

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1891 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1891 -Lily spent the entire day at the laboratory and read the document about R10.

There was no huge problem; it was more or less the same as the previous experiments regarding its focus on toxins.

However, it was interesting that the drug formula included medicine that could enhance one's muscles and bones.

Although it would not counteract the effects of other ingredients, Lily could not figure out the purpose of its addition.

'They're trying to poison someone secretly and simultaneously enhance the muscles and bones? It doesn't make sense!' Of course, she did not ask about it.

She knew they would not tell her if she did, and even if they did tell her, it might not be the truth. She felt what they were trying to do was too bizarre.

'The organization seems to be trying to rule the world as they could use the things they created to control people. Yet they spend so much effort using raw materials to make their creations undetectable'

She had a hunch there must be a deeper purpose to it.

However, she could not figure out what it was. She also felt that even Mike and Rhea were unaware of it.

'Rhea..'

Lily did not know what to think of that woman.

'She's gifted in medicine, even more so than Austin, yet she doesn't use her knowledge for good but to research harmful things. Perhaps she has been led astray by others, but she doesn't seem to care the least about her family and has even hated Anastasia for no reason.

'She even faked her death and then showed up here. All I can say is that she's a dangerous person'

After the last drop of the essential oil fell into the liquid and blended with it, Lily carefully put the sample inside the testing instrument and sighed in secret relief. She did not want to produce the results they wanted even if she could, knowing what the organization was creating would be used to harm people.

However, if she did nothing, she would soon rouse their suspicion and would not have the chance to uncover the secret she hoped to find.

Besides, the organization would surely devise ways to reach its goal, even if Lily did not do it.

The “boss” also said if they could not make R10 work, he would ensure everyone died along with him.

She did not doubt his words.

‘He’s a madman! A madman is capable of doing anything!’

“That’s it?”

A voice came from behind her.

Lily was stunned but did not turn around. She knew who the person was but had failed to notice her arrival, being too focused just now.

A mocking chuckle sounded, and Rhea’s voice was disdainful, “Don’t say I didn’t warn you. What you’re doing is not going to work.”

Lily looked down at the sample in her hand and said blandly, “You’re so sure as if you know how to make it work.”

Rhea’s expression changed, and she was stumped.

Lily meant for her seemingly casual remark to mock her.

If Rhea knew how to make it work, she would have succeeded, and Lily would not have taken over.

Rhea knew what she was implying but could not retort as it was true. She curled her lip into a half smile and stubbornly said, “You’re right. I don’t know how to make it work, but I’ve failed enough times to know what you’re doing will only lead to failure.”

‘So what if I haven’t succeeded? It doesn’t necessarily mean I can’t tell she’ll fail, right?’
“Seems like you haven’t learned from all your mistakes, huh?”

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1892 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1892 -After finishing what she was doing, Lily turned around and looked at Rhea nonchalantly.

Rhea was standing behind her, observing.

However, the disdain and disapproval on her face were unmistakable.

Lily did not care.

She smiled lightly and continued, "Don't you know that every failure looks the same but is actually different? You might think the steps are the same, but as a matter of fact, even a subtle difference will cause a significant change in results."

After a pause, she added, "It's no wonder you keep failing even after doing so many experiments."

This sentence was like salt to Rhea's wounds. Her expression changed immediately. She always thought highly of herself, while others praised her, from her studies to her work ethic.

It was not until entering participating in this project that she constantly felt frustrated.

She also did not know much about raw materials.

Rhea had never liked perfumes or fragrances, so she had never studied or even wanted to fiddle with them.

Now, she had no choice but to learn about them because of this project.

Maybe it was because this was her first time, and she had no foundation regarding perfumery, or perhaps it was because she looked down on such a field deep down.

She could never combine spices and herbs.

The repeated experiments and failures gradually made her increasingly impatient.

Also, the organization started losing trust in her.

Rhea got pushed even further into the shadows when Lily came, and the most crucial and confidential project—R10—had also gotten handed over to Lily.

Rhea could only assist her in the project, making her very dissatisfied.

