

Chapter 1908 Mysterious Medicine

Curtis looked at Trevor, remembering the time Trevor had thrown him out of a building in Dreles. Curtis was sure Trevor was here to cause trouble, so he shouted, "Security! Where are the security guards? There's someone here who came to make trouble. Get him out of here!"

His shouts quickly attracted the attention of people around. Very soon, Trevor, Luisa and Curtis were surrounded by a small crowd.

Seeing that more and more people were gathering around them, Trevor held up the invitation and decided to embarrass Curtis.

"Look! The young master of the Craig family has been pestering with my friend here, and he has the nerve to say I am not invited to the banquet. Now you all tell me if this isn't an invitation to the banquet! The Craig family... Is this how you treat your guests?"

After hearing what Trevor said, the people present began to discuss in low voices and they looked at Curtis in confusion.

The crowd's intense gaze made Curtis extremely uncomfortable. He didn't want to hurt the reputation of his family by forcefully kicking Trevor out. He had no other choice but to change his attitude and said quickly, "It's a misunderstandings. Please enjoy your time here. I absolutely have no intention of driving our guests away. Let's all go inside now. You can be sure the Craig family will entertain all its guests well."

Trevor looked at Curtis playfully and asked ironically, "Mr. Craig, can we go in now?"

Curtis gritted his teeth in anger and nodded.

"Of course," he said.

Trevor and Luisa couldn't hold back their laughter and walked into the hall leisurely.

Curtis was fuming and he stared at the two people walking away with his eyes filled with hatred.

He thought that it wasn't a big deal if he let them in in the end. After all, there was nothing they could do there.

The place was his. He could easily deal with them there.

Curtis swore in his heart to get his revenge on Trevor and Luisa.

Soon, the banquet began.

Curtis was the host of the event, so naturally he took the stage to give a speech.

"The Craig's family's biological medicine company becomes officially operational as from today. The firm is dedicated to the study of medicine that can strengthen people's physical functions. So far, we have developed a semi-finished oral drug with few side effects."

He paused before adding, "The drug can make people's body become very strong and significantly improve their reflex. There is still a small problem with the drug since after taking it, one might experience some side effects like dizziness and headache, and some people would temporarily pass out. But we are confident that we will soon overcome those side effects and produce a drug a flawless drug. Our scientists are working hard on eliminating these side effects, and to this effect, we have invited several renowned doctors from all over the world. I firmly believe that very soon we will be able to bring this magic drug to market."

The audience let out exclamations of surprise.

A drug capable of strengthening people's physical functions could easily be considered a major scientific breakthrough of the century. And to think that the Craig family was on the verge of developing such a drug.

The guests all looked at Curtis in admiration. They all hoped to get a share in the Craig family's medicine company.

Trevor, on the other hand, wasn't as enthusiastic as the other guests and he even frowned. After listening to Curtis' description of the drug, he was completely sure about one thing.

The semi-finished drug must be the same drug Luisa had been administered.

After thinking for a while, Trevor suddenly came up with an idea. He stood up and asked, "Mr. Craig, since this medicine is so magical, I'd like to know how exactly you have been able to come up with its formula. Is what you said about it improving human's physical functions true? As for the side effects, how serious is it? What is the guarantee that you will be able to eliminate the said side effects?"

Curtis didn't know anything about medicine, so he couldn't answer Trevor's question, which made him embarrassed.

He immediately got angry and pointed at Trevor.

"I knew you were here to make trouble!" Curtis shouted.

Trevor shrugged and said indifferently, "I just want to know what kind of medicine you are talking about. Why do you immediately accuse me of making trouble?"

Curtis glared at Trevor.

He thought this was a perfect opportunity for him to kick Trevor out. By taking advantage of this opportunity, he would get rid of Trevor whom he loathed whilst still protecting the reputation of the Craig family.
