

Chapter 1116 Hanging Out With Purple Band

The contract between Star Film and Television Company and Purple Band was officially terminated.

With that, Trevor suddenly came up with an idea.

"Alicia, do you want your band to appear as a special guest in the first solo concert of our company's newest singer?" Trevor asked with a friendly smile. "Let me formally introduce myself. I'm Levi, the CEO of Sky Film and Television Company."

After Alicia took Trevor to the other members of the Purple Band, he came up with that idea and asked them about it.

Since Purple Band was already here, Trevor thought he might as well do his best to get them as guests in Ivanna's first concert.

It would be a great help to hype Ivanna's showcase.

Seeing Trevor, the other band members walked over and smiled at him.

"You're the guy who helped Alicia in the airport yesterday, right? Thank you so much for helping her. We didn't expect that you own an entertainment company."

Of course, the members wouldn't have a way to know Trevor's true identity. Fortunately, Levi left a good impression on them.

Trevor smiled and touched his chin in contemplation.

If Purple Band agreed to be Ivanna's special guest, it would be a big blow to Xzavier.

Poor Xzavier. He had tried his best to deceive the band into coming to Barlowtown, not knowing it would backfire on him.

Thinking about how furious Xzavier would be, Trevor couldn't help but smirk excitedly.

"We would love to have you as our special guest," Trevor continued to convince the members.

One of the members of Purple Band said, "Well, you helped Alicia yesterday, so we will think about it. Anyway, since our concert got canceled, we plan to go mountain trekking tomorrow to relax. Come with us. If you behave well, then we might accept the invitation."

Trevor nodded happily. "Sure. I'll see you tomorrow then."

Alicia smiled and added, "Bring the new singer tomorrow, Levi. We have to gauge her attitude first, you know. If we find her hard to get along with, then I'm afraid we won't accept the offer."

Trevor nodded confidently.

"I understand. I'll bring her tomorrow. It'll be a good chance for her to relax too since she has been very nervous about the concert lately and couldn't find the time to take a break from practicing."

Alicia nodded. "Then we'll have to put on a disguise so she won't recognize us."

Being unable to move freely in public was one of the many inconveniences big stars had due to their popularity.

Trevor smiled in understanding and set the departure time for tomorrow.

The next day, Trevor rented a bus and took Ivanna and Purple Band, who disguised themselves as regular mountain trekkers.

Although the weather had recently warmed, the air in the suburbs remained humid.

Unsurprisingly, Purple Band liked Ivanna and got along well with her.

Now that they were in disguise, the girls' appearances changed almost completely. Trevor couldn't help but be amazed by their excellent makeup skills.

Ivanna didn't even recognize them. She had no idea that the people she was talking and laughing with were the members of Purple Band.

"We've arrived at the foot of the mountain. Let's get off the bus, girls." Trevor instructed them to prepare for the trek.

Everyone was having a good time as they talked and laughed candidly.

However, not long after starting the trek, the group ran into an unexpected person.

It was Cristina, Ivanna's ex-best friend.

"Ivanna?" Cristina blurted out in a slightly pitched voice while her face contorted into a grimace.

"Cristina? Are you here to trek too?" Ivanna approached Cristina calmly, though it was apparent in her eyes that she was a little uncomfortable.

On the other hand, Cristina's expression showed jealousy and resentment.

They used to be classmates and best friends, but Cristina envied Ivanna's success. And when she learned Ivanna's preparing for her solo concert, Cristina's envy deepened.

"Ivanna, aren't you holding a concert? You should be preparing for it, aren't you? So why are you here today? Well, I've already told you. You won't make it! Didn't you know Purple Band will also hold a concert in the city? Everyone will surely go to their concert instead of yours, so your concert will be a sure flop!" Cristina taunted, not knowing the band's concert was canceled.

Although the contract between the band and Xzavier's company was officially terminated, the news wasn't announced yet. Thus, Cristina still had this assumption.

Cristina's friends also gave Ivanna mocking looks.