She never thought Lily was better than herself, and now she desperately tried to prove that. She wanted to let the organization know they had made a mistake and that she, Rhea Moore, was brighter and more powerful than Lily.

However, Lily's merciless ridicule embarrassed her.

Rhea wished she could punch Lily or throw her experimental products away, but she could not. She could only stand still and clench her fists as tight as possible to vent her anger.

Lily knew Rhea was furious but did not care.

'So what if a vicious woman like Rhea got angry?' Rhea clenched her fists and slowly loosened them.

She looked deeply at Lily before the corners of her lips twitched as she broke into laughter.

She chuckled and said, "Yes, I don't know as much about these spices, perfumes, and essential oils as you do. That's why the organization has no choice but to have you come work here, even when you're pregnant. I don't know if these poisonous herbs or chemicals will do any harm to your baby. Do you think it'll be born Slap! Before Rhea could finish speaking, Lily firmly threw a slap across her face.

Rhea was stunned.

'This is the second time. The second time Lily hit me!' The slap was so fast and ruthless that Rhea did not even see it coming. She held her face and subconsciously took a few steps back, looking at Lily with some apprehension. Rhea forgot the woman in front of her knew kickboxing.

Although Lily was pregnant, it did not affect her agility.

"Why you!"

Rhea glared at Lily angrily but dared not say another word.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1893 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1893-"Shut the f*ck up!"

Lily spat coldly, "I know how cold-blooded you are, but even if you don't care that you'll go to hell, you should still show some respect for your parents' sake."

Now, Rhea felt even more shaken.

She held her face and stared at Lily bitterly, clenching her teeth but not daring to say another word. She knew she did not have the skills to beat Lily. She sneered.

"I don't know how good of a person you've been, but since you're doing this experiment, aren't you just like me? Let's see who gets their retribution faster!"

After hearing this, Lily suddenly thought of something and asked, "Do you know what happened to Austin?"

Rhea was shocked for a moment before laughing again. Her complacent smile was still apparent on her face.

"What's with it? Is it happening already?"

Lily felt even more convinced that Rhea knew what was happening. It was even possible that she made this symbiote.

"It's just symbiotes, so what if anything is happening?"

Lily muttered disapprovingly, pretending not to care.

"Do you think my master and I aren't as good as you when it comes to this?"

However, Rhea brushed her loose hair away and smiled lightly.

"It's just symbiotes? It's no ordinary symbiote! Honestly, I'm surprised you know it's a symbiote."

After a pause, she continued, "Since you asked that way, you should already know the people around you have already gotten infected. Then you should know that normal syntaxin isn't contagious.

This is no ordinary symbiote!"

She wanted to lean in and mock Lily, but just as she inched forward, she thought of the slap on her face and moved back instead.

Rhea looked at Lily vigilantly and was not ready to give in.

"Lily, you think you're so high and mighty. Do you think you can change anything by being here? You can't! You can't even protect your children. What kind of mother are you? You don't deserve to be a mother at all!"

"It's not up to you to say whether or not I deserve to be a mother. Symtoxin can be contagious, and it's nothing new. There are records about it in old medical books. Information about dispelling symbiotes from one's body is in West Virho's Journal of the Bizarre. Why? Is this news to you?"

Lily noticed Rhea's hesitant expression and continued, "Do you think everything is in your control? Why do you think we left Austin at my master's manor? Why do you think we didn't let him go home? Why do you think we didn't send him to the hospital? Do you think we don't know anything?"

"You..."

Rhea was incredibly shocked. She could no longer put up a calm front.

"Rhea, you're just a kid!"

Lily shook her head and sighed.

"You're just a pawn in someone else's chess game. Even if you willingly choose to be a pawn, you consider yourself the most important piece.

Instead, you're just a low-value pawn the organization can sacrifice at any time."

"Impossible! There's no way you know how to remove that symbiote. That symbiote doesn't even belong to West Virho. It originated from Ark—"

Before finishing her sentence, Rhea stopped abruptly. She seemed to have realized what was happening. She stared at Lily with widened eyes but saw that she was looking back at her with a smirk.

