ji’s eyes lit up and he answered immediately, “It’s just that they haven’t mastered internal force, so they can’t be regarded as martial art practitioners.”

Upon hearing that, Fang Qiu shook his head with a wry smile.

Medical Master

Chapter 508: The Ratings Exceeded 6%!

A hundred people had all learned martial arts.

Fang Qiu smiled wryly.

Fang Qiu thought maybe they had planned this for a long time and just waited for him to say yes.

Otherwise, how could there be such a coincidence that everyone had learned martial arts before?

Li Ji asked, “What do you think?”

Fang Qiu thought for a moment and said, “Okay. I’ll try my best to make them all become martial arts practitioners. Although they have a lot of room for improvement, the time is limited. It may be easier for them to become martial arts practitioners.”

Li Ji was surprised. “Really?”

Fang Qiu nodded and said, “Yes. Although it’s very likely to help them directly improve to the Martial Superior Level, it’s too troublesome and time-consuming to do it. They can only rely on themselves to advance after becoming martial arts practitioners.”

Li Ji asked again in surprise, “Are you talking about helping every one of them? Can this really work?”

Fang Qiu nodded and said, “Yes. It’s easier to let them become martial arts practitioners than to let Chen Cong become one. Because these one hundred people have all experienced life and death battles. Each of them is very good at controlling their bodies. I just need to teach them how to turn the strength in their muscles into internal force. This is relatively simple.”

Upon hearing that, Li Ji and the commander were both pleasantly surprised.

Indeed, this was a plan that they had prepared a long time ago.

When Li Ji heard that Fang Qiu requested to learn the scouting, tracking, and other skills of the special forces, he reported it to the superiors. The authority soon approved, but they needed to ask Fang Qiu to leave something for them. The most direct thing was to train the soldiers.

Therefore, Li Ji chose the special forces base in Nanjiang.

All the special troops here had learned martial arts because they were in a remote place and often dealt with criminals. A large number of them were outstanding talents selected from the police force.

If it hadn’t been for the purpose that Fang Qiu needed to train these soldiers, Li Ji wouldn’t have let Fang Qiu come all the way to the border of Nanjiang. He could teach Fang Qiu the skills in Jiangjing or even find a coach of special forces to teach Fang Qiu one-on-one.

In fact, Li Ji and the commander had always thought that as long as Fang Qiu could train ten soldiers to become martial arts practitioners, it would be a blessing for them.

However, what they didn’t expect was Fang Qiu actually said that he wanted to train all of them into martial arts practitioners!

How could Li Ji and the commander not be surprised?

The commander excitedly grabbed Fang Qiu’s hand and asked, “Great, that’s great! When shall we start training?”

Fang Qiu stood up and said, "Let's start now. It's time for them to work with renewed vigor and determination. It will be easier to train them when they are suffering from low morale."

The commander was very excited and said, "Very well. I'll arrange it right away."

After he finished speaking, the commander immediately left the room.

As the commander looked at the 100 soldiers who were training, his excitement disappeared in an instant, replaced by a solemn look.

Soon, a hundred people gathered together.

After the commander gave some instructions, he immediately took everyone out of the base and went deep into the forest, including Fang Qiu.

The training started right away.

One day later, it was 8:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The sixth episode of the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor was officially broadcast on Channel 3 of Central Television.

Because of the short preview released a week in advance, it caused a huge heat of discussion. Before the show started, countless people were waiting in front of the TV and computers, waiting to watch this episode.

People had been wondering for a long time whether Fang Qiu would accept Yang Bo's challenge.

Had Fang Qiu cured the patient that Yang Bo had brought?

There were all sorts of questions.

Finally, it was completely unveiled on the show this time.

As expected, it was all about Fang Qiu in this episode.

Everyone watched it very carefully. The scene that Yang Bo broke into the broadcast studio made them furious for no reason.

Later, when Yang Bo called out to Fang Qiu, everyone suddenly became nervous.

When they saw the three judges take the initiative to stand up and take the responsibility, all the people who were watching the show couldn't help but praise them.

"This is the backbone of Chinese Medicine practitioners!"

"They live up to the reputation as experienced Chinese Medicine doctors. They are so courageous."

