

Chapter 1331 A Trap

Jonah believed Ronan was a reliable ally.

After thinking it over, he approached Trevor with a smile.

"I have been so busy these past few days that we haven't had much time to interact, Dragon. Are you free tonight? How about we hang out after work?"

Trevor smiled and looked at Jonah.

He didn't immediately give an answer to see what the latter was really up to.

Jonah was a little flustered by his gaze, so he hurriedly added, "I'll drive you to the place at half past eight later. See you then."

Trevor nodded, and Jonah left the office with a big smile.

After work, Jonah came back to Trevor's office on time.

They walked out of the company together and got in Jonah's car.

Jonah kept the conversation going while on the way.

It wasn't until the car stopped that Trevor realized Jonah had brought him to a club.

It was the kind of club that sexy and sophisticated ladies frequented.

The ladies wore revealing clothes to flaunt their slender legs, flawless backs, and soft necks. They were flirtatious and charming.

As he walked inside the club, Trevor narrowed his eyes.

A familiar figure caught his sight.

"Ronan?" Trevor recognized the man in the crowd.

Hearing him, Jonah smiled. "Yes, it's him. I invited him too. I thought it would be nice if you resolve the conflict between the two of you. As you know, it's important that we run the company in peace. So, it would be better if we let go of any conflict."

Ronan ran his tongue over his lips in a slightly smug way. He had to be patient if he wanted to see Trevor's downfall, so he tucked his arrogance away and forced a friendly smile.

"Yes, that's exactly what I was about to say."

As he spoke, he reached out his hand for a handshake.

Trevor wanted to see what the two were up to, so he shook hands with Ronan.

Ronan didn't let go of his hand and led him into the private room.

"No wonder you are the general manager of Severich at such a young age. You're considerate and easygoing."

Jonah backed Ronan's flattering words with an agreeable smile.

As they sat on the couch, Jonah waved in the direction of the door.

In the next second, several beautiful ladies walked into the room.

The ladies were all different in terms of appearance and vibe. Some had curvy figures, while others were slim. Some appeared confident and sophisticated, while others seemed more reserved. No matter what a man preferred, he could choose a woman of his type from among them.

"Ladies, come and have a drink with our general manager, Dragon!" Jonah looked so excited as if he was at a party.

Trevor remained calm, but he had a strange look in his eyes.

The ladies were all stunning, but he wasn't attracted to any of them.

As he still thought of Luisa, he avoided too much physical contact with the ladies.

Discreetly, Jonah and Ronan looked at each other.

They quietly walked out of the room when the ladies gathered around Trevor.

Once they got out, they both snickered.

Then Jonah excitedly asked, "Where is your friend? How are you going to get him and Dragon to fight?"

Ronan rested his hands on his hips and said confidently, "He hates it the most when someone steals the spotlight from him. He won't just sit and watch once he learns all the ladies are going after Dragon. The moment he comes in, Dragon is done for."

Jonah was very satisfied with it.

"Then we must keep Dragon inside, lest he sense something strange and run away before your friend arrives."

Chapter 1332 Ronan's Friend

Jonah and Ronan soon returned back to the box.

They were relieved when they found Trevor still sitting on the sofa.

"Now, Dragon, I'd like to propose a toast to you," Ronan said with a fake smile as he raised his glass up and proposed a toast to Trevor.

Jonah tried to act casual as he approached Trevor and asked, "Dragon, you are not a local, aren't you? I've never heard about you in Zayden before."

Trevor smiled faintly and took a quick sip of wine. Then he glanced Jonah and replied in a calm voice, "I'm from a big clan, but it's not famous in those days. But fortunately, my grandfather and Mr. Tucker Singh are good friends, so he asked me to come and work here. That's why I was assigned the post of general manager of Severich."

Trevor's words were straightforward and true. He never had to lie about anything.

Compared to the prosperity and glory that they had enjoyed in the past, his family was indeed fast declining.

He had only decided to return to Zayden because of the friendship between Elwood and Tucker.

However, Jonah and Ronan misunderstood what Trevor had just told them.

The two glanced at each other with mischievous smiles.

A clan that was not famous? This could only mean that Trevor had no known background and there was no one to back him up.

And as for the friendship between his grandfather and Tucker?

For a businessman, friendship was not half as important as wealth or money.

It was indeed very generous of Tucker to give Trevor the position of general manager of Severich.

But one thing was clear. He could not rely on that kindness forever.

Jonah was overjoyed. He believed that as long as he proved to Tucker that Trevor was not competent enough, Tucker would be disappointed in him and no longer care about him.

It would then be easier for him to get the position for himself.

"Well, let's forget about the past. Let's drink and be merry!" Jonah was in a good mood, and the cunning smile on his face was quite visible as he stared at Trevor.

But at that very moment, Ronan's cellphone started to ring.

