Chapter 26: Out of the shadows

Jameson sometimes wondered if the power of John was seeing the future. His son sometimes talked like a prophet and it felt really weird to him.

"Dad don't worry. Pay attention to the news of Culver University but no need to act on it. Just act normal and don't raise any suspicions now. Only Harlem is what that matters." John said with confidence.

Jameson didn't say anything to it and few more days went by as usual. But suddenly a startling news started revolving in the internet and now even proper videos came out. Jameson was shocked when he saw the video from Culver University.

It was a green colored humanoid larger than twice the size of a human being ravaging military vehicles and went on a rampage. This video really scared Jameson. At the beginning he thought it might be a monster little more powerful than human being but after what he saw he hardly believed his eyes.

This was almost like an invincible monster and maybe only a nuclear explosion can kill it. John asked him to act as normal so this time he didn't run to home. But as soon his work ended he took Hotshot and went home. For the first time he felt having Hotshot gave him a sense of security. He was scared because according to the hints of John there might be a situation with that monster in Harlem.

After returning home he immediately called John and informed him. "So the trajectory is same as I hoped for. Don't worry dad he isn't a bad guy. He is just a child who is little confused. It's fine." John assured Jameson after watching his dad being a little scared for the first time.

"Then why did you tell me to watch over Harlem. Don't you mean that this guy will wreak havoc there?" Jameson asked with confusion.

"Dad a hero will always need a villain to prove himself. Don't you understand that? Haven't you seen the script of the movie that is going to come out in a few weeks? Harlem will be his rise. Well that's what is supposed to happen. Dad whatever you shoot in Harlem don't spread it. Keep it absolutely safe and secure. This will be useful during negotiation if required" John said. freew ebnov el "Negotiation? With whom? With this green monster?" Jameson was more confused now.

"No Dad. It can be used with certain people if required".

Jameson didn't ask any more questions as he felt stressed by listening to his son's prophetic blabbering. He just informed the team about his requirements and asked them to only record various situations in Harlem and not have any contact. Since it was the work of John, Jameson sent most of his employees for this job.

May 2nd, 2008

It was a normal night in Harlem but suddenly there was havoc in the streets. Suddenly a huge humanoid monster of green with a contrast of black could be seen in the streets. It's size was almost the same as the monster that appeared in Culver university but this one had spinal bones outgrowing from his back and bones from the elbow joints.

Jameson when he got the videos from his employees about this new monster, he immediately called John about it and gave the information about this new monster.

"So finally it's time for action. I have worked hard and made all necessary preparations for this day. Let the great era begin." John said excitedly. He immediately changed himself to a character from Naruto world. This character had a long white cloak with fire designs at the end and written "Yondaime Hokage" in Japanese.

Yes it was the famous yellow flash of Konoha, Minato Namikaze, one of the favorite character from Naruto for John. As soon as he changed he disappeared from his place and appeared in Harlem. Few days ago he left a flying god thunder mark at a building at the center of Harlem.

John leapt over buildings to avoid cameras and approached the place where Abomination was in rampage. He saw a half damaged US military Humvee driving backwards and Abomination approaching it fast.

"It won't be fun if I use Minato to fight this. Let me change myself." After saying this his character changed.

As Abomination was almost approaching the Humvee, Abomination felt a sharp pain on his back. It felt like four sharp and big needles had entered from his back in the body. Even though there was only rage in his mind he still could feel pain. He pulled out one of the needles to ease his pain.

After pulling it out he saw swords shaped like a needle with a red handle and a small yellow end. He was instantly angry as he felt insulted by getting hurt by such a flimsy item and broke it instantly.

Then he turned back to see who was courageous enough to hurt him.

Chapter 27: The gorgeous fight

Abomination turned his head and saw a black guy with long blond hair tied behind. He wore weird black shades in his eyes and a head scarf in his head with a metallic front which had a weird sign drawn on it. His dress was very weird with a combination of white shirt with only one sleeve and black pants with a huge red colored belt around his waist. There was huge object which was bandaged in white and looked like a sword but this object had an obvious thickness.

The people in Humvee sighed in relief as they got some time to sneak away from this monster but the camera in the Humvee continued to play. On the helicopter General Ross, Bruce Banner and Betty watched this and were shocked.

"How could this be possible? Even missiles couldn't penetrate the skin of this monster. How could simple swords enter his back and that too by quite a few inches? Who is this guy? What is this new weapon? New technology from Stark Industries?" General Ross said.

Bruce and Betty had the same thought and they too were dumbfounded. They continued to see what would happen next but they were dumbfounded by what the weird man said next.