However, just as everyone kept praising the three judges, they saw Yang Bo actually refuse to take the prescription written jointly by the judges!

This made everyone who was watching the show furious.

"Yang Bo is simply too shameless."

"Yes, the prescription has been written and it was guaranteed that his patient could be cured by taking the medicine, but he still refused to admit it?"

"He's such a dirty dog. I'll get angry every time I see his face!"

Just when everyone was angry, the picture on the TV changed.

Yang Bo turned his head directly and targeted at Fang Qiu again.

The key was that he was right.

It only took Fang Qiu two days to cure Yang Ningyuan. Indeed, it was different from what the three judges said that the patient could only be cured in one to three months.

At this point, everyone was worried about Fang Qiu.

Even the prescription written jointly by three highly-skilled doctors required one or three months. Fang Qiu was just a freshman who had just learned Chinese Medicine for a year. How could he cure Yang Ningyuan in two days?

Some busybodies directly launched the topic of “Fang Qiu Hying” on the Internet, saying that Fang Qiu was actually using Yang Ningyuan to hype himself, and even suspected that Yang Ningyuan’s illness was fake.

Unfortunately, no one paid any attention to this stupid topic, so it ended without any response.

At the same time, Fang Qiu also accepted Yang Bo’s challenge.

Everyone also saw the whole story through TV.

But Fang Qiu’s treatment didn’t make public, which had made a lot of people angry.

Eventually, when the PD who followed the patient to the hospital called back to inform everyone that the patient was cured, everyone in front of the TV was amazed!

They didn’t expect that Fang Qiu actually cured him!

This was too awesome!

The video was played out the moment the hospital showed the results of the examination, which was changed into a basic view, including the stunned Yang Bo, the ecstatic patient, and the doctor who was too shocked to speak for a long time.

There was no doubt that this scene greatly shocked every audience.

This kind of shock could not be concealed!

After watching the show, there was immediately a wave of discussion on the Internet.

“Fang Qiu is so awesome! He could cure it in such a short time.”

“That’s crazy. How did Fang Qiu do it?”

“It’s so awesome. The terminal disease is finally not a terminal one!”

“This kind of method needs to be popularized so that all patients can see hope!”

Not just the ordinary audience, the doctors of Western Medicine and Chinese Medicine who had watched the show were also participating in the discussion.

“Is Chinese Medicine really so powerful? How could it cure a person in such a short time? And no surgery was conducted. How did he treat the patient?”

“There are myriads of changes in the methods of Chinese Medicine. Have you forgotten the Qi that has been proved by Fang Qiu not long ago?”

“If this method really exists, it will be good news for patients!”

“Why don’t they show us the treatment?”

“I strongly demand to reveal Fang Qiu’s treatment!”

Apart from this, some busybodies also commented.

“Fuck, it turns out that Yang Bo was planing on this. He knew that he had no money to cure the disease, so he came to trouble Fang Qiu again and again in order to cure his relative. Yang Ningyuan spent a whole hundred million yuan on treating his disease. Yang Bo cured his relative’ disease without spending a penny. Isn’t that equivalent to making a hundred million for himself?”

“Yes, I didn’t see Fang Qiu asking him for money at all!”

“Money? It’s worth his life, isn’t it? Where can he find 100 million?”

“In my opinion, Fang Qiu is not afraid that he can’t afford it. The main reason is that he has forgotten to ask for money.”

Seeing these comments, many people couldn’t help but smile.

This angle of analysis was quite different.

With the heated discussion on the Internet, the ratings of the show were out early in the morning.

The moment Director Li Huawen got the ratings report, he nearly fell down on his chair with his knees buckled.

He took a closer look and found that the first place was still the Young Chinese Medicine Doctor.

In that period of time, the total number of the ratings reached an amazing level—6%.

“Exceeded 6%? I didn’t expect it could exceed 6%!”

Li Huawenzhi would never have thought that this show would reach such an incredible level.

It should be known that such horrible ratings had never been seen in the variety shows!

At this moment, Li Huawen was so excited that he was about to go crazy.

At the same time, many advertisers also called the program group one after another and asked if they could add an advertisement on the show.

