

124 Chapter 124 It seems that I am making good plans

Author's POV 1

"Did you put everything in its place?" Max asks, looking at Sam.

"Yes" and putting his hand in his hair and flipping his hair over his head he said "This will give as a full view about what is happening here. There is not possible that Veronica to escape twice by her own. I know her, she was weak as a werewolf, now as a human is even more weak."

"Bring Castellano, here" Meredith suddenly tells, shocking Max.

"No. What are you doing?" and he takes Theo in his arms feeling the need to protect her just hearing his name.

"Trust me, Max." and she turns her head to Sam. "Just bring him here. And that beta of his too"

"This is not a good idea" and Sam already alerts all the warriors to stay prepared if something will happen.

"Cara, Vivi" he also starts looking at the girls "Go inside. I don't like this at all!"

"Can you take Theo with you?" Max asks Cara and she smiles, but Lisa takes her.

"I will take care of her, come on girls. You are pregnant and you don't need this stress."

Everyone is in alert but Meredith is calm.

"Artemis!" she said "we need answers, but stay alert for me, please. If you feel something take control without asking."

"You don't need to tell me that, I will defend you no matter what, Mer!"

They stood outside, in an open area so that every warrior to be able to see what is happening, and when the Castellano and Craig came in front of them, Max asks himself why he was so afraid of him.

The man is far from the strong alpha he once was. Being a rogue for so much time, and away from his mate made him weak and sick.

"Alpha Castellano" Meredith said calmly making Vincenzo look in her eyes.

"You are here for some time and you just stood in our dungeons without causing us any problems. Why is that? This doesn't suit you."

"I've already told you. I have no interest in doing it. I just want my mate and my pup."

"And you?" she asks looking at Craig.

"I'm just following my alpha. I will do just what is in his interest." Craig said bowing his head in respect.

"So you're not Vincenzo?" Max intervened.

"No, Alpha Cruz. I am Damon, his wolf. Vincenzo and his sick brain will never have the chance to see the light, his era has ended."

"I can't believe it!" Carter said. "This is something unheard of."

"Everything has a start" Castellano said.

"Release him!" Meredith commands, seeing that Damon is no ganger for her pack. She just feel it.

"NO!" Max yelled scared that he will do something and that this is just a diversion, but Meredith caught his arms.

"Do you want to make you still?" she asks him laughing.

"You wouldn't dare!" Max tell her laughing.

"I will if you don't calm down." and tuning her face to Castellano she said.

"Someone helped Veronica to escape from the hospital twice and she came here making a great show."

"This is impossible!" Castellano said.

"And that's why you are here." and Meredith takes Max's hand in his hand to calm him because she already hears his heartbeats,

"You will stay around, we will give you a room with our warriors. And when she will come here again, because I know that this will happen soon, you will try to calm her. I have no intention to hurt her, right now she is not a match to me, but she is more and more aggressive."

"I will mark her again if is needed" Castellano said looking at Sam. "I shouldn't have let Vincenzo reject her. She was already tormented and that made her wolf to lose his spirit for good. I feel responsible for her"

"And you are, and you are responsible for a lot of shit!" Max told him and Castellano just let his head down.

"Now she is back in her ward" Sam said coming back.

"Take Vincenzo to see her" And Sam walks with Castellano and his beta.

"If he tries something I will kill him!" Max whispered to Meredith.

"I will do it before you, don't worry. But this is like a fucking puzzle that I don't understand."

"Could we have a traitor among us?" Carter suddenly asks and Max looks into Meredith's eyes.

"Is this what it's about? You're already suspecting that someone from our pack is behind all this shit?"

"So I have a smart mate!" Meredith mocks him and he is just looking at her raising an eyebrow.

"This is the only explanation and with the cameras that Sam put in her ward we will see who the fuck works against us."

"You are brilliant, Sweetie!" Carter said.

"I am too!" Grandpa Cruz said joking with them.

"NO, grandpa!" Max said "You are just impossible."

"So we have the plan, what's next Carter asked.

"We will just stay waiting for another blow?"

"yes" and Meredith walks away from the garden coming inside the home. "Ask Sam or Luke put some cameras on this house too. If someone in our pack member is behind this we need to be alert."

And Carter and grandpa walked discussing about everything that happened.

Max followed her and she just came face to face with Leia.

"Mer, do you know where Luke and Vivi are?" she asks her avoiding to ask the proper question.

"Somewhere in town. Are you looking for something?" she asks her.

"Mmmm, no..." and she just leaves.

"You are mean!" Max laughs kissing her neck.

"She was mean with poor Françoise, what I am doing is not mean. But right now I think that we should do a plan about this too."

"About Lela and François?" Max asked her lifting her in his arms.

"Yes, it seems that I am making good plans." and Meredith puts her arms around his neck.

"Who lied to you about this?" he mocks her.

"I will punish you for this, you scoundrel alpha!" and Meredith mindlinks Lisa.

"Mom, how is my baby girl?"

"She is sleeping in my arms sweetie." Lisa said being so happy while she stays in her granddaughter in her arms.

"Call me when she wakes up" and looking at Max said.

"Come with me! I want to make you stay still"

"You've just given birth!" Max exclaimed in shock.

"And who said anything about what you are thinking now, you perv?!?!?" Meredith mocked him in return.

And she just dragged him into their bedroom.

"Let's sleep, Max. We will need this, now, having a baby in our house!"

And in this way all Max's sweet dreams flew away instantly, but holding her in his arms was enough...for now.