"Yo, the monster destroyed one of my sword, this hatred cannot be resolved by simple words, Yo" the man said. "Heh, that didn't rhyme at all. I need to work on this rap"

Abomination was very much irritated by this man words and approached fast towards this man. He raised his hand and threw a punch at him. Betty on the helicopter gave a cry and closed her eyes as she could already imagine the gruesome death of the man. Bruce too shuddered.

But what they saw next made everybody's eyes present in the helicopter pop out. They saw that the man stopped the punch of the man with his fist. He had a weird blue like glow around his body.

Yes, this weird man was Killer Bee, the eight tails Jinchuriki. John chose this character because he could use more grand moves and defeat Abomination.

Abomination was shocked to see that he was stopped by a normal human being and as he was shocked Bee used his other hand to punch him hard on his face. This shot alone threw Abomination few metres away. He slid on the ground for few inches and then stopped.

"Know my name, know my fame, don't be lame!

Eight tails, that's me, da rappin', Killer Bee

Tail beast reside inside my hide

Makin beats and rhymes and I'm makin' em' live

It's what a Jinchuriki needs to survive

battle after battle up here in the bee hive

Oh yeah!" Bee started singing and even dancing to this weird but catchy rap extract.

Now all the people who were looking at him were even more dumbfounded.

"What's up with this man? Why is he so weird? He punched this monster so hard but instead of continuing assault he is singing and dancing." These were the thoughts of all the people present.

Abomination got up shaking his head after a second. He felt his dignity was insulted after watching his opponent singing during the battle. "I am going to send you to hell" It shouted.

After standing on his feet he started running towards Killer Bee again and this time he was going to take this fight seriously. Last time, he considered it was like an ant so he didn't even use his full strength but he wouldn't commit the same mistake again.

As soon as he was near the Killer Bee to throw a punch, Bee suddenly vanished from the spot and he instantly felt a strong pain in his back. It felt as if a thousand spikes has entered through his skin and wreaked havoc.

He turned around instantly only to see Killler Bee standing with a huge sword shaped object. Only this time half of the bandages of it was removed and he could see a weird blue colored round shaped sword with spikes all over it's body.

"Oww, seems like Samehada likes the energy in your body. It seems I would have to feed it from you."

This sword was Samehada, a living sword that fed on energy and chakra. Samehada changed ownership when he had a fight with Kisame Hoshigaki, one of the 7 swordsmen of the mist.

"What the hell is going on? Can anyone tell me? Who is this man?" General Ross roared.

After few seconds a soldier who was responsible for monitoring said free webnov el.com

"Sir we don't have any information about this man"

"How come the US military doesn't have any information about this man? Find it out fast. Search everything and everywhere".

He was shocked but he was more excited because this guy could be the key to controlled super soldier serum that he had been researching all these years. He wanted all the information about him.

Chapter 28: The gorgeous fight (2)

Bee held Samehada with two hands and the blue glow in his body changed to red glow. John couldn't let this fight last long as many people have been paying attention to this fight. free(w)ebnovel

John needed a platform to showcase a new world to the high level people and he got it. Now it was time to finish it off. He knew that the government might come after him after this but he wasn't afraid.

"The party time is over now" Bee said finally with a hint of sincerity.

After covering his whole body and Samehada with red glow he vanished from the spot. And when he appeared he was already face to face with Abomination. Abomination tried to stop the sword which was approaching in fast speed by crossing his arms in defense position only to feel a sharp pain in his hands and the same feeling of small needles entering his body and dragging over it.

Abomination also realized that he felt a little weak after taking this move from Bee. Before the realization could even be processed by Abomination, Bee vanished only to appear behind him and using the same move on his legs.

This brought Abomination down to his knees. Abomination felt humiliated and wanted to give a back hand jab to Bee but only to catch air.

Bee appeared again in front of him and this time used Samehada and took a swipe at his chest. The only difference this time was that he kept the sword for few seconds on his chest instead of shredding his skin with the sharp needles on the body. This allowed Samehada to absorb lots of energy from the body of Abomination.

Of course, he wan't going to suck Abomination as he needed to be kept alive. John had watched Shang chi in his previous life and he knew Marvel had some plans for him. He didn't want to end this story now.

Bee then suddenly used the famous Lariat shot on the neck of Abomination to make him unconscious. After he took the shot he suddenly heard a loud voice from behind

"Stop. You can't kill him. He is an US military property." General Ross shouted from behind. " Who are you? You possess such immense power. You might be a danger to the general public of US, so I would need you to come with me." he continued.

Ross approached him with caution with gun pointed towards Bee. There were also some soldiers and policemen pointing their guns at him. Even though they were pointing their guns nobody felt that the guns could be helpful fighting this weird man. They watched of how he defeated this monster. His vanishing move is enough to kill all of them.