What was more, it even caused a lot of enterprises to compete wildly for the advertisements for the next season.

On Weibo, there were also countless people mentioned Fang Qiu.

Some of them asked Fang Qiu to help with their treatment, others asked him to announce his treatment. There were also those who wanted to buy treatment methods from Fang Qiu and prepare for patent application.

There were all kinds of people.

In fact, even Li Huawen had received a phone call from a senior official of the Ministry of Health, who hoped that he could ask Fang Qiu to reveal the treatment method.

Li Huawen called Fang Qiu dozens of times but couldn’t get through. He had no choice but to contact Jiang Miaoyu.

However, according to Jiang Miaoyu, Fang Qiu was not at school and she couldn't get in touch with him either.

In fact, Jiang Miaoyu was also rather helpless.

However, she was already used to Fang Qiu's coming and going without a trace.

Not only did people who wanted to contact Fang Qiu failed to reach him, but those who mentioned Fang Qiu on Weibo also didn't receive any response from Fang Qiu. They didn't get any private messages from him and there was no update on Fang Qiu's Weibo.

The students of the University of Jiangjing Chinese Medicine also said online that they had not seen Fang Qiu on campus for several days, and Fang Qiu seemed to have disappeared like the last time!

As people got the news that Fang Qiu had disappeared, their enthusiasm was still not reduced. They kept mentioning Fang Qiu on Weibo, and those who sent private messages still sent a private message to him every day. They were still discussing what they should discuss. And the topic was still a hit.

Although there seemed to be nothing special, everyone knew that they were all waiting for Fang Qiu's appearance and waiting for him to come back!

In Nanjiang, Fang Qiu finally came out of the jungle after going deep into the mountain for two days.

Next to him was the drill master who had been training the squadron of special forces for many years.

Walking beside Fang Qiu, the drill master looked at Fang Qiu in disbelief.

He didn't expect that Fang Qiu had learned all the things he had taught. Moreover, he also found that Fang Qiu's learning ability was so incredible that he was even better than him!

Medical Master

Chapter 509: Help A Hundred People Improve Their Strength!

After walking in the forest for a while, Fang Qiu and the drill master came to the gathering place where a hundred soldiers of the special force were.

It was a rare empty spot deep in the mountains.

As soon as they arrived, the drill master shouted loudly, "Assemble!"

"Swoosh swoosh swoosh..."

Just as he finished speaking, many figures in the jungle rushed out from all directions at a speed that was several times faster than the time when they besieged and attacked Fang Qiu before.

In the blink of an eye, one hundred special troops had assembled.

"That's not bad." Looking at these people, Fang Qiu nodded with satisfaction.

In the past two days, in addition to learning the skills of special forces from the drill master, Fang Qiu had been teaching these people Obvious Strength.

He told them how to train and enhance their physical strength, speed, and other strengths from all aspects.

In just two days, the results were beyond the soldiers' expectations. The drill master was also shocked. He had trained them so hard for such a long time, but this team had merely improved a little. But now, Fang Qiu only spent two days and actually had such a training effect that was even better than that of two months of training, which was far beyond his expectation.

Although it could be seen that the drill master was shocked, as for Fang Qiu, the training was not over yet because none of them was a martial arts practitioner.

What he had to do now was to let these people all break through and become martial arts practitioners!

Standing in front of the 100 people, Fang Qiu shouted, "Do you want to improve your strength?"

The 100 people shouted in unison, "Yes!"

Fang Qiu nodded with satisfaction and said, "Very well. If you want to improve, you should attack me from now on and don't stop until I give the order!"

Upon hearing that, everyone was stunned.

The 100 soldiers looked at each other in confusion.

They had seen trainers bring up various kinds of requests to torture them, but they had never seen this kind of training method.

"This is simply a benefit!"

Although everyone felt that it was impossible to hit Fang Qiu, it was much better than their daily training.

"Let's begin!" Fang Qiu shouted in a deep voice.

At first, the 100 people were a little hesitant, but when they looked at each other, they all stepped forward hesitantly and surrounded Fang Qiu.

The drill master also took the opportunity and quickly retreated.

Fang Qiu glanced at everyone and said, "Let's do it."

Everyone was still hesitant.

