

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3134

Within the great void divine furnace, balls of divine liquid floated.

Counting carefully, there were exactly 34 balls.

Each ball of divine liquid had been repeatedly refined, and all impurities had been removed. They were pure and flawless.

“Next, it’s time to put in my Dao attainment!”

Tang Hao reached out and grabbed a Jade bottle. He opened the lid, and large, round golden beads flew out and rushed into the furnace.

Then, they exploded one by one and turned into masses of golden Taoist connotation.

This Dao attainment was formed by the condensation of the Taoist connotation.

After it broke, it naturally turned back into the Taoist connotation.

The Taoist connotation formed by 1000 Dao attainment was impressive. It was like a vast ocean surging in the divine furnace.

“Finally, there’s the primordial chaos Divine liquid!”

Tang Hao took a deep breath and summoned a Jade bottle. He opened it and poured a drop of purple divine liquid into the furnace.

The divine fire surged over and refined the drop of divine liquid for a moment.

Then, his expression turned serious and he began to activate the fusion technique.

In the next moment, a powerful suction force appeared around the drop of purple divine liquid in the divine furnace. It sucked all the materials in the surroundings and gathered them together.

All of the divine liquid continued to merge and merge.

Some materials repelled each other by nature, and after they collided, a powerful repulsive force erupted, causing the entire ball of divine liquid to shake and distort.

Tang Hao’s brows were tightly furrowed as he controlled the divine liquid.

After a long time, the fusion was finally successful. All the materials were gathered together, forming a huge ball.

“That was close!”

Tang Hao immediately heaved a sigh of relief.

Just now, this furnace of pills almost exploded.

“I shouldn’t have fused them all directly. I should have done it one by one. After all, it’s an immortal pill, and the materials used are the best. I can’t be careless!” He said to himself.

Then, he gathered his thoughts and began to burn it patiently.

Once the fusion was successful, the pill was basically complete. He only needed to burn it for a few days and it would be ready.

The only crucial point was the medicinal effects after the refinement.

This forging process took a full seven days.

“Alright, I’m done!”

After the elixir was formed, he waved his sleeve and the furnace shook. The divine elixir inside rushed out and turned into a purple divine light that shot into the sky.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Almost instantly, the sky darkened and thunderclouds began to appear.

A few breaths later, the familiar spiritual will descended from the sky and lingered around the thunderclouds.

“As expected!”

Tang Hao looked up and said to himself.

He had predicted that the investiture of the immortals would appear once the pill was formed, and now it had come true.

A moment later, the lightning tribulation began to fall, and nine bolts struck.

The purple light was not damaged at all. When it returned to Tang Hao’s hand, there was even a trace of lightning.

Tang Hao fixed his eyes on the purple divine pill in his palm.

This pill was a little different from the pills he had refined in the past. It was not a solid pill, but an illusionary one. It looked like a ball of purple mist that was constantly circulating and changing.

This was also because a large amount of Taoist connotation had been added into it, so it could not be refined into a physical form. Therefore, he chose this method.

This was also a form of alchemy, but it was not the mainstream alchemy Dao.

“The effect is not bad!”

He carefully examined the pill, estimated it for a moment, and couldn't help nodding.

The effect of this pill was much stronger than he had expected, and his efforts were not in vain.

At this time, the spiritual sense that was hovering in the sky also descended and circled the pill.

“What's the name of this pill?”

The familiar voice rang out once more, loud and clear, shaking the void.

“Let's call it ... The Golden pill of the great way!”

Tang Hao said after some thought.

Originally, he had wanted to call it the grandmist golden pill. However, after thinking that this name might attract the attention of the Emperor puppet sect, he changed his mind.

“The Golden pill of the great way? Good!”

The voice said.

“This pill can be ranked first on the alchemy ranking!”

In the next moment, a golden tablet appeared in the sky. It shone with brilliant divine light that illuminated the void in all directions.

The first line on the stele changed and showed the words “golden core of the great path.”

At this time, everyone in the immortal world noticed the Golden divine monument that appeared in the sky.

“It's the immortal list again!”

“Is it master Hao Tian? no, that demon has made his move again?”

Everyone looked up and exclaimed.

The moment they saw the immortal list, they thought of that monster. Previously, as master Haotian, he had been on the immortal list five times, shaking the entire immortal world and deifying the path of crafts.

“Hey! It was not the weapon ranking! It was the alchemy ranking! I was so scared!”

After seeing it clearly, everyone heaved a sigh of relief.

Many people even patted their chests and heaved a long sigh of relief.

If it was really that monster, then he was really too abnormal. He had already done it five times before and had broken the record of the entire immortal world. If he were to do it again, it would be six times. How could he let people live?

“Al! How could it be the alchemy ranking? I remember that the alchemy ranking hasn’t been updated for many years!”

“Yup! It’s even more difficult to get on the alchemy ranking than the weapon ranking. I remember that it hasn’t been moved for two or three thousand years. ”

Then, everyone focused their eyes on the Golden stele.

They were all curious because the alchemy ranking was different from the weapon ranking. There were many sub-rankings below the weapon ranking, and there were more chances to be listed.

Furthermore, the weapon ranking only recorded a single treasure.

However, in this pill ranking, a certain type of pill had to be self-created, a brand new pill, before it could have a chance of being listed.

However, it was extremely difficult to create a new type of pill. Even if it was to improve it, it was also very difficult. That was why the update of the alchemy ranking had always been very slow.

“Al! Where did you change? why can’t I see it?”

“Yeah! There doesn’t seem to be any changes!”

When everyone took a look, they were all stunned.

There didn’t seem to be any changes to this list!

“No! It’s changed, look at the first place, the name has changed!”

Very quickly, someone noticed it. Looking at the first place on the list, he let out a cry of surprise, his expression incomparably shocked.

The rest of the people were also dumbfounded.

Number one on the alchemy roll?

This ... How could this be possible!

After thousands of years, when the alchemy ranking had not changed, how could someone reach the top of the list in one go?

This ... What kind of divine pill was this?

And who could have created such a world-shocking pill?

For a time, their hearts were in turmoil, and they were extremely shocked.

“The Golden pill of the great way? This name is too general. What kind of pill is it, and what kind of world-shaking effects does it have?”

“Which master is this?”

Soon, the immortal world was in an uproar.

“Someone broke the alchemy ranking and even became the number one?”

When more people heard the news, they walked out of their cave abodes and palaces. They looked up at the Golden monument in the sky with horror.

At this moment, almost everyone in the entire immortal world was shocked by the changes in the alchemy ranking.

The entire immortal world was in an uproar.