Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1321 –Slowing down, Anastasia chewed her food well and tasted flavors she had not tasted before. It was a marvelous and pleasant feeling.

After lunch, Lily made a glass of prune juice for her and set it on the table.” Drink it slowly.”

“Can I drink it?” Frowning, she took in its mild scent.

“Don’t you trust me?” Lily asked her back.

Anastasia nodded. It was because she trusted Lily that she had accepted her treatment and agreed to have a wonderful lunch with her.

“I haven’t felt like this for a long time,” Anastasia said with mixed emotions. She had suddenly found herself at peace with food today.

It was not her enemy, and she did not have to fight it. She needed food, and the food was willing to satisfy her needs. Everything was perfect. She took a small sip of the prune juice and felt its sweetness permeating from the tip of her tongue.

Closing her eyes, she felt as if many cute-looking plums were dancing on her tongue and let out a smile.

Amaid then entered the room from the outside and lowered her head next to Lily. “Ma’am, a Mr. Fike wishes to see you.”

“Mr. Fike?” Lily thought about the pedantic and arrogant man and frowned.” I’m not seeing him. Tell him to get lost.”

Lily had always given Anastasia a gentle and friendly impression. Hearing her impatient tone for the first time, the young woman could not help but open her eyes to look at her.

The maid quickly left to do what she was told.

Anastasia asked curiously, “Lily, who’s Mr. Fike? Do you dislike him?”

“A bit.” Lily nodded. ‘I suppose I do.’

Just as she finished saying that, the maid returned, and Lily knowingly asked, “He’s not leaving, is he?”

'He screamed at the CCTV camera outside the studio gate for a while the last time, and now he's harassing me at my house? How dare he?'

Just as she was about to get up and chase him off herself, the maid said, "No, there's a Mrs. Moore who claims to be Ms. Rollin's aunt. She says she wishes to see Ms. Rollins for an important matter." The maid looked at Anastasia as she spoke.

"My aunt?" Anastasia was taken aback. "Why is she here?"

Lily knew the visitor should not be a phony based on Anastasia's response, but she gave it some more thought. "Would you like to see her?"

'What if Anastasia isn't on good terms with her aunt or doesn't wish to see her? I shouldn't just let her in, should I?'

"My aunt often visits me at my house and brings me gifts. She was the one who gave me the agarwood I sent you." Anastasia hesitated and did not say whether she wanted to see her aunt. "However, I have no idea why she would look for me here."

Lily got Anastasia's point and waved. "Let her in then."

'Since Anastasia is not on bad terms with her aunt, and the woman might have come here to tell her something important, it's better to let her in.'

"Does your aunt know about fragrances?" Lily thought about it and asked.

'The agarwood is not just valuable and rare but also hard to care for. If she's not into fragrances or knows how to grow the plant, I doubt she would buy it.'

Anastasia shook her head. "My aunt knows nothing about spices. She only knows about buying perfumes and essential oils, not perfumery."

Before Lily could ask further, someone had already entered the door. A man was trailing behind a well-dressed middle-aged woman.

Entering through the door, Austin slightly held up his chin and casually glanced at Lily. He smiled mirthlessly. "We meet again, Lily Christian."

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1322—Although Maria had no idea what was happening between them, she could vaguely sense that the vibe was not right. She had thought at first that since Austin was acquainted with Mrs. Russell and knew where she lived, the woman should be a friend of some kind.

However, when he told the maid his family name, and she returned to tell him that Lily did not want to see him, Maria thought otherwise.

‘Now that the two have met, they seem ready to quarrel. How bizarre!’

She looked at Austin, who was smiling despite his anger, then at the house owner. Maria suddenly let out a yelp. “Oh, you’re... Aren’t you that woman who splashed Mr. Fike’s face with a drink?”

Thinking she looked familiar, Maria kept staring and remembered who Lily was. ‘During the symposium, she splashed Austin’s face with fruit juice, and if not for her. I’d be able to squeeze through the crowd to talk to him.’