"I told you to do it!" Fang Qiu shouted coldly.

"Let's fight!"

Upon hearing that, with a loud shout, one of them first waved his fist, rushed up quickly, and punched towards Fang Qiu's head.

Seeing this, the others didn't hesitate anymore. They immediately rushed forward and fought against Fang Qiu in groups.

"Ha-ha." Fang Qiu stood in the same place and quickly waved his hands to fight back.

In his eyes, these people were too weak in both strength and speed. It felt like a hundred ants punching an elephant.

In the face of these people, Fang Qiu didn't even move his feet.

If one rushed up, he would immediately fall down, and if another rushed up, he would fall down in an instant.

In this way, there were more than a dozen people falling around Fang Qiu in a short while,

The soldiers were stunned. They all stopped and stared at Fang Qiu with vigilance as if they were looking for another way to attack Fang Qiu.

"I'll say it one last time. If you want to improve your strength, then attack me. Keep beating me, don't stop!"

Upon hearing that, those soldiers who fell to the ground suddenly roared and stood up, waving their fists to attack Fang Qiu once again.

The others also got furious.

They didn't care whether they could beat Fang Qiu or not. All of them ran up and punched on Fang Qiu's body.

In the end, Fang Qiu didn't move a single step, but the one hundred people kept falling down, and then they got up and continued to fight. They just literally did as Fang Qiu said.

Nobody knew how long they had been fighting.

Almost all of them had run out of their strength.

All of them were soaked in sweat.

They all lay on the ground as if they didn't even have the strength to stand up.

This was the most fierce battle they had ever encountered. They had fought so hard that they all lost their strength and fell to the ground. However, they didn't even manage to touch Fang Qiu's clothes.

This group of soldiers was in despair.

Looking at the soldiers lying on the ground, Fang Qiu said coldly, "What's wrong? Are you Huaxia's special troops? Is this your morale? You can't even stand up after you beat people? You cowards!"

"I'm not a coward!" a man roared, turned over, and struggled to stand up.

"We are not cowards. We are soldiers!" Another person stood up.

Fang Qiu sneered and said, "Soldiers? Then prove it to me with your actions. The soldiers I know will never stop, and they will never stop even though they are desperate!"

As if stimulated by Fang Qiu's words, everyone got up one after another.

One by one, they waved their fists again and struck towards Fang Qiu.

In fact, this was what Fang Qiu wanted. He knew that at this time, these soldiers had used up their Obvious Strength. It was also at this time that they could actually use their Inward Strength.

It was just like in daily life, the flashlight would not be used at home. Because of the existence of electric lights, it was not necessary to use it.

By the time the electricity was off, the flashlight began to work.

For this group of people, Obvious Strength was like a light bulb, while Inward Strength was like a flashlight. If the Obvious Strength didn't disappear, their Inward Strength would never come out!

Although they became quite slow and each punch was very weak, as they heard Fang Qiu's sarcasm, they still slammed their fists with all their strength, almost bursting out all the strength in their bodies.

Fang Qiu took another round of punches. The soldiers were knocked down again by Fang Qiu.

However, when they fell to the ground and wanted to rest for a second, their bodies were out of control, which made them continue to stand up and fight.

Many people were shocked as they got this feeling.

"Hmm?" They stood up and looked at each other, clenching their fists.

At this time, they felt that there was a more powerful force in their bodies, which was even stronger than the one they had before.

The exhaustion of fighting for a long time disappeared in an instant.

It was replaced by surprise and excitement!

They made a breakthrough!

The battle continued.

Regardless of whether they had made a breakthrough or not, the soldiers were still madly attacking Fang Qiu.

Those who had not broken through and were really powerless saw that their members acquired a new force. They instantly gritted their teeth and roared, continuing to support themselves to get up from the ground and to strike.

In this way, the angry roars were heard one after another.

There were more and more people who succeeded in breaking through and becoming martial arts practitioners.

Half an hour later.

With the breakthrough of the last soldier, Fang Qiu finally nodded with a smile and said, "Very well, the training is over!"

At this moment, all of the soldiers were full of surprise and joy.

All of them were extremely excited.

Having completed his goal, Fang Qiu was also pleased.

