

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1551 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1551-"That's right."

Cameron fervently nodded while Maria smiled from ear to ear.

"Hence, I didn't think my brother-in-law's daughter would harm my daughter. She's so young, yet vicious."

Cameron directed his cold and stern gaze at Rhea.

If looks could kill, Rhea would be in pieces by now.

Both Fabian and Maria were stunned upon hearing that.

Only Rhea's expression remained unchanged.

She merely moved her brows and said, "Uncle Cameron, what do you mean by that? Why don't I understand you?"

She had an innocent look like she had no idea what Cameron was talking about.

Upon hearing that, Maria quickly added in a displeased tone, "Yeah! There must be some misunderstanding here! Cameron, how could you say that about Ree? "You said so yourself that she's your niece. It's too harsh of you to call her vicious! If Ree did anything wrong, I'd allow you to punish her for that, but I don't like how you're attacking her with such harsh words!"

"Why don't you ask your baby daughter what she has done?"

Cameron lifted his chin toward Rhea as he wrapped his arm around Anastasia's shoulder, patting her.

Seeing Cameron's confidence made Maria slightly doubtful as she turned to look at Rhea.

"Ree..."

"I don't know what I did that upset Uncle Cameron."

Rhea remained calm.

“Uncle Cameron, I guess you have a problem with me, and that’s why you’ re treating my parents so terribly.If I did anything wrong, I’d like to apologize to you.I hope you won’t target them anymore because of me.”

Rhea’s words stunned her parents as they thought simultaneously, ‘Is that the case? Did he give us such ill-treatment because he doesn’t like Ree? If that’s true, he’s too heartless! We’ve been so nice to Tasia, to the point where Ree got jealous of her.What did Ree do that could infuriate him this much?’

“Cameron, let’s be upfront with each other.It’s pointless to beat around the bush,” Fabian said, displeased.

“Sure.Then let me ask you this.How did Tasia’s body turn out like this? Someone said she had gotten poisoned for a long time, right? How did she get poisoned?”

Cameron went straight to the point.

The Moore couple was puzzled.They looked at each other and saw from each other’s eyes that neither understood what Cameron meant.

“Cameron, what does Tasia getting poisoned...have to do with Ree? You’re not trying to say that Ree was the one who poisoned her, are you?” Maria could not help but ask.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1552 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1552-“No way! Anastasia is suffering from chronic poisoning, which has been going on for many years! Ree was just a kid back then, so what would she know about poisons? Also, Ree and Tasia did not get along well since they were young and rarely hung out.

“Why would she poison Anastasia? Don’t scare me! That is a serious crime!” Maria’s expression changed.

‘What did he say? Ree poisoned his daughter? Oh please! I understand Ree well.Although she has a weird temper and doesn’t have a close relationship with me, she’s still a kind and smart lady.How could Cameron just frame her for such a thing for no reason? I’ll never believe it!’

“My mom’s right.Uncle Cameron, are you mistaken about something? Or did you listen to someone’s slander?”

Rhea nodded and asked seriously.

Rhea sat properly with a calm smile hanging on her pretty face. She looked like an obedient student that everyone would want.

No Matter how one looked at it, she did not look like the vicious person Cameron said she was.

“Who told you I poisoned Anastasia?” Rhea asked again.

“That’s right. Who said that?”

Upon hearing Rhea’s words, Maria believed someone was trying to ruin their relationship.

“Cameron, you shouldn’t let others provoke you. We’re family!”

“Let me guess. Was it Lily?”

Rhea glanced at Anastasia and smiled.

“I know Anastasia has been hanging out with her a lot lately, and she trusts that woman too, but... there’s some bad blood between us.

“After all, we worked in the same institute, but she left when we had a conflict with the research. I stayed, and she hates me for it. I know that.”

“oh! It turns out that the two of you had history!”

Maria came to a realization and held her daughter’s hand in distress.

“Silly girl. Why didn’t you tell me about all that and allow others to slander you behind your back? I can’t bear to see this happening to you!”

“Did I say who it was? You’re just speculating here,” Cameron said coldly.

The hatred in his gaze was even more evident now.

“You know very well what you did! If it wasn’t because Anastasia regarded you as her family, do you think you can sit here right now?”

Rhea was unwilling to back down and straightened up.

