+120 Points at most

Chapter 2040 I'm From The Sanderson Family

Even without trying, Trevor's commanding presence was undeniable, and it scared Chamberlain.

Annoyed by Trevor's strong presence, Chamberlain inhaled deeply and sneered, "Looking for trouble, you bumpkin? Do you even know who I am? My father is the chairman of Truman Construction Company!"

Trevor just smiled, staying silent, while Luisa gently tugged at his clothes and smiled.

Luisa said, "Trevor, I've decided. The wedding rings we saw are perfect. I've already envisioned how we'll customize them."

As Serenity reached for her notepad, Chamberlain's girlfriend stepped forward, chin lifted in arrogance. "Wait a minute. I've chosen a custom design too. Serve me first!"

Even though her arrogance seemed to stem solely from her association with Chamberlain, the woman was inherently conceited. She carried herself like a vixen, head held high with a dominating demeanor.

Chamberlain's complacency swelled as he condescendingly addressed Serenity, "Did you hear that? Get moving and serve us now! I'm a VIP in this store!"

While speaking, he cast a scornful look toward Trevor and said, "You're just a bumpkin in cheap clothes. Think you can match my family's wealth?"

Trevor looked at him and replied without emotion, "I belong to the Sanderson family of Zayden."

This revelation visibly shocked Chamberlain.

His girlfriend scoffed, "Lenard Sanderson, the once mighty figure of Zayden, has vanished. Even if you're a Sanderson, you're merely a distant relative. You're not as significant as my boyfriend. What makes you so bold?"

After pondering for a moment, Chamberlain shared the same sentiment with Chamberlain, the woman was inherently conceited. She carried herself like a vixen, head held high with a dominating demeanor.

10:28

Chamberlain's complacency swelled as he condescendingly addressed Serenity, "Did you hear that? Get moving and serve us now! I'm a VIP in this store!"

While speaking he cast a scornful look toward Trevor and said, "You're just a bumpkin in cheap clothes. Think you can match my family's wealth?"

Trevor looked at him and replied without emotion, "I belong to the Sanderson family of Zayden."

This revelation visibly shocked Chamberlain.

His girlfriend scoffed, "Lenard Sanderson, the once mighty figure of Zayden, has vanished. Even if you're a Sanderson, you're merely a distant relative. You're not as significant as my boyfriend. What makes you so bold?"

After pondering for a moment, Chamberlain shared the same sentiment and retorted, "I'm not intimidated by some distant Sanderson relative. Your scare tactics won't work on me! I'm a golden-level member here. Who could be more prestigious than me?"

Trevor simply shrugged, "No one."

Chamberlain's laugh held triumph. "This is a Sanderson shop, and I'm the top golden-level member here. Plus, I'm close with the manager. If you keep up this act, I can make things very difficult for you! Saleswoman, come here. Since this guy, claiming to be a Sanderson, wants custom rings, I'll graciously allow it. But, the piece I commission must outshine his. I refuse to settle for second best. If I'm not satisfied, I might just stop patronizing this place!"

Chamberlain's words dripped with entitlement.

Serenity wasn't oblivious to Chamberlain's implications. He was coercing her to serve him first.