He then went straight back to the base with all the people.

The commander and Li Ji had received the news in advance. They were waiting at the gate of the base.

Seeing Fang Qiu come back with a hundred people and knowing that all of them had made a breakthrough and become martial arts practitioners, Li Ji and the commander were dumbfounded.

A hundred people all had made a breakthrough in two days!

How was that possible?

For a moment, the way they looked at Fang Qiu changed.

Of course, they were not the only ones.

The way the 100 soldiers looked at Fang Qiu changed, too. They looked at Fang Qiu with a little bit of hatred before and now with complete admiration. They didn't even have the slightest disrespect for Fang Qiu.

In their eyes, Fang Qiu was almost invincible.

Before the breakthrough, Fang Qiu hit them as easily as pinching ants.

After the breakthrough, their strength and speed had been greatly improved, but even so, they were still like ants in front of Fang Qiu. They couldn't even touch the corner of Fang Qiu's clothes.

After the breakthrough, they also finally realized what kind of monster this young man in front of them was.

Back to the base, the soldiers continued to train under the guidance of the drill master.

As for Fang Qiu, he came to the room with Li Ji and the commander.

As soon as he entered the door, Fang Qiu looked at Li Ji and said, "I've already learned what I should learn, and I've also taught what I should teach. Now, tell me the specific address of that force. I'll set off now. This time, I won't let them run away again!"

Li Ji nodded and handed Fang Qiu a folder directly, saying, "Okay. All the things you want are in it."

Fang Qiu opened the folder and took a look.

There was a map, a stack of photos, on which there were all kinds of detailed information.

Fang Qiu then said, "Make arrangements. I'll go now."

Li Ji was taken aback and asked, "You're leaving right now? You've just finished learning and training, aren't you planning to take a break?"

Fang Qiu shook his head. "No need."

Li Ji smiled wryly and said, "Even if you don't have to, it takes time for us to prepare the plane. You know that this place is very secret. Under normal circumstances, the soldiers here rarely contact the outside world. I'll apply to the higher-ups to arrange the plane immediately. I think it'll arrive tomorrow morning. Maybe you can stay here for one night and leave tomorrow."

Fang Qiu nodded and agreed. "Alright."

During the day...

Fang Qiu entered the deep forest alone and used Divine Consciousness to see if there was any Heaven or Earth Treasure around him. As a result, he did not find any after more than an hour of searching.

“In theory, the deep forest of Nanjiang should be a place where Heaven and Earth Treasures tend to grow. How could there be no treasure?”

Fang Qiu was speechless.

However, he naturally knew that Heaven and Earth Treasures were rare. It was lucky to meet one once in a while. What was more, this was the border. Although it seemed to be uninhabited, in fact, all kinds of criminals were hidden in these mountains. Under the calm on the surface, there were stormy waves.

The most important thing was that the battles on the border had never stopped.

There must be blood if there was a fight.

Ordinary people didn't understand the blood on the border. Only when they really arrived there and smelled the smell of blood in the fresh air would they understand what was a real ambush place and what was the hell in the present world!

Because of the year-long bloody surroundings, it seemed normal for there to be no Heaven or Earth Treasure in the deep mountains.

After a moment of searching, there was nothing to be found.

Fang Qiu returned to the base.

After having dinner with everyone in the evening, Fang Qiu went back to the room that the commander specially arranged for him for cultivation. As soon as he closed his eyes, there was a sound outside the door.

Medical Master

Chapter 510: Horrifying Combat Capability

“Dong, dong, dong...”

There was a knock at the door.

“Who is it?” Fang Qiu asked.

“Commander asked me to come and get you over.”

A soldier’s voice came from outside the door.

Fang Qiu got up and opened the door.

Looking at the soldier at the door, he asked, “What does he want with me?”

The soldier shook his head and replied, “I don’t know.”

At this point, Fang Qiu saw several bonfires in the base, with lots of people around each one.

“Who are those people?” he inquired, pointing to the people around the bonfires.

“They’re members of the second squadron,” the soldier replied.

“They just came back from a mission.”

“Oh?”

Fang Qiu nodded his head with understanding.

Then, led by the soldier, he walked all the way to a bonfire not far away.

