

125 Chapter 125 I'm back in business!

Author's POV 1

"Grandpa," Meredith mindlink him "I need your help!" she said in a very pleading way.

"For my favorite granddaughter, I am always on duty!" Grandpa Cruz said and with Auntie Jen after him, he took his cane and said:

"Let's go sweet Jen. Our granddaughter needs us!" and Auntie Jen just smiles. Meredith is like a daughter to her and she really loves her moon.

"Let's go, my alpha," she said.

"Will you stop calling me like this?" Grandpa Cruz asks, looking into her green eyes.

"And what would you like to call you?" Auntie Jen asked.

"Hubby, my love, my darling, my soul" the scoundrel of grandpa said, making the poor Auntie Jen look at him in horror.

"No way!" and taking a very serious face she said:

"At my age I can't start to act like this. If we would have had the chance to be together since we were young, that would have been different, but now is too much for me. It is difficult even to accept the fact that I started to love at this age and I just can't."

But Grandpa Cruz stops her.

"You love me?" and he is so happy hearing that, that he throws the cane and takes Auntie Jen hands pulling her to him, and kissed her directly for the first time.

"What are you doing?" she asks, blushing her face.

"I feel how life appeared again in my body" and the scoundrel winked at her.

"My alpha, you..." but he frowns looking at her.

"Call me, Bradley," Grandpa Cruz said.

"I can't, it's not proper..." but he frowns again and pulls her in a strong embrace kissing the poor woman until she can't breathe anymore.

"You are my mate, and I love you too. And we lost a lot of time because I was a coward and a fool, to think that I could ignore you" and looking in her eyes, Grandpa Cruz whispered:

"Call my name please, make this old man happy, my sweet Jen."

And she just took his hand in her hand and said:

"Bradley, let's go and talk with our granddaughter. She is asking for your help!" and right there he almost died in happiness, hearing his mate calling him by his name for the first time.

"Tell me that you love me, tell me again." he stopped her.

"I told you once, when I change my mind I'll let you know!" Auntie Jen tells him, mocking him.

"WHAT?" and he turns her to face him. "You are not allowed to change your mind about loving me!" and Auntie Jen started to giggle.

"You are mocking me? Even you, sweet Jen?" Grandpa said pouting.

"Bradley!" Auntie Jen said. "I love you!" and he just leap with happiness. "Now let's go!" and she starts to pull him after her.

Seeing him coming Meredith asks:

"Grandpa, what took you so long? Are you feeling well?" and she looks at him carefully.

"I've never been better," the old man said. "What can I do for you?"

"I have a proposal for you!" and Meredith came near him and said. "It's a matter of life and death"

"Wonderful!" Grandpa Cruz exclaims "Exactly how I like it!"

"You help us to impress Leia in the account of Francois, would you like to change the roles and start to impress Francois in the account of Leia? But it needs to be a secret, Leia doesn't need to know about that!"

"I will do it! This is a perfect job for me!"

"I knew that I could count on you." and she puts an address in his hand.

"This and where he is living, in my old apartment, and this is where he is working. Make him come back grandpa!" Meredith said and she just looked at the old man leaving the room, while he started to tell Jen how he will bribe Francoise to move back into the packhouse.

"One is gone!" she said to herself.

"You are risking poor Francois' life" Artemis laughs in her mind. "Our Grandpa is a public danger!"

"He is the sweetest!" and Meredith goes back to the apartment where she finds Max sleeping soundly with Theo on his chest.

"I thought that she had her room, Max!" she whispers trying to take the pup from his arms but he opens his eyes in a second.

"Please, let her stay a little longer." Max said, smiling at Meredith and then kissing Theo's little fingers.

"Why did you took her from her crib?" Meredith asks, smiling at him.

"I missed her!" Max tells her, rising from the bed and looking at Theo how she sleeps on his strong arm. "She sleeps all night and I thought that she would cry and ask for us, but she just ignored us." he said with a sad face.

"You should be happy about that," Meredith laughs.

"No, I am not. I want to sleep with her here, in our room " he said looking into Meredith's eyes.

"I agree, and I will sleep in her crib from now on!" and she just turns her back to him and goes to her closet and starts to take out some clothes.

"What are you doing? Are you going somewhere?" he asked her in panic.

"Of course, I am moving into Theo's room, so you can sleep here with your daughter."

"I object!" Max said, looking at Theo and then at Meredith.

"I don't care!" Meredith answers and went to Theo's bedroom.

Max immediately follows her and sees her sitting comfortably in the armchair next to the child's bed.

"You are heartless!" Max said and put Theo in her crib. "Daddy wanted to hold both, you and mommy, but mommy is just a bad woman!"

"You are mocking me in front of my daughter?" she asks him.

"I just explained to her what the facts are" and he looked again at Theo and take her again in his arms.

"Then let me explain you something" Meredith said "She needs to stay here when she is not crying. If she will cry we will take her with us during the night but if she sleeps happily in her crib, don't you want to do the same thing in your bed, with me in your arms?"

"But I will miss her!" Max said with puppy eyes.

"Oh my god! She already has you on her little finger." But Max just looks with puppy eyes at Theo and then at Meredith.

"I don't give in to Theo!" Meredith said. "That's my bed!"

"Heartless!" Max said again.

"No dear, I am just defending my territory in front of my daughter" and she kissed his lips.

"But I love both of you the same way!" Max said, kissing Meredith back.

"I know, but let me put it in another way." and she looks at him. "Today is already a week since I gave birth"

"I know!" Max said.

"And I am completely, completely healed."

"You are ?" and Max just smiles at her "I am happy to hear that! Did you hear that, Theo? Mommy is healed again!"

"Maximilian Cruz!" Meredith said, looking at him.

"Completely, from head to toe!"

And Max just looks at her and he caught the idea:

"You mean we could...?" and he looks at her with shining eyes. In the last week all he did was to kiss her and to sleep with her in his arms. Even if Artemis healed her from the first day, the doctors recommended no intimate relations at least for a week.

"That's what I meant to say!" Meredith stated.

"Baby Theo!" Max said, putting Theo in her crib.

"Daddy loves you a lot, but now I'm back in business and we will see you in the morning."

And he just took Meredith in his arms, starting to show her how much he missed her as soon as he closed the door behind them.

And right when he was naked, and he was ready to put himself inside Meredith, he heard a soft whimper.

"Shit!" Max said, looking into Meredith's eyes, almost crying.

"I think that our party stops here!" Meredith said and walked down their bed, and put a robe on her body ,going to Theo's room.

"Why is she crying? Why now?" He asks, upset.

"Because those babies have a secret sensor and whenever you want to be with me she will know it and will sabotage you. And you know why?" Meredith asks, looking into his eyes.

"Why?" Max said, starting to whimper with Theo.

"Because she wants me only for herself!"

Max shuddered hearing something like that.

"Baby Theo! " he said pointing his finger at her

"You are forbidden from our bedroom!"