"Are you lying to me?!"

"Why would I? You're overthinking things," Lily replied with a wave and a smile.

"No matter where the symbiote originates, they're all from the same source. The old medical books are more useful than you think. Don't think too highly of yourself. We're only developing on the wisdom of our predecessors."

"Enough with the philosophical words,"

Rhea snorted coldly, "I still don't believe you! If you genuinely know how to cure it, show me!"

"How do you know we haven't already cured it?"

Lily immediately asked, "Otherwise, why do you think I'm here, talking about this so calmly with you?"

Now, Rhea was speechless.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1894 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1894-Rhea looked at Lily's indifferent expression and genuinely could not tell whether or not what she said was true.

"Rhea, enough with your arrogance," Lily dropped her smile, hoping Rhea could reflect on herself.

"You're the arrogant one!"

However, Rhea did not listen and narrowed her eyes slightly.

"Lily Christian, I can't wait to see what will happen to you!"

With that, she turned and left the laboratory.

Lily's eyes became colder as she watched Rhea leave.

Rhea was right.

Lily was just pulling her leg.

Based on what Alexander had said on the phone, Lily did not even know what kind of symbiote was in Austin's body and how it spread, let alone how to cure it. But since Rhea knew about it, she must know what symbiote it was and how to dispel it.

From what she had inadvertently revealed just now, the symbiote was probably not from West Virho but from abroad.

It was undoubtedly correct to start with ancient medical books.

Still, they might also need to combine it with some foreign knowledge.

'I must convey this information to the old man as soon as possible,' Lily thought.

She had no idea how he was doing now.

Alexander said Dominic was fine, but she knew how stubborn the older man was.

Even if something happened to Dominic, he would still grit his teeth and say he was fine.

She was at a dead end with no skills to dispel the symbiote.

She could only hope things would end quickly on her end and that the others could contain the spread on Dominic's end.

Not long after Rhea left, Mike came in.

He looked at Lily's laboratory table and asked a very formulaic question.

"How's the progress?"

"It's still ongoing, can't you see?"

Lily snapped indifferently. She gestured toward the experimental table.

"We have to wait for the data results."

The two exchanged glances, and Mike nodded.

"I hope you'll succeed as soon as possible."

Then he turned and left.

Lily continued to record the data in front of the experimental table. She watched the numbers change on the computer and took notes seriously.

Half an hour later, she put away her notes and left the laboratory.

The weather outside was gloomy, with no sun. It was depressing as she walked out of the research base. She had just walked a few steps forward when Mike appeared behind her and whispered as he walked, "I heard what you said to Rhea. Alex called me as well. What is a symbiote? What is going on?"

Lily turned her head to shoot him a glance before walking forward without saying a word.

Mike was taken aback for a moment and immediately followed her.

The two walked forward in such a leisurely manner that nothing seemed suspicious.

"Austin had a symbiote in him, and it's triggered to be released on purpose. Are you not involved in this?" She asked lowly.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1895 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by Mr. Russell chapter 1895 -Since Alexander had called Mike before this, Mike immediately knew what Lily was implying and quickly defended himself, "No, of course not! I know I've lost your trust, but I promise I didn't know about that!"

"Besides, you can see I don't have any power here. He doesn't trust me. I couldn't have known about that," he paused before continuing in annoyance, "At that time, I felt there was no need to involve innocent people, and that Austin guy was suffering here."

"So, when I saw the opportunity, I let him go. I didn't expect it to be part of their plan. They dug a hole for me to fall into. I... They tricked me!"

The situation annoyed Mike whenever he thought about it. He did not expect to fall for someone else's tricks after all his calculations.

The thought of this left him in cold sweats as well. He thought he had everything planned, but his every move was under their surveillance. He subconsciously raised his head to look around as he thought about it, fearing the organization might have heard what he just said.

Meanwhile, Lily remained calm. She had her hands in her pocket as she continued to stroll forward. Her pace was unhurried as she lightly said, "You don't have to look. This place is under their surveillance. I'm sure they've already seen two of us talking."