Even though Ross said these words he didn't feel safe enough but he still took the risk. This was his chance to fulfill his dream of super soldier project. He didn't know how much flak he was going to receive from higher authorities for the mess he had caused.

"Heh, General Ross after killing so many people with your stupid experiment you still have such courage to ask me about it. One Hulk wasn't enough for you to satiate your thirst. As for me. Didn't I say my name? My name is Killer Bee, Jinchuriki of the 8 tails. Now lower your guns otherwise I won't mind giving you a lesson for you to remember for the rest of your life" Bee said mockingly.

"How dare you?" Ross knew that he was weak but his momentary arrogance blinded him. "Boys shoot him" Ross commanded.

After listening to the command the soldiers started shooting immediately. Even though they knew it was futile they still took the shot. They just prayed that this weird man wouldn't kill them.

As soon as they shot Bee vanished from the spot only to appear behind a soldier and vanishing again. This small moment was enough for Bee to make the soldier unconscious with a controlled hit. This move repeated again in the back of other soldier near him and he too fell unconscious. This cycle repeated again with all the soldiers. By the time the last soldier realized what was happening he was already late and fell unconscious. fr eewebn ovel.com

After this trick he appeared in front of General Ross. Bee took the posture of punching him in the face. Ross was horrified as he felt he would die if he received a full powered punch from him. Only to realize that the hand to stop in front of his nose. He even felt a gust of wind passing by due to the close proximity.

Ross took several steps behind in fast manner and held his gun tightly pointing at Bee. He didn't have the courage to take the shot as he knew that his action might lead to his death. Betty almost gave a scream by looking at this. Bruce's face too was solemn as he wasn't sure if he could defeat him when transformed to Hulk.

"Relax General I won't kill you. I ain't a bad guy but please don't use your official power in front of me. Those don't affect me at all. General a piece of advice, give up your ambitions. It will only lead to your demise. Ok now bye" Bee vanished after saying that.

Before vanishing, Bee eyed Bruce and winked at him. Banner immediately understood that this was his chance to escape and among all the rubble and unconscious soldiers he sneaked away without being noticed by anyone. Ross was too scared to pay attention to anyone

Chapter 29: Two people

Killer Bee appeared again in a remote alley where there was nobody and he climbed upon the wall to the top of the building beside and ran over the buildings to appear very far away. He checked if there were any cameras with the help of Fixit and transformed back to John.

He walked out of the alley with a smile in his face. He had achieved what he wanted to and he was happy about it. He called a taxi and asked him to take to Manhattan, to his home.

The traffic was really heavy. It was probably due to the fact that there was a havoc in Harlem and police, firefighters and ambulances were rushing in. As he was approaching his home he got a message from Bumblebee saying that two men had entered his room. Bee asked for permission to kill them.

"Bee you can't always think of killing. It's fine. Let me reach home. I am strong enough now to handle two people. I probably know who came to my home. Calm down." John said hurriedly.

After reaching home he opened his door and realized there was no Val. He was little scared for her but then he remembered he gave protection to her in the form of transformed mobile which he changed sneakily. Since there was no message about any attack he understood that she must be away.

These two people might have led her away from home. And since even his father hadn't arrived he understood it was the deliberate action of them. He already knew who these two people were. freewebnov(e)lfreewe bnovel .com

After entering his room he noticed that there was a person with an eye patch on his right eye sitting in a chair and in the corner was another person standing beside him and both being in darkness as the lights were off. As he went to switch on the lights, the person sitting in the chair said in a raspy voice

"Mr. John Jameson, founder of Disney and the person behind the huge technological giants in the world. It's nice to meet you finally".

"Nicholas J Fury, director of Strategic Homeland Intervention, Enforcement and Logistics Division and Phil Coulson, an agent of Level 7 clearance. It's nice to meet you both too. Coulson you can sit down in the chair beside." John said while switching on the lights without even looking at them.

Now it was the time for Fury and Coulson to be astonished. They immediately touched their guns beside them as they weren't sure how John knew about them and even their identity and organization.

2 hours ago

SHIELD headquarters in New York

Fury came to New York on the information he received that was a illegal experimentation being done at Harlem and it was related to Hulk. Fury had already planned to absorb Hulk into SHIELD later as he was too dangerous to be left in the hands of US military.

He followed the reports closely. And when Abomination broke out he already had video feedback from the scene. But what happened later changed his world view. He saw a weird black man in a weird dress fighting against the monster while singing and dancing. It almost felt like a child's play to him.

"Who the hell is he? Find out right now." Fury ordered. He wasn't sure where this guy had popped up from but he needed to know about him.

"Sir the facial recognition software can't find any relevant information about him in any database. This person supposedly never existed before now" the agent who was responsible for searching information said with a surprised tone.