Trevor nearly broke into laughter.

He looked at Cristina's scornful face, then at the Purple Band members in disguise.

Chapter 1116 Hanging Out With Purple Band

If Cristina knew Ivanna was getting along with the members, she would be even more envious.

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

07:10

100.0%

100%

Chapter 1117 Premium Album

Ivanna bit her lower lip, feeling a little sad to hear those words from Cristina.

It was true that she gained enough popularity to hold a concert, thanks to Nelly's help, but it was also true that Star Film and Television Company tried to obstruct it, which had affected her so much.

But Cristina didn't care about her feelings and their friendship at all. She blatantly mentioned the issue, knowing too well that it would make Ivanna feel bad.

Before Ivanna could retort, Alicia stepped forward and regarded Cristina coldly.

"Who the hell are you? Aren't you ashamed to bully Ivanna in the name of Purple Band?"

Casting a disgusted look at Cristina, the other members nodded in agreement to Alicia's words.

They didn't like Cristina's arrogance.

Even more displeasing was her blatant use of their band's name to bully Ivanna, which could stain their reputation.

Cristina snickered, having no idea that the girls in front of her were the members of Purple Band.

"Who am I? I should be asking you that. Oh, wait! If you are with Ivanna, you're probably some of the unknown artists in that small, unremarkable company. Well, I must say it's unsurprising that you're friends with someone ambitious but mediocre like Ivanna!"

Then Cristina's gaze darted into Ivanna, cold and menacing. "You don't have what it takes to be a singer, Ivanna. No matter how hard you try, you will never be as good as Purple Band!"

Ivanna finally couldn't take it anymore. She balled her hands into fists and equaled Cristina's glare. "Shut up, Cristina! I was so wrong about you!"

But Cristina wasn't finished yet. She turned to the young man beside her and smirked.

"Bohumil, I believe you still have the album you bought yesterday in your bag. Show them to these bumpkins."

Bohumil did as he was told and showed off the album. "Do you know what this is? This is Purple Band's bundle album! It contains a CD, a vinyl record, and a U disk inside! This is what a premium album is! Even if you have the money, you won't be able to afford it!"

Cristina cocked her head arrogantly at Ivanna.

"Do you know what a top star is, Ivanna? It's the level you won't ever reach! Of course, what else is there to expect from someone like you but failure? You haven't even seen a premium album until now. How dare you believe you can be famous like Purple Band? You can't wish for something you've never seen. Tell me. Do you have something of this value?"

Cristina's sneer grew even more sinister.

Her livid gaze shifted from Ivanna to Trevor.

The potent desire to destroy Ivanna engulfed her once more.

She and Wilbert had tried to impair Ivanna's throat before, but they failed. Their action cost them their reputation, which Trevor didn't hesitate to ruin.

Now, dripping with bitterness and anger, Cristina wanted nothing but to tear down Ivanna by all means.

Seeing the look in Cristina's eyes, Trevor grimaced. He was about to reprimand her but held back when the members of Purple Band stepped in.

They glared at Cristina, amused by the latter's blatancy.

They exchanged looks and immediately reached an understanding to take Ivanna's side and put Cristina in her place.

"That's just an album, so what's the big deal that you even showed it off? It's pathetic!" Alicia snorted.

Cristina gritted her teeth and snarled at Alicia, "Shut up, bumpkin! Do you even have an idea how valuable Purple Band's albums are? Your opinion will only matter if you can afford them, so fuck off!"

One of the members pressed her lips together in disdain.

"Are you really looking down on us? Just wait here. I'll show you what valuable is!"

The member then pulled Alicia and whispered in her ear, "Let's get some of our albums on the bus and give them to Ivanna."

Alicia nodded and glared at Cristina.

As the band's lead singer, Alicia never imagined meeting someone as shameless as Cristina, who used their name to bully others in front of them.

Chapter 1118 Bumpkin

Cristina was not a patient person.

When she saw the members of Purple Band leave, she couldn't help laughing complacently.

