

Princess is Glamorous in Modern Day

Chapter 31: Gifts for the Roommates

“Hey, how can you be like this? You told me to come in half an hour but you’re five minutes late!” Xia Yu laid lazily on the sofa and looked at Xia Wanyuan with an aggrieved expression.

God knew how he got up, dressed, washed up within two minutes, and ran all the way to the school gate. Everyone in the dormitory thought he had gone crazy.

“Why haven’t you been to the hospital for your checkup lately?” Xia Wanyuan passed her luggage to Nanny Li. She had just gotten off the plane when she received a call from his attending doctor yesterday, saying that Xia Yu hadn’t gone for his checkup at all.

“I recovered a long time ago. Why would I go for a follow-up check? If you don’t believe me, take a look.” Xia Yu pretended to raise his arm, but the vague pain made him frown.

“Go to the hospital with me,” Xia Wanyuan looked at Xia Yu unhappily. ‘It takes a hundred days for the bone to knit and the tendons to heal, yet this person is being so careless.’

“I’m not going. I have an appointment with my roommates for games later.” Xia Yu shrank his head.

“If you don’t go, then don’t bother coming to me in the future. Go and do whatever you want,” Xia Wanyuan said before heading downstairs.

“Let me tell you, I’m not going to the hospital because of your threat. Do you think I want to stay here?”

As expected, Xia Yu caught up with her not long after, but his beautiful eyes were filled with disdain.

“I know. You’re afraid that your heroic image will be damaged, right?”

Tsk, how could this person steal his lines? Xia Yu was stumped by Xia Wanyuan’s words. He sat in the front passenger seat and sulked alone while looking out of the window.

They took a scan when they arrived at the hospital. Thankfully, Xia Yu's injuries healed quickly as he was still young, but he still could not make large sweeping gestures or movements. Resting for a while more would be sufficient for his complete recovery.

"Young man, your sister treats you pretty well. She comes with you every time for your checkup," the doctor chatted with Xia Yu as he changed his dressing.

"Huh?" Xia Yu subconsciously replied. He turned to look at Xia Wanyuan, who was sitting in the waiting area. This was the first time he had a family member accompanying him while he was at the doctor's.

"Well, I guess," Xia Yu mumbled. The doctor did not notice his burning ears.

After treatment, Xia Yu followed Xia Wanyuan to collect his medicine. A person rushed in from the door. Seeing that the elevator was about to close, that person rushed over quickly. Xia Wanyuan did not notice and was almost knocked down by him. Xia Yu hurriedly supported her to prevent her from falling.

Not far away, a camera was focused on this scene. The camera's owner grinned excitedly.

He did not expect that he would be able to take some "good" photos during his trip to the hospital due to a cold. They looked as if they were hugging each other in the photos. Even though the woman only had a side profile, those who were familiar with her could easily tell who she was.

"Are you blind!" Xia Yu shouted at the elevator, but the door had already closed. Xia Yu let go of Xia Wanyuan.

"Can you calm down?"

After getting the medicine, the chauffeur was about to drive the car back to the apartment.

"I'm living pretty well in the school dormitory." Xia Yu didn't have many friends since he was young, and he was used to being lazy, so he didn't spend much time in school.

After being taught a good lesson by Jun Shiling and staying in the dormitory for a few days, he quite liked the atmosphere there.

This university was actually not bad. Back then, Father Xia had donated a building and had to pull some strings to get him in. His roommates had all entered the university through actual examinations. They were simple and well-educated.

“I’ll just stay in the dorm. My roommates are fun.”

“Sure.” Xia Wanyuan nodded. Indeed, he could not always live with his family as an adult man. He should have his own social circle.

“Chauffeur, take us to the supermarket.”

“What for?” Xia Yu was confused.

When they arrived at the supermarket, Xia Yu’s eyes turned red as she watched Xia Wanyuan search through Baidu while throwing all sorts of living essentials into the trolley. He pursed his lips and suppressed his tears.

Xia Wanyuan did not notice Xia Yu’s emotions. She was simply dazzled by the variety of goods available.