"This is impossible. Check again" Fury said. "Sir I have checked thrice. There is no information about him." the agent replied.

Coulson who was silent for some time now finally said with a weird expression " I think I know this guy. It's the same as he said. His name is Killer Bee, the Jinchuriki of 8 tails."

"Eh Coulson you know him? How come you have never mentioned him before? Are there any secrets you are hiding?" Fury asked with a hint of surprise. Coulson had been his trusted subordinate for a long time now and he never kept any secret from him. So how come he never heard about this guy from Coulson.

"Sir you misunderstood. I said I know this guy and his character but I personally don't know him. Because technically he is not supposed to exist. He is a character out of anime made by John Jameson." Coulson said with a more weird expression.

Even though Fury didn't pay attention to normal things he paid attention to the life of John as he was a person of interest due to his massive influence. So he knew what anime was. What he couldn't believe was the fact that an animated character had come to life. He couldn't believe it so he asked why Coulson thought this guy was Killer Bee from the anime.

Chapter 30: Two people (2)

"Sir, this move of his sword was possible because he attached a lightning chakra to swords. With that it has high speed and penetration power. Chakra can be said as a type of power which is hereditary and pass from generations to generations. That sword he uses is a living sword, yes you heard it right its a living sword. It absorbs chakra from others to make itself big and powerful. Well here he is absorbing the energy of this monster. That is the reason the monster was so weak by the end and the red glow in his body is because of a demon named 8 tails sealed in his body. He can freely control the power of the demon and fight. His power can be evaluated as a walking nuclear bomb. In full force he can destroy cities. Well at least that's what the story in anime said" Coulson spoke out in one breath.

Coulson was the person who had kept tabs on John initially and that led him to watch his works on animation and movies. Later even though he withdrew from spying on John he continued watching his works. His works really fascinated him and the story of Naruto really touched him as it spoke of organizations responsible for world peace. Coulson understood that at the end the price of freedom and peace is always high and to achieve a balance between them is the toughest of all.

Fury listened to him and started thinking and soon realized the main person behind this is still John. Only John can speak clearly on this. Immediately he ordered his agents to contact John but his agents replied that John wasn't at home.

If before Fury had some doubts about John's connection to this guy, now he was definitely sure that there was a connection because his agents said that they never saw him leaving the house. Even though they stopped close monitoring of John, SHIELD always had an eye on him from far.

After thinking for a long time he decided to go to his house and wait for him. He immediately gave orders to stop the military to go after John as it was outside their jurisdiction. SHIELD was responsible for any extraordinary events on earth and had an US member in world council. So he had enough pull on this matter.

Nick also took Coulson as he could give insights on this regard.

Present time:

Home of Jameson

John saw that his plan worked. He wanted this exposure from the very beginning. John knew that doing all this would expose him to SHIELD and later to the people of the world when they get to know that his works are coming to life. But this is the only way he could accumulate more fan values.

"Relax you two. Knowing such information is very easy for me and I advice you two notw to make any rash movements as the guy in the window sill isn't very good tempered." John said with a smile.

Fury and Coulson suddenly realized there was an additional guy sitting with one leg hanging down and one leg on top of window sill. He had long hair and covering his one eye. He looked really handsome with the moon shining on top of his head. After years of being in spy service it was the first time they didn't even notice another person arriving beside them.

"Sir, this is Sasuke Uchiha. He is more powerful and dangerous. Sir, I really advice you not to take any rash decision" Coulson said solemnly while keeping his hands from the gun away.

After thinking for couple of seconds he came back to normal as he understood that John didn't have any malice towards them. If he had he could have killed them long ago. Sasuke being on top of window sill sitting without even them realizing was proof enough that John had powerful allies and him not taking a shot towards them stated that he didn't want to come in conflict with them.

"Truth to be said I expected Natasha or Clint to come and spy on me for few days and try to find out information from me. I think the military didn't give you a good time so you had to come by yourself. I was even ready to play with you all but I guess I underestimated myself. Thanks for showing me the sincerity. And please can you abbreviate your organization's name as SHIELD. It's really tongue twisting to say such a long name" John said.

Fury and Coulson were really surprised about the depth of information John had about them. "That abbreviation sounds appropriate" Coulson murmured under his breath.

Fury really felt that all his secrets were bared out. John could see the worry on Fury's eyes. A guy who never trusted anyone was in a very weird position.

"Relax Fury I don't know everything about you. I am still in the process of knowing SHIELD and it's secrets but you don't have to worry. SHIELD doesn't interest me a bit. You can continue with your work and I with mine. Of course there can be talks of cooperation because we both know of the dangers that the earth is facing".
