

115 Chapter 115 The only survivor

Author's POV 1

At the office things went smoothly because Meredith was just talented and modest and impressed with every project she had. Today someone sent by Mr. Smith from the contest came to make a deal with MaxLine, to provide him an exclusive collection.

"The truth is that you were like a big investment" Max said, coming near her when everything finished with their new client.

"Excuse me?" Meredith asks, putting her hand on her chest.

"Your scholarship in Paris, your friendship with Francois Cassel, you winning that fantastic contest as an employee of MaxLine... All this, darling was a fantastic investment"

"If you say so" she said exiting the elevator while Max follows her and goes straight to her office.

"Shit, I missed Cara, and Vivi is not here today because she needs to be pampered by Luke while I am staying here alone all day."

"Stay with me in my office," Max said.

"No. What will our employee think? That I am a jealous woman and that I follow you everywhere? "

Max closes the door behind him and pulls the blinds, while Meredith just lays on her sofa closing her eyes.

"I will ask Francois to work with us directly," Max said, coming near her and pulling her directly in his lap over his "tent".

"He is sick and with a broken heart. Let him alone!" and Meredith looks at Max and starts to arrange his hair with her fingers.

"No, darling. This will prove to Leta that he is serious about staying here. I still can't believe she hurt a human. "

"She almost killed her own mate, Max. Not a human!" and Meredith is just annoyed.

"This was too much but if she hurts Francois again there will be consequences."

"I agree" Max said and he lifts Meredith dress so she can stay with her almost bare ass on his lap, but just when he wants to unzip his trousers someone puts his hand on the doorknob trying to open it and he almost falls from the sofa trying to zip back his trousers while Meredith straightens her dress and goes to open the door.

"Shit!" James said with Landon and Oliva near him, while Carter and Lisa appeared too.

"Where you having sex?" he asks Max who is red like a boiled crab.

"I am in my office, James!" Meredith said "You know that I don't like to rush things. So no, he was just massaging my feet." she lied to him.

And all of them enter her office, looking at her.

"They were doing it! I tell you," James said, pointing to Max. "Look at his face, he looks like he has a carrot in his ass. Is that why she is not pregnant yet? You have a carrot and not some di .." but Lori slaps him over his head directly.

"That's better" Meredith said looking at him with some angry eyes while her parents just disapproved of everything James said.

"James this is not how you should act with your sister, and you sweetie, you can't have sex everywhere you want. Someone could have heard you!"

"Holy goddess!" Meredith said lifting her arms in the air, but Max stand up and taking her hand in his hand he said:

"She is my wife and my luna and I will take here whenever I want and wherever I feel the need, so fuck off James. I don't live after your rules. "

And all of them take their cars and drive directly to the best restaurant in town,

"This is like a family dinner," Lisa said excitedly.

"Is more than this" she can hear Grandpa Cruz who came with auntie Jen and took a place at their table.

"So what happened?" London asked.

"I felt something in the forest yesterday," Meredith said without any preparation. "It was not a werewolf, but Artemis was very alarmed, and also my mood was very affected. It gave me a very negative sensation "

"Are you sure that was not a rogue or another werewolf?" London asks.

"I am sure, dad" Meredith tells him "I was not afraid of rogues, not even as human, now even less so."

"It was a hunter!" Grandpa Cruz said. "She felt that presence where I found her, Landon" grandpa said "I asked Luke to send his warriors to investigate and taking Meredith's trace they felt traces of that presence too."

Grandpa Cruz looks at Landon and then at Carter and says.

"Will we tell her the whole story?"

"I believe it is time!" Landon said a little bit scared.

"What story?" Meredith .

"Your story, sweetheart," Landon said looking into her eyes.

"I know the story, I heard grandpa talking to Max." she starts to say.

"Ohh.,,that was just the top of the iceberg." and grandpa looks very serious right now.

"Speak!" Max said using his alpha command against his own grandpa, even if it is not having an effect over him.

"Everything I told was 99.99% true but I forgot to mention a few things." grandpa said taking auntie Jen hand in his hand to calm himself.

"The thing is that Meredith was not kidnapped by those hunters. They were looking for her, this is why her parents died. They knew from the beginning that she is special, but they thought that she would be at most a healer or a white wolf, not the primordial one. "

"Continue, grandpa" Meredith said and this time she is furious. "Will this man ever stop lying?"

"Her parents came to me and asked me to hide Meredith. But when the hunter took my trace, I knew that Meredith will never be protected here. So I made a plan. I took her in Landon's pack. His father was my best friend. And I knew Landon and Olivia, and also little James. That day I waited until James found her, and I watched him taking her in his arms and swearing that he would love her forever. I knew this was her place for her to have a chance "

"So everything was a lie?" Meredith asks. "You knew about this?" she asks her father.

"Grandpa told me when you were ten. Then was the moment when we decided that it would be perfect if you will marry Max. I knew that he would take care of you, but he disappointed us. "

"I'm sorry for that," Max said. with a lot of sadness in his voice "I would do anything to change the past."

"Who are my parents?" Meredith asks. "The ones that gave birth to me, because I know who my real parents are!" she said looking at Olivia and Landon.

"The Alpha .." grandpa said but stopped and closed his eyes and said almost in whisper.

"The Alpha King and our Queen" and he just looks at Max ,who looks at him with his mouth open.

"There is no King or queen. The last was a long time ago. " and now he is sure that grandpa is hallucinating.

"There is," Carter said. "But he is not reigning anymore. "It was a tough decision but this modern era is not for kings and queens of werewolves, so he chose to live like a normal werewolf. Some kings had their own pack and none knew what they are, while some of them and here I speak about Meredith's parents just lived alone far from everyone's eye. I knew her father, and I knew who he was, and when he felt those hunters' presence he looked for me. "

"He lived on Mount Tantalus..." Meredith whispers.

"Yes. And you come there in wolf form and make them realize that you are still alive and they will come after you. " Landon said sadly.

"She is the princess of the werewolves?" Lori asked, putting her hand over her mouth.

"The queen of the werewolf. She is the only survivor of the royal family, "Grandpa said looking at her. "Do you understand now why I needed to protect her?"

And Meredith just looks at him.

"But I am not feeling special!" she said.

"Your are " Max said, having tears in his eyes, realizing once again how foolish he was back then. Every time he thinks about the past he finds a new thing that he makes him realize how he almost lost the biggest chance that a werewolf could receive in his life.

"You are the most beautiful being I ever saw. You were damn powerful as a human and as a werewolf you are scary my love, believe me. You are smart, maybe the smartest woman I ever met and talented and everything you do, you are doing perfectly so you are special, you are perfect. "

"But royals had powers," Meredith said.

"And you have too and you will discover them one day," Carter said this time.

"A princess," James whispered. "My sister is a princess"

"A queen!" Grandpa corrected him "You raise and love all your life a queen".

"The queen of our hearts" Max said and looked at her with so much love that can't even be described and he knew that difficult days will come, but he will stay like a shield in front of Meredith.

No one will ever take her away from him!
