

132 Chapter 132 I feel like a crap!

Author's POV 1

All the way back to the packhouse Max stayed near Meredith, with his head on his lap, while the doctor was monitoring the state of health.

"He will be alright, it was a bullet full of wolfsbane and almost hit his heart, but now he is out of any danger, Luna, don't worry about him."

"Did you hear the doctor?" Max asked her. "Stop worrying about me. I'm fine!"

"You are not fine, Max! You almost died today and you scared me." and Meredith leans down and kisses him. "I almost lost you."

"And I almost lost you too, if you hadn't been the coolest luna I ever heard of" and Max smiles and purse his lips lightly so that Meredith can kiss him.

"Do you need something, hubby?" She asks him in a very funny way, blinking her eyelashes at him.

"Yes, I need a kiss. My mother told me when I was little that if I hurt myself and she would kiss me, I would get better, so I need a kiss!" Max said, trying to laugh but his chest started to hurt immediately.

"Then I must call mom, to wait for you at the packhouse if her kisses are enchanted." and Meredith is very serious.

"There is no need for that," Max said looking straight into her eyes. "Any kiss would work"

"Is that so?" and she starts to laugh "Samuel Jackson!" she suddenly says. "Would you like to give a little peck to your alpha, he has a boo-boo" and she is so serious that Sam looks at her in panic and then at Max, but Meredith doesn't stop:

"Do I have to give you a luna command to help your alpha?"

The poor Sam approaches Max and looks at him horrified, but as soon as he approaches Max's face, Max says excitedly:

"Don't you dare to touch my face!" and he lets his head a little on his back so he can look Meredith's face as he stays with his head in her lap.

"I will punish you for this!" he whispered.

"I can't wait for it!" Meredith tells him through their mindlink smiling at them, while the rest of their pack warriors just smile at them.

When they finally arrived at the pack house, everyone was waiting for them in front of the house, panicking.

Even Francoise was there, because Vivi called him and told him everything that happened and his poor human heart wasn't able to hold so much stress. She is like a sister to him, and their history together implies so much drama that he really wishes for her to be happy.

"Brat," Grandpa Cruz said "What was that? Don't you dare to make another joke like this!" and he is looking ugly at his grandson. "If you ever get hurt so badly, I will ask Meredith to marry alpha Greg!"

"That's a fat dwarf, a disgrace for our kind. He never trains, just stays and eats all day long. Meredith will never choose someone like him!" Max told grandpa.

"I will" she said "If you dare to scare me again like this, I will choose alpha Greg. You know that Grandpa's opinion is important for me!" and she winks at grandpa and then looking at the doctor she continues:

"Bring him to the hospital, I will come immediately. I must see my daughter!"

"There is no need to go to the hospital!" Max said but just a look from Meredith and he went mute:

"Do it for me, please," she said. "You don't know how all this looked from my eyes, I just need to know that you are healthy again. I will come with Theo immediately" and she kissed his lips, and looking at the doctor said "Take him and watch him!"

"Where is my daughter, mom?" she asks Lisa as soon as Max was taken by the medical staff.

"She is with Vivi and Lela," Lisa said. "They almost kidnapped her"

And she looks around at all the people gathered here.

"He is alright" and smiling at James and Landon, also looking in Carter's eyes, she said. "Our reinforcements arrived on time. Thank you all for everything you've done for us today."

"Anytime, Mer" James said, taking her in his arms.

"Go home, James. Lori must be worried about you." and she puts her head on his shoulder. "I am blessed to have you, do you know that?"

"No, sis. I am the one who was blessed to be called a brother by you. You made my life brighter after you came in." and leaving with Landon and his men he said. "Call me and tell me how Max is doing"

"I will!" Meredith said and went inside the house, with Lisa and Françoise, while the rest went to their houses.

"Are you alright, Mer?" Françoise asked him.

"I am now." and she never looked at him.

"Look at me and tell me the same thing." and she just stops, making Lisa and grandpa, who were following her to stop.

"Will you leave us alone for a second?" she asked them and they just looked at her. "Please, I need to talk to François."

"Tell me again that you are fine" Françoise said as soon as they were alone.

"I am" she repeated looking at her feet.

"No, Meredith!" François almost yelled at her.

"Look in my eyes and tell me the same thing. You did this back then, when you were rescued. You told me that you were fine and you weren't. I need to know that you will not collapse."

"I'm not fine, Françoise!" Meredith admitted "I feel like crap! I want to kill everyone and to burn alive that fucking hunters but I can't and I know that this is not finished yet."

"I am here!" Françoise said, smiling at her. "The same way I was in the past, I am here now. If you need someone to talk to, someone so weak as this human that stays in front of your eyes, I am here."

"You are the best ,Francoise!" Meredith tells him and takes his hand. "You are a good friend of mine. The best human I know at this moment."

"Because the rest you knew upgraded to werewolves." he said with a sad smile.

Comment ⁰

Leave the first comment for this chapter.

Vote

Send Gift

Swipe left to continue >