“Here you are,” the commander greeted him with a smile as soon as he saw Fang Qiu.

“You lit bonfires in the forest?”

Fang Qiu pointed at the bonfires and said, “Even if there’s no danger, it’s easy to get others’ attention. Wouldn’t that give away the base?”

“This is the border.”

The commander shook his head and said, “You really don’t know the border.”

“What do you mean?” Fang Qiu asked curiously.

“The forest is very dense on both sides of the border. Normally, the smoke doesn’t rise as high as people can see. Only people within a kilometer can notice it.”

Then, the commander smiled and added, “Besides, there are many ‘ghosts’ hidden in the deep mountains and wild forests; some of them hide for more than 10 days at a time. They usually don’t have enough food, so they have to hunt animals and cook them on fire. Over time, a bonfire in the forest, though alerting the criminals, is not much of a deterrent.

“Last but not least, the second squadron has just returned from a mission, so there are absolutely no others within 10 kilometers of this place tonight.”

Hearing his words, Fang Qiu nodded his head.

He understood.

“Of course, it’s a big risk to start a fire here, but this is only a temporary training base for us and we will leave in a few days. So to celebrate the success of the second squadron, we made an exception and lit the fire,” the commander explained.

“I see.”

Fang Qiu nodded again.

“What’s so terrible about lighting bonfires?”

Li Ji came over and said, “Our Huaxia’s soldiers are upstanding. Why should we be afraid of others?”

“That’s a good point.”

The commander laughed while nodding.

Fang Qiu burst into laughter, too.

It felt good to be with these soldiers.

“By the way,” Fang Qiu asked the commander, “what did you want to see me about?”

The commander grinned and said, “The second squadron is back, and they’ve done a great job. Not a single man is hurt. It will inevitably lead to a rise in their pride. I’m afraid...”

“Well?”

Fang Qiu paused.

The commander clearly wanted him to take the edge off the second squadron's spirit.

"Look, why don't you do it again?" the commander said with a smirk.

"No need."

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "It's not appropriate for me to do it. After all, they have just won. Of course, it is better to let their comrades crush their spirit."

At his words, the commander and Li Ji laughed at the same time.

"That's what we thought. In fact, we asked you to come here just to hear your opinion, and to have a look," Li Ji said.

"Then let them get started."

Fang Qiu smiled, walked over to the bonfire next to them, and sat down.

"Yeah, get started," Li Ji said, sitting down next to Fang Qiu.

"Good."

The commander let out a laugh and went straight over.

"Stand up!"

With a deep voice, the throng of people around the bonfires immediately rose to their feet.

There were 200 people around the 10 bonfires.

The moment everyone stood up, the flames danced.

“First of all, I want to commend the second squadron for their successful completion of the superior’s instructions and objectives.”

With that, the commander clapped his hands.

Everyone clapped, too.

A moment later, the commander raised his hand to stop everyone from applauding.

“Next, in order to raise everyone’s enthusiasm and create a good atmosphere, I decided to choose a team respectively from the first and the second squadron to compete with each other.”

His words caused everyone present to shout excitedly at once.

This kind of team competition was common in the base.

After all, they could improve in competitions.

In each match, the members of both teams would try their best to give full play to their strengths.

“The vice-captains of the first and second squadron,” the commander called.

“Yes.”

Two men ran out.

"It's up to the two of you to decide which squads to take part in the match," the commander said with a smile, and then backed away.

Suddenly, the two vice-captains became the hosts.

"Okay, which squad are you going to pick?"

As his squadron had just returned from a successful mission, the vice-captain of the second squadron was the first to question his opponent with a triumphant look on his face.

"How about I leave it up to you?"

The vice-captain of the first squadron beamed and said, "How about you choose a squad from your squadron, as well as one from ours?"

"Okay, let the best squads of the two squadrons fight with each other."

The vice-captain of the second squadron smirked and said, "We are sending the first squad, and your first squad will also come out!"

At his words, the first squad of the two sides, each with 10 men, stepped out.

The 10 members of the first squad of the second squadron were all ready and confident.

The 10 members of the first squad of the first squadron looked at each other and grinned.

Then the competition began.

