God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 5

Chapter 5

Brielle sneered. She carried her backpack indifferently and took the lead to enter the forest.

The rest of the people also began to move.

After Brielle entered the forest, she discovered that the weeds in the forest had been simply treated.

The program team had finally shown mercy.

Brielle walked for a while and saw a rabbit jumping forward.

She immediately ran after it.

However, the rabbit ran away very quickly when it was in danger.

In a blink of an eye, the rabbit jumped more than ten meters away.

Brielle bent down and picked up a stone from the ground. With a light flick of her finger, the stone flew out from her fingertip and accurately hit the rabbit's head.

The rabbit died instantly.

"What the hell, a martial arts expert?" The cameraman who followed the shot was shocked.

Brielle raised an eyebrow. "Lucky."

She ate it alone. One rabbit was enough.

Brielle walked over to pick up the rabbit and walked back.

She walked to the river and took out a folding knife from the box and began to deal with the rabbit.

Just then, Pearl passed by and could not help but scream when she saw the bloody scene.

"Ah… Brielle, you are so cruel. You are so skilled in your movements. You have killed many small animals, haven't you?"

"Pa!"

Brielle took out the internal organs and directly smashed them on Pearl's body.

"Get lost!"

"Ah…!"

Pearl let out a sharp scream, almost fainting from anger.

How could she dare to throw such a disgusting thing on hier?

"Brielle, you are too much!" Pearl stamped her feet with red eyes, but she could only run to find clothes to change with tears.

[Brielle is too vicious? She actually threw the internal organs on Pearl. It is too disgusting!]

[Pearl's temper is too good. If someone dares to throw internal organs on me, I will definitely break her hand!]

[Only I feel that Pearl is a bit shameless? Brielle has been targeting her from the beginning, and she has been moving forward on her own. Isn't this asking for it?]

[I feel that there was something wrong with Pearl just now. Isn't she deliberately guiding everyone to misunderstand that Brielle has a tendency to kill animals? She deserves to be targeted by Brielle!]

[What did Pearl say wrong? Brielle killed rabbits so easily, she must be so skilled in doing this kind of thing!]

[Brielle is so vicious and unkind to people. I completely believe that she will kill animals!]

[Everyone, what are you all standing there for? Let's curse together. This kind of vicious woman should be scolded out of the entertainment circle!]

Brielle was very fast and quickly removed the rabbit's internal organs and skinned it.

Then she went to the forest to pick up some dry branches and then burned a fire by the river. After burning the charcoal, she would roast it with charcoal.

If she directly roasted it with fire, the meat would be blackened and the meat would be stained with smoke, so it couldn't be eaten.

The food team also came back.

The three of them were in a sorry state, but they did not catch anything.

Quinn held a handful of wild vegetables in her hand, not knowing if they could eat them.

"It smells so good…"

Quinn smelled a strong fragrance and could not help but take a deep breath.

When she saw that Brielle was already roasting meat, her face was full of shock. "Brielle, you actually found food? What did you catch? Did you catch it by yourself? Why are you so fast?"

Jaxson scoffed, "She must have gotten shit lucky and found a half–dead animal!"

Quinn touched her neck and felt that what Jaxson said made sense.

"We didn't catch anything. What are we going to eat tonight? I don't know if we can eat these wild vegetables…" Quinn said weakly.

Austin smelled the tempting fragrance and couldn't help but swallow.

He looked at the already dark sky and said. "Let's go look around before it gets dark."

Thus, the three of them entered the forest again.

It wasn't like they couldn't find the poultry released by the program team.

They had just entered for ten minutes when they saw more than ten chickens.

Some of the chickens had their legs broken by the program team on purpose, and they did not run fast.

But they still could not catch them.

After half an hour, the sky had already darkened, and the visibility in the forest was even lower.

They came out of the forest again, but they still had no gains.

At this time, Brielle had already finished roasting the rabbit and began to eat.

The rabbit meat was scorched and crispy by her, looking very attractive.

The three of them looked at it and subconsciously swallowed their saliva. Their stomachs couldn't help but make gurgling sounds.

[I didn't expect Brielle to have this kind of skill. The rabbit was roasted by her until it was tender on the outside and tender on the inside. It looks very appetizing.]

[This rabbit meat is roasted well. It is much more appetizing than the dishes made by the food blogger I saw.)

[I am hungry. I silently opened the delivery software.]

[I have decided. I will eat rabbit meat tonight!]

Quinn retracted her gaze and looked at the director. "Director, what will you guys eat?"

She was thinking that when the director and the staff were eating, they would ask the director for some.

The director smiled and took out a fist–sized red fruit from his bag. "We also sent people to find food. We found a fruit tree, but the number is limited. Our staff is not enough to divide it. We can't share it with you guys. You can think of your own. way!"