There was also a small supermarket next to the hotel where she lived. She liked to shop there when she had nothing to do. After all, every item here was very novel to her.

“What is this?” Xia Wanyuan handed the phone to Xia Yu. On it was a list of necessities needed by male university students. Xia Wanyuan pointed at the words that said ‘gaming computer’.

Xia Wanyuan knew these words when separated, but when put together, it was somewhat incomprehensible.

“It’s a computer for games,” Xia Yu explained to Xia Wanyuan about the popular PUBG and MOBA games.

After the explanation, Xia Wanyuan finally understood what it meant. In fact, it was similar to football and shuttlecock kicking in her previous life. The difference was that the games had developed into video games.

“Do you have one?” Xia Wanyuan had never objected to her siblings playing games. What she objected to was playing through life and having no serious ambition.

So Xia Wanyuan brought Xia Yu to the electronics section. She didn’t know what to buy, so she took the most expensive model in the area. The alien logo on the computer shone brightly.

“ . . . ”

These few days, he had finally experienced the hardships of the people. The Xia family was bankrupt, and Xia Yu knew that a certain family would not care about them at all.

So, although he was touched, he was a little worried that Xia Wanyuan would buy things for him and not have any money left for herself.

“Hey, you don’t have to buy it.”

“I want four of these.”

Before Xia Yu could finish speaking, Xia Wanyuan had already finished communicating with the staff. Hearing that she wanted four, the staff grinned from ear to ear. A year’s worth of sales target had been hit one day! She ran over to write a receipt for Xia Wanyuan immediately. Her actions were so fast as if she was afraid Xia Wanyuan would go back on her word.

“Why did you buy so many?” Xia Yu was shocked. Had he worried about Xia Wanyuan for nothing?

1

Xia Wanyuan acted as if nothing had happened. She estimated the amount of money the original owner of the body had in her card. She still could afford to buy a few computers. Furthermore, she had just read online that this was a present that all young men dreamed of.

Xia Yu was completely speechless.

The trunk was gradually filled up. When they arrived at the dormitory, it was impossible for the chauffeur and Xia Yu to move the things themselves.

Xia Yu called his roommates for help and soon, three sleepy people came down with their slippers.

“F*ck, Xia Yu, did you wipe out everything? Why are there so many things?”

Xia Yu was leaning against a pile of boxes that were half the height of a person downstairs. If he did not have a pretty face and an annoying expression, people who didn’t know him would have thought that he was a delivery man.

“Cut the crap and help me carry them up.”

There was a huge pile of boxes. The four young and strong men carried all of them to the sixth floor. Even though they were young, they were exhausted from carrying so many things. When they entered the dormitory, all of them were panting heavily.

“We worked so hard to move your things, you have to treat us to a meal.” Zhang Zhe wiped the sweat off his face and gulped down a mouthful of water, teasing Xia Yu.

“That’s right, that’s right. Let’s go to Quanjude for some Peking duck!”

The others agreed.

“What’s inside anyway? I’m exhausted from lugging it up.” Su Mei carried a heavy big box that was half the height of a person.

“You’ll know when you open it.”

There were no taboos between roommates. Su Mei immediately opened the box and the others surrounded him.

“F*ck! Holy sh*t!”

“Damn!”

“Wow!”

Different words were expressed in the same tone.

Chapter 32: Requesting a Change in the Cast

“Tycoon! The alien has blinded our eyes!”

1

“Let me take a look at the model. F*ck! It’s the latest high-end version. I’m so jealous.” Zhang Zhe looked at Xia Yu enviously.

As a male university student of this era, who wouldn’t want to wake up with a top-notch gaming computer that allowed one to play all the games with maxed-up specs?

“Hey, why are there more below? Why did you buy so many?” Su Mei flipped through the box and found another one below the first one.

“My sister bought them for you. She said they’re a gift for you all.” This was the first time Xia Yu called Xia Wanyuan ‘sister’, but unfortunately, she could not hear it.

With that, Xia Yu went forward and opened the box. The four brand new computers were shining, but compared to the excitement and brightness in the eyes of the other three, it seemed a little dim in comparison.