"What?!"

Mike was shocked and subconsciously stopped to look around frantically.

Lily also stopped and turned to look at Mike, who resembled a frightened child. She curled her lips into a smile and said, "You don't have to be so scared. You should know this place is tightly monitored. How can we escape their surveillance?"

Mike immediately fell silent and signaled with his eyes to ensure she stopped talking.

However, she did not seem to care.

"I have a jammer on me, so you don't have to worry."

"Huh?!"

"Why do you think I'm openly telling you this? I always carry a signal jammer with me."

After a pause, she said, "Still, this symbiote is tricky. Can you think of a way to get some clues from Rhea about it?"

Now Mike was even more puzzled.

“Don’t you already know what it is?”

He had heard what she said to Rhea before and admired her intelligence.

‘It’s no wonder she was so calm and relaxed. She knows what it is”

However, what she said now had Mike confused.

Lily smiled slightly and said nothing.

Mike was stunned for a few seconds before realizing something.

“Oh! You were lying...”

He quickly covered his mouth and said nothing more because the expression on Lily’s face was enough to tell him everything.

‘So, she lied to Rhea. Lily has no idea what the symbiote is”

Mike had no idea whether Rhea bought it.

Whatever it was, he believed Lily and thought she knew what to do.

“You guys, with your lies and truths. I honestly can’t tell the difference!”

He shook his head and exclaimed. His time in this organization was the most grueling period of his life.

Every day he spent here, every word, and everything he did would involve double-dealing. He was like a secret agent, going back and forth with truths and lies. He was dazed.

‘Sometimes, I wonder what I’m doing with my life”

“Well, I’ve been pushed to the edge.”

The smile in Lily’s eyes faded. She sounded forced and helpless.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1896 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1896 -Everyone had a motive here, but Lily could only adapt to the situation when faced with these cunning individuals.

Meanwhile, Mike did not understand this but still nodded.

“Don’t worry.I’ll find a way to get clues from Rhea.”

After a pause, he asked uncertainly, “But...how do you know it’s her?”

“I’m sure of it,” Lily answered with certainty.

“Unless there are other masters in medicinal herbs here,” she added.

Mike immediately shook his head.

“There isn’t! Besides you and Rhea, everyone else is proficient in modern medicine.”

This, he was sure of, as all the personnel here had to go through him.

Of course, he could not rule out that there might be some things he did not know about.

Despite that, he had not encountered anyone or learned anything about it.

Lily nodded and pondered seriously before asking, “Are there any Arkadians here?”

Mike was stunned for a moment by this question.

“I don’t think so.

“Are you sure?”

This continuous questioning made him hesitant as he shook his head and said, “I’ll check again, but I don’t think so.What’s wrong? Do you suspect it’s from Arkadia?”

“Not necessarily,” she answered lightly, “Maybe you can check if Rhea’s been to Arkadia before. That would work too.”

“Okay, I will find a way to get these answers!” He said firmly.

However, he was worried about how Lily looked at him because she seemed to doubt him still.

“Alex has already helped me find out where Nicky is and promised to help me rescue him. So, I’ll do my best to help you. After all, helping you is also helping myself.”

“you know where Nicky is?”

Lily was pleasantly surprised by this news.

Regardless, the child was innocent. She had always been concerned about Nick’s safety and knew Alexander was sending people to look for clues everywhere.

However, he did not mention that he had found out where Nick was.

“We found him!”

Just these three words were enough to make Mike smile.

All the worry he had been suppressing was relieved once Alexander told him he had found a clue.

However, the place they kept Nick in was hard to access.

If Mike relied on his strength alone, he would have no chance of saving Nick. It was a different story for Alexander.

Mike knew La Beaute Group’s connections had expanded to the royal family in Yudonia.

‘Only Alex can help me rescue Nick!’

“That’s good news!”

Lily breathed a sigh of relief and reminded him, “By the way, I’ve recently discovered that countless poisons are being studied in this laboratory. It’s beyond our imagination, so you must be careful. After all, these people are inhumane.”