Quinn was disappointed.

At this time, the director and the staff were happily eating strange fruits.

However, less than ten minutes after eating the red fruit, the people who ate the red fruit suddenly fell to the ground and vomited mouthfuls of blood.

"Not good, the fruit is poisonous!"

Five or six staff members did not eat the fruit and quickly went to check on the situation of those people.

But they did not know medicine and were helpless.

They vomited blood for a few minutes and suddenly lost consciousness completely, lying on the ground motionless.

Someone tentatively checked his breathing and shouted in fear, "God… they are losing their breath… Quick, send them to the doctor!"

The staff members who didn't eat any fruit quickly carried the unconscious people onto the cruise ship.

Then, the cruise ship started and quickly left the forest.

The guests were stunned.

The entire process only lasted for a few minutes before the entire program team left, leaving a few of their weak artists in the wilderness?

"Director, come back and take us with you! What are we going to do if you leave us here?" Quinn ran to the river and shouted at the cruise ship.

However, the cruise ship was in a mess and no one noticed her.

Just like that, they watched the cruise ship leave.

"We were left here. What should we do?" Quinn was so anxious that she almost cried.

Austin was slightly older and said calmly, "Don't worry. The staffs has fainted. They must be very panicked. It's normal for them to forget us for the time being."

"When they calm down, they will definitely think of us. We just need to wait patiently."

Quinn felt that what he said made sense and calmed down a little.

At this moment, Pearl and Jordan also walked out of the forest.

Pearl walked ahead empty–handed while Jordan followed behind with a pile of hay in his arms.

Pearl said apologetically, I'm sorry, everyone. We didn't find a suitable place to sleep at night. I think this empty space is good. Let's lay the ground on this empty ground tonight. My brother and I picked up some hay for everyone to build the ground."

"Eh? Where is the director? Where is the photography team? Where are the staff? Where are they?"

Pearl suddenly realized that there were only guests left here. The staff of the program team had all disappeared. She had at puzzled expression on her face.

Quinn cried out. Just now, the director and more than half of the program team's staff ate wild fruit poisoning. They were collectively poisoned and fainted. Those who didn't eat any fruit drove a cruise ship to take them away for medical treatment."

"Look at the blood on the ground. They spat it out just now. The blood hasn't dried yet."

Pearl glanced at the large patch of red blood on the ground. It was like a murder scene and was shocked.

She frowned and asked, "All the staff left? Not a single one was left? Then are we not going to shoot?"

Jaxson said, "Before they left, someone checked the breathing of the group of people who fell down. Someone said that they were all dead… After such a big incident, the director had fallen, so the filming naturally could not be carried out. When the stafl contacted the investors, they could send a new director team over."

Seeing that there were no cameras to shoot, the gentleness on Pearl's face also disappeared, revealing a little annoyance.

From the first second she got off the cruise ship, she had been filled with disgust towards this place.

Especially after entering the forest, she was wearing a skirt. The weeds swept to her calves, it was painful and itchy. There were also insects flying towards her body and biting her. Her impatience rose to the extreme.

But because there were cameras following her, she could only pretend to be indifferent to the image of a strong little white flower in order to be strong. She also looked strong and unafraid of hardships.

Speaking of which, when did the photographer who took photos of her and Jordan leave?

Probably because they were too tired and did not hear the noise outside, the two photographers ran out when they heard it.

Pearl suddenly smelled a fragrance. She looked up in the direction of Brielle and saw Brielle eating happily. Her stomach screamed and her mouth could not help but secretesaliva.

In order to lose weight, she often controlled her date, and she often did not eat dinner.

In the past, she could endure.

However, it was unknown whether it was because she was too tired today or because she smelled the fragrance of the roasted rabbit in Brielle's hand, which made her hungry.

At this moment, her mouth was extremely greedy and she really wanted to eat something!

Pearl forced her gaze back and turned to look at Quinn and the others. She asked, "Where is the food you are looking for?"

"I only found these… Quinn raised his hand.

Pearl's face became even uglier.

"My brother and I worked hard to sleep well at night, but the three of you only found a handful of wild vegetables? This is for pigs to eat!"

"When my brother and I went to find hay, we saw several lame chickens. The three of you couldn't even catch a lame chicken. You are so useless!"

Quinn was a little unhappy. "We also worked very hard, but those chickens and rabbits ran so fast. It's normal that we can't catch them!"

"You still have the nerve to talk about us. Didn't you just pick up a bunch of weeds?"

"Those weeds are not enough for one to sleep. We have so many people. How can we sleep at night?"

Pearl looked at her. "Are you blaming me?"

Quinn was frightened by her eyes. She took a step back and shook her head. "I don't blame you. I just… just said it casually…"

She knew the status of Pearl's brother in the entertainment circle. She did not dare to offend Pearl. Otherwise, she would not be able to survive in the circle.

