

Married To My One Night Mistake #Chapter 1: One Night Mistake - Read Married To My One Night Mistake Chapter 1: One Night Mistake

"Hi...give me more," Selen yelled over the blaring music, raising her hand to make the waiter identify her in the crowd. She was seated on a table alone, the bar was filled with people of different ages. The young and the elderly.

Everyone was there for different reasons. Lovers hangout, couples chilling off the pleasant weather of the evening and perhaps, business partners were meeting as well to finalise deals.

But Selen, she was there to experience freedom for the last time. She's got that day and that evening to live for herself alone. The next morning, she was going to be married off by her parents to pay off debt.

Her family had incurred a huge debt and there were only two options, either her father goes to prison or he gets his daughter married to the ruthless billionaire heir of the Avelino family.

Her family had gone bankrupt and her father could not go to prison but what she didn't understand was why her father chose her after the initial agreement of getting her younger sister married and not her.

Tola is the precious jewel, the white phoenix who should be happy, not her. She was going to be the billionaire's wife but her parents changed radically when they heard about the personality of the heir of the Avelino's family: They don't want their daughter to be married to an impotent, bad-tempered billionaire who is popularly known to be a misogynist.

That's the man she was going to be married to the next morning in place of her younger sister Tola.

The waiter brought another bottle of alcohol and Selen gave him a thumbs up. She poured herself a glass and raised the glass to her mouth. She gulped down and while placing the glass down, from her split vision, she saw a man seated alone and drinking from a glass.

Selen held her glass and stood up, walking up to him "Hi, can I share your table?" She asked, taking a sip from her glass. The guy looks attractive and charming. She forced a friendly smile.

The dude turned his gaze on her and Selen felt her knees wobbling. Such an attractive man alone at a table, just like her. They can make a pair then.

"I'd rather prefer if you share my bed. Do you mind bitch?" He replied instead, glancing at her and letting his eyes wander down to her feet and back to her face in a matter of seconds.

She's not bad though, he thought.

"I don't mind acting the whore on your bed handsome" Selen flirted, winking an eye seductively and fully expressing her interest in not just sharing his table but his bed, getting him to go down right into her cunt.

In no time, they were entangled in a hot passionate kiss as they both ravished each other like starving lovers. Selen threw caution to the air as she snuggled into the stranger, as he undressed her and lifted her onto the bed.

It was painful as he drove himself through her hymen. It was a moment of pain and skin being torn but what Selen felt after was pleasure as the stranger plunged himself fiercely into her, sending her ecstatic.

"Gosh!!... you're so tight bitch..." the stranger moaned as he thrust her harder. Her walls were clasp firmly against his cock. The feeling was superb and he felt like he was going to drill her all night. Oh..gosh.. the pleasure.

"Oh..can you be a little bit more gentle Mr?" Selen moaned in pleas. She's feeling ecstatic, but the dude was drilling her too hard as if she was some doll who doesn't feel pain. He was like a starving husband.

"Ahhh...I can't...you're so sweet...I need to fuck you harder to get pleased..." he moaned back as he thrust her harder, grinding hard against her cunt.

Selen felt her orgasm building up and she clasped her legs around his waist and moaned out loud in ecstasy. This is pure pleasure, the stranger was good and knows just how to use his dick.

He fucked her through her wetness, taking her from different angles and moaning about how satisfying she was. He said she was sweet and he wanted her all night.

He wouldn't let her go all night as he kept drilling her at intervals. He was starved, longing for a pussy to relieve himself of the burden of his heart and mind. And he found such a sweet woman who he couldn't help but get into her pussy and spurt his seed at every release.

Selen though fucked senselessly, felt relieved. This is just what we wanted. Before stepping into an arranged marriage will a man who is brutal and rumoured to be a misogynist.

She tasted freedom and had it to the fullest she thought as she eventually drifted off to sleep. He'd fucked her beyond any reasonable woman can take.

The next morning, she woke up with a start. It's almost dawn. She glanced around and didn't see the man from the previous evening. Instead, she heard the noise of the shower running.

She glanced at the direction of the bathroom. She could guess who was there. The dude was a beast, he practically ravished her pussy like he was venting his anger on her cunt.

It's nice they don't know each other. He could go his way and she will go hers. She needs to leave immediately because she cannot predict if his desire overtakes him again if he stepped out and found her still on the bed.

She dragged herself out of bed painfully. A certain part of her body was sore but that isn't the time to dwell on that. Her knees wobbled and she's like a giant walking with the limbs of an infant. She staggered backwards and tried to steady herself.

She needs to get out of the room before her stranger gets out of the bathroom and gets prepared to become the bride she should be in a couple of hours.

She slipped into her dress and picked up her shoes and fled the room. She hurried her steps towards her car and slipped in. As she got behind the steering, she knew she needed to take some painkillers to relieve her of the soreness and pain in her V.

But more than that, she allowed herself to be fucked without protection and the dude kept spurting his release into her without caution.

When she got home, she quietly got into her room. She placed her hand on her chest and sighed softly, thank goodness no one saw her until her door pushed open and her sister walked in.
