Chapter 2025 Let Me Help You Cool Off

Witnessing Trevor's nonchalant demeanor, Kenny's anger flared.

Despite the drug coursing through him, he couldn't seem to get a grip on Trevor.

"Ah! Go to hell!" he bellowed, grabbing a green plant in the hospital corridor. Instantly, the high temperature sparked, reducing both plant and flowerpot to ashes. "This is the power of evolution! Trevor, you might dodge me a dozen times, but when I hit you, you will be as finished as this plant. You're a goner. Believe it or not."

Trevor responded coolly, stoking Kenny's anxiety, "Give it a shot."

Infuriated, Kenny harbored an intense hatred toward Trevor. He needed to catch him, venting his anger by reducing him to pieces.

Rushing at Trevor, Kenny wielded formidable physical strength. However, despite the drug injection, his fighting skills were a mess.

Trevor effortlessly sidestepped Kenny's attacks multiple times, unscathed. After yet another unsuccessful attack, he seized a fire extinguisher and swung it at Kenny's head.

The extinguisher burst open, releasing powder, creating chaos in the hospital corridor. Clapping his hands, Trevor taunted, "Kenny, got a bit of a hot streak? Let me help you cool off."

Provoked, Kenny's temper flared. His body temperature soared, flames erupting on his skin.

"Damn you, Trevor! Go to hell!" The fiery Kenny cornered Trevor, declaring with ferocity, "Let's see where you can dodge now."

Amid Trevor's silence, Kenny grinned menacingly, goading, "Why the silence? Scared to talk back? Are you scared?"

In response, Trevor raised an eyebrow, offering him an insulting gesture.

Enraged, Kenny, with a burning hand, slapped him.

Yet, once again, Trevor adeptly sidestepped the attack. Unexpectedly, he tightly gripped Kenny's burning hand, shocking him as he seemingly ignored the flames.

"How... How can this be happening? This can't be true!" Kenny yelled.

Trevor wore a smile but kept mum. No matter how Kenny struggled, he couldn't break free from Trevor's unyielding grip.

Growing increasingly irritated, Kenny shouted, "What's your strength worth? I've mastered high temperatures through evolution. I'll incinerate you. I'm not just boasting!"

With that, he cranked up his body temperature.

However, Trevor remained unruffled, seemingly impervious to the rising heat.

On the contrary, Kenny felt Trevor's hand, gripping his own, getting hotter. Amid the scorching temperature, he experienced a numbing sensation, as if electrocuted.

"What's happening? This can't be real," Kenny said, his expression one of terror.

Despite the drug coursing through him, he felt an intense pain as Trevor pressed on his hand. Forced to his knees, he gazed at Trevor in horror.

With a sneer, Trevor slapped Kenny's face and taunted, "Aren't you the arrogant one, Kenny? Feeling a bit scared now?"