‘Who knows when they’ll secretly use it against us? It’s best if we keep our guards up’
Mike nodded.

“I will. You should do the same.”

Of course, he would protect himself.

After all, his son was still waiting for him.

‘We’ll both be fine and finally reunite. Then I’ll take better care of Nick and prevent him from any more danger’

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1897 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1897 -On the second day, Alexander learned that the situation was far less optimistic than he had imagined.

Dominic had fallen unconscious.

Early the following day, Austin went to cook porridge and served it to Dominic.

However, Austin noticed his granduncle's face was unnaturally red when he got upstairs. He seemed to be in a deep sleep and could not wake up.

When Austin touched his granduncle's forehead, it was burning hot.

He quickly took a thermometer to check on Dominic; the thermometer read 102 degrees.

If it were just a regular fever, Austin would have given Dominic some antipyretics, but that was not the case.

'Who knows how the symbiote will react to the antipyretics? It might cause a reaction'

Therefore, Austin could only try to physically cool Dominic by wiping his body repeatedly.

After some time, his body temperature dropped a little, but he was still unconscious.

Alexander came over to take a look, but he could not come up with any better solutions either.

He even considered sending Dominic to a doctor.

To avoid spreading the disease, Alexander thought he could send Dominic to a private hospital or invite a doctor to the house.

However, this seemed to be out of a general practitioner's league.

At noon, Cameron called to check on Alexander's whereabouts.

After a few seconds of silence, Alexander said, "I'm afraid I can't go there for the time being."

Then he roughly explained the situation, not hiding anything from Cameron.

Cameron had his status, so he could access many confidential things.

He also knew about this mysterious organization but did not expect Rhea to be a part of it.

On top of that, he had been poisoned before.

He was the one who had experienced the power of this organization out of everyone else.

Cameron listened to Alexander patiently, and after a moment of silence, he said, "I see. Is there anything I can do to help?"

"Not yet." Alexander paused.

"However, if possible, can you send someone to monitor the situation in the nearest city to ensure the virus doesn't spread? Of course, it's not just the virus. The organization is studying many things. I don't know what other viruses there are."

"I know, but..."

Hearing the hesitation in Cameron's voice, Alexander asked, "What is it?"

"Their main target right now is probably the vaccine base,"

Cameron muttered slowly after a long pause.

Alexander fell silent. He could also guess that.

After all, the organization spent so much effort drugging Cameron and controlling him to change the project's trajectory.

Of course, it was not as simple as just making Fabian rich.

Besides using the vaccine base as a place to conduct their vicious experimental research grandly, the ultimate goal was to spread the virus through the vaccine successfully.

The thought of viruses spreading through vaccines caused goosebumps in everyone.

Alexander cleared his throat and spoke in a deep voice.

"We have people at the vaccine base too. We'll keep an eye on the situation. As for those outside, I'll leave it to you for now."

"It's my responsibility,"

Cameron replied without hesitation, "Are you doing alright?"

"I'm okay for now. Could you arrange for a doctor to come over if possible?" Alexander asked after thinking about it.

Austin, who passed by, looked at him and said, "There's no need for that."

Alexander did not answer.

“Is there someone with you?”

Cameron immediately became vigilant.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1898 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1898-“He’s a friend.”

After a pause, Alexander continued, “I’ll hang up first and call you again when I need your help.”

“About the doctor...”

“It’s okay for now,” Alexander said after some thought.

Then he put away his phone, walked toward Austin, and asked, “Why not?”

“The doctors out there are useless. This isn’t a common disease. You know that!”

Austin replied in a deep voice. Alexander nodded.

“I know, but right now, there’s no better option. The old man is down with a high fever, and none of the servants’ conditions are improving. We can’t keep going like this. Maybe a doctor outside can help relieve...”

“I’m a doctor!” Austin exclaimed.

Alexander immediately fell silent.

“I started as a doctor. As you know, I studied under many famous doctors,” Austin emphasized again.

