

100 Chapter 100 Poor hubby!

Author's POV 1

"You want to verify if I am pregnant?" and Meredith starts to laugh out loud as soon as Max enters with her in his condo.

In the last two weeks this place has become a home for Meredith and as well for Max, who has never felt so good in her own home. Meredith left her mark on the space, making it look like a house and not the refuge of a bachelor.

"Why not? Who knows what surprise we will have" he says, putting her on her own feet as soon as he crosses the threshold of the house with her in his arms.

"Let me help you" he whispers and unzips her dress, letting it fall off her shoulders.

"Shit!" he said, seeing her in her lingerie "Did you wear this all night?" he asked, looking at her White Wicked Unlined Balconette Teddy from Victoria's Secret.

"Is there a problem with it?" Meredith asked him, smiling at him sweetly.

"Of course it is!" Max said and lifted her from the ground, letting her dress fall completely while she left her shoes on the ground with the dress.

"We could have been here and had fun, and you let me stay at that boring party."

"My party is not boring!" Meredith said, squeezing her eyes at him. "And we are here only to change my dress. But there is no another dress, should I wear this teddy?" she asks pointing to her lingerie. And thinking for a second she concludes.

"Yes, this outfit is gorgeous! Let's go! "

Max jumped up and laughed.

"So you were working against my back." and he lay her on her back in the middle of their bedroom and looked at her carefully, licking his lips.

"Max, we don't have time for that" she said, feeling how her heart started to beat faster and faster, wishing she had all the time she needed.

Max just looks at her and puts his big hand on her knees, gently pulling her legs away so he can take a look at the area that interests him.

"I will always make time for what interests me" Max said seriously and sits on his knees, catching her lingerie with his fingers, giving it aside and with his warm fingers he starts to caress her pussy.

"Max" Meredith moans. "What are you doing?"

but he ignored her and put his head between her legs and kissed her most sensitive part of her body.

"I have my own party here" he said laughing and blowing some air over her skin.

"We don't have time, Max" Meredith said but he is not hearing her, being charmed by her fragrance and he starts to suck from her clit until Meredith has nothing left to comment on and let him do his job.

He takes his fingers and when he feels that she is completely relaxed puts two fingers inside her and starts to massage her walls, still using his tongue too and when he feels that she is on the verge of the wave he starts to increase the rhythm.

"Maximilian Cruz!" Meredith yelled at him trembling like a jelly under his touch and riding her orgasm. "You ruined my lingerie!"

"I didn't," Max said smiling, and arranging the material back over her pussy as soon as he finished giving her pleasure. "See is still intact. I didn't use all my body parts to make you cum, so it's still good to wear.

"You are horrible!" Meredith said laughing.

"I will punish you for those words!" he said "But later" and he went to his dressing room, opened a closet and came back with another box.

"This is for the second part of the evening" Max said and opened the box, making Meredith smile.

"Even if I love that dress, I know that it is difficult to wear it a whole night so, I came with a second one"

"Max" Meredith said in a whisper looking at the dress he put in front of her. "This is gorgeous" and smiling at him she said "But we have a problem. There is no place for my bra if I will wear this dress "

"Shit! I didn't realize that! " and Max doesn't have time to say anything like Meredith let her lingerie fall, remaining naked in front of him.

"I will love this dress!" she said laughing. "I love it more than my own dress!"

And She walks naked in front of Max and takes the new dress.

He brought her a sleeveless embroidered tulle gown from Elie Saab. The dress is Ivoire an has some fixed spaghetti straps and a back zip closure.

"What about your panties?" Max asks, looking at her.

"I don't need it!" Meredith said, smiling innocently at Max who looked at her in shock.

"You are killing me!" Max said, growling a little and went back into the dressing room searching for something. He comes and shows her a pair of panties.

"Please, or we will stay here all night and the party's over!" and he puts the panties in her hand.

"You're not funny, Max!" Meredith said laughing at him, but he came in front of her, took her delicate hand in his hand and unzipped his pants and put her hand in.

"Yes, I'm not funny," he said, smiling at her. "I have blue balls and the blood doesn't flow from the middle down."

"Ohhh, poor hubby!" Meredith said, blinking her lash eyes at him, and caressing his balls with her fingers. Max just closed his eyes and twisted like a cat, leaving Meredith to touch him.

"Put that panties on you, Mer" he whispers in her ear when he feels that is the moment to stop or he will take her right there.

"I want you hubby" Meredith says laughing in his face, seeing him so tormented, but at the same time she takes the panties and puts them on.

When Max sees her in that new dress he takes her hand and says:

"Let go and end tonight, and after that we must live happily ever after!"

"Let's go, darling," Meredith said and tucked her fingers between Max's fingers.

But as soon as they arrived back in the garden all their friends looked at them.

"So?" Luke asks.

"So what?" Max asked, looking at him.

"Is she pregnant?" and Sam claps his hand with Luke and starts to laugh.

"You're dying to find out, aren't you?" Meredith asks him and puts her arms around Max's waist.

"I can't sleep at night," Luke said, laughing at him.

"Darling," Meredith said, kissing Max's cheek.

"Shall we tell them?"

And Sam's and Luke's faces are so happy.

"We are going to have a little alpha!?!? !!" they yelled and Carter and Lisa and Landon and Olivia turned their happy heads.

"No!" Max tells them.

"Two baby announcements for tonight are already enough" and looking at Meredith he said.

"But we are working to accomplish this goal. "

Their night is so smooth. Even Francois was happy tonight and he never left Leia's room. But tonight not everyone was happy. Being a werewolf is a tough thing when you are alone, and suddenly left behind by everyone.

So, somewhere in the Canadian wild things were not bright and beautiful.
