

Chapter 1960 The Difficulties Of Repairing The Villa

Luisa handed her phone to Lyman.

Lyman also recognized Luisa.

The call for tenders from Newmere Cosmetics had really impressed him back then. He greeted her politely, "Miss Burke, long time no see. How is your company now?"

Alas, since Luisa had lost her memories, she didn't quite know what to answer. She said in a daze, "Newmere Cosmetics? Uh... I'm sorry, I have lost my memories. I can't remember anything about the company."

Kurt was shocked when he saw that Lyman also knew Luisa. He pulled a long face and felt more uneasy.

How come they all knew Lyman? He was really in trouble now.

Lyman gave Luisa a comforting smile before playing the video on her phone.

In the video, Kurt was talking proudly, "You're right. Mr. Cullen is working with me. What can you guys do now?"

Seeing that there was evidence against them, Kurt's and Garry's faces darkened dramatically. They didn't expect that Trevor had asked Luisa to film them. Neither of them knew what to do at this time.

After watching the video, Lyman's face became serious. He hated people who abused their power to hurt others.

He angrily pointed at Garry and shouted, "You clearly disregard the laws. I can already tell you that you will be fired. Humph! As for your partner's fate, it will be up to the director of the Construction Department to decide whether he will press charges or not."

Trevor also snorted and said coldly to the two people in front of him, "Now get lost!"

Kurt's attitude had irritated them so much that they didn't even drive the excavators away and just left.

Kurt looked around and his gaze finally rested on Trevor. He said viciously, "Just wait and see! In case you don't know it yet, I have a powerful backer. Even Henrik can't do anything to me. Do you think you have what it takes to defeat me?"

Trevor ignored Kurt and looked at the two men's receding figures with a playful expression.

When Kurt and Garry had disappeared from sight, Lyman looked around the villa and said to Trevor, "So you want to repair the villa! It seems to be a really hard task. Although your villa is not a dangerous building it would be really difficult to repair it."

Trevor nodded helplessly and explained, "The main reason why I came to Dreles was to repair the villa. But as you said, it would be a very difficult task. The construction team I hire can't do it."

Lyman thought for a while and suddenly smiled. Trevor was puzzled by Lyman's expression. The latter didn't keep Trevor waiting for long and said, "I know someone who can help you solve this problem."

Upon hearing that, a look of excitement appeared on Trevor's face and he asked in a hurry, "Who is it?"

Lyman paused and said, "It's the director of the Construction Department in Dreles! You are lucky. He had disappeared for a while and just returned to Dreles not long ago. Before disappearing he had invented an advanced construction material. With that material, you should be able to repair your villa with less difficulty. Not only would you be able to repair your villa, but you'll build it more stable and beautiful. I happen to have a good relationship with him. I can help you contact him. But I can't guarantee that he will give you the materials. It will depend entirely on your ability to convince him."

Hearing that, Trevor's heart sank.

Deep down, he thought that since this director of the Construction Department returned not long ago, there were chances that he might be held captive by Mobius.