The tone he spoke in was very different from usual. He used to be proud, confident, and even slightly arrogant when he spoke about this.

However, his voice was gentle yet heavy this time. His gaze was firm, and each word he said was meant to affirm Alexander.

“I’ve been too decadent these days. After coming out of the devil’s lair, I’ve been running away like a coward. I’ve just been indulging in the care Uncle Dom had been giving me, alongside everyone’s concern for me. When Uncle Dom and everyone else fell ill, I felt like I’d lost myself and completely forgot I was a doctor.

"I've been drowning myself in self-doubt and self-denial. I don't believe I can do it. I don't believe I can cure them, either. I don't know anything, nor do I understand anything. Because of all this, I forgot what Uncle Dom told me.

"No one is born with the knowledge to cure, not even a doctor. Everyone learns as they go."

Austin looked into the distance as he spoke, seeming to recall what Dominic had told him. He did not take it seriously back then, thinking the older man was superficial and mocking him.

Now that Austin thought about it, every word was like gold.

"Yes, it's true that I don't know anything about symbiotes. I haven't learned about it or even seen it before. But with so many books at home and how easy it is to access the Internet, I don't believe I can't find a way"" he continued, "An average doctor won't know how to deal with the current situation. So, I'll do it!"

He ended firmly.

There was determination and confidence in his eyes.

The current Austin completely differed from before.

He was no longer the conceited and arrogant Dr. Fike who pursued fame. He was no longer that young man who chased the praises of everyone under the pretense of being a miracle doctor's last apprentice.

At this moment, he understood his responsibility and knew his mission.

Alexander looked at him and nodded slowly.

It was not that he trusted Austin, but Austin was right.

There was indeed no better option.

No ordinary doctors could handle this unless they could find someone who knew about symbiotes.

Austin made another phone call to his family.

His parents' condition did not deteriorate.

Besides the constant slight fever and itchiness, they were basking in the sun and cooking in the garden.

Hearing this made him feel a little relieved.

This meant his parents were not severely infected, or the disease had yet to develop into a severe stage.

Regardless of which one it was, this bought him more time.

'I must develop a cure as soon as possible. I can't keep pinning my hopes on others. I'm Austin Fike, the grandnephew of the miracle doctor, Dominic Fike! 'Even if I'm not his apprentice, I have been under his guidance and influence for years. I shouldn't be standing around helplessly. I must take action!'

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1899 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1899-The hands on the clock ticked, indicating every passing second.

Lily sat on the edge of the bed, stroking her lower abdomen with one hand and gently rubbing her phone screen with the other.

It would be a lie to say that she was not nervous.

This was the first time she felt this anxious.

In the past, she knew she could overcome any difficulties.

This time, it was not a simple success or failure.

It was something that could endanger many people.

She was the only one in the room.

Mike agreed to meet downstairs in the office when the time came.

Although they could not escape the organization's monitoring systems, there was always a gap in them.

The "boss" was at his weakest and most lax at noon.

Mike naturally tried to lure away the few bodyguards around the "boss."

Meanwhile, the remaining lackeys would not be a problem for Lily.

Now, she could only think about whether she could get what she wanted in less than an hour.

That was the risk she was taking.

She had immersed herself in her thoughts when her phone suddenly rang.

Lily had silenced her phone here, so the vibration in her palm numbed her hand.

Her fingers instinctively tightened, fearing Alexander had some bad news.

At this time, she was at her wit's end but could not think about it.

When she finally glanced at her phone, she saw Olivia's name.

Lily immediately breathed a sigh of relief.

However, after thinking about it, it might not be good news, and her mood dropped again.

"Hello?" She answered the call, a little tired.

"Lily, you..."

Olivia seemed to have something to say, but when she heard Lily's tone, she stopped and asked, "Are you okay?"

"I'm fine. What's the matter?"

Lily cleared her throat and questioned.

"Nothing."

Lily did not know if it was nothing or if Olivia was not telling her something because of how she was feeling.

After a pause, Olivia said, "Oh, the email I mentioned to you before was about the request for a customized perfume from Yudonia."

