

107 Chapter 107 I am scared !

Author's POV 1

"What are you doing ,man?" Max asks Luke, seeing him with a device in his hands.

"Sam told me that he put some cameras in Cara's office and this is pure gold! Look! " and Luke shows Max some images.

"I see she has a lot of suitors" Max said and Luke immediately turns the tablet over and looks at it, but Max bursts out laughing.

"Do you want to calm down?" and looking at him he says. "She is here and she is not leaving anywhere. You will not lose her like you lost Sarah and she loves you no matter what she says. "

"I am afraid, Max," Luke said. "Every morning I open my eyes and I look at her, thanking the goddess that she gave me another day with her. I am just afraid that this is just a dream and one day she will leave me "

"Did you talk to her about this?" Max asked Luke. "Talking with your mate will help your wolf to calm and heal his anxiety."

"No, I don't want to press her with this. Kodi is my problem. She will worry about me and I don't want that. I can deal with this." Luke said, denying the fact that he can't even sleep at night, fearing that she will be gone when he opens his eyes

"Luke, will you listen to me if I ask you to speak with her? Don't make me command you." Max tells him. "I've been here."

And Luke just watches Max as if he is telling some nonsense.

"Believe me, I know how it is to be afraid that you will lose your mate. But You must have hope, Luke. I was a jerk with Meredith and I lost her once without even knowing, then when she came back it was all a fiasco and until Castellano kidnapped her for the first time, I didn't know what panic was. I didn't know how it is to lose everything but I found out then, and later I found out again and I live with fear that the jerk will try again to take her away from me."

"It's different," Luke said. "She doesn't know about my past."

"She is your mate, it is not necessary to know all the details. Is enough to know that you are living in fear."

"Look at her!" Luke said smiling and looking at Vivi how she is telling something to a colleague. "She is so perfect!"

"She was meant to be with you. Maybe Sarah was just a mistake, and that's why she didn't love you and she died running away from you."

The truth is that apart from Sam and Max and Carter and Lisa Cruz nobody knows the truth about Luke's first mate. She died in a rogue attack, but she did while she was running from him, because she didn't like the commitments. The rogue attack came like a glove to end his sufferance, but that day after a month since he found out that Sarah was his mate, she ran in the forest trying to leave him for good. He went after her just to find her dead.

"Shit! I just want to be happy and right now I am happy only when she is with me." and Luke caresses the display with his fingers.

"She doesn't know that. She knows some stories about Sarah. Woo her, man! Marry her if this is what she needs but live your life as her lover not as her guardian."

And hearing those words Luke remains with his mouth wide open.

"Shit! You are right!" and he runs leaving the device on Max's desk.

And just when Max wants to close the tablet he sees Luke throwing Vivi over his shoulder and leaving with her while she is very angry and yells at him.

"What do I tell him and what does he do?" Max said, slapping his head.

"Max" Meredith mindlinks him "Do you know why your gamma kidnapped my assistant?" and she starts to laugh.

"No but we can talk about this while having lunch," Max said and went out of his office just to come face to face with Meredith.

"You need an assistant," Meredith said, pointing to the place where Veronica once stayed.

"Yes, I need one" Max said and smiling in a naughty way he tells Meredith "With sand-blond hair, blue eyes, tall..."

"I agree, Luke is perfect!" she said and started to laugh.

"Are you crazy, woman? He will stay with his eyes only after Vivienne." And Max disapproves.

"You are right, but you need an assistant ASAP!" Meredith said.

"Will you choose one for me?" Max said.

"I will choose an ugly one!" and Meredith puts her arms around his waist kissing his neck just where her mark is.

"I don't care. She needs to answer the phone and send emails. " and he kissed her directly. "I don't need her for something else"

"I will think about it," Meredith said and took his hand.

"What would you say if today we try something else at lunch?" Meredith asks and smiles at him.

Max raise an eyebrow and said in a very amused voice:

"If it involves a bed to sit in, we both agree!"

"No, you pervert! I want to cook! " Meredith said
"Do you trust me?"

"No!" and Max lifted her in his arms, holding her under her ass, so that now she is one head higher than Max.

Today she is wearing a black pinstripe two-piece suit from Dsquared2 and a camel silk top, some beautiful black high heels stilettos and a Hobo logo-plaque shoulder bag from Saint Laurent.

"You should," she said laughing. "Who knows what beautiful surprises you can find coming out of the routine "and she wink at him and Max's heart skips a beat seeing her like this.

"Let's go!" Max said, helping her to stand on her feet.

"So do you trust me?" She asks, laughing.

"Of course I do, darling! "And he kissed her hand.

Max helps her to sit in his car and asks her as soon as he starts to drive:

"Where are we going?"

"To my condo!" Meredith said without looking at him.

"What?" Max asks, turning his head to her.

"I miss that place, and it is where I started to care about you and where we lived our first days as mates together. Call me emotive, but I want to be there with you "

"You are not emotional" Max whispers. "I love you Meredith Cruz!" he said and remembering everything he told Luke, he told her, while he was looking at the road.

"I love you so much that I am scared."

"I am scared too," Meredith whispers. "But in this little condo, I feel safe, you know? "

"So you were stressing a lot and you didn't tell me?" Max asked, parking the car in front of her condo's building.

"Not for me," Meredith said looking at him and taking his hand in her hand. "Now I am strong enough to fight and win no matter who is my opponent, but I am afraid for you, for my family, for my friends, but most of all for you. What we have now is a dream. I never hoped to be here, to love you and to be loved by you. "

"So what are we doing here?" Max asked, holding her hand while they entered her condo.

"First I will prepare lunch for my husband," Meredith said smiling at Max.

"And after?" he asked with a very naughty look.

"And then we can try again to make that baby. I think that maybe we are too stressed. "

"I like how it sounds!" Max said, taking off his jacket and tossing it on the couch, then starting to bend his cuffs to his elbows.

"What are you doing?" Meredith asks him.

"I am helping you with our lunch, I want to jump on the second part faster!" and Max licks his lips.

"You scoundrel!" Meredith laughs with all her heart. "You believed me?"

"What?" Max asks almost falling from his own feet.

"I changed my mind" and his face falls to the ground.

"First let's make the baby and then we eat!"

And he doesn't lose another second and takes her in his arms and rushes directly into their bedroom.

"You are right!" he whispered in her ear just before to start his favorite part "I missed this place too"
