

108 Chapter 108 The final blow

Author's POV 1

"What do you mean that Luke didn't come home?" Max asked in the evening when the dinner should have started already.

"He didn't!" Sam said a little bit worried.

"Vivienne came a few hours ago and took some clothes and left but Luke is nowhere to be found. I tried to mindlink him but he is not responding at all "

"Shit!" Max said and looking at Meredith asks.

"Can you call Vivienne, or mindlink her, or anything else you can do because Luke is missing." Meredith tries to contact her but Vivienne ends the call.

"She is now answering!" and looking at Max she thinks of something and says.

"Come with me, she will respond to Francois's calls." and she starts to run to Leia's room where Franco sleeps near her in bed, holding her hand in his hand.

"Franco," Meredith said, trying not to scare him.

"What happened" he asks but when he sees Sam, Max, Cara and Meredith around him his heart stops.

"Where is she?" Francois said, jumping out of bed and starting to tremble with panic.

"We don't know. She came home and took some things, but now Luke is missing and she doesn't want to answer our calls. Can you call her, please? At least we need to find out what happened. "

Franco takes his phone and calls her, again and again and in the end she answers.

"Vivi ..." he said, almost crying. "Are you alright?"

And then is silence.

"What do you mean that you are in the airport, going back to Paris. Are you nuts? " and he looks at Meredith in shock.

"Vivienne! "Francois yells at her " You will kill the poor Luke acting like this. Are you heartless? You didn't learn anything from me and Lela's story? You are already marked, you already mated with him, you will kill him! " but he just looks at his phone and with a low voice, almost in a whisper he said:

"She ended my call, she is leaving Luke and she is going back to Paris"

"WHAT?" Sam asks in panic.

"Because he is a control freak and a lair. That's what she said "and Francois looks at the ground and feels how everything is lost for him. "I can't leave her alone" he said, almost crying. "But I can't let Leia either. I am responsible for her" and he looked at her and tears appeared in his blue eyes.

"Franco, go after her. "Meredith said" You know how she is, probably something triggered her memories and she felt that she was forced to do something. Find her, we will take care of Leia and try to find Luke "

"I am so sorry" he said and leaning over Leia he did something that he wished all this time. He kissed her lips lightly and felt some soft tingles. With every day he stayed at her head, their bond becomes more and more strong and he is sure that he loves her even if she doesn't know.

"Take care of her please" and he left the room, running to the airport.

"Max" and this time Meredith looks in his eyes. "What are you not telling me about Luke?"

"It's not my story to tell it," Max said and then watched Sam as he lower his head.

"She needs to know, man. She is his luna. " Sam said but Max just looked at him trying to understand what the hell happened.

"You know that Luke's mate died," Sam started.

"Anyone knows that." Cara said.

"She died running away from him." Sam said, looking at her.

"What?" Both Meredith and Cara exclaimed. "I've heard something else"

"You've heard what we decided that is worthy to be known, both for Luke and Sarah. Her parents are good people and they deserve a nice memory about their daughter."

"Sarah was eighteen and Luke twenty-eight when he found her. That bitch rejected him immediately but Luke never accepted her rejection. He waited for her so much time, he never touched a woman and wanted to live everything with his mate," Sam said.

"The think is that Sarah had other thoughts. To make Luke to accept her rejection she started to whore around, Luke caught her several times with other men and that broke his heart but that stupid really believed that if he perseverate he will make her change her mind. " Max said this time.

"She really fooled all of us with her acting, making us believe that she will accept him but the fact was that she was preparing her final blow, directly to his heart."

"The day she died Luke found out about her plan of hurting him and they fought, he rejected her that day and their bond was terminated but more than that I banned her from our pack!" Max said looking in Meredith's eyes.

"Wasn't that too much?" she asked.

"Probably, but I will never accept someone so cunning in my pack. He is the best man I know, Mer!" Max said. "That man is a saint compared to me!"

"She ran in the forest but came face to face with some rogues. Luke went after her to be sure that she was not suffering but found her just before she died, just to see her laughing in his face and saying that she is happy for being free from him!"

"Holly fucking shit!" Cara said.

"She died in his arms, Mer. And he feels guilty even if in reality he is the victim. If he told Vivienne the story from his point of view she would think that he is a control freak but in reality he is just a man with a broken heart. He loved that bitch with all his heart and the worst part is that he still loves her in his own way "

"I must find him!" Meredith said trying to get out of Leia's room but she came face to face with Vivienne.

"Is it true what you told her?" she asks Max and this time she has tears in her eyes.

"Yes, Vivienne." Max said calmly.

"Shit!" and she puts her hands over her mouth falling to her knees.

"What did you do, Vivi?" Franco asked her coming into the room.

"He tried to force me to marry him. And of course I wanted to but after all that happened in my past I can't stand it when I am forced, I just remembered everything that happened. "

And she starts to tremble.

"Luke is not a part of that story, sweetie," Meredith tells her.

"What have I done? I must find him. He probably thought that I left him. "

"You did!" Francois yelled at her. "How could you!"

"The same way you hurt Lela," Sam said in fury. "You two are like executioners for the Navarro family!"

"Sam!" Max said "let them be."

"I must have found him!" Vivienne started to cry and almost hyperventilating. "Where could he go?" and everyone started to come near her to try to calm her but she bursted in tears and couldn't even breathe properly.

But right when everyone thought that they will never find where Luke had hide, they hear a soft voice saying:

"At the cemetery. At Sarah's grave... look for him there. Every time he feels lost he goes there."
"and every head in the room turned to Leia's bed.

"Find him. We will talk later!" she said, trying to focus with difficulty.

Francois just looked at her and came near her but she turned her head from him, and closed her eyes.

"You are awake" Francoise whispers.

Meredith and the rest exit Leia's bedroom one by one and when they are alone, Francois tries to hold Leia's hand but she pulls her hand out of his hand.

"Please... go..." Leia said.

"I'm sorry," Francois said.

"I know, that's why you were here all this time, but now I am fine" and still without looking at him she said "You don't need to have remorse anymore, you can live your life now as you wish. You rejected me, I accepted it. You are free Mr. Cassel. Please, go!"
