

Mr. President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 4 The woman he likes

Layla turned her head to the direction of Blake and asked, "Why would you keep staring at me?"

"Even though I don't remember anything, I still remember loving someone so much." Blake Spencer looked at her like she is the person he loves so much.

"That's not me for sure. So, don't stare at me like that. People around you would have told you if the person you love so much exists." Layla said.

He nodded and said, "I met that woman and it just doesn't feel right."

The second he saw Layla Alexander after he woke up, he thought that Layla was the woman who he used to love so much.

Everything about Layla fascinated him.

This is why he wants to find her because he feels safe when he is with her.

"How about you let me see her?" Layla suggested.

She really didn't know what to do to help Blake.

Maybe she could ask the woman something about Blake Spencer.

Blake knitted his eyebrows together and said, "I don't want to see her."

After Layla finished reading his medical record, she gave up. Blake Spencer is very healthy; he just loses his memories. So, reading his medical record won't help a lot.

Layla decided to ask people who have been around Blake Spencer, hoping that she will get some useful information to help him.

She stood up from the sofa and walked out of this room. Blake Spencer followed her out of the room. When they reached the corridor, Layla looked out the window and found out that it was already dark outside.

A few hours have passed without her knowing.

She almost forgets the fact that she just divorces William.

Blake didn't say anything when Layla stopped. He just waited for her patiently.

The workers behind Blake never see him being so patient before. He has been more violence and impatient after he lost his memories, but he looks like another person when he is with Layla.

Layla turned around and said, "I didn't know that it's getting late. Can I go back and come another day?"

She wanted to leave here because she knew that she had no way to help him now.

And about coming another day, she will think about it. Maybe she won't come back here anymore.

"No, you can't. Just stay for the night, it's already late anyway," Blake said.

"I don't want to stay the night in a stranger's house. What would people say if they know that I stay at your place."

"No one will know if you don't tell." Blake Spencer was very stubborn when it comes to things like this. He doesn't want to let her leave.

"The dinner is done. Let's eat." He said, not giving any time for Layla to reject him.

Blake Spencer looked very happy tonight and his appetite was good. His secretary, George was happy to see so and he felt weird at the same time because Blake was never so good to a woman, except for Miss Spencer.

After the dinner, Layla was being forced to stay at Spencer's mansion. She asked George about Blake Spencer and found out that he has a woman he loves so much and her name is Amelia Spencer. She is adopted by Blake's uncle and they grow up together.

George looked at Layla and said, "Mr. Spencer must be seeing you as Miss Spencer now. He treats you like how he treated Miss Spencer before."

"That's weird. Why me? We don't even know each other." Layla said.

"Maybe it is because you are the first-person Mr. Spencer saw when he woke up."

"That sounds possible."

This is what people call imprint behaviour.

"Does Miss Spencer know that he has lost his memories?" Layla asked.

"Of course." George said.

"But we didn't know why Mr. Spencer hated Miss Spencer so much after he lost his memories. There were a few times Miss Spencer came to visit Mr. Spencer and would cry when she left.

"....."

The maids prepare a guest room for Layla for the night.

"Doctor Layla, you don't have to feel pressure for living here. A lot of doctors have lived here to help Mr. Spencer. We will pay you for your hard work."

"Thank you so much."

What George just said made Layla doesn't feel pressure as she was before. Blake Spencer will let her go after he gets his memories back.

The next morning, Layla went to the garden for a walk. She is a morning person and she never wakes up late. Blake Spencer hasn't woken up so she has a lot of time for herself.

Spencer's mansion is a big residence. Way bigger than the Jones's mansion.

When she walked into the house, she saw a beautiful young woman sitting on the sofa and asking the maid if Blake was still sleeping.

After the maid said yes, she then asked, "I heard that Blake hired another doctor?"

The woman asked as if she was the master.

Layla doesn't even have to guess who this woman is, she knows that she is Amelia Spencer.

