

Chapter 1742 The Meeting Of Mobius

Back at his apartment, Trevor was still trying to figure out a way to help the association members get out of Glareder when Lone Wolf suddenly called.

News of Midnight's death had already spread through Glareder, and Lone Wolf intended to honor his promise to Trevor.

As soon as Trevor answered the call, Lone Wolf's calm voice rang out.

"Raven, come to Mobius headquarters as soon as possible. We're having a high-level meeting! Remember, you will be attending the meeting as the deputy leader of the Wolf faction!"

Trevor was overjoyed. In his heart, he thought Lone Wolf was a bit stupid. However, it was good that he was a man of his word.

Trevor didn't hesitate and said happily, "No problem. I'll be right there."

With that settled, Lone Wolf didn't hang up the phone directly. Instead, he changed the topic and deliberately raised his voice as he spoke.

"Do you know Midnight? I hear he is dead! Do you have any clue who did it?"

Trevor was stunned for a second, but he quickly understood what Lone Wolf was up to.

He smiled playfully and decided to play along, acting dumb. "Is there anyone in Glareder who would have the nerve to kill a member of Mobius? I am just Midnight's doctor. Alas, I have no idea who could have done it."

Lone Wolf nodded with satisfaction and finally hung up the phone with a smile. "I like to talk with smart people!" he muttered to himself.

Meanwhile, Trevor wasted no time and quickly hurried to Mobius' building. Once there, he went straight to the meeting room.

In the large meeting room was a grand round table.

By the time Trevor arrived in the meeting room, there were already many people sitting there.

They were the leaders of all the factions of Mobius.

Many of these people were wearing a mask. Trevor guessed that they were probably very important personalities whose identities should not be exposed.

As a mere deputy leader, he had no seat at the table and could only stand behind senior leaders during the meeting. The rules were strict and everyone had to abide by them.

With an expressionless face, Trevor stood behind Lone Wolf.

The two of them greeted each other with a slight nod with no one noticed.

Suddenly, a reprimanding voice rose among the people seated around the round table. The person speaking cast a fierce glare at Trevor and snapped, "Raven! How dare you come to this meeting after killing Midnight? You had no right to kill a faction leader even if your factions are at war. According to the rules, you should be executed!"

Of course, Lone Wolf wouldn't let Raven, who had already become his confidant and right-hand man, be targeted by anyone here. He sneered, "If you don't have any evidence to back up your accusations, I strongly advise you not to slander anyone."

The man who just rebuked Trevor adjusted his sitting posture and glared at Lone Wolf. He too was the leader of a faction.

He didn't show any respect to Lone Wolf. With a ferocious look in his eyes, he said loudly, "Midnight's butler can testify. Midnight followed Raven out of the villa and never came back. How do you explain his tragic death?"

Trevor was very calm. He knew very well that the butler was their only evidence against him. With a confident smile, he refuted the accusations.

"I and Lord Midnight had a good relationship. It's known to all that I have visited him many times. The last time I went to his house, he even gave me a check. The check is right here. If you don't believe me, you can watch the surveillance video of my last visit to Lord Midnight."

Hearing Trevor's counter argument, the man who just accused him was speechless and he looked terrible.

The thing was, he already knew that the surveillance videos had been deleted under Midnight's order.

Seeing that there was no substantial evidence to accuse his protégé of anything, Lone Wolf snorted coldly and stood up. Then, he announced solemnly, "This is Raven, the deputy leader of the Wolf faction. He disregarded the hatred between the factions and tried his best to cure Midnight when the latter was sick. How could he kill him?"

Trevor almost burst into laughter upon hearing Lone Wolf's description of him. Apparently Lone Wolf held him in high regard.

Lone Wolf was not done yet. He pointed at Midnight's butler and said, "I think you coveted Midnight's property. While he was looking for an escaped prisoner, you colluded with the Black Gold Union and killed him! Otherwise, why did you delete the surveillance video?"

Lone Wolf's analysis made sense, and the leaders of other factions nodded.

Trevor raised his eyebrows in shock. He didn't see that one coming. Just like that, Lone Wolf framed the butler.

Hearing the accusations directed at him, the butler was furious and his eyes were wide open. He waved his hand quickly and denied it. "No! Not me! How could I..."

As the leader of a faction, Midnight couldn't die for no reason, or else the authority of Mobius would be ridiculed.

So, everyone felt that Lone Wolf's analysis was the most reasonable and that the butler was the murderer. They immediately clapped their hands and said, "That's right! You had the nerve to collude with the Black Gold Union to murder a faction leader! Guards! Take him down and execute him!"

And just like that, Midnight's death case ended so quickly. Trevor couldn't help but chuckle when he saw that the butler had become the scapegoat.

At this moment, Trevor's phone suddenly rang. It was a message from Esteban.

"The Black Gold Union is gathering all its forces to launch an all-out attack on Mobius and take control of Glareder!"

Trevor's eyes widened in shock when he saw the message. Was Black Gold Union crazy? Such a move would be pure suicide!

He suddenly thought of something and pondered. Could Black

Gold Union do such a crazy thing for no reason? Was the old man behind it?

The more Trevor thought about it, the more sure he was. It turned out that the old man's means of clearing him of all suspicion regarding Midnight's death was to conduct a second battle between the Black Gold Union and Mobius. It was really simple and crude!

Soon, the mobile phones of all the leaders rang one after another. They all checked their phones, and the next second, the looks on their faces changed drastically. They looked furious.

Trevor noticed that and fell in deep thoughts.

It seemed that after the secret prison was attacked, the factions leaders sent people to secretly monitor the Black Gold Union.

In fact, it was exactly what Trevor had expected. The Black Gold Union had been hiding in the black market for a long time and never showed its true strength. However, it was clear that this organization could not be underestimated. All the factions leaders were eager to crush down the Black Gold Union before it became too powerful for them.

At this time, all the leaders were no longer silent. Lone Wolf was the first to speak, and he was clearly angry.

"After the prison riot, the Black Gold Union even has the gall to provoke us Mobius again! I think they need to be reminded who the boss is here and where their place is. I propose we all stop the inter faction wars and gather all our forces to completely wipe out the Black Gold Union! Let's make sure everyone in Glareder knows who is the leader here!"

All the leaders nodded without any objection. The reason why they wanted to destroy the Black Gold Union was to gain individual profits.

Seeing that all the factions had decided to gather their forces together and fight Black Gold Union, Trevor was overjoyed. This would be a good opportunity for the association members to escape from Glareder!

After deciding the time to take action, the high-level meeting was dismissed.

Lone Wolf was on high alert at this time. He kept Trevor in the room. He was deep in thought.

Judging from the expression on Raven's face, it's obvious that he knew about the attack from Black Gold Union before me. Since he can kill a faction leader and get away with it, will he replace me one day?

After thinking for a while, Lone Wolf decided to send Trevor away for a period of time. He would decide whether to kill Trevor or not in the future.

He looked at Trevor and said seriously, "Raven, I have a task for you. In the Sanderson family in Zayden, there are four Mobius killers. Two of them belonging to the Wolf faction, and the other two are Midnight's subordinates. Now that Midnight is dead, do you know what to do?"

Trevor touched his chin and asked tentatively, "Do you want me to kill them?"

Lone Wolf nodded expressionlessly. "Don't let me down."

Trevor was overjoyed by this new mission. He was sent out of Glareder. He intended to take the opportunity to leave along with the association members.

He did his best to suppress his joy so that Lone Wolf wouldn't notice anything, and said slowly, "No problem."