“Uncle Cameron, that was so harsh of you. If you have proof, call the cops. The cops will know what to do! After all, the cops will obey whatever you say, and you’ll quickly be done with the process.

“If you don’t have proof, I’ll get angry when you say those things about me even though I’m from the younger generation!”

Great play of words by Rhea, indeed.

Fabian was about to explode.

“Ree is right! Cameron, you can’t do this! It’s fine if you don’t grant the project to me or look down on me, but Ree did nothing wrong! You can’t slander her this way!”

“Exactly! Anastasia stayed for a long time at our house when she was younger, and you can ask her how well I’ve treated her! I don’t even treat Ree this way. Now, you’re framing a young girl for something she has never done just because of what you heard from others. If your wife were still here, she wouldn’t like this either!”

As Maria spoke, she started to wail and looked at Anastasia.

“Anastasia, tell us. Do you think Ree is that kind of person? Won’t you feel guilty for slandering your cousin? Think carefully about this!”

“Aunt Maria, I convinced daddy not to put Rhea behind bars because I still think of her as family. Also, it’s because of Uncle Fabian and you, who have taken care of me in the past. However, Ree is unwilling to admit to what she did until now.” Anastasia sighed sadly.

“Anastasia, you...”

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1553 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1553-Maria was so shocked that she had no words because she did not expect Anastasia to say that. Her tears had even stopped falling.

“Since you brought it up, let’s talk it out,”

Cameron straightened his back and said sternly, “I trust that you two aren’t involved in this matter, although Maria, you were the one who sent those harmful herbal plants over. Still, I trust you knew nothing about it.”

The mention of her name made her blood run cold.

“What did you say? What harmful plants?”

“Before this, you sent Tasia a lot of herbs frequently, and it has filled up the whole place.”

Cameron motioned to remind her of them.

Maria admitted that and nodded, but she was puzzled.

“What does that have anything to do with Anastasia getting poisoned? Do you mean to say that... those herbs poisoned her? The miracle doctor didn't mention that!”

“You're right. It's those herbs precisely,”

Anastasia nodded and said, “The miracle doctor has never brought it up, but that doesn't mean others are clueless about it. Also, I didn't get better because of his prescription. I didn't even take them because they're useless!”

The series of events was overwhelming for Maria.

She was in a daze and felt that she had lost all her senses and could not hear and understand what Anastasia was saying.

“You... How did you recover if you didn't take the miracle doctor's prescribed medicine? Also, the miracle doctor knew you got poisoned. Even if you don't want to owe me a favor, you don't have to make things up like this!”

Maria felt aggrieved, and her expression was terrible at this moment.

After all, she had been occupied with this matter for along time.

It hurt her when she heard it was all ultimately useless.

“The miracle doctor knows what he's doing, but he's not the best doctor,”

Anastasia said lightly, “As the medicines he prescribed were useless, there was no need for me to take them. But it's good enough for him that he could tell that I was poisoned and not just obese.

“I could recover because there was an expert helping me. Aunt Maria, you don't need to be too concerned about this. However, I suffered chronic poisoning because of those herbal plants Rhea asked you to send over.

“I trust that you had no idea about it, and Rhea was the one who did all that.” Anastasia looked in Rhea's direction like a judge in the court of law.

It only made Rhea chuckle.

“How ridiculous! It's my first time hearing that herbal plants could cause someone to suffer from chronic poisoning! Plus, I studied modern medicine, so I wouldn't know much about medicinal herbs! “Do you think I could use such a complicated method to do this to you? Also, why would I poison you? Why are the maids fine if it's because of those plants? Why is Uncle Cameron fine too? Why were you the only one who turned out this way? "Perhaps you became fat because of your body type.

I already found it ridiculous when you said you got poisoned! Still, I can't believe that you pushed the blame on me and said I poisoned you! You're just saying whatever you want here!"

Rhea shook her head and smiled, looking like Anastasia had wrongfully blamed her and was feeling aggrieved.

Anastasia wanted to speak again, but Cameron stopped her and said sternly, "Rhea! If you keep up this attitude, I will deal with this matter how it's supposed to be dealt with and call the cops!"

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1554 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1554-Maria was startled upon learning that the cops would be involved in this.

Although she did not believe Rhea would do such a thing, she became skeptical after witnessing Cameron's seriousness in the matter and his firmness in rebuking Rhea.

