

120 Chapter 120 Wait your turn!

Author's POV 1

"Olivia" Landon asks. "What is going on inside? Why don't they let us in?"

But Olivia just smiles and putting her hands over her face she said:

"This is too much" and she starts to cry, scaring everyone. "I need air, Landon. Will you come with me outside?" and he takes her in his arms immediately but Olivia stops him for a second and looking at the rest of the gang she just say:

"She is fine, actually she is more than fine. Just give her some time to recover" and Landon took her outside immediately. When she told her mate that their daughter was just giving birth to a baby girl, both of them stood in the middle of the backyard garden crying in each other's arms.

"Look at them," James said, pointing out the window at his parents.

"Something happened. I never saw my father crying. " i" and completely panicked he goes straight to Meredith's bedroom.

"What are you doing?" Lori asks while Carter and Lisa follow him.

They are sure too that tragic something had happened because the doctors were mutes, Olivia cried and Max gave no sign of life.

"Break the door, brat!" grandpa Cruz said. "I need to know that my granddaughter is fine!"

And James doesn't need a second urge to immediately open the door and rush into the bedroom but he has the shock of his life.

In the middle of the bed Meredith sleeps in Max's arms, and he holds her sleeping soundly too. But what is shocking him the most is the little pup which is wrapped in some thick fluffy towels at his sister's chest.

Lori enters too, followed by Lisa and Carter, and Grandpa Cruz who makes his way by hitting them all with his cane, while Jan helps him to stand. Seeing Theodora they all stopped and couldn't even breathe.

"Let me see!" Vivi yells but Carter signals her to shut up and take the rest one by one out of the room, leaving Max and Meredith alone to rest .

"Was that a baby?' Lori asks

"It can't be!" Sam said. "This must be a prank. Bring the doctors and see which of them come here hiding a baby in his bag! "

And all of Cruz and Carters look at him.

"Cara, sweetheart," Lisa said smiling. "Would you like to call for a psychologist for your mate? His brain is not functioning well”.

“Yes luna, It seems that it doesn’t.” and she just looks at him, and holds her belly. “How the fuck to put a baby in a bag, Sam? really? ” and she moves her head in disapproval.

“The baby looks like Max,” Luke said. “It must be his and not someone else pup”

“But” James said looking at the door “But she wasn’t pregnant”

But right then the door opens and Max stays there looking at them.

“You couldn’t wait... holy goddess, you will kill me one day!” he says and signals to them to come in.

Meredith opens her eyes too and smiles at them assuring them that she is fine.

“What is that?” James asks.

“It’s a baby, James!” Lori said annoyed. “You will have one too and you didn’t even know how a baby looks?”

“A baby wolfy!” Vivi said jumping up happily into Luke’s arms who starts laughing while Meredith signals her to come.

“I thought she had fur” Vivi said laughing hard but seeing her friends' faces she said "I was joking. I am not so stupid!"

"This is my first wolfy baby that I ever saw" she said and looking at Luke she sees her future in front of her eyes.

"Meet our daughter, Theodora," Max said. "We didn't expect her, but she surprised us in the most wonderful way."

"You had some big plans for today but this little alpha girl changed your schedule," Sam said, coming near Max and looking at Theo.

"She looks like you, Max." he said.

"Let me see her!" Grandpa said annoyed because everyone moves faster than him and does not let him see his great-granddaughter.

"She looks like me!" he said as soon as he saw her. "And she is so beautiful!" and everyone starts to laugh. "I hope she will be smart like me too"

"I hope she won't become an old perv like you" Meredith said squeezing her eyes at him but being amused.

"What is wrong on being an old perv?" Grandpa asked. "Being a perv gave me a lot of satisfactions: you being Max's wife, I caught a gorgeous girl as my mate" and he winks at auntie

Jen how is red like a boiled crab. "And now I received a great granddaughter. So there are a lot of benefits in being an old perv! "

"Dad, you're impossible!" Carter said laughing.

"Do you want to hold her, mom?" Meredith asks Lisa.

"Can I?" she asks with trembling arms because of this enormous emotion she feels.

"Of course you can!" Meredith said and Max takes Theo and places her in his mother's arms.

"This was unexpected." Meredith said. "The thing that's nice about unplanned pregnancy is that in the end, you have a baby, a joy of life but right now I need a lot of things and I won't be able to search for them, can you help me?" Meredith asks, looking at Lori and Cara, also at Vivi.

"At least with one or two baby clothes until I will be able to do some shopping" and the girls don't even let her say anything else that they are back in two minutes with pampers, napkins, baby shampoos, oils, baby clothes.

"This is two much!" Meredith said.

"Take it Max paid for them "Sam said laughing in his face while Max just smiled.

"We will buy all we need for her in a day or two, so thank you" he says and he is looking at his daughter, how she watches Lisa who is singing something to her.

"I am already in love with her!" Max said, smiling happily.

"Shit! I am the first daddy from this gang!" and James slaps him on the shoulder.

" Good luck with that, from tonight you can say goodbye to your sleep and cuddling with my sister. I still have a few weeks with my mate. "

And Max is whitening his face thinking about this possibility.

"Shut up, James!" Meredith says and looking at Max continues: "We have a baby. We are so shocked now for everything that happened but I wouldn't change anything. Just look at her. I've just met her. I've just heard about her existence a few hours ago and I feel like she has been with me forever. "

And pointing her finger at James she said:

"So stop scaring the daddy of the day. Our daughter can cry as much as she wants because we will love her no matter if her daddy will have or not have access to her mommy in the next eighteen years. So we are good here!" and she winks at Max who now is even more pale and starts in his mind to raise prayers to the haven:

"Please goddess, don't let my daughter be a pleasure killer! I will do anything!"

But just looking at Theo his heart calms down and he turns his head to Meredith.

"They are just envious, aren't they?! Wait your turn!"