She did not know whether Austin got mad then, but he did not stay long afterward and left in a hurry. After blurting out the question, she remembered she was in Lily’s house and clapped her hand to her mouth.

Glancing at both of them, Maria now knew why Austin let out such an odd expression when he said he knew Lily.

‘They’re not friends but enemies! Oh, no! Why is Tasia hanging out with Mr. Fike’s enemy? If he gets angry and refuses to treat her, all my efforts would be for nothing!’

As the only person who was clueless about their relationship, Anastasia was puzzled and asked despite herself, “Lily, are you...”

‘Tasia, how do you know Mrs. Russell?’

Not familiar with Lily, Maria wanted to say “this woman,” but she knew better while being in Lily’s house.

‘If this woman is Mr. Fike’s enemy, then there’s no need to treat her courteously. What matters is the miracle doctor!’

“Aunt Maria, why are you here? How do you know where Mrs. Russell lives?”

When she left the house, the housekeepers knew she had gone to Lily’s place, but they had no idea where it was. ‘Did my father send her over to bring me home?’

Thinking so, Anastasia started to look nervous.

“Did you come with my father?” She subconsciously put down the glass of prune juice.

Maria shook her head. “No, I hired the miracle doctor to treat you, but you weren’t not home. He was kind enough to come and see you, so that’s why we’re here!”

“Miracle doctor?” Lily said this somewhat mockingly.

She looked Austin up and down. ‘He enjoys bluffing, doesn’t he? No one knows how capable he is and how many lives he has saved, but he has the cheek to call himself a miracle doctor?!’

Austin did not care much about the “miracle doctor” title, but he was upset by Lily’s mocking tone and gaze. ‘What kind of expression is she giving me? Is she looking down on me?’

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1323—‘Who is she to look down on me? What qualifications does she have for her to do that? However lousy I am, I should be able to stand tall in her presence regarding herbal medicine, shouldn’t I?’

Thus, Austin straightened his back. ‘You have a problem with that?’

Lily chuckled coldly, having nothing to say.

You...” Austin flared up when he noticed her attitude toward him. His face grew stiff, and he forgot he had decided to have a friendly conversation with her on the way here.

He wanted to ask about the data at the laboratory. No matter what, Lily had stayed longer than him in the laboratory and knew much more about the experiment than him. He thought he could get inspired from the past data and avoid going in the wrong direction.

However, Austin did not expect Lily to infuriate him by saying so little and make him lose his cool. He said mockingly despite himself, “It seems like Mrs. Russell does not trust me and perhaps knows a better candidate. In that case, I’ll get out of your way.”

He turned to leave.

However, Maria held him back, not wanting him to leave. “Mr. Fike, you can’t leave! You promised to treat Tasia!”

She hurriedly turned to Lily. “Mrs. Russell, perhaps you do not know much about Anastasia’s condition and who Mr. Fike is. As Dominic Fike’s last apprentice and a famed miracle doctor in our country, he can cure anything.

“Also, he’s so sought-after that one can hardly meet with him. It took me great effort to hire him to treat Tasia, so please don’t talk nonsense and make her lose her chance to get better!”

The more Lily listened, the more she found it ridiculous. “Oh, so you’re Dominic Fike’s secret apprentice. Excuse me for not showing you the respect you deserve.”

Austin was speechless, and his face grew stiffer.

‘It’s a compliment when others say that, but when Lily says it... She knows full well who the secret apprentice is. It’s fine if she doesn’t tell me who the person is, but how can she tease me?’

“Mrs. Moore, since I’m not welcome here and this is the right place to conduct treatment, I’m afraid Ms. Rollins has to see me some other day.” He looked away and said coldly.

Maria was puzzled.

‘Didn’t Mrs. Russell pay him a compliment just now? Why is he still upset? It’s indeed tough to predict how great minds think!’

“Mr. Fike, please don’t get upset!” Maria said apologetically. “Tasia, why don’t we go home first? Go home and let Mr. Fike examine you properly.”

Anastasia was still puzzled about the situation. She did not know anything about Austin except what her aunt had said in a hurry just now.