"Cameron, we're family. Why are you making such a big deal..."

Maria started softly.

"We're family, so why is your daughter so evil? Tasia was only about 12 years old at the time, and Rhea was around her age! How could a teenage girl have such a vicious heart? I'm sure all of you know how much Tasia has suffered over the years! "I'm being kind enough not to throw her in prison already!"

Cameron was infuriated beyond words.

The only thing he wished he could do right now was to put Rhea behind bars and make her suffer the pain Anastasia had gone through.

However, Anastasia convinced him not to do so.

"Uncle Fabian and Aunt Maria would not be able to take it if Rhea goes to prison. They accompanied me most of the time when you weren't home back then, and they did take care of me. Plus, Uncle Fabian is mom's only brother, and Rhea is mom's only niece.

“I think we should just settle this internally. The toxins in my body are almost cleared anyway. We can just cut off all ties with them in the future.”

That was what Anastasia said when trying to convince Cameron to abandon his plan.

Consequently, he put up with it the whole time, though he was taken aback by Rhea’s lack of remorse.

At this moment, he wanted to break his promise to Anastasia and teach Rhea a lesson.

“Yeah. Rhea was only a teenage girl, so how would she know about all that…”

“Rhea is smart, and she has won many international academic awards. Not only is she an expert in modern medicine, but she’s also well-versed in medicinal herbs. Since she was young, she has loved studying and learning about plants. I’m sure both of you are aware of this, Uncle Fabian and Aunt Maria,”

Anastasia said, ‘Rhea has always been a brilliant child.’

There was another layer of meaning to Anastasia’s words. She meant to say that Rhea knew about medicinal herbs, and she knew clearly how to use them to achieve the targeted effects as well.

Maria was shocked to her core and turned to look at Rhea.

“Just because I know about all that, so it has to be me? Plus, you said that medicinal herbs poisoned you, so why are you the only one affected when everyone else around you is fine?” Rhea argued calmly.

Cameron, who had been calm the entire time, could not hold it in anymore and got up to his feet.

“You’re still unwilling to admit your mistakes until now! Is it because you think that we have no evidence to prove that it was you? “Fine! Let’s take this case to court. I’ll make your wish come true, and by then, you’ll find out what kind of evidence we have. You’re not going to be able to escape by then!”

As he said, he took out his phone and made a call.

“Hey, this is Cameron. I want to file a case!”

Before he could continue, Maria pounced over and knelt on the ground as she hugged Cameron’s calf.

“Cameron, you can’t report this to the cops! Rhea can’t be sued in court! There must be some sort of misunderstanding here! I’m sure of that! We must find out the truth about this! You can't call the cops! If Fabian's sister was still alive, she wouldn't want this to happen..."

"Her only daughter had been harmed for so many years, do you think that would be what she wants?" Cameron bent to look down at Maria, his gaze cold and without any sympathy as he continued to speak on his phone, "Yeah. My daughter had been poisoned for many years, and I must get to the end of this!"

Fabian's mind was blank.

He just sat and said nothing, not knowing who to trust at this moment.

Then he turned to look at Rhea.

"Rhea, did you do it?"

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1555 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1555-'Is this why Cameron has been acting strangely lately? Is this why I've been feeling that he was hostile toward Ree? I never would've thought that Ree would have anything to do with Anastasia getting poisoned. If what Cameron said was right, I won't be able to imagine the consequences!'

"Is that even important? Didn't Uncle Cameron convict me for it already?"

Rhea was still being nonchalant, as she usually was. She had been sitting in the same spot, and it appeared that she had no intention of admitting her mistakes and apologizing at all.

From her words, one could tell that she was trying to say that Cameron had accused her of something she did not do.

While Cameron was on the phone, Maria begged him on the floor, but it was useless.

Then she turned to hug Anastasia's calf instead.

"Anastasia... We took care of you when you were younger, and you spent a lot of time with Ree back then as well. Even though the two of you aren't close to each other, you're still family. Help Ree convince your father. Please..."

Anastasia had mixed feelings when she saw Maria crying and pleading with her. She could not deny that she regarded Fabian and Maria as her family.

After all, she had never seen her mother before, and the couple was close to her mother before she passed away.

They treated her well, too.

However, the thought that Rhea had made her life a living hell over the years, and the way she was unwilling to admit what she did as if everything had nothing to do with her infuriated Anastasia even more.

