

Chapter 1935 It Was A Trap!

After several moments of analyzing all the information at his disposal, Lone Wolf truly doubted that the person in the center of the city was Trevor.

He had no idea what Trevor was up to, so he had no choice but to proceed with caution.

He decided to pretend to be a passerby and check what was going on with the man who called himself Trevor.

Then Lone Wolf hurried to the location reported by his subordinate, which was in the center of the city.

Just as his man described, a mad man was standing in the middle of the city screaming at everyone who passed by that he was Trevor.

This mad man was Curtis.

Coincidentally, he also saw Lone Wolf. His words trailed off as he gaped at Lone Wolf in shock. Then his expression morphed into elation. He quickly approached Lone Wolf and asked for help.

"Lone Wolf, why are you here? Are you here to save me? Thank you so much! Get me out of here! I can't continue to pretend to be crazy!"

From his hiding spot in the dark, Trevor sneered as he observed everything.

When he saw that Curtis actually knew Lone Wolf, he immediately realized that his earlier assumption was right. The Craig family worked with the Wolf faction in Mobius.

He was quite happy with this development. Lone Wolf was bound to have more information about the medicine than Curtis.

All he had to do was catch Lone Wolf and he would know more about the secrets in the semi-finished medicine. Perhaps he could use the information to help Luisa regain her memory.

The moment Curtis recognized Lone Wolf, Lone Wolf also recognized him.

The moment Curtis recognized Lone Wolf, Lone Wolf also recognized him.

He also realized that this was a trap! A trap for him!

He panicked and tried to retreat, so he vehemently denied Curtis.

"You lunatic, you got the wrong person! I don't know you!"

But Curtis had grabbed on to him and refused to let go. He begged profusely, "Lone Wolf! Please take me with you! I promise I won't cause you any trouble!"

In Curtis' eyes, this was his last and only chance, so he was naturally reluctant to give it up.

Lone Wolf on the other hand, was on the verge of breaking out into a curse.

Trevor could also see that Lone Wolf wanted to escape. He used his walkie-talkie to order his men, "Move!"

All the passers-by milling around suddenly shed their clothes. In the next instant, they were all in uniforms, guns in their hands.

It turned out that these passers-by were all Klein officers and now they had Lone Wolf and Curtis surrounded.

Lone Wolf stopped struggling with Curtis when he saw this new threat. He stared at them in shock, sweat dripping from his forehead.

"Fuck! It's really a trap!" he cursed.

Lone Wolf was indeed very careful. But he never expected Curtis to do something like this.

"Fuck! Retreat!" Lone Wolf shouted.

Instantly, there were gunshots from both sides.

Lone Wolf held on to Curtis this time, using him as a human shield to block the bullets that were fired at him as he and his men fled the scene.

Countless bullets were fired at each other by Lone Wolf's men and the Klein.

However, even though the killers in Mobius were agile, one of them was shot and killed by Klein.

Lone Wolf's steps didn't falter and he barely glanced in the direction of the dead killer. His only goal was to escape with his men.

Unfortunately for him, the direction he chose was the same place Trevor was hiding in!

Just as Lone Wolf and the group of killers ran by, Trevor immediately sprung from his hiding place and detained one of the killers. "Stop!"

Lone Wolf also stopped running and tried to attack Trevor when he saw him. Unfortunately for Trevor, since his arm was injured, he couldn't hold on to the killer and also fight with Lone Wolf. So he retreated a few steps away from Lone Wolf, holding his gun firmly against the killer's head.

During the short fight, Lone Wolf discovered the wound on Trevor's left arm. With a fierce expression on his face, he quickly took out his pistol and shot at Trevor.

Fortunately for Trevor, he was quicker and on guard. He leaned to the side just as Lone Wolf pulled the trigger, using the killer as a shield.

"Bang!" A fierce gunshot rang out.

All the bullets Lone Wolf shot at Trevor hit the killer Trevor held captive.

When Lone Wolf ran out of bullets, Trevor let go of the dead killer and shot at Lone Wolf.

Lone Wolf dodged the bullets, and the ground was scorched by the bullet marks instead of Trevor's intended target.

It had to be admitted that the strength of the leader of Wolf faction was remarkable.

Lone Wolf tried to attack Trevor again, but the Klein officers chasing after him were already closing in. He glanced in their direction and took to his heels. But as he ran, he yelled at Trevor, "Raven! That's all you can do, huh? Use dirty tricks! Just wait and see. I will kill you by myself!"

The Klein officers chased after him, but they lost their target after a short chase.

There was still a big gap between their physical strength and the elite of Wolf faction.

When Lone Wolf had managed to evade his pursuers and was at a relatively safe distance, he stopped and gasped for air.

He was still angry at Trevor and wanted to get his revenge.

At the moment, Trevor's arm was injured, so he was at his weakest right now. Lone Wolf couldn't afford to miss this opportunity!

He hesitated for a while before deciding to call Esteban.

This was his last choice, as he had no one else to turn to in the Wolf faction. He had taken those he trusted with him to Clouauro.