Ronan glanced at the phone's screen and was excited when he saw the caller's name.

His friend was finally coming!

"Please excuse me. I'm going to pick up a friend. Will be back as soon as possible. I'd like you to meet my friend." Ronan winked at Jonah as he walked away, hinting that he should be prepared.

Jonah grinned and rubbed his hand in anticipation.

Trevor had long noticed both men's suspicious expressions and interactions, but he was not scared. He just smiled, waiting for them to show their tricks.

Ronan made his way out of the room to welcome his friend.

A young man slipped his cellphone into his pocket and walked into the club. There was an expression of displeasure on his face as he walked alongside Ronan.

"Ronan, I've been frightened and not in a very good mood. You asked me out to have fun. If you don't make me happy, you will not be spared."

The man raised his head in the light. It turned out to be Terrance.

Ronan was a little guilty and was scared that his plan had been exposed. He quickly smiled and said, "Terrance, why would I dare lie to you? To welcome you, I have invited a lot of beautiful ladies to party with you! But something rather unexpected happened..."

Ronan pushed the door open as he completed his statement.

He glanced around and licked his lips excitedly.

Ronan thought that when Terrance saw the girls surrounding Trevor, he would become furious.

He was eager to see Terrance teaching Trevor a lesson.

Chapter 1333 Surprise

When Trevor heard the door being opened, he looked up calmly.

But when he saw the person standing at the door, he was stunned for a moment.

What a coincidence!

Who would have thought he would meet Terrance here today?

Terrance was also stunned when he saw Trevor. He stared at Trevor for a while, then an excited and surprised expression appeared on his face.

"Hey, buddy!"

Ronan was still immersed in his fantasy. When he heard Terrance's scream, he thought Trevor was scared.

So he tried to provoke Trevor.

"Dragon, you know what? Terrance is a big shot in Zayden. Everyone respects him. You take yourself too seriously. How dare you pretend to be someone in front of him! You offend him, so he will let you experience his wrath."

Ronan had no idea what had really happened, so he was very arrogant.

But what happened next was beyond his expectation.

Right before Ronan's eyes, Terrance walked over to Trevor quickly with a surprised look. Then he held Trevor's hand enthusiastically and respectfully, expressing his gratitude.

"I've been looking for you. I finally found you. I haven't thanked you yet for helping me last time."

Trevor blinked helplessly.

He had been waiting for Jonah and Ronan's scheme to be revealed for so long. He didn't expect to meet Terrance.

Jonah was also shocked.

What was going on? He was confused as to what was happening.

Jonah suddenly jumped up from the sofa. It was as if there were thorns on it.

His eyes widened in horror, and he looked at Terrance and Trevor in disbelief.

He had met Terrance several times, so he knew something about Terrance.

That was why he felt so strange. The current scene seemed difficult to believe.

Why was Terrance so respectful before Trevor?

Jonah couldn't help looking at Ronan in confusion.

At this moment, Ronan's mind was in a mess. His face was deathly pale as if he had seen a ghost.

Why had things turned out like this?

"Well done! You did a good job!" Terrance smiled and patted Ronan on the shoulder. "I've been looking for Dragon for several days now. I want to personally thank him, but unfortunately, I couldn't find him. Ronan, you did a good job this time. Thanks for helping me find him."

Terrance was so focused on Trevor just now that he didn't notice what Ronan said.

Terrance patted Ronan on the shoulder and praised him, but the latter didn't have any reaction at all. He was still stunned.

But when Ronan raised his head and saw the faint smile on Trevor's face, he was so frightened that his face twitched, and sweat trickled down his back.

At this moment, Trevor cleared his throat and said in a rhythmic voice, "Ronan, when you just came in, you seemed to say that I took myself too seriously?"

As soon as Terrance heard this, he looked at Ronan suspiciously.

Ronan was so frightened that he shivered. His legs went limp and he fell to his knees.

Trevor sneered and said slowly, "Hey, Ronan, why are you kneeling on the floor? It's dirty."

Ronan's face became even paler. He crawled to Trevor's feet and said, "You are right. The floor is too dirty, and it makes your shoes dirty."

After saying this, he stretched out his hand and wiped Trevor's shoes. Then he said with an apologetic smile, "Here... They are much cleaner now."

He was so humble that he almost bowed his head and licked Trevor's shoes.

Even Trevor was taken aback by this scene.

Jonah was even more frightened. He lost his balance and almost fell to the floor too.

He couldn't believe that the man kneeling on the floor was Ronan.

Even Ronan had to kneel on the floor to wipe Trevor's shoes. Terrance also showed respect. Obviously, Trevor's identity was not simple.

At the thought of this, Jonah almost peed in fright.

It turned out that he offended someone that he couldn't afford to offend.

Even Terrance, who came from a top family, showed Trevor respect. Trevor must have a powerful background.