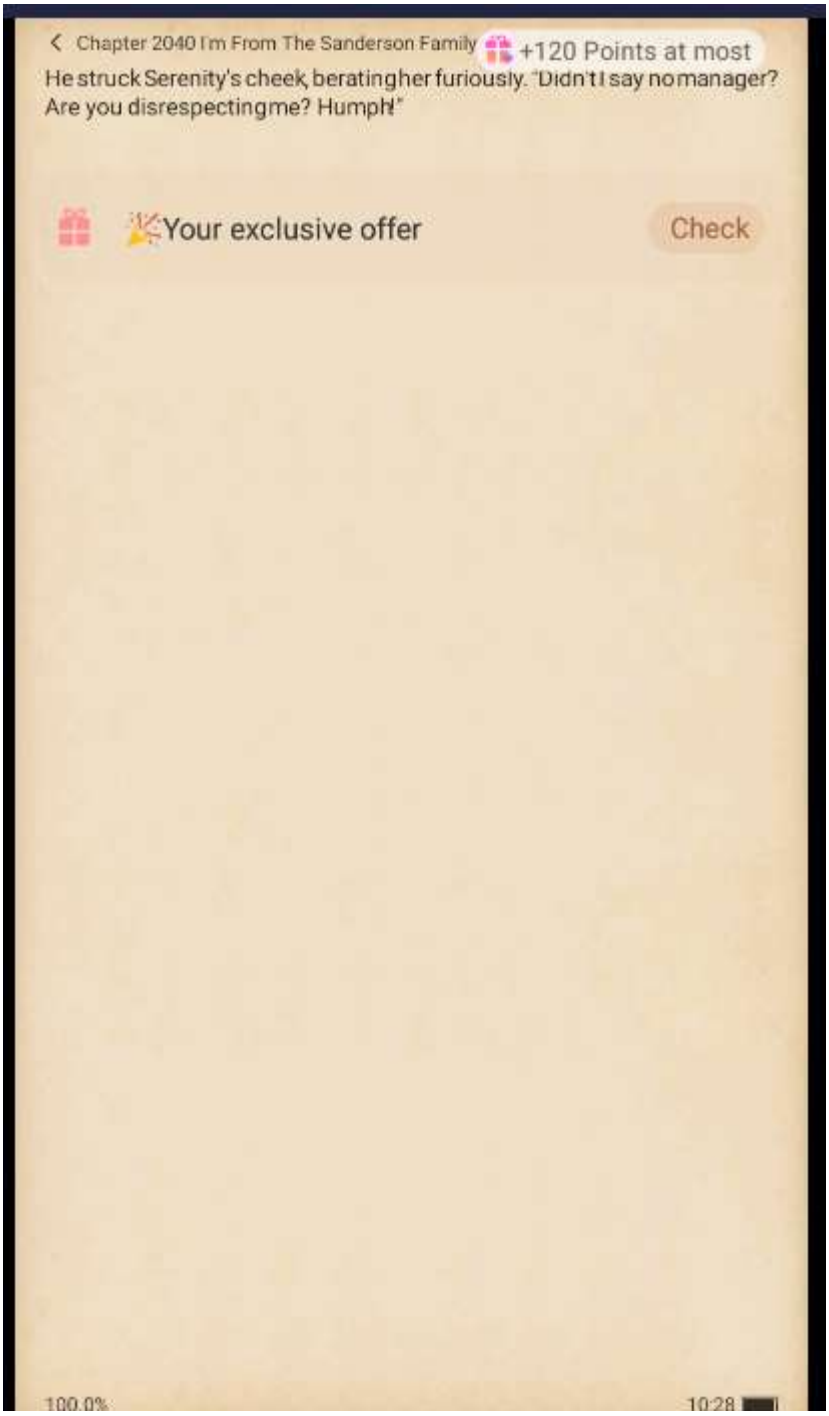

Trevor's response was icy. "Isn't it presumptuous to dismiss a Sanderson in their own establishment? Humph!"

Chamberlain laughed sarcastically, "Sure, it's Sanderson property, but look at you in your off-the-rack clothes. You must be the poorest of the Sandersons! I bet you've heard about Ronald's return to Zayden, and you're here to curry favor, aren't you?"

Instead of getting angry, Trevor smiled at Serenity and said, "Would you mind fetching your manager?"

Serenity, caught between the two, and recognizing Trevor's consideration for her position, nodded and moved to summon the manager.

But Chamberlain boomed, "You're staying right here!"

Chapter 2040 I'm From The Sanderson Family
+120 Points at most
He struck Serenity's cheek, berating her furiously. "Didn't I say no manager? Are you disrespecting me? Humph!"
Your exclusive offer
Check
100.0%
10:28