The 20 soldiers bumped one-on-one.

It used to be a match where they had to fight until there was only one person standing, but this time it was different.

Within three minutes, the men of the first squad of the second squadron were all knocked to the ground.

The 10 men of the first squad of the first squadron not only did not fall but still stood in a row, looking at the 10 men on the ground with a playful face.

Seeing this, everyone present was surprised, including all the members of the first squadron, who had no idea that their team had been so powerful.

After all, they had been neck and neck with the second squadron before, but now they beat the second squadron easily.

Their improvement was simply too great.

For a moment, all the members of the first squadron couldn't help but look at Fang Qiu with respect.

On the other hand, the eyes of the vice-captain of the second squadron widened with shock. He stared at the scene in disbelief.

"What is this? What happened to your people? Why are you so fierce?"

The vice-captain of the first squadron instantly burst into laughter. The rest of the first squadron laughed too.

"This round doesn't count. Another round!" shouted the vice-captain of the second squadron.

"All right."

The vice-captain of the first squadron nodded without fear.

Once again, the vice-captain of the second squadron selected the squads.

However, the result was the same as that of the first match.

Soon the men of the second squadron were knocked to the ground again.

The second squadron was even more surprised.

At this time, the vice-captain of the first squadron stood up, wearing a proud face, and pointed at the vice-captain of the second squadron, saying, "Ask all your people to fight with us. We can defeat all of you with three squads!"

"Don't brag!"

The vice-captain of the second squadron was furious.

His soldiers were even angrier than him.

They had won most of the previous matches, so they had never been so humiliated.

"If you don't believe me, why don't you have a try?" said the vice-captain of the first squadron.

"Don't you regret it," snapped the vice-captain of the second squadron.

"Don't worry, I won't regret it."

The vice-captain of the first squadron laughed.

“Good.”

The vice-captain of the second squadron shouted, “Guys, come on!”

Then, the two squadrons had a group scuffle.

The commander and the drill master didn’t stop them but watched with interest.

“You’re going to let them fight like this?” Fang Qiu asked.

“Where there is a competition, there is improvement. They improve in competitions and co-exist in improvement,” the commander said with a smile.

“But it’s absurd, isn’t it?”

Watching a group fight involving 130 people in front of him, Fang Qiu felt excited, but he also thought it was inappropriate.

“What are you worried about? No one else will see it,” the commander said, shaking his head.

“I finally understand why ex-soldiers are so rampant in society.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and smiled ruefully.

“That’s none of our business.”

The commander quickly distanced himself from that and said, “We belong to the special forces. This is training, which will deepen their friendship. My ex-soldiers will never do such a thing.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and chuckled.

By this time, the match was drawing to a close.

With careful observation, the 30 men of the first squadron actually knocked down all the 100 men in the second squadron.

This scene scared even the drill master who had been sitting by.

30 men beat 100 men!

The strength of the first squadron increased more than three times!

The drill master took one look at the battlefield and then turned his head in utter shock to look at Fang Qiu. There was an unmistakable shock in his eyes.

A moment later, the soldiers of the first squadron came forward and pulled the men of the second squadron to their feet.

"It's weird."

The vice-captain of the second squadron put his arm around the shoulder of the vice-captain of the first squadron and asked, "What's the matter? You guys weren't that strong before. How did you get so powerful so quickly?"

Then the men of the second squadron knew that a master had come to the base.

Without further explanation, the vice-captain of the second squadron immediately ran up to Fang Qiu with the whole squadron and begged him to help them improve.

Facing their request, Fang Qiu looked at the commander beside him in surprise but saw the commander smirking at him.

“Damn it!”

Cursing in his heart, Fang Qiu found that he was in a trap again.

He really thought the commander had invited him over just to watch the two squadrons’ competition. It turned out that the commander had set a trap. Eventually, he was asked to train the second squadron.

Actually, Fang Qiu wanted to say no, but he felt bad about it.

Helplessly, he could only say that it was too late for practice because he had to leave early the next morning. Then he went back to his room.

However, the next morning when Fang Qiu got up for his morning exercise, he found all the soldiers of the second squadron standing in front of his door in unison.

This situation left Fang Qiu stunned.