All these years, Anastasia had grown numb from seeing too many “miracle doctors” and did not particularly look forward to getting Mr. Fike’s treatment.

On the other hand, Lily had brought Anastasia joy that she had not felt for many years with a piece of blueberry mousse and a simple lunch.

‘Since Lily is on bad terms with this so-called miracle doctor, I should side with her.’ She bit her lower lip and shook her head. “I don’t need a miracle doctor. I’d like to stay at Lily’s house for a bit longer.”

Austin and Maria were stunned.

Austin was too ashamed to stay any longer and snorted. “It looks like I’m not needed at all.”

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1324—Austin strode off, no longer putting on an act. Lily did not bother stopping him since she had not invited him and did not want to allow him into her home in the first place.

Anastasia remained quiet when she noticed Lily's silence. 'If the house owner hasn't asked him to stay, who am I to say anything?'

Maria looked at them and the leaving man before she hurried after him." Mr. Fike? Mr. Fike! Miracle Doctor!" She shouted when she realized he was not stopping.

Austin suddenly stopped and spun around to look at Maria in rage. "Don't call me 'miracle doctor' ever again! If that woman is up to the task, why don't you let her treat your niece?"

He walked off sternly, no longer paying any attention to Maria.

Maria caught herself after two seconds and hurriedly gave chase. "Mr.

Fike, don't let ignorant people upset you. It isn't worth it. That Mrs. Russell is just a pampered woman who is out of touch with the world!

"How would she know how good you are? She's just an ignorant hillbilly, so please don't mind her. Besides, the whole nation knows you're an excellent doctor. Who is she to question your credibility?"

"Now that you've seen my niece's condition, don't you feel sorry for her as a doctor? Also, her father is Secretary Rollins. If you could cure her, he would surely reward you handsomely. Aren't you experimenting? If you need anything, I'm sure he could help you. You..."

Austin reached the gate, opened his car door, and turned to look at her." Mrs. Moore, I need the patient to cooperate even if I'm willing to conduct the treatment. As you saw, Lily Christian had deceived your niece, and she would only listen to her. I'm afraid I can't help you!"

"No, she's just a young girl. What does she know? She's just-"

Austin continued without waiting for her to finish, "If you want my help, there's a way. Tell your niece that if she wants to get well, she must listen to me. There's nothing I can do if she listens to random words by random people."

Maria nodded repeatedly. "Of course, she would listen to you. Who else to listen to but the miracle doctor? Rest assured that it..."

As she proclaimed her determination, Austin got into the car, fastened the seatbelt, and stuck his head out the window. "Since you said so, look for me after you communicate with her."

“Also...” With his index finger pointing up, he gestured as he said, “Do not let this happen again. I don’t want any laypersons spouting nonsense aside while I treat the patient.”

“Yes, I understand!” Maria answered, looking on as Austin started the car and drove off.

Meanwhile, Anastasia was still chit-chatting with Lily. “Lily, my aunt said the person just now is a miracle doctor, but why did you treat him like your enemy?”

“He’s hardly an enemy,” Lily said casually. ‘I only dislike him.’ “So, is he a miracle doctor?” Anastasia was curious.

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1325—Lily lifted her gaze to Anastasia and smiled. “I’m not sure. Your aunt might know better since she’s the one who hired him.”

Anastasia wanted to ask a few more questions, but Maria’s shrill voice came from outside the door, “Of course I do!” She strode in, looking upset.

When she entered the door, she stared at Lily and said with a sigh, “Mr. Fike is Dominic Fike’s secret apprentice. Mrs. Russell, as someone who has married well and has good looks, you have no idea what my niece is going through. I took a lot of effort to bring the miracle doctor here, yet you made him leave in a fit!”

Lily chuckled. “Ma’am, if I remember correctly, this happens to be my house. Do I need approval in deciding who to invite and who I don’t wish to see?”

‘I have yet to ask her why she brought someone else in without my permission, and she dares to question me instead!’

“You...” Thinking she could not direct her anger at Lily, Maria decided to vent it on Anastasia. She took a few steps forward and seized her niece’s hand. “Tasia, come home with me!”