Therefore, even if she was dissatisfied, she could only endure it.

"Humph!" Pearl snorted contemptuously.

Jordan said, "Since you dislike these hay, you can solve the problem of sleeping by yourselves tonight!"

Quinn bit her lip and dared not speak.

Pearl looked at Brielle who was eating roasted rabbit with relish in the distance and could not help but swallow her saliva again.

She looked at Jordan and said pitifully, "Brother, I walked in the forest for an afternoon. I'm so hungry…"

Jordan looked up at Brielle who was eating alone in the distance. His eyes showed dissatisfaction and he said in a low voice, "Just wait. I'll help you get something to eat."

He raised his foot and walked towards Brielle.

Pearl followed behind him.

The rest of the people also followed, hoping to get some food.

"You, give half of the rabbit meat to Pearl!" Jordan stood in front of Brielle and ordered arrogantly.

"Get lost!" Brielle shouted.

Pearl criticized unhappily, "Brielle, how can you treat third brother like this?"

"Get lost, too!" Brielle said.

"Brielle, don't go too far. We were concerned about you, so we took the initiative to ease our relationship with you. How can you treat us like this?" Pearl said, biting her lips.

"Now that the program team is gone, there are only a few of us left in the wilderness. Without our care, how can you live alone at night?"

Brielle mocked, "I'm fully equipped. I can do whatever I want. The people who have to consider tonight are you, not me."

Pearl was so angry that her face turned green and then red.

Jordan's face was even more ugly. He said harshly, "Brielle, you are getting more and more outrageous. Pearl is concerned about you, but you are so ungrateful. When did you become so harsh? Can you learn from Pearl? Even if you can be one- tenth as sensible as Pearl, we won't dislike you!"

Brielle sneered, "Who cares about your love?"

Chapter 5

Jordan took a deep breath and suppressed his anger. "You should apologize to Pearl now and promise to be a good the future. When we get back, I will plead with parents and let you return to Galley family!"

Brielle looked up at him like he was looking at an idiot.

She felt that Jordan's IQ was a little worrying.

"Heh, who wants to go back to Galley family? None of your Galley family's IQ is normal. I'm afraid that if I get too close to you, my IQ will be affected by you. Even if you beg me, I won't go back!"

Jordan and Pearl were so angry that their faces were ashen. They stared at Brielle with anger.

Pearl was angry and hungry. In addition, there was no camera, so she was too lazy to pretend. She gritted her teeth and said, "Third Brother, stop talking so much nonsense with her. Just teach her a lesson!"

"She's always against me, and she even sold our family shares for money. She beat and scolded us, and we should have taught her a lesson!"

Brielle sneered. "You really know how to reverse black and white. The shares I sold originally belonged to me. If not for my shares, how could I sell it? Before you frame me, use your incomplete brain!"

Pearl was so angry that she almost vomited blood.

She ignored Brielle's words and looked at the other three. "Brielle insulted me and targeted me. If you stand on my side. teach her a lesson together with me. When we get back, I will ask my brother to give you resources. At least everyone will give you an S + film and television resource. I will also recommend a high–end product!"

The three were tempted.

Right now, the competition in the entertainment industry was intense. Even Austin, the best actor, rarely found a good script.

It was even harder to get a high–end endorsement.

This benefit was indeed very tempting to them.

However, they also had some scruples.

Quinn said, "We bullied her together. If others know about it, wouldn't it affect us?"

Pearl sneered and said, "The director has left, and no one has seen it. As long as we don't say it, who will know?"

"If she dares to talk nonsense, we will only admit that she is against us. Do you think the netizens will believe the words of so many well–known artists, or will they believe the words of a person covered in black material?"

When the three heard her say this, they immediately relaxed.

They said in unison, "Okay, we will all listen to your arrangements. What do you want us to do?"

They were not surprised at the huge contrast.

A long time ago, they had heard that Pearl was not as kind and gentle as she was in front of the camera.

Many of the artists in the industry were also acting on the surface and acting on the back. They had long been used to it.

Even the way they acted in front of the camera was arranged by the company.

The corners of Pearl's lips curled up. She pointed at Brielle and said maliciously, "Go and snatch the roasted meat from her hands. There is also her backpack. I saw that she brought a tent and an inflatable bed. We have a place to sleep tonight!"

When the three heard Pearl's words, they all looked at Brielle with a sullen face and approached her with hostility.

However, what they did not know was that there were many new miniature hidden cameras installed in the forest.

These miniature cameras were not only as high and clear as professional cameras, but also very good at collecting sound.

This camera was very small and would not emit red light. Even if it was right in front of their eyes, they might not be able to find it.

After the director left, the miniature camera had already been turned on.

The live broadcast on the Internet had never been interrupted…
