

Chapter 2001 Since You Came Here, You Can't Leave

Trevor could no longer stand the security guard's repeated insults.

Henrik, who was more hot-tempered than Trevor, was already seething.

"Bro, let me handle this. I can't stand these lapdogs insulting us anymore. They are so hateful!" Henrik said in a low voice.

He was actually good at fighting. He blamed himself for the last time he had been overpowered by the strongman, leaving Trevor to fight alone.

So he wanted to make up for it this time.

Trevor nodded slightly. "Well in that case, hurry up. We can't let Duran run away."

The security guards burst into laughter when they heard that Henrik wanted to fight them alone.

The security guard who had been insulting Trevor and Henrik said mockingly, "You must be out of your mind! Do you really think you can fight against four people alone? Your parents definitely didn't teach you to be humble. Well, I'll teach you a lesson on their behalf."

The security guard then turned to his colleagues and shouted, "Guys, beat up this brat!"

Henrik had no weapons as he prepared to fight four physically imposing men. However, there was no fear in his eyes.

He had no trouble finding their weak points and he beat them bitterly. Although all three security guards who rushed at him were armed with batons, these were of no help to them.

Seeing that Henrik had the upper hand, the most arrogant security guard slipped behind Henrik and tried to attack him by surprise.

The man swung his baton at the back of Henrik's head.

If the baton hit Henrik, he would certainly faint on the spot, and might

The security guard struggled a few times, and his face changed dramatically when he found that he could not break free.

"Be careful," Trevor reminded Henrik in a low voice.

Fortunately, he was there and was vigilant, otherwise the consequences for Henrik would be catastrophic.

Realizing that Trevor had just saved his life, Henrik gave him a grateful smile.

Then he kicked the security guard so hard that the security guard fell back a few meters. The pain was unbearable and the guard was writhing and moaning on the ground.

Henrik spat on the man and roared, "Damn it! A sneak attack? I'll make you pay for it now!"

After he had beaten up all the security guards, Henrik was ready to follow Trevor into the hospital.

However, Trevor shook his head and said seriously, "You stay here and keep an eye on these security guards in case they might want to cause more trouble later."

Since their numbers proved useless against Henrik, the guards were now afraid of him and did not dare to do anything rash now.

Trevor knew he could confidently let Henrik keep an eye on these guards. So, he calmly entered the hospital alone.

As soon as he walked into the hospital, he saw Duran on the second floor!

"Duran, I finally found you!" Trevor said with a sneer.

At this time, Duran was heading downstairs to get the injection drug from the safe. When he saw Trevor, he suddenly stiffened.

Duran looked around and was stunned to see that Trevor was alone. Suddenly, he burst into laughter. "Trevor, do you think you can take me away with a disabled arm? I was in too much of a hurry last time, otherwise you would have been dead by now!"

With a mysterious grin, Trevor said calmly, "So you admit to sending those killers to assassinate me?"

Duran burst out laughing with a fierce expression on his face. He leaned over the second floor railing and laughed loudly. "Why would I deny it? Anyways, you won't get out of this hospital today! Get him!"

As soon as Duran said these words, his bodyguard turned around and jumped from the second floor.

Trevor took a close look at the bodyguard in front of him and he noticed something

The man had an aquiline nose.

Apparently, Duran also administered the drug to his bodyguard.