Anastasia was dumbfounded and frowned. “I don’t want to leave yet.”

“What are you saying? It took much to hire the miracle doctor, yet you’ve upset him! Go home. You used to be a good girl! Why have you suddenly changed so much? Has someone led you astray? There are all kinds of people out there. Don’t blindly listen to what they say!”

Maria tried to pull her niece up as she spoke. However, Anastasia was heavy and obese. The young woman did not move a bit, no matter how hard Maria tried.

'That woman is insinuating I'm the one to blame.'

Lily lowered her gaze, revealed a half-smile, and did not argue with Maria.

It was Anastasia who got upset instead. "Don't talk nonsense, Aunt Maria! Lily is my friend, and I can't let you accuse her like this. Besides, over the years, you and my father had hired many miracle doctors, but what did they accomplish?"

"I know you mean well, but stop wasting your energy. I'm not seeing any miracle doctor, and all I want is to stay a bit longer at my friend's house."

Exhausted and out of breath, Maria knew she could not pull her niece along and could only let her go.

Maria changed her tactic and cried. "How could you say that? How could I let you be? Your mother died young and left behind no one else but you. With your father tied up with work, how could your uncle and I not care for you?"

'Your uncle and I are responsible for what you've become. Every girl your age has a boyfriend. If you weren't so big, you wouldn't have a problem getting a boyfriend, would you? Now you can't even get a date!"

Anastasia looked ashamed after hearing her aunt's words.

Maria continued to sob as if she had not noticed her niece's expression." As an innocent child, you don't understand how evil a person could be and naively believe her sweet talk. You have no idea that we are the ones who genuinely care about you!

"I worked hard to get you the miracle doctor, yet she chased him away. Still, you think she cares about you? If she truly wants you to get better, she would care about your health and not mislead you to stuff yourself."

Lily did not like such rowdiness. She held her throbbing temples and lifted her eyelids when she heard Maria's wailing. "Sorry to interrupt. Who are you accusing of misleading Tasia to stuff herself?"

Maria stopped crying and shot an angry and resentful glare at Lily. "Why are you looking at me? I was talking about you!"

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1326—Maria moved a few steps forward as she spoke and snatched up the half empty glass of prune juice. 'This is the proof!"

She chuckled coldly when she noticed Lily raise her brow. "What's wrong? You still won't admit it? Do you dare say that it's not juice?"

"Even if you don't know about Tasia's health condition, you shouldn't have offered juice to someone so fat! Also, I know she must've had lunch here since she came in the morning. What did you feed her?"

Anastasia dared not say anything as she had eaten some meat. Although Lily told her she could eat them, she tried her best not to eat much and even felt guilty afterward. She suddenly felt overcome with guilt and felt like she had eaten poison after her aunt inquired about it.

"I was entertaining my guest. Do I need to report to you?" Lounging in her chair, Lily did not even lift her eyelids.

'If it weren't for Tasia's sake, I wouldn't allow this woman to be so rude! Who is she to make all sorts of accusations against me?'

"You..." Stumped, Maria let out a grim expression. "You don't have to report to me, but I think you know who Tasia's father is! If you ruin her health, Alexander won't be able to save himself, let alone you!"

"Aunt Maria, please don't say it like that. Lily meant well..." Anastasia was scared. She was concerned her father would find out. Although her father was fair and would not mistreat anyone for her sake, he might enforce a stricter diet plan if he discovered his daughter had eaten something behind his back. She almost wanted to throw up when she thought about eating tomatoes, cucumbers, and lettuce daily.

"She meant well? You were born with a silver spoon in your mouth, and you know nothing about the outside world! Only your family truly cares about you, okay? Let's go!" Maria extended her hand but did not try to pull Anastasia away this time.

Hesitating, Anastasia looked at her hand. She did not wish to go home so early as she felt relaxed and carefree staying here with Lily. She was concerned, however, after seeing her aunt's determined expression.

