

Chapter 473 Still Young

In the blink of an eye, Aldrin rushed over and pulled Laura towards him.

Furious, he demanded, "Where have you been all this time? Everyone thought you were dead. Why did you suddenly reappear? Are you still with Forrest? Hasn't he hurt you enough?"

As Laura gazed into Aldrin's disappointed face, her heart skipped a beat.

Did he genuinely care about her?

Otherwise, he wouldn't scold her like this.

"Aldrin, Laura has always seen you as her brother. Don't entertain any inappropriate thoughts," Forrest intervened, holding Laura's hand. He continued, "Laura, don't listen to him. He's just a naive child who doesn't understand much."

Aldrin refused to let her go. Forrest's words almost infuriated him. "You're a man, and you're speaking nonsense. How could you be so mean? I'm younger than you, yet I'm more considerate. How dare you hurt her so deeply and shamelessly show up in front of her as if nothing had happened? Shame on you! How dare you come looking for her again?"

Then he turned to Laura and instructed her, "Tell him that you hate him and ask him to leave you alone. Ask him not to disturb you in the future."

As Camila attempted to say something, Isaac promptly guided her into the room.

Anxiously, she voiced her concerns. "Aldrin is impulsive. I'm afraid he'll end up fighting with Forrest."

"Let them handle their own matters," Isaac ordered. "Don't get involved. Focus on getting some rest."

Given the current circumstances, Camila had no choice but to follow Isaac's advice.

Outside, since Laura didn't push Forrest away, Aldrin pushed him himself.

A conflict arose between the two.

Neither was willing to back down.

Just as they were about to engage in a fight, Alick stepped forward and pulled Forrest away, saying, "Aldrin is younger.."

"Who's young? I'm already an adult."

Aldrin despised it whenever others made such remarks. He was simply younger than the rest in this group, but he considered himself a responsible adult.

"I'm speaking on your behalf."

"I don't need you to speak for me."

Aldrin refuted Alick's statement.

Alick didn't say anything further. He was not crazy to embarrass himself anymore.

"You can do whatever you want." With that Alick left.

He remained indifferent to their situation.

Aldrin reached for Laura's hand and pleaded, "Come with me."

Laura shook off his hand.

"I don't know who you are."

Indeed, she couldn't recall Aldrin.

Yet, she sensed that he had been good to her.

But she had made up her mind to seek revenge.

She couldn't leave Forrest now.

Only by staying with him could she exact a better revenge.

Aldrin couldn't believe it and asked, "Laura, have you forgotten me? Have you forgotten how he treated you in the past?"

Laura replied, "I have forgotten."

She truly had forgotten, but she knew who had treated her well and who had been cruel.

Aldrin furrowed his brow, saying, "You've forgotten?"

How was that possible?

"Did you do something to her?" He pointed at Forrest, questioning

Forrest no longer wished to engage with him. He pulled Laura and suggested, "Let's go inside.."

Aldrin believed that Forrest had mistreated Laura, causing her to forget him. Consumed by anger, he lunged forward and swung his fist at Forrest, exclaiming, "You despicable scoundrel! I'll kill you!"

Forrest stepped back and turned his body away.

Undeterred, Aldrin lunged at him once more.

Forrest couldn't evade the attack, and they engaged in a physical altercation. Neither of them was willing to back down, resulting in bruised faces.

Soon enough Aldrin found himself at a disadvantage.

He relied solely on physical strength to overcome challenges.

He lacked the ability to think strategically.

Forrest, equally furious, taunted, "Don't act like an adult in matters of love. It would serve you better to learn how to make a living!"

As he spoke, he struck Aldrin's face.

He was about to deliver another blow to Aldrin.

With a dull sound, he felt the pain on his head.

Slowly, he turned around and saw the person standing behind him.