Frowning, she started hesitantly.

“Aunt Maria, you know how my dad is. I can’t influence his decision so easily...”

“You...”

Amidst the chaos, a loud slap sounded.

It was crisp and loud, stunning everyone, including Cameron, who was on the phone.

With the phone in his hand, he had forgotten what to say for a moment as his gaze looked in the direction of the sound.

After getting slapped, Rhea held her cheek in a daze for a long time.

She could not fathom what had just happened, but she knew that her cheek was stinging in pain and that her ears were buzzing.

Soon, one side of her cheek swelled.

“You...”

She held her face, unable to come up with words to say for a moment as she watched Fabian get up to his feet and rebuke her, “You piece of sh*t! What did you do to get your uncle this mad? If you did it, then admit it honestly and get the punishment you deserve.

“If you did not do it, you should apologize! You must’ve done something to make Uncle Cameron misunderstand you!”

“Are you crazy? How could you do that to our daughter?”

It hurt Maria to see Rhea in pain.

She returned to her senses and shoved Fabian away so she could take a good look at Rhea’s face, which only made her tears fall even harder.

“Ree, does it hurt? Are you okay?”

Rhea's mind cleared up gradually, and she smiled coldly at her infuriated father.

"Fabian Moore, you're amazing! I can't believe you can even slap me just to get on his good side! But I'm not surprised, though.

Ever since I was young, all the two of you cared about was Anastasia! When did you guys ever care about me? I'm nothing to the two of you!"

While holding her cheek, she got up to her feet and looked into Cameron's eyes.

"Yeah, it was me. I poisoned her! I hate her! I'm jealous of her! Why does everyone love her? I'm better than her in everything! I'm my parents' biological daughter, but they treated her so much better than me just to curry favor with you! Why? Why is it so unfair? I'm not wrong!"

She looked up and exploded in rage, as if all the anger she felt over the years had been released at this moment.

Maria was stunned by the sight and quickly went up to tug on Rhea's arm.

"Ree! What nonsense are you spouting? Have you gone mad?"

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1556 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1546-In comparison, Cameron was much calmer.

Raising a brow, he asked, "You're finally admitting to it?"

"No! No, she was just blabbering nonsense. Cameron, don't take her words seriously!"

In a panic, Maria cried as she pulled on Rhea's arm, explaining further, "You know how stubborn Ree can be. She's just mad at her dad! How could she have poisoned Anastasia? There must be some misunderstanding here..."

That was what Maria said, but truth be told, she was losing confidence.

'Could it be those herbal plants? Is that why Anastasia moved all of them away and said she gifted them to someone else? It seems that she had been wary of us since then.'

With that thought in mind, she looked at Anastasia.

"Tasia, who told you that you were poisoned by the herbal plants? Was it Lily?"

Maria assumed so, as Anastasia had been in frequent contact with Lily only recently.

"I've told you that she's not a good influence on you. How could you listen to the things she said? It might not have been the herbal plants that affected you. If she's right, why were you the only one poisoned? Look at your dad. He's fine, isn't he?"

"My dad isn't home most of the time. I'm sure you're well aware of that, Aunt Maria," Anastasia responded lightly.

"What about the servants in your house..."

Before Maria finished her words, Anastasia interjected, as if she knew what Maria was about to say.

"The servants don't work here for a long time either, with five years being the longest duration of their service. Plus, I was young back then, and I'm naturally weaker than the adults.

"That's why I was more sensitive to the toxins. Rhea most likely did her research and planned for the types of herbal plants to be sent to me on a regular basis to induce the effects she desired."

With that, she looked at Rhea, her voice still soft.

"I'm sure you've put a lot of effort into this because of me, Rhea." Rhea just sneered.

She said nothing, not even denying the claims.

This sight of her made Maria's heart drop even more. She knew everything she said now would sound like an excuse.

Hence, she turned to Rhea and tried to make her kneel on the ground.

"Ree, apologize to Uncle Cameron now. Tell him that you were young and you didn't know what you were doing.

"Tell him that you were just a teenage girl and you were immature back then! Apologize to him quickly!"

As she spoke, she knelt on the ground first while she struggled to bring Rhea to her knees.

However, Rhea was stubborn and was still unwilling to admit she was wrong. The chaotic scene irritated Cameron, making him rebuke sternly, "

Enough! Don't try to get out of this by saying that she was young back then.