'Tasia, you wouldn't want your father to know what you've been doing behind his back, do you?' Maria threatened her in a stern voice.

Anastasia bolted to her feet. "Please don't! I'll go back with you."

'That's more like it!' Maria softened her look now that Anastasia was willing to comply.

Lily stood up and walked over. 'Tasia...'

Taking two steps, Maria immediately stood between them and looked at her warily. "What are you trying to do? You're not stopping her from going home, are you?"

Lily raised her hand without looking at her, and a maid readily brought her a shopping bag.

She handed it to Anastasia. "Here are some gifts for you. These tokens aren't worth much, but you must accept them, okay?"

Lily made an effort to make sure Anastasia would accept them as if she were anticipating that she wouldn't.

Since Lily had put it that way, Anastasia thought it would not be nice to refuse her gifts. "Lily..."

Throwing a sidelong glance at it, Maria saw it was not something valuable and let out a look of disdain.

'I heard the Russell family is wealthy, yet she's so stingy!'

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1327—Pouting scornfully, she could hardly wait any longer. "Tasia, come on!" 'Now that the miracle doctor has gotten upset, I've got to find a way to persuade him to come back.'

"Lily, I'm sorry for what happened today," Anastasia apologized as she walked away.

'No matter what, I came as a guest, but my family member brought over someone Lily dislikes and made a scene. This is our fault.'

"It's fine. Remember to come here often, okay?"

Nodding, Anastasia looked toward her aunt, who was chattering outside, and turned to leave.

Maria was babbling as they entered the car. "Tasia, how could you hang out with that kind of woman? She's not someone easy to deal with!

"I heard she used to have a boyfriend before marrying Alexander, and she ruined that man's family. Alexander's uncle also got kicked out of the company and is now suffering in the mountains, thanks to her. And-"

“Aunt Maria, where did you hear about these rumors?” Frowning, Anastasia was upset. ‘They’re rather baseless, don’t you think?’

Maria disagreed. “Hey, these are not rumors, okay? I’ve learned these from my friends. You know they are well connected and know every gossip in the town. In short, this Mrs. Russell..”

‘They are not well-connected. They are just being who they are- busybodies!’ Anastasia said bluntly.

Anastasia knew Maria’s rich lady friends loved to gossip, and they were the ones who had been spreading the rumors.

She was also aware that these same people had bad-mouthed her behind her back. Besides, she had tried to find out about Lily before. ‘I’m not an idiot. Of course, I wouldn’t befriend her without knowing who she is.’

“Hey, how could you talk to your aunt like this? You’ve only known that woman for a few days, and she already has a bad influence on you!”

She saw Anastasia holding the shopping bag and tried to grab it. “Let me see what sort of lousy gifts she gave you.”

To her surprise, Anastasia did not let it go. “Aunt Maria! These are my gifts. You shouldn’t be doing this!”

“What the hell are you talking about? I’m your aunt and your elder. Can’t I check if her gifts are bad for you?” Not giving up, she tried to pull it, but Anastasia was stronger and managed to turn away to shield the bag with her bigger body.

Unable to reach the bag, Maria could only give up and clench her teeth while staring at her, out of breath.

‘Stupid girl! Fat pig! Do you think I’d bother to take care of your business if it weren’t for your father?’

When Alexander returned home and heard about what happened, his first response was to ask, “Did she startle our son?”

“He was taking his afternoon nap. The house is well soundproofed, and he wasn’t disturbed.”

That was why Lily had not chased Austin and Maria out by force. If anyone were to disturb her son, she would not care who they were.

“Good to hear that.” Nodding, he pulled Lily closer and carefully looked her up and down. Seeing that she was unharmed, he let out a sigh of relief. “How about you stay out of this?”

He knew Anastasia had been in bad shape for a long time, and Cameron had brought her to many doctors. It was not that he doubted Lily’s capabilities, but he knew it was a thankless task.

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1328—‘Anastasia’s family might not complain if Lily could improve her health, but they would blame her if she fails’

Thoughtful for a moment, Lily touched her lips with a finger. “How’s the Rollins’ relationship with their relatives?”

