

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 763

Arianna brought a bunch of things home. When she entered the house, Eloise had just gotten back as well. She looked pretty good and should be in a good mood.

"Did you have good luck today?" Arianna said half-jokingly. Eloise waved. "A little bit. I've been feeling a little better recently. If I keep winning my bets, my friends will stop coming and won't want to join me anymore."

"Why not? They've won a lot of money from you before, but they can't stand losing to you?" Arianna said smilingly. After putting down her bags, she removed a smaller bag from the inside. "I saw this new design that suits you quite well, so I bought it for you."

"I don't go out very much, so I don't need it," Eloise replied but was still delighted.

"You can just leave it around if you don't need it. It'll make you happy just by looking at it!" Arianna put the bag aside, turned around, and took out a small bottle, "By the way, there's this one too."

"Perfume?" Eloise took the perfume bottle and opened the cap. Then she sprayed a little on her wrist, leaned in, and sniffed. "It smells okay. It's a bit strong, but it's all right."

"Mom, do you know the name

"What is it?"

"Victory!"

name, Eloise sniffed the perfume on her wrist again. "It seems a little weird, but I'm the

on the side table. Eloise was puzzled when she saw her daughter's actions, asking, know which company produces this head, waiting to hear what her daughter had to say, "Could it be

and

this

even with preorders all sold out. I supported and bought one," Arianna said with a smile as she glanced at the