Tasia is suffering from chronic poisoning! It's because of something Rhea has done over the years continuously, and not just due to something she did once or twice! "Fine, she was just a teenage girl back then, but what about now? Is she still the immature girl she was back then? She's merely vicious!"

While pointing at Rhea, Cameron concluded the situation.

Soon, Fabian kneeled too.

His face was pale, drained of all color.

At this moment, he finally understood how serious the matter was.

"Cameron, it's my fault for not teaching her well, but could you forgive her this time? She's my late sister's only niece, after all. If she went to prison, her life would be over!" As he said, he put his hands together to plead with Cameron.

Upon hearing that, Maria got an idea and nodded.

"Yeah! Cameron, Ree can't go to prison! That would be the end of her life! Could you forgive her? I've taken care of Anastasia for so many years and have even put in so much effort to cure her sickness. Could you forgive her for the sake of the things I've done for Anastasia?"

Maria was begging Cameron with her hands as well.

Cameron frowned.

While the two were begging him, Rhea was standing next to them with a cold expression, saying nothing at all.

"If Rhea hadn't been so evil as to poison Tasia, you wouldn't need to find a miracle doctor for her at all. Are you saying that I should thank the two of you right now?" Cameron mocked.

He did not think that there was anything he should thank Fabian and Maria for in this matter.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1557 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1557-If Anastasia did not get poisoned, she would have been much happier. She would have been a beautiful and confident young lady with many friends instead of having low self-esteem and staying cooped up at home all the time.

All these years, she had suffered physically and mentally.

Cameron was well aware of that.

Although he said nothing much about it, it hurt him to see how she was.

However, Maria wanted to take credit for looking high and low for the miracle doctor.

It was ridiculous.

“Anastasia...”

Maria knew what Cameron meant by that, and she finally understood that he would go by what was right or wrong even though they were his relatives.

Therefore, she thought of begging Anastasia instead and wanted to hold the latter’s leg.

Anastasia moved away and stared at the teary-eyed Fabian and Maria before she looked at Cameron.

“Daddy...”

“I told you I’ll handle this. You stay out of it!” Cameron raised one hand, signaling for Anastasia to stay silent. He knew his daughter was soft-hearted and would give in to their request. Hence, he would be the bad guy this time.

“Dad. Mom. Stop begging him.”

Rhea removed her hand from her cheek. She was calm, and there was no sign of panic or fear on her face. She looked up at Cameron before her and said, “Uncle Cameron, you’re determined to put me behind bars, aren’t you?”

“Anyone who commits a crime should be punished in the court of law,” Cameron justified.

“Okay. I agree with that,”

Rhea nodded and continued, “I admit I was the one who poisoned Anastasia, but there are some other things I want to tell you.”

“what is it?” Cameron frowned and looked at Rhea doubtfully.

“Some things...about the institute,” Rhea said after some time.

Cameron was astounded, not expecting her to say that, and continued to ask, “What’s with the institute?”

“You have suspicions about our institute, don’t you? You’re right. We’re indeed hiding something, and I know a little about it. Uncle Cameron, I’d like to tell you about the secrets in exchange for your forgiveness. I hope I can atone for my mistakes by telling you these secrets.”

The sudden change in her attitude stunned Cameron, Fabian, and Maria.

Just a moment ago, she refused to admit she was wrong no matter what.

However, she wanted to use some sort of a secret to make a deal with Cameron now.

She was probably calm earlier because she still had a trump card, right? Still, Fabian and Maria had no idea what secret she was talking about.

When they locked eyes, confusion was evident in each other’s gazes.

“atone your mistakes with that?” Cameron scoffed.

“The secret must be a mind-blowing one, then!”

In other words, Cameron was saying the secret must have been one with utmost confidentiality for it to make up for the harm she had caused Anastasia over the years.

“Uncle Cameron, you’re the decision-maker here. It all depends on how worthy you think it is. I won’t have any objections to your decision!”

Rhea raised one hand, showing she was sincere.

Cameron stared at her for a moment, seeming to be judging the weight of the truth in her words.

Anastasia, who was by his side, was stunned.

“Daddy...”

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1558 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1558 -Cameron just looked at Anastasia and reassured her with his gaze. He would make the best decision for her and would not be convinced by Rhea so easily.