“Are you talking about her uncle’s wife, Mrs. Moore?” Alexander caught on to what she was asking. “Ms. Rollins’ mother passed away when she was young, and Secretary Rollins was too busy to look after her. As a little girl, she was often cared for by her uncle and his wife, besides the nanny.

“The couple has a daughter too, and the two girls grew up together as companions.” Alexander did not know much, but as he was somewhat close with Cameron, he had learned a thing or two about Cameron’s family.

“Then they should be close, shouldn’t they?” Lily asked again. From how Maria reacted today, she felt they were not really on good terms or close with each other.

‘If she’s close with Anastasia, why would she call her fat in front of others? Even if that’s the fact, those words were hurtful. Anyone who truly cares about someone would never do such a thing’

“I have no idea.” Alexander shook his head. “You care about Ms. Rollins, don’t you?”

“I just think she’s a good person, and I feel bad seeing her suffer a chronic disease at such a young age.” She sighed. “However, after what happened today, I feel it might not be easy to invite her over again.”

“Are you saying that Secretary Rollins would interfere?”

Lily nodded. She could imagine how Maria would spice up her story to make her look bad. ‘She must’ve thought I’m a great villain for chasing away that so-called miracle doctor’

When Anastasia reached home, she saw her father's car parked there and felt anxious.

Maria saw her reaction and said as she pointed at the car, "See that? How are you going to answer your father?"

"Aunt Maria..." she said softly, almost pleading.

As if ignoring her, Maria opened the door, got out of the car, and strode into the house.

Standing outside, Anastasia hesitated for a while before lifting her head and entering after the woman.

Aman was drinking tea at the dining table. He looked even more severe with his glasses on.

"you're home early, Ron! Anyway, it's good that you've returned. You must teach Tasia a lesson. God knows what sort of people she hung out with lately, and she doesn't care one bit about her health anymore!" The moment she entered the door, Maria started to babble.

Looking up slowly, Cameron Rollins removed his glasses. "Yes? Why are you here?" he asked.

"Well, I brought a miracle doctor over to examine Tasia, but she wasn't home. So I took him to—"

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1329 —"What miracle doctor?" Cameron caught on to the vital point and cut Maria off.

"Uh..." Maria nearly choked as her outpouring of resentment was interrupted. "He's Dominic Fike's secret apprentice."

"Dominic Fike, the famous physician?" Cameron immediately thought of him.

"yes, him! You also tried hiring him, but he retired and hasn't been around for many years. People even suspect he's dead, seriously ill, or paralyzed. Anyway, his secret apprentice's talent caught his attention, and he made an exception to teach him.

"He's also said to be Dominic Fike's most gifted apprentice. I always wanted to reach him, and it took me a great deal of effort to find out how to contact him—"

“Where is he?” Cameron interjected again and looked behind her. He saw Anastasia moving carefully into the house instead.

At the mention of this, Maria revealed a sad expression and sighed.

“Good question! I worked so hard to engage his service, but Mrs. Russell—”

Cameron frowned. “Mis. Russell?”

After getting interrupted many times, Maria took time to reorganize her thoughts while Anastasia quickly took a step forward. “Dad, it’s Lily. I told you I’d be visiting her house.”

“Yes, Lily Russell!” Maria tried to squeeze past her. “Ron, you have to talk some sense into Tasia and tell her to stop hanging out with that woman. She’s cunning and up to no good. I think she purposely chased away the miracle doctor to stop Tasia from—”

“So the miracle doctor you hired did not try to treat Tasia?”

“yes! He was going to, but Lily Russell was crazy enough to chase him away. Now that the miracle doctor is upset, I have to find ways to appease him. Cameron, what do—”

“That’s not true, Dad! Lily didn’t say anything. It was the miracle doctor who was rude to her!” Anastasia hurriedly explained, worried that her father would have a wrong impression of Lily.

“What do you know? It’s natural for the miracle doctor to be prideful, and that woman showed him no respect. I think she must have fed you lies, and that’s why you can’t see the truth!

