

117 Chapter 117 You built this place dreaming of me?

Meredith's POV 1

"If I ask you will you come with me for a run?" I ask Max. I am not afraid of anything but after the last run I don't want to be alone while Artemis is in wolf form. I feel exposed. My wolf is pure white and is very unusual even for humans to see me.

"I will come with you even at the end of the Earth. You don't need to ask me" Max tells me and he starts to take off his clothes. On his yacht we changed our clothes into something more comfortable and he came prepared with warm clothes, because here the weather is more cold. As a wolf we have no problem but as humans we need thick clothes.

He just stays naked in front of me, grinning and he stretches out his hand to me.

"I know that you like the view" he tells me "but you asked for a run and now Stark can't wait for it. So if you want to have me during the night you must allow him to stay with Artemis during the day time."

"What kind of deal is that?" I ask him and I start to take off my clothes and when I am also naked in front of him I look at his friend from the south area and I see him standing right like a pole.

"What is that?" I ask, laughing at him, pointing between his legs and starting to run to the door until he will not start something else than we discussed.

"You are mocking me, my luna?" He asks me, catching me just before I come out of this magnificent nest. He takes me in his arms, forcing me to put my legs around his waist so that his friend slips directly inside me.

"Now do you know what it's for?" he asks me while he moves my hips with his arms and I start to contract my inner muscles.

"I think I know now" I tell him while he exits with me from our house and putting me on the railing of the wooden terrace starts to move faster inside me.

I stick my hands in the railing trying not to fall while he holds my waist.

"Max" I tell him but looking at him I know that the one that took control is Stark, His eyes are glowing and have sparkles in them. He is beyond happy, he is in heaven right now and I know that because Artemis is in the same place, so I let her take control.

"You are so beautiful," Stark said. Artemis simply bends her face so that my cheek is supported by Max's cheek. Is my body but is her will, and I let her have this moment. We just stay like this, moving easily, synchronously until we both reach our peaks and when he finishes deep inside me we just look into each other's eyes.

"We need to use that thing again" I tell him with a laugh pointing between his legs.

"Is that so?" he asks, laughing loud.

"Yes" I tell him, leaving his hand and starting to descend the stairs.

"I like your friend. It makes me happy" and before letting him catch me I transform into Artemis and I start to run directly to the ocean. I see Stark coming after me.

If you ever see two wolves running on the deserted shore of the ocean, you will probably think you have hallucinations, but this is the beauty of this place. We can do everything we want here, to stay naked on the beach, to make love without being scared that anyone will see us, to stay in wolf form. This is a private area, and Max couldn't find a better place to make a nest. A love nest, because that's what I'll call this place: our love nest.

All the evening I let Artemis be with Stark, to mate with him and feel free but in the night after all the stars took their places in the sky it was my turn to have my mate.

"Hubby" I tell Max with a sweet voice, making him tremble. "I want to eat some steak!" I told him, grinning.

"I will prepare one for you" he says and he immediately puts me down from his lap to enter the house but I catch his arms and stop him.

In the last hour we just stood on the stairs from the front of our house, wrapped in a thick blanket, looking at the way in which the sun set and the moon rose in the sky and now shines in the ocean water.

"I changed my mind!" I tell him and he just stops and looks at me.

"I want a warm bath." and he just smiles and bending down gives me a peck on my lips.

"I will prepare the shower for you" he says but I stop him again.

"I want a warm bath in that hot tube... with you" and I swear to you that all his dirty thoughts that he has in his head can be read now on his face.

His face is like an open book.

"Your stamina is very high today, my sweet luna" he tells me, letting the water flow in the hot tube and coming back to me.

"It must be the fresh air" I tell him, blinking my eyelashes.

"Come here!" he says, pulling me in his lap and wrapping me in that thick, fluffy blanket.

He puts his hand under my sweater and I feel his hand opening my bra.

"I am saving time here" he said laughing while he put his hand on my hips and started to roll my leggings down and I helped him by lifting me to my feet.

He starts to take off my clothes under our blanket and when the hot tube is full he rises and covering me with the blanket not to feel the cold air of the night he goes and stops the water, starts the jacuzzi jets and coming back to me he takes me in his arms in bridal style and kissed me directly.

"I built this place" he says without looking at me, "after we divorced, or better said we thought that we divorced. And I built it thinking that one day I will come here with my mate. I know that I was a womanizer, but I always hoped to find my mate and have that kind of relationship mom and dad have."

I put my hands on his cheeks and pecked his lips.

"So you built this place dreaming of me?" I ask him, smiling. "At your very ugly wife?"

"Yeah, the most beautiful ugliest wife in the universe. "and started laughing heartily." I looked for a place like this and when I found it I knew exactly what I wanted. Being here with you is like a sweet dream, Mer. "

And I let the blanket fall over my body and I step into the hot tube, completely naked Max looks at me and those sparkles are back in his eyes and I know that he wants me again.

"Come here!" I tell him, catching with my hands by the edge of the hot tube, "come here and make me remember this night, make me think of this place as my favorite place on this Earth. "

He takes off all his clothes and stepping inside the hot tube he takes me in his arms.

Me and him in the middle of that hot water, is something that makes my heart beat so hard that I feel every cell of my body yelling for him, and I feel like in some kind of heat because I just can't focus on anything else besides being with him.

"I want you again" he whispers in my ear, kissing my neck and sucking from his mark.

"I want you too" I whisper, letting him take me again under the starry sky, on that cold night.

And I don't remember anything else other than the happiness we offered each other. Tender, taking care of each other, without rushing. This place is simply timeless. You know it's day or night but nothing else counts here.

And when almost when the sun was rising we decided to go inside, Max took me in his arms wrapped in that thick blanket, he put me in the middle of our bed, put his head on my shoulder, kissed my neck, because this is the way he falls asleep every night, and whispered.

"I love you Meredith!"

I looked at the moon shining above our heads and pouring its rays of light over us.

"I love you more, Max!" I told him and closed my eyes but right then I felt something inside me, like a deep sting in the middle of my womb.

"Are you alright?" Max asks, sitting on his elbow and looking at me in panic.

"I..I." I can't even breathe from the pain but little by little the pain disappeared ". I'm probably numb. It was just a cramp, I am ok now. "I told him, fixing his head back on my shoulder.

"What was that, Artemis?" I asked her because I never felt something like this.

"I don't know, Mer. But we are fine now. It was just a short pain!" she said.

I kiss Max's forehead while he puts his arms around me, and closing my eyes I say my daily
