

Chapter 49

Grandma Jian's eyes indeed lit up, and the displeasure on her face instantly disappeared. "Mengling, you naughty child... you've spent money again. At such an old age, why would you buy things like this for me?"

"Grandma, it's just a few tens of thousands yuan. Money is an external object. As long as you like it, I'm willing to buy it! Besides, I earned this money from working, so you don't have to worry about it!" Jian Mengling said with a light laugh. Although she was only seventeen years old, she had secured a few decent modeling gigs due to the Jian family's connections.

Although Jian Mengling had her allowance deducted, she had earned a small fortune from the modeling jobs.

However, a mocking smile flickered in Jian Lao Xin's eyes.

She stood up and went for a stroll outside, while bursts of laughter could be heard from the living room, indicating that they were having a delightful conversation.

Jian Lao Xin returned to the living room, and Jian Xialong looked at her coldly and disdainfully. "How boring. Dad, why did you bring this stinky maid here? She just glared at me!"

Jian Lao Xin opened her little mouth in surprise. "Little brother, what are you talking about? I was clearly looking at the flies on you!"

Her words instantly infuriated the underage Jian Xialong, whose face turned red!

Her words were an insult to him! He said she was glaring at him, but she claimed she was looking at flies on him!

"Mom! Look, she called me a fly again!"

Jian Xialong was usually spoiled at home, so he naturally learned to rely on Jia Jingrong and wanted his mother to stand up for him.

However, this was Grandma Jian's house, and there were outsiders present. How could Jia Jingrong possibly blame Jian Lao Xin?

"Xialong, your sister said she was looking at flies. Don't make a fuss," Jia Jingrong said calmly.

Seeing this, Yin Sibao couldn't help but secretly laugh. This Jian Lao Xin was quite clever. This Jian Xialong was quite annoying. The Jian family had spoiled this young master so much.

Yin Sibao's fondness for Jian Lao Xin increased a few notches.

"Grandma, Jian Lao Xin insulted me!" Seeing that Jia Jingrong didn't stand up for him, the little boy immediately ran to Grandma Jian to complain.

Grandma Jian looked at Jian Lao Xin coldly. "Lao Xin, you're not a child anymore. How can you talk to Xialong like that? You're just like your mother, ungrateful!"

Jian Lao Xin looked at Jian Hong with a wronged expression, but Jian Hong ignored it all, as he was excitedly chatting with Zhang Yuchun.

Jian Lao Xin bit her lip. She hated it when Grandma Jian scolded her like that!

What's wrong with Mommy? It's just that slut Jian Hongliang who had an affair, and she even let Jia Jingrong poison Mommy to death!

'Grandma, it was my fault. By the way, I picked up a small ticket when I was out walking just now. Take a look and see if it's yours!'

Jian Laoxin took out a small ticket from his pocket and handed it to Grandma Jian.

Grandma Jian glared at her, displeased, and took it over. After scanning it, her face changed drastically!

That small ticket was clearly from the Zhen Bao Shopping Mall, and the item on it was a green jade bracelet!

But the price on the ticket only showed three hundred yuan!

Grandma Jian had never bought a jade bracelet, so there was no way she could have this ticket. Then this ticket... must be Jian Menglin's!

She immediately understood that the green jade bracelet Jian Menglin bought was clearly worth only three hundred yuan, but she lied and said it was worth fifty or sixty thousand yuan!

'Grandma, what kind of ticket is it?' Jian Menglin saw her grandmother's face change drastically and felt a little uneasy, because she had already thrown away that ticket. How could Jian Laoxin find that ticket?

Grandma Jian hurriedly stuffed the ticket back into her pocket, 'It's nothing, just a small ticket!'

Jian Menglin was her favorite granddaughter after all. In front of outsiders, she had to save some face.

Beating her granddaughter's face would be like beating her own face!

The Jian family's granddaughters were not well-educated, which was the Jian family's business, and it would be laughed at if it were made public.

Jian Menglin didn't take this to heart, but Grandma Jian's face turned red and white, and the look in her eyes towards Jian Menglin had a few cold undertones.

Jian Laoxin laughed secretly. This Jian Menglin thought she could fool the old lady. After all, the money she earned from the advertising was hard-earned. She was just a student now, with no fame. Getting three or four thousand for a print ad was already very good.

So how could she afford to buy a fifty or sixty thousand yuan bracelet as a gift for her grandmother?

That day after Jian Menglin returned home, she threw the small ticket into the trash can. Jian Laoxin happened to pass by, picked it up and took a look. Seeing that the ticket was for a three hundred yuan jade bracelet, she immediately thought of the upcoming reunion dinner.

So Jian Laoxin kept the small ticket, not expecting it to actually come in handy today!

'Madam, sir and madam, dinner is ready!' The servant's voice rang out, but Grandma Jian showed little interest and walked towards the dining room.

Jia Jingrong noticed this and frowned, puzzled as to how she had offended her mother-in-law.

The atmosphere at dinner was particularly gloomy. Grandma Jian was unusually grim-faced as she ate.

'Mom, what's wrong? You look very unhappy,' Jian Honggang asked with a puzzled look. He had been chatting with Zhang Yuchun on WeChat and had no time to talk to his mother until he noticed her demeanor.

Grandma Jian rolled her eyes and gave Jian Mengling a cold glance, making her feel a chill down her spine.

'I'm not unhappy! Mengling even gave me a bracelet, and I'm very happy! But I hope some people will be sincere and not think they can fool me just because I'm old!' Grandma Jian said coldly. Jian Mengling's face turned red and white, and she unconsciously looked at Jian Luhsin.

However, Jian Luhsin remained calm while eating, as if he hadn't heard Grandma Jian's words.

'Mom, you're right. Mengling is still young. If she did something wrong, I hope you don't get angry and ruin your health,' Jia Jingrong said softly, sensing something was amiss after seeing her daughter's expression. Jian Mengling didn't consult her before giving the bracelet to her grandmother-in-law.

But Jia Jingrong was smart and sensed that something had happened.

Grandma Jian snorted coldly.

Jian Hong thought she was still upset about the previous incident and quickly said with a smile, 'Mom, don't be unhappy. Although Jingrong auctioned off the necklace at an astronomical price, I later listened to Luhsin's advice and gave it to Mrs. Lisa of M Country. That's how the Jian family secured a fifty-billion-dollar contract from their family! So the Jian family will definitely thrive in the future. Mom, cheer up and don't be unhappy over some unnecessary trifles!

Upon hearing this, Grandma Jian's eyes widened. As someone from a poor family, fifty billion was an astronomical figure for her.

Her gaze fell on Jian Luhsin.

'I never thought Luhsin had really grown up and come up with such a brilliant idea!' Grandma Jian couldn't help but smile wholeheartedly, suddenly seeing Jian Luhsin in a positive light.

After all, a fifty-billion-dollar contract! The Jian family's situation was dire, but after securing this contract, their circumstances improved dramatically.

Although Grandma Jian didn't understand business, she knew that a fifty-billion-dollar contract wasn't something easily obtained.