However, Fabian and Maria suddenly became hopeful.

They believed Rhea might know some secret to help her turn the tables.

“Ree, what secret is it? Tell Uncle Cameron now. We’re family, and there shouldn’t be any secrets between us, and...nothing is unforgivable,” Fabian said.

“Yeah. What is it?”

Cameron nodded and said lightly.

Rhea pursed her lips, looking slightly troubled.

“Well, I can only tell Uncle Cameron about this. After all, it’s something serious. It’s about the institute, and I’m afraid that...”

She trailed off, appearing to be in a difficult position.

Maria did not understand what her daughter meant.

“Wait. There aren’t any outsiders here. Can’t we know about it? We’re your parents.”

The servants had already left the room, and she was also curious about the institute’s secrets.

Rhea had always indulged herself in experimenting and rarely communicated with Maria.

It was a rare chance for her to know what Rhea was doing, and she would not want to miss it.

She wanted Rhea to tell them about it on the spot.

“Mom, don’t you know what kind of person you are? When you know about it, can you promise to keep it a secret and not tell anyone about it?” Rhea asked as she bluntly looked at Maria.

Maria did not know how to respond to that.

Still, Rhea was right.

If Maria were to find out about the secret, she would be unable to keep it to herself.

Maria just pursed her lips.

Initially, she wanted to defend herself but did not know what to say.

“What do you want then?” Cameron asked Rhea.

“Can we move to a more private place? I can only tell you everything when it’s the two of us.” Rhea looked around the place, and finally, her gaze landed on the room at the far end of the corridor.

Cameron got what she meant.

“Then let’s head to my study?”

“Daddy…”

Anastasia was nervous.

“I’ll come with you.”

“I said I can only be at ease and tell Uncle Cameron everything when we speak privately. Anastasia, you’re close to Lily. What if you tell her about the secret? Can you save me when the people from the institute come hunting for me?”

“What? Uncle Cameron, are you afraid of being alone with a petite girl like me? You’re good at combat, aren’t you? What can I do to you?” Rhea said, trying to convince Cameron.

She was trying to show she was weak as well.

Cameron smirked, not taking her tricks to heart, but she was right.

Why would a strong man like him be afraid of a petite girl like her? He wanted to see what she had up her sleeves.

“Come with me.”

Cameron turned and headed to his study.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1559 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1559-Rhea followed closely behind while Fabian and Maria got up, watching the two leave with mixed feelings.

They wondered what plan their daughter had in mind.

They just hoped the secret Rhea was going to tell Cameron could save her from going to prison and that Cameron would leave the matter alone.

The couple no longer cared about projects or businesses anymore.

They just hoped Rhea could get out of this situation safely.

Anastasia was the only one looking toward the study with concern.

Lily reminded her before this that Rhea was not as innocent as she portrayed.

Lily was right about that, judging from how Rhea had been poisoning Anastasia since they were still teens.

Rhea was a genius in the medicinal field, but she had an evil heart too.

Back then, Anastasia would bicker with Rhea from time to time.

At most, she would get mad, think about ignoring Rhea forever, and stop going to her place.

She had never thought about harming Rhea, but all these years, she suffered from obesity, anxiety, depression, hair loss, exhaustion, and whatnot, and it was all thanks to Rhea.

At this point, Anastasia could tell that Rhea still did not regret what she did and that she did not feel apologetic toward her at all.

Now, Rhea was even trying to use some secret in exchange for Cameron's forgiveness.

'Would daddy let her go? He wouldn't, right?' Meanwhile, Cameron and Rhea entered the study one after another.

Cameron turned on the lights and walked toward the center of the room before turning to look at Rhea.

Rhea closed the door after her once she entered the room.

Then she locked the door and placed her ear on the door to listen for movements on the other side before looking at Cameron.

"What is it?"

Arms akimbo, Cameron looked at her imposingly, assuming she would not be able to trick him no matter what she did.

Rhea was not in a rush to speak and took her time to look around the room.

That was Cameron's study room on the first floor, and it had a simple layout.

There was only a small ventilation window, which remained closed.

If he did not turn on the lights earlier, the room would be dark.

Everything had simple designs, from his desk to his bookshelf, but many books and documents were there.

Rhea could tell this was where Cameron used to work at home.

There were no entertainment facilities or a pantry in the room.

