Chapter 434: It's Time to Show Off My Talent!

"Remember its breathing pattern."

Avent said, word by word.

He did not expect Jason and Aras to learn it immediately.

Because he was well aware that this secret technique was quite difficult.

Yet, just after finishing the explanation, Avent saw Aras scratching his head, and then, the breathing pattern changed.

Aras was visibly there, but his presence in perception was growing fainter and fainter.

"You've mastered it?"

Avent asked in amazement, looking at Aras.

"Not too difficult,"

"Just needed a bit of adjustment to learn it,"

Aras said truthfully.

Talent!

A true talent!

Avent's heart filled with shock as he watched Aras, and just as he was about to praise him, Jason's breath suddenly disappeared.

Gone!

Truly gone!

As if he were dead!

Startled, Avent immediately turned his head to look.

But under his gaze, Jason came back to life.

Then died again the next moment.

"What is this?"

The Sword Saint Avent was taken aback, having never thought he'd witness such a strange phenomenon.

"Jason always does this!"

"Unlike me, Jason has genuine transcendent talent."

"He does not just learn, but also customizes the secret technique according to himself, truly integrating it into his system,"

Aras explained from the sidelines.

How is this possible?!

Avent, listening to such an explanation, subconsciously didn't believe it.

But as the breath on Jason's body changed, he had to admit that Jason did have such talent.

That hidden transition between life and death, with breath so faint yet so unwaveringly changing, told Avent everything.

Everything was real!

Not an illusion!

And it was this reality that truly shocked Avent!

If Aras's talent was one in ten thousand, then Jason was indeed a once-in-a-century unrivaled talent!

Transcendent talent, huh?

Avent silently conceded this point.

And in a place where Avent could not see, in that world where days and nights revolved, the giant with Jason's visage began to rapidly internalize his breath, the dark gold Griffin flapped its wings in utter silence.

Such subtle changes, but these minute adjustments were enough to make Jason even stronger.

[Battle Pattern Breathing Technique, Griffin Body Refinement Technique, Prus Body Refinement Technique, Shadow Concealment Breathing Technique integration assessment in progress...]

[Assessment successful!]

[You have acquired the Battle Pattern-Prus-Griffin-Shadow Concealment Body Forging Technique!]

[Battle Pattern-Prus-Griffin Body Forging Technique (Expert): They were originally independent entities, but with your integration, night blends with dawn, followed by a dazzling sunrise! The emerging restraint makes this unique Body Forging Technique even more transcendent. As its master, you too begin to touch the transcendent. Effect: Strength +1.2, Agility +1.0, Constitution +1.2, Spirit +0.5, Perception +0.5 (Basic, Novice, Proficient, Mastery, Expert +0.1 and Strength, Constitution 'Prus' an additional +0.2, Battle Pattern all attributes +0.5, Shadow Concealment Strength, Agility +0.2, Spirit, Perception +0.1), Physical Strength recovery speed +35%, Energy recovery speed +35%, Injury recovery speed +35%, your entire body is equipped with explosive defense (excluding eyes and other fragile areas, cannot prevent fatal vulnerabilities), in hand-to-hand combat, Strength, Agility, Constitution +0.3; during jumping, Strength, Agility assessments +0.6; underwater, extend breathing time by an additional 80 minutes, Stealth, Invisibility level +4 (even under the light, you will receive a similar modification effect)]

(Note: A special way of cultivation makes it destined to be extraordinary, and it becomes even more unique. The level of Battle Pattern-Prus-Griffin-Shadow Concealment Body Forging Technique cannot exceed that of Protection Against Evil.)

[Determining fundamental changes to Battle Pattern-Prus-Griffin-Shadow Concealment Body Forging Technique, intrinsic Talent changing...]

[Determination passed!]

[Shadow Concealment Charge Skill has merged with the inherent Talents 'Daytime HuntEmbrace of the NightChen Xi Sword']

[Daytime Hunt: Battle Pattern Breathing Technique's unique Talent has merged into your soul; when you are in the daylight or under the sun, you will receive an all attributes +0.2 bonus, and Physical Strength, Energy, and Injury recovery speeds will increase by 5%, and you can expend 10%-100% of your Physical Strength to perform a quick attack with an Agility assessment bonus of +0.1 to +1; when you stand still and charge up for 3 seconds, Strength and Agility further increase by +0.1.]

[Embrace of the Night: A special Talent that came from the combination of Night Watcher and Griffin Body Refinement Technique, its appearance was accidental, and this accident, under your continuous strengthening, is becoming transcendent; when you are also at night, in darkness, within shadows, you will receive a Stealth, Invisibility level +2 enhancement, and Physical Strength, Energy, and Injury recovery speeds will increase by 5%, and you will get additional defense +2 levels against shadows and negative energy erosion, when you stand still and charge up for 3 seconds, an additional level +1 against shadows and negative energy.]

[Chen Xi Sword: A treasure from the shadows of history, you have not only excavated it again but also had the opportunity for an unforeseen experience. After remembering that experience, it has become stronger, and as you continue to strengthen yourself, it has gained further enhancement; during the dawn, you can create a 20-meter-long Chen Xi Sword by charging up for 3 seconds and conduct a slash above the level of warfare vehicles, consuming a vast amount of your Physical Strength; when you stand still and charge up for 3 seconds, the Chen Xi Sword's length increases by +5 meters.]

The synchronization of knowledge, skills, and body is complete.

Jason, standing under the shade of the trees, opened his eyes slightly.

Then, under the watchful eyes of Avent and Aras, he 'vanished' just like that.

No!

He merged into the 'shadows.' Experience more on empire

Avent's eyes narrowed, his hand instinctively gripping the hilt of his sword.

Because the scene before him recalled some extremely tricky opponents—

Assassin Masters!
