

145 Chapter 145 I do!

Author's POV 1

What's more romantic than saying 'I do' on Cannon Beach at sunset and roasting marshmallows over a bonfire and howling to the moon? Yeah! You know what I mean isn't it?

Living so close, and hating and loving each other at the same time, acting like friends with benefits to the delight of the pack members, made this day even more special. Everyone was hoping that in the end they will be sincere one with each other and when in the evening both of them exit their room, holding hands Max looked at Meredith and whispered.

"Those two are so alike with us!" Look at them, Mer. The human and the werewolf who were messing with the will of the goddess, finally understood that true love conquers all"

"You are so whipped, Max! I can't even recognize you being so sticky!" and Meredith starts to laugh. "What do you say Theo?" she whispered, stealing a glance to the grooms. "Isn't daddy the most whipped man in the universe?"

"You like this sticky man, so shut up!" he said and put his arms around her waist.

She is so beautiful tonight, wearing a light blue chiffon dress, and looking like a Greek goddess in it, with her one-shoulder long dress, and her hair braided. Theo wears a dress in the same material and color, adorned with lace and on her head she had a very sweet little hat.

Max wears navy suit trousers, with a light blue shirt. He left one button undone, and the shirt cuffs are raised over the elbows.

“Let me hold her,” he whispered in Meredith’s ear, kissing her neck lightly. “You must be tired holding her all day.” and he just took the baby girl, sat on his chair, that Francois and Leia asked to be prepared for their friends at the wedding place and also took Meredith in his lap.

“Now everything is perfect,” he said, having his arms full.

The truth is that there was a lot of time since they were so relaxed and they just stood there, all of them ,embraced. Even Grandpa Cruz was holding Auntie Jen in his arms.

“Bradley, put me down.” the woman said with her face all blushed. “The kids are watching us!”

“So what! I am holding my girl!” Grandpa Cruz said and even kissed her lips making the poor woman almost die in a heart attack.

“Grandpa!” Sam yelled. “You are more and more perv every day!”

“Just because I have a woman near me that helps me have a vivid imagination” the old perv said and Auntie Jen just puts her hands over her face, while grandpa laughs loudly.

And when the time came, Francoise and Leia appeared with the priest and they were so happy that everyone knew that there is not any lie between them anymore.

Everything was simple and intimate yet beautiful. Since their wedding was on the beach they wanted something to create an aisle and as décor where they would be standing during the ceremony, and Vivi and Luke created the most beautiful floral circle with fairy lights intertwined and rose petals leading up to the circle. As if Haystack rock wasn't amazing enough, the floral aspect was a beautiful addition.

And when the time came they said their oaths and kissed like they never did.

The reception was held at the inn restaurant, and every moment together was blessed.

“Will you mark him?” James asks while he holds Lori in his arms and caresses her tummy.

“If he wants that, I will,” Leia said looking at Francois , who is telling something to Max.

“Of course I want that!” he said coming closer,

while Max does the same thing. "We were talking just about that!"

"He asked me for permission to become our pack member," Max said, looking at Meredith.

"What do you say, darling!" and he winks at Meredith "Will we let him in, or he will live in the forest with the real animals?"

"I think we can let him in!" Meredith said as if she was thinking a lot about this. "But he will need to work for us as every pack member. We will take him 50% from what he wins and he will be at our discretion!" and she is very serious but Francois is not even thinking about it.

"Perfect, tell me when we start!" he said, shocking Leia.

"Are you really accepting something like this?" she asked him.

"Of course I will. I love you, and this is the only thing that counts, the rest is cancan!"

"They were joking, stupid!" she said and kissed him directly and looking at her friends she asked.

"Are you managing here without us?"

"Will you make him grunting again?" James asked, laughing with all his heart.

"I WILL!" she said laughing even harder than he is "and then I will make him howl to the moon too!"

"Please take him away from here," Max said. "and don't come back until he is not a werewolf. Tonight we will run on this beach with him!"

And they did just as Max said, mating and marking each other. Surprisingly, Francois' wolf is all grey, very tall for a new wolf, as big as Sam's and Luke's wolves and he has blue eyes. He is gorgeous and his name is Avi, which means : the one who was born to rule or god's gift.

"Holy shit!" Sam said.

"If he is like this just from the first day, after some training he will be as big as Max. You could say that he is a newborn alpha!"

"And he is mine!" Leia said with pride.

"Let's go, Cherie!" Francois said , pulling her in his arms. " Let's run and be happy!"

And while Grandpa Cruz and Auntie Jen watched their great-granddaughter, the rest of the gang had fun, freeing their minds and souls from everything that happened in their life, without knowing that at home the evil is seeping into every corner of their pack.

So let's them have this happy day!
