

Chapter 48

Simple Xialong frowned in displeasure, and Jia Jingrong quickly consoled him, "Don't be angry, your sister didn't know better before, but she won't bully you anymore. Quick, look at the toy mom brought you?"

Xialong heard this, and immediately abandoned his intention to go against Simple Laoxin. He turned around and hugged the skateboard that the driver had taken down from the car.

"Yay, I didn't expect to have a skateboard to play with again."

Xialong was very happy, while in Simple Laoxin's eyes, a cold glint flashed by.

The group entered the hall of the old mansion, and Simple Laoxin immediately saw Yin Sibo sitting in the living room.

Her expression immediately darkened. She didn't expect Simple Menglin and Jia Jingrong to still not give up, thinking she would be interested in this Yin Sibo?

Ha, in this lifetime, even if all the men in the world died out, she would never look at this man!

This man was so disgusting, Simple Laoxin really couldn't stand it anymore. She would definitely seize an opportunity to set him up and see if he still has the face to show up in front of her?

"Sibo, I didn't expect you to come as well, haha, are you here to teach our Xialong piano?" Jia Jingrong said with a fake smile.

Yin Sibo stood up politely, "Uncle, Auntie, Menglin, Laoxin, hello, I was just thinking of leaving, but Grandma Simple insisted on me staying for dinner."

Ever since Simple Laoxin showed no interest in Yin Sibo, Jia Jingrong and Simple Menglin had discussed that perhaps Simple Laoxin was just playing hard to get, so they arranged for Yin Sibo to disappear for a while

However, Yin Sibao was indeed very talented at piano, so Jia Jingrong arranged for him to come here and teach Xiaolong piano.

"This kid Sibao is not bad, let's have him stay for dinner! Menglin ah, come over and let grandma take a look, have you grown taller again?" Grandma Simple said with a smile as she pulled Simple Menglin over, affectionately and happily looking her over.

While Simple Laoxin was neglected to the side.

She didn't mind though, calmly sitting down on the sofa, as the maid served tea and juice. She casually picked up a glass of juice.

Xiaolong nestled beside Jia Jingrong, chattering nonstop, while Simple Laoxin seemed to be excluded, not welcomed at all.

Simple Hong was sitting to the side playing on his phone, with the WeChat interface open, chatting with Zhang Yuchun.

So Simple Hong had also forgotten about Simple Laoxin.

Yin Sibao glanced at Simple Laoxin, seeing her sitting leisurely on the side sipping her juice, her expression indifferent and calm, without a hint of loss.

His heart, however, was touched by this.

At a glance, Yinsi Bo saw that Grandma Jian did not like Jian Luoxin, and he felt a little uncomfortable for her.

He walked over and sat down next to Jian Luoxin.

"Luoxin, have you been doing well these days?"

"Yes, very well." Jian Luoxin gave Yinsi Bo a casual glance, her eyes calm and unaffected by the warmth in his eyes.

Yinsi Bo was not resigned and still smiled, as if to offer all his warmth to Jian Luoxin.

"If you have time, you can invite me to accompany you, because I only come to teach Xiaolong piano in the afternoon, and I'm free in the morning," Yinsi Bo gazed intently at Jian Luoxin and said softly.

"Really? Since you're so free, you can accompany my sister. She likes you a lot," Jian Luoxin said with a casual laugh.

Although disgusted, Jian Luoxin felt it was worth it for her own purpose.

"Luoxin..." Yinsi Bo paused, glancing at Jian Menglin across from them, and said in a lowered voice, "You know, I don't like her. I like you."

Jian Luoxin widened her eyes, "Really, are you telling the truth?"

"Of course!"

"Well then, on my birthday next week, I'll see how you perform." Jian Luoxin let out a light laugh, a mischievous glint in her eyes. Her sweet smile immediately melted Yinsi Bo's heart and soul.

"Okay, I'll definitely perform well!" A radiant smile appeared on Yinsi Bo's face. After all his efforts, Jian Luoxin finally gave him a chance to prove himself!

How wonderful!

Jian Menglin noticed the two whispering to each other and glanced sideways at Yinsi Bo. Seeing his sweet and gentle smile, she felt extremely uncomfortable.

Although he was just pretending, he was acting too convincingly, right?

"Jingrong, I heard you bought an extravagantly priced necklace. You're not a child anymore, how could you be so impulsive?" Grandma Jian said disapprovingly to her daughter-in-law, recalling the recent news.

Jia Jingrong had been her daughter-in-law for over a decade, always pleasing Grandma Jian, but she had recently caused such a stir.

In Grandma Jian's eyes, a necklace worth millions was naturally not worth it.

"Mom, I admit that I was impulsive at the time. I heard that Shaoxin liked it, so I bought it without thinking...' Jia Jingrong deliberately shifted the blame to Jian Shaoxin.

How could Jian Shaoxin let her have her way? When Grandma Jian gave her a cold look, she raised her eyebrows in surprise, 'Mother, didn't I explain it to you and Dad before? Although I liked it, it's only natural. I didn't ask you to make a bid! Moreover, I told you not to bid at that time, but you didn't listen to me!'

Grandma Jian's expression grew even worse. 'Since it's already in the past, forget about it. Mengling, you're not young anymore. Watch your image in public!'

The incident where Jian Mengling assaulted Jian Shaoxin at the charity gala had become a scandal for the Jian family.

Not long ago, when Grandma Jian went out, the neighborhood kids were all talking about this incident.

Grandma Jian had issues with both Jia Jingrong and Jian Mengling because of these two incidents. She couldn't eat or sleep well these days and called her son, but her son said there was nothing going on.

'I understand, Grandma. I was drunk and out of control last time, so...' Jian Mengling awkwardly pursed her lips.

Little did she expect that Grandma would bring up the old matter this time they had a family dinner.

Yin Sibo's heart skipped a beat. He had also seen the news and photos of that incident.

The scene where Jian Mengling slapped Jian Shaoxin - her face was twisted, her expression ferocious, completely lacking the graceful demeanor she usually had.

When Yin Sibo saw those photos back then, he frowned in displeasure, thinking that although Jian Mengling disliked Jian Shaoxin, doing such a thing in public was really too embarrassing.

Now that he recalled those photos again, his favorable impression of Jian Mengling faded even more.

In contrast, the calm young lady sitting next to him, emanating an aura of serene nobility, made Yin Sibo's heart flutter involuntarily.

Jian Shaoxin curved her lips slightly but said nothing more, her eyes like a deep, still lake that no one could fathom.

'Oh, by the way, Grandma, I bought a bracelet for you. Take a look and see if you like it?'

Jian Mengling quickly took out a small brocade box from her bag. Opening it, a jade green jade bracelet was presented before everyone.

The jade bracelet looked quite nice. Although Grandma Jian rarely wore bracelets, she loved jade the most.