“Uncle Cameron, you’re thrifty,” Rhea said lightly.

Cameron just frowned upon hearing that.

“Stop beating around the bush. It’s pointless. If you have a secret to tell me, tell me now. If you’re just trying to waste time here, you know what I’ll do!”

“Of course I do.”

Rhea lowered her gaze and strode over to Cameron.

“But would you honestly forgive me if I tell you the secret, Uncle Cameron? I know you’ve always adored Anastasia. I remember when Anastasia fell, and her lips bled when we were younger.

“You would come to my house in the middle of the night just to accompany her, although you said nothing about it.”

“How do you know that?” Cameron frowned.

‘Rhea was still young back then. Plus, I only vaguely remember that since it is unimportant. Why does she still remember it?’

“I saw it when I woke up in the middle of the night to use the washroom. You accompanied her the entire night and looked distressed because she was in pain. However, she was only bleeding because of a small wound on her lips.

“when my tooth fell off, my dad still went out to drink at night. Why do we get such different treatments as someone’s daughter? Why are fathers different from each other?”

Rhea appeared to be traveling down memory lane.

There was a smile on her face, but it gave others an uneasy feeling.

Cameron felt she was not in a proper state of mind right now.

With one hand on his hips, he stared at her.

“Cut the cr*p. None of this justified why you poisoned Tasia! What secrets is the institute hiding? Are there any, or are you just fooling around with me?”

She looked up into his eyes and suddenly smirked creepily.

“Uncle Cameron, do you want to know about the institute’s secrets? I do want to tell you about it. The secret the institute is hiding is...”

Suddenly, she pulled one of her hands out from her pocket and waved it before Cameron’s eyes.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1559 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1559-Rhea followed closely behind while Fabian and Maria got up, watching the two leave with mixed feelings.

They wondered what plan their daughter had in mind.

They just hoped the secret Rhea was going to tell Cameron could save her from going to prison and that Cameron would leave the matter alone.

The couple no longer cared about projects or businesses anymore.

They just hoped Rhea could get out of this situation safely.

Anastasia was the only one looking toward the study with concern.

Lily reminded her before this that Rhea was not as innocent as she portrayed.

Lily was right about that, judging from how Rhea had been poisoning Anastasia since they were still teens.

Rhea was a genius in the medicinal field, but she had an evil heart too.

Back then, Anastasia would bicker with Rhea from time to time.

At most, she would get mad, think about ignoring Rhea forever, and stop going to her place.

She had never thought about harming Rhea, but all these years, she suffered from obesity, anxiety, depression, hair loss, exhaustion, and whatnot, and it was all thanks to Rhea.

At this point, Anastasia could tell that Rhea still did not regret what she did and that she did not feel apologetic toward her at all.

Now, Rhea was even trying to use some secret in exchange for Cameron's forgiveness.

'Would daddy let her go? He wouldn't, right?' Meanwhile, Cameron and Rhea entered the study one after another.

Cameron turned on the lights and walked toward the center of the room before turning to look at Rhea.

Rhea closed the door after her once she entered the room.

Then she locked the door and placed her ear on the door to listen for movements on the other side before looking at Cameron.

"What is it?"

Arms akimbo, Cameron looked at her imposingly, assuming she would not be able to trick him no matter what she did.

Rhea was not in a rush to speak and took her time to look around the room.

That was Cameron's study room on the first floor, and it had a simple layout.

There was only a small ventilation window, which remained closed.

If he did not turn on the lights earlier, the room would be dark.

Everything had simple designs, from his desk to his bookshelf, but many books and documents were there.

Rhea could tell this was where Cameron used to work at home.

There were no entertainment facilities or a pantry in the room.

"Uncle Cameron, you're thrifty," Rhea said lightly.

Cameron just frowned upon hearing that.

"Stop beating around the bush. It's pointless. If you have a secret to tell me, tell me now. If you're just trying to waste time here, you know what I'll do!"

"Of course I do."

Rhea lowered her gaze and strode over to Cameron.

“But would you honestly forgive me if I tell you the secret, Uncle Cameron? I know you’ve always adored Anastasia. I remember when Anastasia fell, and her lips bled when we were younger.

“You would come to my house in the middle of the night just to accompany her, although you said nothing about it.”

“How do you know that?” Cameron frowned.