"Ha-ha! Ivanna, you are getting worse and worse. What kind of friends have you made? I'm afraid they sneaked away because they don't want to be laughed at with you."

As soon as she said this, her friends also laughed at Ivanna.

"Yes, I think they just found an excuse and escaped. If you believe it, you are too stupid."

Ivanna was so furious that she retorted loudly, "Shut up! I think you are those kinds of people."

Trevor patted Ivanna on the shoulder, hinting at her not to get too angry.

He was not a boss who could stand idly by and watch his employees being bullied.

Trevor sneered, "In terms of making friends, Ivanna is, of course, not as good as you. We admit that. Cristina, if my memory serves me right, the scene when you had sex with Wilbert a month ago was exposed on the Internet, right? And now, you have found a group of horny men. What now? Do you feel proud to show off your social skills in front of Ivanna?"

The expression on Cristina's face changed dramatically.

Trevor's words hurt her.

That incident when her sex video with Wilbert was exposed was a shadow that she could never erase her whole life.

Even if she graduated and could become a professional artist, she wouldn't have a bright future.

The scandal had already determined that she would never become a big star.

"Shut up, you bastard! How dare you! Who are you to slander me? That's not true at all. All those rumors are fake," Cristina screamed hysterically. Her expression was so ferocious that she looked like a madwoman.

Trevor raised his eyebrows. He was a little worried about Cristina's mental state.

The expressions of Cristina's friends also changed.

"Watch your mouth, bastard! What do you mean we are horny? What the fuck do you know?"

"Damn you! Believe it or not, I'll tear your mouth apart!"

"Who do you think you are? How dare you slander us like that?"

Trevor crossed his arms over his chest and sneered. In his eyes, these people were like dogs who could only bark.

Cristina stared at Trevor resentfully. Her face became gloomier.

Although the man she met with Wilbert in the hotel last time wore a horrible mask, she was sure he was Trevor.

She had no evidence. But she didn't need any evidence to hate a person.

She gritted her teeth and said, "I've heard that you have offended Xzavier. Just wait and see. Now that Xzavier has invited Purple Band, Ivanna's first concert will definitely be overshadowed."

Cristina seemed to be inspired by her own words. She sneered, "That's right. Since an ignorant woman like Ivanna can be considered the most famous singer in your company, I'm sure your company must be very poor. You can't even afford to buy gifts for your artists. Otherwise, Ivanna won't look like a bumpkin. Why don't you beg me? Maybe I can sell this premium album to you, so you can show it to your employees."

The corners of Trevor's mouth curled up as he glanced at Cristina coldly.

Premium album?

Just now, the members of the Purple Band and Ivanna sat on the same bus, talking and laughing. But now, Cristina was swaggering with a premium album.

Wasn't it ridiculous?

At this moment, Alicia and the other members of Purple Band returned.

"Ivanna, come here and look at these. We prepared these gifts for you. This is one of the one hundred limited edition records released by Purple Band, and this is their poster. All the members of the band have signed on them. I hope you will like them."

Alicia took out the limited edition souvenirs of Purple Band from her handbag. They were all very precious because of the signatures of the band members.

Cristina's eyes widened in disbelief while watching the scene. She shouted in disbelief, "That's impossible! How can you have such precious limited edition souvenirs? How can poor people like you afford to buy them?"

Trevor raised his eyebrows. Then he found that the ink of the signatures on the poster hadn't dried up yet.

Alicia noticed the look on Trevor's face. She stuck out her tongue shyly and showed a playful expression.

Obviously, they had just taken those souvenirs out and signed them in a hurry.

Alicia cleared her throat and quickly explained, "Ivanna, be careful not to stain your clothes. Maybe the air in the suburb is relatively humid, so the ink takes time to dry."

Cristina and her friends were still in shock. They didn't come to their senses and couldn't express their doubts.

Chapter 1118 Bumpkin

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

 I want no ads >

07:11

100.0%

100%