

101 Chapter 101 She's not breathing

Author's POV 1

(Two weeks ago)

"Where the hell did she run, Craig?" Vincenzo asks, sniffing the air.

"I don't know. But tell me again, why are we looking for Veronica Jackson? I thought you wanted to get rid of her. " Craig, Castellano's beta, asks.

"The bitch is pregnant" Vincenzo said making Craig look in his eyes. "I need to know if it's mine"

"You need to know if it's yours?" and Craig laughs hearing him "She was with you in the last two months. And you took her every time when you needed a release. And now you are doubting her pregnancy? "

And Craig just catches the bridge of his nose and thinks for a few seconds says.

"Now I understand all her suddenly mood changes. I thought that she was just bored or that all this exile made her emotionally unstable, but it was her pregnancy. "

"And the point is?" Vincenzo asked.

"Let me tell you Vince. She is your rejected mate. She was a little bit crazy from the beginning but over all this came the fact that she was banned from her own pack after she allied with you against her own alpha. You slept with her daily, countless times in the last two months even if you rejected her, and that must have been confusing for her wolf. And the cherry from the top of the cake is that she got pregnant with her mate pup, mate that doesn't want her. "

"And again, the point is?" Vincenzo asked again, there are two adults in need, sex is like hiccups. When the need strikes you, you can't stop it, especially when you have the solution in front of you, so what's the problem?

"The problem is that right now she is very dangerous. Her wolf lost the ability to discern things. She is a danger to those around her, but especially to her. " Craig said but looking at Vincenzo asks.

"Do you want the baby?"

"Of course not!" Vincenzo said without thinking.

"In this case let's leave this place. Federico was already killed and there is no reason to stay here anymore. Let's find her and end this nonsense. " and Craig looked at him.

"What is the nearest wildlife reservation in the area?" she asks suddenly.

"Olympic National Park" and Vincenzo laughs.

"Of course, how could I not realize? From there she can reach back to Canada without problem, "

And the both transform in there wolves that are big and black and start to run to the national park. As soon as they arrived they start to joke.

"I feel like a Twilight character." Vincenzo said amused. I know exactly why Stephanie Meyer needed to set her Twilight novels, in Forks, Washington, right next to Olympic National Park. Just look at this place, is a Paradise for our species. "

"But what is important is that Olympic National Park is three hours west of and across Puget Sound from Seattle. It's accessible via ferry from Port Townsend, let's go to the ferry. Maybe we can trace her. " Craig said, looking around at this fantastic place.

They ran for three hours among the huge secular trees, feeling free for the first time in the last two months, without fearing that someone will trace them here.

And with every step they did, Veronica's presence can be felt.

"Where the hell is she?" Vincenzo asked being very agitated. "That stupid woman can be hurt walking around here alone. What if she will meet some fucking rogues? "

"You don't seem to care what happens to her," Craig said without looking at him, just looking at the place.

"It's not about caring, it's about being a gentleman. She is a woman alone in the middle of nowhere. " and looking in the direction of the shore, and sniffing the air Vincenzo said.

"And she is pregnant. And if that pup is my pup I need to be sure about it. " and he starts to run feeling something.

But when they arrived on the beach Vincenzo stops his steps in shock. The Shl Shl Beach access is a bit of an adventure in and of itself because it's located in a remote part of the coastline. The place is full coast tide pools and sea stacks, down to Point of Arches.

"She is here!" Vincenzo said looking around. "I feel her, but where the hell is she. Is so much water around and her smell is dilute. "

And he turns his head because he heard some noise but his heart immediately shakes when he sees a small animal running between his legs.

"Shit!" Vincenzo said "What was that?"

But Craig laughs.

"Relax, Vince. What the fuck is wrong with you, is just a Marten ferret. Let's go until we draw attention to ourselves, we don't have access certificates in this area. "

"I can't believe I've got scared but a fucking ferret," Vincenzo said insultingly.

"Why not?" Craig asked. "Just look around where you mate made us to come. This place looks like it is haunted. As beautiful as it is, it is terrifying. " he said looking at the huge rocks that come out of the water and are surrounded by dense fog.

"I feel like at any moment I will find myself with a corpse in front of me!" Vincenzo is already annoyed for being here, on this beach, he prefers the deep forest.

"Shit!" his wolf suddenly said. "Do you feel that smell?"

Craig and Vincenzo start to look around and right than a breeze brought to them the smell they were looking for.

"There!" Craig said pointing to some cliffs, seeing something shining on the surface of the water.

And Vincenzo's wolf suddenly panics.

"Find mate!" he yells at Vincenzo.

"What mate, dude?" he asks his wolf. "We rejected her!"

"You not us! Find my mate or I will kill myself. I hate doing this! Just find her!" his wolf said shocking him and Vincenzo and Craig run to that isolated place.

"I can't reach the middle of those cliffs, man!" Craig said trying to climb, but sliding continuously.

"Let me try," Vincenzo said under the threat of his own wolf. And hike on some very slippery and steep cliffs, but when he gets high enough to look beyond them his heart stops and his face turns completely white.

Veronica floats above the water, visibly wounded. The water around her is red.

Did she tried to climb these rocks and slipped or was hunted by the superstitious locals??

And without caring Vincenzo throws himself into the water in the middle of the rocks, shocking Craig.

Vincenzo tried to stay afloat in the foamy waves and caught Veronica just before she was hit by a rock again.

"She's not breathing Craig!" he yelled from the middle of the waves.

"Take her out, Vince!"

He puts a hand around her, trying to catch her in the middle but when his hand touches her abdomen, he feels a little bump that he had not noticed until now.

And from that little bump something moves slowly under his hand and his heart stops.

"Is our pup" his wolf said howling. "She's still alive."

He manages to bring her ashore, and tries to resurrect her, to make her breath but the pulse is very weak.

"Mark her and she will live," Craig said.

"Are you nuts?" Vincenzo asked. "I don't want her, I already told you that!"

But looking at her tummy and her blue face he swears in his mind,

"She will pay for this!"

And he takes her in his arms and bite her.