“Oh, yes, Ron, she even gave Tasia a drink, and God knows how much Tasia ate during her lunch there. How will she slim down that way? My heart aches for Tasia as her aunt.”

Unable to stop her aunt’s jabbering, Anastasia nervously looked at her father, her face blushing in one minute and paling the next. “Dad, no, that’s not a sweetened drink but prune juice. It helps digestion and…”

“How is prune juice not a sweetened drink? Fruits are high in fructose and even higher when turned into juice. Lily Russell is out to harm you!”

“Dad, I didn’t…”

“Maria.” Cameron turned over to look at her. “It’s getting late, and Fabian has been under much pressure. You should go home to take care of him.”

“I...” Still hoping to say more, Maria wanted to stay but was unnerved by his gaze. “I better get going then. I’ll devise a way to persuade the miracle doctor.”

Before she left, she looked at Anastasia. “Tasia, I’m the one who truly cares about you. Listen to me and stay away from Lily Russell. She’s not a good person, okay?”

Anastasia simply stood there without saying anything or looking back at her aunt. She pouted and looked back at her father.

Maria left in a fit because Cameron had no intention of speaking to her. Instead, Cameron cast his gaze to his daughter and saw her standing there with a pale face, her eyes filled with anxiety, and yet her lips pursed stubbornly.

‘She looks so much like her mom. If she could slim down, I bet she would be as beautiful as her mother.’

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1330–Cameron gazed at Anastasia momentarily, released a sad sigh, and slowly sat down. “Tasia, tell me the truth. Have you eaten anything you aren’t supposed to?” From his calm voice, one could tell he was trying his best to control his emotions.

Anastasia pursed her lips. “I did eat something, but Lily gave me healthy food. They would strengthen my body and not make me fat. Lily says my basal metabolic rate is high. As long as my food intake is not over it, there will be a calorie deficit, and I’ll then be able to lose weight! Dad, I think it’ll work!”

At least she had not felt too hungry after her meal. She used to spend her days in hunger. Due to the strict diet plan, she knew she would eat tomatoes, cucumber, or broccoli and would feel revolted just thinking about them.

She dared not tell her father she had thought about ending her life before as it was an agony to suffer like this, especially since she knew her father worried about her.

After meeting Lily, she felt the woman had opened a gap in her closed heart. Finally, there was someone who understood her.

Moreover, Lily had not made fun of Anastasia or looked at her mockingly as she ate. Lily had also gently asked Anastasia to eat slowly and even told her she could eat meat.

“Do you trust her?” Cameron noticed his daughter’s emotional expression and was somewhat surprised. He knew his daughter well.

Anastasia almost had no friends and had grown accustomed to keeping a distance from others to protect herself. She rarely formed friendships voluntarily, let alone became close with someone or tried to defend the person.

Yet she had stood up for Lily many times today. It was easy to see that she cared about her relationship with Lily.

‘Alexander’s wife has truly surprised me’

“I do!” Anastasia nodded vigorously and said firmly, “Dad, although she’s not a doctor or a fitness instructor, I truly trust her. I think what she says makes a lot of sense, and I’m willing to try it.”

Cameron remained quiet and gently tapped the table’s surface with his fingers. Then he slowly spoke, “Before this, a doctor brought up the issue of calorie deficits, and after you tried his method...”

‘Tasia failed disastrously, and she became even fatter’

Anastasia fell silent. She had tried many times using different methods, but those well-known fitness instructors and weight loss experts ultimately shook their heads and told Cameron they could do nothing.

Some even told Cameron behind Anastasia’s back that she had been secretly eating, which was why she could not lose weight. Cameron almost sent Anastasia to a weight loss camp if she had not put her foot down.

She wanted to slim down but did not want to leave home to stay in such an isolated environment. She felt suffocated just thinking about it.

The father-daughter duo faced each other in silence, suppressing their feelings.

Ever since she grew fat, there was always a tense atmosphere at home, as if a dark cloud was forever hanging over them. Cameron would be in a bad mood, while Anastasia became afraid of him.