‘Rhea was still young back then. Plus, I only vaguely remember that since it is unimportant. Why does she still remember it?’

“I saw it when I woke up in the middle of the night to use the washroom. You accompanied her the entire night and looked distressed because she was in pain. However, she was only bleeding because of a small wound on her lips.

“when my tooth fell off, my dad still went out to drink at night. Why do we get such different treatments as someone’s daughter? Why are fathers different from each other?”

Rhea appeared to be traveling down memory lane.

There was a smile on her face, but it gave others an uneasy feeling.

Cameron felt she was not in a proper state of mind right now.

With one hand on his hips, he stared at her.

“Cut the cr*p. None of this justified why you poisoned Tasia! What secrets is the institute hiding? Are there any, or are you just fooling around with me?”

She looked up into his eyes and suddenly smirked creepily.

“Uncle Cameron, do you want to know about the institute’s secrets? I do want to tell you about it. The secret the institute is hiding is...”

Suddenly, she pulled one of her hands out from her pocket and waved it before Cameron’s eyes.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1560 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1560-Rhea was quick, but Cameron was quicker.

The moment she raised her hand, he had already caught her arm and twisted it in the opposite direction with one hand, while he used the other to cover his nose.

It seemed that he did not breathe in any of the powder that was in the air.

Cameron smirked.

“Rhea, you’re still too naive, and you’ve underestimated me.”

Rhea had her arm restrained, but she did not panic at all.

Suppressed, she was forced to bend her back slightly. She looked to the side at Cameron and smiled.

“I’ve never underestimated you, Uncle Cameron. I know that these tricks are nothing to you as well and that they won’t work on you, so…”

“So what?”

Cameron had a bad feeling about this as he stared at her sternly. He did not feel uncomfortable anywhere else either.

Rhea just smiled in response to his question.

“Don’t you feel uncomfortable somewhere?”

With that, Cameron could feel that his body was starting to go numb, especially his hand that was holding onto her arm. He could not help it and released her arm, and soon the feeling of numbness spread all over his body.

Sensing that something was not right, he quickly used his willpower and used one hand to grab onto his wrist, only to see that there was a tiny needlepoint at the center of his palm.

“I know you won’t get drugged easily…”

Rhea stood up straight and stretched her limbs, which were slightly sore, before saying slowly, “The powder was just to deceive you. You’re feeling numbness in other places other than your arms right now, aren’t you?”

She was right.

Cameron felt that his throat and even his tongue were numb.

He wanted to call for help, but when he opened his mouth, he realized he could not make any sound.

“What kind of drug is this? I’m surprised that it has such strong effects.”

With widened eyes, he stared at Rhea and raised his arm, wanting to hit her but managing to dodge easily. She even smiled and leaned closer to him after that.

“I’m much weaker than you when it comes to our strengths, so I had to do this in a way that I’m most familiar with! I’ve hidden them all on my clothes for you!”

While saying that, she showed him what she was referring to.

He noticed that her sleeves were dotted with tiny needles, which he would not have noticed if she hadn’t pointed them out. She did them well, and the sheer number of them demonstrated that she set them up for him.

“Uncle Cameron, you’re really strong. I know you’re strong, so I’ve increased the dosage, but I didn’t think you could last long. If it was anyone else, they would’ve passed out long ago.” Rhea smiled.

She had a pretty face and should look sweet whenever she smiled.

However, she looked just like a devil at this moment.

Excitement was evident in her eyes.

Staring at him, she said, “I didn’t want to do this to you because, to be honest, you do treat me well. However, you weren’t going to go easy on me at all. I just took advantage of Anastasia for my research purposes, and it’s not like I’m going to kill her.

“She should be honored that she’s involved in this by dedicating her life to science. She will undoubtedly leave her mark on history. You were heartless first, so you can’t blame me for doing this.

“Or rather, you should thank me too. Uncle Cameron, you’re lucky to be the first lab rat for R18. The future generations will know about you!”

Rhea had a devilish smile on her face, as if the thing she was doing was something to be proud of.

Cameron felt like he understood what she was saying, but he did not get the entire thing as well. His eyelids were getting heavier, and finally, he could not hold back anymore and passed out.

Seeing that he was unmoving on the ground, Rhea did not walk over to him right away.

Instead, she called him out first.

“Uncle Cameron? Are you there?”

She did not get a response.