

Chapter 1986 Trevor's Seething Rage

Trevor, Cecelia, and Henrik left the hotel and split up to look for Luisa.

They were all very worried, fearing that something had happened to Luisa.

After searching for a while, they learned that Luisa was at the bar and that she was dead drunk.

As soon as Trevor got out of the car, he saw Luisa drunk outside the bar.

Before Trevor could walk up to her, Duran was with Luisa and tried to pull her away.

Just then, Pearson saw Trevor standing nearby, and his eyes lit up. He shouted on purpose, "Duran! How dare you touch Mr. Sanderson's girlfriend? Are you nuts?"

Pearson had a deep dislike for Duran and he did not want to miss this opportunity to humiliate Duran in front of Trevor, especially since it would help him curry favor with Trevor.

Duran glared at Pearson and said coldly, "This bar belongs to the Wright family! Even if I don't have control over this bar, don't forget that this is our territory. So, Trevor has no power here."

Just as Duran finished speaking he saw Trevor quietly walk towards them.

Trevor didn't say a word, but he gave off an icy aura that gave chills to the people in front of him.

Duran felt his heart tremble and he took a step back unconsciously.

"Let go of her!" Trevor ordered Duran in a low voice.

At this moment, the arrogant and confident look that Duran exhibited earlier had completely disappeared. He wasn't arrogant anymore but looked really scared.

He hesitated for a while, his face red with embarrassment. After a while, he yelled with a red face, "Luisa is willing to go with me! Trevor, you might be very powerful, but you don't own her."

Pearson was eager to please Trevor, so before Trevor could say anything he shouted, "Duran, what are you talking about? Weren't you the one who made Luisa drink in the bar? Now that she's drunk, of course she can't answer anything you say."

Duran was furious at Pearson's words and he glared at Pearson, his eyes filled with resentment.

With a cold look in his eyes, Trevor stepped forward and repeated, "Let go!"

He had just raised his voice a little, but to Duran, it was like a thunderclap.

Duran was really afraid of Trevor and he had no desire to mess with him. However, Trevor's bossy attitude made him feel humiliated and in order not to lose face, he decided to stand up to Trevor.

He balked at letting Luisa go and said, "I'm not doing anything wrong. I am pursuing her openly! Trevor, we are in an era of gender equality. You can't decide for Luisa, unless you don't respect her! Besides, this place belongs to the Wright family! It doesn't matter how powerful you are. You better control yourself. Don't cause a scene here."

Trevor was seething at Duran's audacity, and his heart pounded with anger.

Did Duran want to take advantage of Luisa now that she had lost her memory?

If that were his intentions, then he was clearly courting death!

As these thoughts filled Trevor's mind, his anger only grew. Then, without warning he slapped Duran hard in the face. The slap was so stiff that Duran was almost knocked out.

Looking at Duran in the eye, Trevor said coldly, "Dare you say it again!"

It was Duran's habit to find excuses for any bad thing he did, but Trevor didn't have time for his nonsense today.

Seeing that Trevor was in a sour mood, Duran's fear grew.

Panicked, he shouted, "Security, help!"

The next seconds, security guards rushed over and surrounded Trevor and Duran. However, the security guards knew better than to make a move.

They all knew that Trevor was the young master of the Sanderson family, and they also knew that they couldn't afford to offend him.

Seeing that the security guards didn't do anything and just stood there, Duran was furious. He roared angrily, "You losers! You are paid to ensure there is no trouble at the bar, aren't you? What good are you here if you can't do exactly what you were hired to do? Damn it! A bunch of useless things!"

Seeing that the situation was getting more and more tense, Pearson decided to fan the flames and said seriously to Trevor, "Mr. Sanderson, Duran is not a good person. He did everything to make Luisa disgusted with you and to steal her from you!"

Without saying a word, Trevor shot a cold glance at Pearson. Of course, Trevor had seen through Pearson's intentions. Pearson just wanted the situation to escalate.

Although Trevor didn't want the matter to get out of hands, he couldn't keep his calm when Duran was holding Luisa's hand.

The next second, Trevor kicked Duran heavily, making him collapse on the ground. He then held Luisa in his arms, letting her head rest against his chest.

"Let's go home now. I'll make sure you have a good rest," Trevor murmured gently.

Lying on the ground in pain, Duran could do nothing but watch as Trevor took Luisa away. Despite the presence of his security guards, he no longer dared to say anything imprudent.

Meanwhile, Luisa finally sobered up.

When she saw Trevor pick her up, her eyes filled with tears.

"Trevor, wait!" Luisa pleaded in tears. She bit her red lips and seemed to hesitate about something. Then, she said softly, "I have a question for you."