“F*ck!”

The three of them were stunned by what Xia Yu’s sister had done. From their usual interactions, they had guessed that Xia Yu was a rich second-generation heir. But, they didn’t expect him to be so generous.

They went forward and touched the gaming computers that were said to have top-tier performance. Sure enough, expensive items felt different.

However, they were still students. Other than Yang Lin, the other two had a good family background. However, they had never received such a valuable gift.

Therefore, although the three of them were very excited, they rejected the gift.

“Thank you for your sister’s good intentions, but this is too expensive. We can’t afford to pay it back.” Although Yang Lin was poor, he did not have anything against the rich. He knew that he should not accept gifts from others for nothing.

“Yeah, that’s right,” the other two echoed.

“Just accept it. She already bought it.” Recalling Xia Wanyuan’s words before she left, Xia Yu pursed her lips. “Besides, my sister told you to supervise me to get an A grade result at the end of the semester. If I get it, those will be yours and you can consider them repaid.”

Since Xia Yu had already said so much, the three of them no longer refused.

All of them said that they would definitely supervise Xia Yu and make sure he did well in his final exams.

“Xia Yu, does your sister need a younger brother? Do you think I can become her brother too?”

“That’s right, that’s right. I can do it too!”

“Get lost!” Xia Yu scolded jokingly.

“Wow, snacks! And so many fruits! Boohoo, Xia Yu, your sister is my sister going forward!”

“Dream on!”

They played around in the dormitory and shared snacks and like this, their relationship became more harmonious.

...

After a night of discussion, the topic of Xia Wanyuan slowly climbed to the top of the search rankings and appeared before everyone again.

“Xia Wanyuan only took ten days to complete the filming of ‘The Long Ballad’”

When this topic was brought up, a group of anti-fans, as well as the fans of the novel who had been paying attention to the filming of the drama series, were instantly incensed. They didn't care about anything else and started scolding her first.

One of the marketing accounts displayed the photos of Xia Wanyuan leaving and returning to Beijing, and the time difference between the two photos was twelve days.

[I'm dying of laughter. This is the first time I've heard of a second female lead finishing filming in twenty days.]

2

[Trash Xia Wanyuan destroyed my goddess. When will such a useless person who is unprofessional and has no acting skills get out of the entertainment industry?!]

[Poor Prince Charming Qin Wu and Goddess Ruan Yingyu. They filmed the drama so conscientiously, yet this woman treated the hard work of others like this!]

[Get out of the entertainment industry, Xia Wanyuan! Since filming is done in only ten days, it's not too late to change her out! Get someone else to play the role!]

[That's right! Change her out! Get Xia Wanyuan out of the entertainment industry!]

The voices of those who had seriously collated the number of times the Heavenly Spirit Princess would appear and realized that she didn't have many scenes were drowned in the sea of public opinion.

Gradually, passers-by, haters, fans of the original novel, swarmed into “The Long Ballad” production team under the influence of people with ill intentions.

One by one, they started to post about boycotting Xia Wanyuan on their latest Weibo post, asking for a replacement. The angry fans of the original novel even gathered together and drew red crosses on the photos. Everyone demanded a replacement actress on Weibo.

In just two hours, there were close to a hundred thousand comments.

The situation was getting more and more serious. Director Yang, who had just returned to the Beijing Film City, had just caught his breath when his subordinate reported the news. He was fuming with anger.

“Nonsense! They keep asking us to adhere to the original, and we did! And when we film according to the original, they complain about the role not having enough scenes! Ridiculous!”

Seeing that there was no response from the Weibo account of the cast and crew of “The Long Ballad”, the angry fans immediately pushed the topic “Xia Wanyuan Heavenly Spirit Princess” onto the hot search list.

The hottest post was a certain fan’s strong complaint and request for a change in casting. Seeing that the trending topic was getting more popular, the anger of the fans also increased.

At long last, the production crew of “The Long Ballad” finally responded with two responses to the outcry of the masses.

One was Xia Wanyuan’s role description.

The other was a fifteen-second video.

All the fans of the original novel who had angrily clicked onto the video went silent after watching it.
