

Chapter 496 Bad Luck

Camila noticed Annis following Aldrin's gaze.

Yesterday, they had decorated the second floor, and today they were working on the downstairs area. Joe was playing with red balloons.

"She's not an outsider," Camila quickly explained to Aldrin.

Aldrin nodded and whispered, "Does she live here?"

Or would it be inconvenient?

After confirming that she didn't live there, Camila approached Annis and said, "Please stop decorating."

"Why?"

Laura asked as she came out of the room.

"Yes, why?" Annis asked.

"Laura."

Upon seeing Laura, Aldrin's attention was completely drawn to her.

Laura stood rooted to the spot.

Her eyes had a frosty glint.

His enthusiasm was half extinguished.

He sulkily stopped what he was doing.

Casting a glance at him, then at Laura, Camila sensed something odd about their exchange.

"Spill it quickly. What's up? Why don't we continue decorating?" Annis latched onto Camila's arm.

"An incident occurred. The wedding needs to be postponed," Camila disclosed.

"What happened?" Annis probed further.

"An incident occurred. The wedding needs to be postponed," Camila disclosed.

"What happened?" Annis probed further.

"It's nothing. Let's just get these decorations down." Camila took the lead in taking action.

Annis's brows furrowed. She had been working tirelessly for two days. Why would they suddenly cancel the wedding?

Could it be that Isaac had been unfaithful and Camila had caught him?

And that was why the wedding was cancelled?

Otherwise, what could have prompted them to call off the wedding?

As these thoughts raced through her mind, her anger intensified.

In a fit of anger, Annis stormed off.

After getting in touch with Alick and learning Isaac's whereabouts, Annis headed straight to him.

As soon as she saw Isaac, she confronted him, "Why did you cancel the wedding? Did you do something wrong?"

"Annis."

Before Annis could finish her sentence, Alick swiftly approached and covered her mouth.

Isaac maintained a serious expression due to the wedding.

He was already in a bad mood.

Wasn't her rash behavior only aggravating Isaac further?

"Stop talking. Go back. I'll explain it to you tonight."

With her eyes widened in disbelief, Annis still felt Camila was being wronged.

She wanted to say more, but was met with a stern glance from Alick.

She conceded grudgingly "Alright."

"Okay, head back!" Alick released her hand.

Annis shot Isaac a glare before departing reluctantly.

Alick was left speechless.

He couldn't believe how audacious Annis was.

How dare she give Isaac such a piercing glare?

A warm smile formed on Alick's face as he explained to Isaac, "She didn't mean any harm. Maybe she heard about the wedding cancellation and couldn't comprehend it, so..."

"Alright."

Isaac didn't take it seriously.

He was not blind. He could tell that Annishad acted on behalf of Camila. Despite her slight fear of him, she still stood up for Camila. He admired this aspect of her character.

"Now, let's focus on the matter at hand. Have you found anything?"

"I haven't found any evidence of someone contacting her," Alick suggested, "Could it be possible that it was her own idea?"

Isaac glanced at him nonchalantly and responded with a question, "Can she singlehandedly attract so much media attention? Can she orchestrate such a concentrated burst of news coverage?"

It was clearly a well-coordinated plan.

Isaac speculated, "Even if Aldrin hadn't accidentally pushed her, Lilith would have died."

Alick remained silent.

As soon as the incident occurred, the news spread like wildfire, overwhelming everything. There was no way to cover it up in an instant.

"Keep a close eye on the news."

Isaac wasn't afraid of media reports. What concerned him was the potential implication of Camila and Aldrin.

After all, they were both present at the scene when Lilith died, and the building was equipped with surveillance cameras.

"Are you certain that all the surveillance footage has been erased?"

Alick confirmed it.

His first priority was to delete all the images related to Aldrin and Camila.

"Very well, continue with your work."

Isaac raised his hand in dismissal.

Alick opened the door and walked out, only to come across Jaylen in the corridor.

"What are you doing here?"

Alick's patience wore thin when it came to Jaylen!

"I'm here to see Isaac."

With a derisive snort, Jaylen approached the office. As he passed by Alick, he purposely bumped into him forcefully.

Rather than knocking on the door, he simply pushed it open!

He called Isaac by his first name and chuckled audaciously, "Isaac, I heard that your wedding has been called off?"