Lily was stunned. She pinched the bridge of her nose, a little annoyed.

"I forgot about it."

Recently, she had been too occupied, and every task was crucial and frustrating.

With all these mixed, she was honestly filled with worries every day.

She could not remember everything.

As for the perfume, she was a little reluctant to do it.

That was because of the recent experimental project she was involved in.

Although she was not developing perfumes, it was still related to raw materials, and the final product was intended to harm people.

Just thinking about this made her irritable and tired.

“Huh?!”

Olivia was stunned for a moment. She probably did not expect Lily, who had always been very organized, to forget about it.

“Can you push it back? I genuinely don’t have the time.” Lily sighed.

Read Novel Spoiled By Mr. Russell Chapter 1900 By Luminous Night

Spoiled by mr. russell chapter 1900-Indeed, Lily was not lying.

After all, she had no time to do anything else because she was trapped in this place as if locked in a cage.

Even if she managed to leave here one day, she would have forgotten what the outside world was like and if she could completely withdraw herself from this project.

Therefore, she wanted to put aside her perfumery business and not think about it for now.

Olivia, who had always obeyed Lily’s words, was hesitant.

“But they’re the royal family of Yudonia, and they’re already in the country. You should be arriving at Operose in two days. I thought you agreed to this.”

“When did I agree to this? I...”

Just as Lily was about to refuse, she suddenly thought of something and paused. Her eyes widened as she asked, “Where did you say they were from?”

“Yudonia.”

“who are they?” Lily asked nervously.

Olivia froze for a moment before subconsciously replying, “T-The royal family! I told you this before.

Although our range of customers is wide, it’s not like we haven’t taken orders from the upper classes.

“However, this is the royal family; they’re in a different league.If we offend them, I’m afraid it’ll affect our studio and the company’s business.”

Those in business rarely fought those in politics, let alone the royal family.

This was simply using a sledgehammer to crack a nut.

When Lily looked at the bigger picture, there was no need to offend the other party for this, no matter how big La Beaute Group was.

The royals only wanted a personalized fragrance.It was not something overboard.

Although it was difficult at this juncture, it was not as big of a deal for Lily as it would be for others.

“I know, I know.”

Lily nodded repeatedly.

“Did they say when we’ll meet?”

“I’m...not sure about that.They mentioned how you haven’t been replying to their emails or answering their calls.They’re a little upset by it,”

Olivia said, “However, it seems like they’re still optimistic about it.

“I’d wager they think very highly of your work.I know I have no right to ask this, but are you seriously considering not taking this project? Lily, I think...”

Olivia was coming up with reasons to convince Lily when she heard Lily say, “I’ll do it.How about getting them to call me again, or just send me their number? I’ll call them myself.I probably won’t be checking emails as often, so I’ll just call them.”

Lily was afraid there would be traces of what she did when she used the computer in this place.

Although she could clear her history, she was not a professional in IT.

If the organization found something, it might be used against her.

As for the other party pointing out that their calls constantly got hung up on, it was most likely because she assumed it was a scam call and hung up when she was busy.

After all, it was an unknown number, and it was normal not to pick it up.

“Huh?”

Olivia was stunned, perhaps by Lily’s change in attitude.

“What’s wrong? Is there anything else?”

“No,”

Olivia quickly replied, “Lily, it’s great you’ve agreed. We don’t have to stay in touch with them after this.”

However, that was not Lily’s concern at all.

If this virus were released, the whole world would be wiped out.

Relationships would not be necessary then.

But since the client was the royal family of Yudonia, they may have a chance of rescuing Nick.

Mike mentioned Alexander found clues that Nick might be somewhere in Yudonia, near the royal family’s compound.

It was difficult for them to sneak in and save Nick in such a place.

Now that there was an excellent opportunity in front of Lily, she had no reason to miss it.

Regardless of what happened between Mike and her, it had nothing to do with his son.

Whenever Lily thought about children, she first thought of Galen, the twins in her womb, and Debbie from X Department.