

Chapter 2003 Duran Is Dead

Duran had taken the drug out of the safe before Trevor found him.

With the injector tightly in his hand, Duran felt more confident.

Upon hearing Trevor's question, he raised his chin and laughed wildly. "Trevor, you really underestimate me! You are going to die today, so why can't I smile? In case you haven't figured it out yet, I have the newly developed drug with me. Even half the dose would be enough to make me stronger than the bodyguard you beat. If there's anyone who can't smile right now, it's you."

Trevor didn't seem at all worried when Duran declared he had the newly developed drug. He stood in front of the door to prevent Duran from escaping and asked, "Do you have any connection to the Craig family?"

"The Craig family?" A confused look appeared on Duran's face. However, he had no intention of answering Trevor's question. He just sneered and said, "Once I inject myself with the drug, I will kill you and Luisa! Then, I could make great achievements which will finally allow me to be appreciated. Besides, I will kill those two bastards, Henrik and Cecelia. That way, I will be the only heir of the Wright family!"

Duran seemed to have lost his mind. Looking at the crazy man in front of him, Trevor frowned.

Duran's arrogance and overconfidence made it clear to Trevor that there was indeed someone in the shadows pulling the strings.

"Who is behind all this? I need an answer!" Trevor asked sternly.

He stepped forward, firmly determined to get some useful information.

Duran wasted no time and quickly injected the drug into his arm.

Seeing that, Trevor's face changed and he rushed to Duran as fast as he could.

But it was too late.

Duran pushed the injector and half of the drug was injected into his body.

Almost immediately, Duran had a seizure.

His skin turned an unnaturally scarlet color and his limbs twisted at a very strange angle. He looked like a madman who had escaped from an asylum.

Duran gave Trevor a hard punch.

He swung his fists with such brutality that the air whistled with every movement and it looked like it was going to shatter everything around him.

Trevor could feel the immense power in Duran's punch which he had just dodged. He would be in serious trouble if one of those punches landed on him. Realizing this, Trevor stepped back.

At this moment, all the muscles in Duran's body swelled, and his nose also got that typical aquiline shape similar to that of all the people who had taken the drug before.

"Trevor, I want you to die!" Duran roared angrily as he rushed towards Trevor like a cannonball.

Trevor quickly dodged by flipping to the side. He was realistic and knew he couldn't beat this version of Duran, at least not in his current state.

Trevor thought the same fighting tactics he had used against the bodyguard might work on Duran. So, after dodging Duran's attack a second time, he quickly grabbed Duran's head and tried to knock him down.

But Trevor ignored one thing.

Now, Duran had infinite power!

Duran tilted his head and ruthlessly shook off Trevor's hand. Then without wasting a second, he threw a hard punch back.

Trevor quickly pushed the security door to block the punch.

Boom!

The whole floor trembled when Duran's fist crashed against the security door. The security door itself couldn't stand the hard punch and Duran's fist passed right through it.

Although Duran was immensely strong now, he was still made of flesh and after punching through the security door, he injured his hand and blood was oozing out of the wound.

However, Duran didn't seem to feel any pain. The injection had made his muscles thicker and more dense, and he kept throwing punches at Trevor.

Of course, if Trevor wasn't injured he would definitely have fought back.

As Duran's attacks became more and more fierce, Trevor noticed that Duran was emitting a very terrifying heat. It was as if Duran was wrapped in flames.

"Go to hell!" Duran roared suddenly, with a ferocious glimmer in his eyes. He threw another stiff punch at Trevor, and this time the punch also contained a great deal of force.

Trevor caught sight of the chair next to him out of the corner of his eye and he quickly grabbed it to protect himself.

Duran's fist slammed into the chair and instantly shattered it into pieces.

Trevor seized the opportunity and grabbed Duran's arm tightly like an iron pincer.

Then, in a swift movement, he twisted Duran's right arm violently.

Holding Duran's twisted arm, Trevor delivered a blow so powerful to Duran that his muscles nearly dislocated.

Although injured, Trevor could rely on his rich combat experience to defeat Duran.

Trevor's counter attacks only made Duran even more furious. He didn't expect that Trevor could fight back.

"Trevor! You will die today!"

With a ferocious laughter, Duran injected the rest of the drug into his body.

Seeing that the situation was at his disadvantage, Trevor quickly decided to make a move to gain the upperhand.

But before he could move, Trevor saw that Duran appeared to be in agony. Blue veins stood out on his body and his neck had become as thick as a bull's. He no longer looked much like a human. Duran ruthlessly hit the wall with his head!

Then almost in an instant, his blood vessels burst.

"You lied to me! You lied to me! You lied... I..."

Duran collapsed on the floor all of a sudden.

He was dead.

Trevor was shocked as he looked at Duran's lifeless body.

It seemed that the drug had killed him.

Trevor ultimately calmed down and shifted his attention to the safe on the floor. He was lost in thought.

Where did Duran get the drug? Did he take it out from the safe?
