

Mia is Not 30

Chapter 30: I Don't Want!

Sarah didn't say a word, but she felt more and more upset. Amelia had just hit Emma. Why didn't they care about Emma? Instead, they wanted to discuss what to do about Amelia's birthday?

"Emma, this is your favorite crab meat." Sarah's heart ached as she picked up some food for Emma. Emma was glaring at Amelia. She did not want Amelia to eat at this table. This table was hers, and this house was hers. What right did Amelia, this illegitimate child, have to be here!

Amelia was also holding a grudge against Emma for almost smashing Seven to death, so she ignored Emma and turned her head to the side. Emma was instantly angry. She threw the rice spoon on the ground and cried loudly! Harper, Lucas, and William rolled their eyes at the same time. It's happening again! She's crying again!

Sarah quickly asked, "What's wrong, Emma? Why are you crying all of a sudden?"

Emma grabbed her rice bowl and smashed it. She cried non-stop, "She bullied me, but you all ignored me!"

Sarah's heart ached. She took a deep look at everyone. See, it's all your fault. Children are the most sensitive. If the adults don't say anything and don't comfort Emma, it's equivalent to cold violence towards Emma! Sarah endured her bitterness and comforted Emma, 'Emma, be good. Mommy is here. Mommy will take care of Emma.'

Emma threw her chopsticks away, and the plate was flipped over. She cried and made a scene. "No, I don't want to. I don't want to eat with her. I don't want a little sister!"

Old Master Walton suppressed his anger. "If you don't want to eat, leave the table. Who taught you to smash things when you're angry?"

When Emma saw her grandfather being so fierce, she cried even louder. She placed her feet on the table and said, "I don't want, I don't want, I don't want!" No matter what others said, she repeated those three words. "I don't want!" Everyone:

Dylan put down his chopsticks without a word and stood up. He picked Emma up and was about to leave when Emma threw a tantrum. He was so angry that he grabbed Emma's collar and dragged her upstairs.

Sarah asked anxiously, "Dylan, what are you doing?"

Amelia was so frightened that the meat in her hand fell off. She had been carried like this by her father before and suddenly felt that Sister Emma was a little pitiful... Sarah grabbed the crying Emma and hugged her. She glared at Dylan with tears in her eyes and went upstairs. She felt that the Walton family was too much! Was there a need to be so heartless to a child? Didn't they see that there was a wound on Emma's wrist and her eyes were bruised? Why did they have to treat Emma like this? Sarah felt like her heart was about to break

Sarah hugged the crying Emma and kept crying. She was a little disappointed.

Five to six years of feelings could not warm up Dylan's heart. At this moment, Emma's maternal grandmother called. When she saw Sarah and Emma crying, she quickly asked, "What happened?"

Sarah cried as she explained the matter. Emma's grandmother was very angry. "Look, I told you. When Emma was the only girl in the Walton family, they doted on her like a princess no matter what. Now that that wild girl is here, they don't dote on Emma anymore!"

When Emma heard this, she recalled that this was the first time she had been beaten up in her life. Her uncles, grandparents, and the others did not come to coax her. For a moment, she cried even harder.

Sarah said irritably, "Mom, stop it."

Emma's grandmother glared at her. "Why can't I say it? It's like this! I can't believe the Walton family. Emma is their biological paternal granddaughter, but she can't compare to a child with another surname!

Sarah said, "That girl's surname is also Walton now."

Upon hearing this, Emma's grandmother shook her head. "It's over, It's over. Then our Emma will be even less important. That wild girl is not to be trifled with. Do you know that when she was in Bradford City, she pushed her stepmother down the stairs and caused her to have a miscarriage? Not only that, but the men of the Walton family even protected her. It was clearly the wild girl who made a mistake, but they made the Miller family go bankrupt!

Her grandmother spoke non-stop. Sarah frowned when she heard this. "Didn't Amelia's stepmother fall down the stairs and have a miscarriage because she wanted to frame Amelia?"

Emma's grandmother said, "Wait a moment. I'll forward the news online to you."

Not long after, Sarah received a video. In the video was an informant who had used a voice-changer. She said that she was Rebecca's good friend and even showed her the notice that Rebecca had a miscarriage and was hospitalized..
