

147 Chapter 147 Look at betrayal as a gift!

Max's Cruz POV 1

I just watch what the CCTV caught and I feel how my blood pressure reached some limits that would kill any human.

"Give me the videos they caught yesterday." I command Sam, who just clicks on some folders and there it is!

Pete Silverstone and Mark Dickens are in Veronica's ward arguing on something.

"Where's the sound?" I ask Sam. "I need to hear what they are talking about, but right then I see Sam whitening his face.

"There is no sound Max. I put the cameras in a big rush and those are not the most performant ones." she said, looking at me.

"Sam, are you stupid?" I asked him, but my wife just puts her hands around me and tells me sweetly.

"Please, let him be. He did the best with what he had at that moment. This is more than we could wish to find." and she just kissed my neck, making me calm.

"Now, let's see what they did in our absence" and she just caressed my back.

"Okay, stop right there, rewind a few minutes." she said " I want to see why Vincenzo was not with her" she said and threw him a hard look.

And there it is, the whole scene. Even Vincenzo comes and looks at the video.

He was there with Craig and suddenly someone came in and told him something, so he just left with Craig, leaving Veronica alone.

"She told me that you called and that I need to go to the packhouse to wait for your call" he tells me.

"I didn't call!" and I am not even looking at him, because the video is more interesting.

The doors suddenly open and Mark Dickens enters with the nurse talking about goddess knows what. He just looked at Veronica and suddenly he slapped her but surprisingly she is not aggressive as she was a few moments ago, she just starts to cry.

"Castellano was right," Sam said. "She is calm when she doesn't come here acting crazy." and he looks at me a little bit shocked.

"Will you shut up!" Meredith suddenly asks. "We will talk later, I just want to see the whole scene!"

and we all look at her with wide eyes.

"Let the woman watch the scene!" I say a little bit amused even though the situation is very annoying, but she is just the cutest thing when she is pursing her lips and squeezing her eyes to watch this video.

"Here!" She is fascinated by what she saw.

The door opens again and Pete Silverstone comes in and he just looks at Mark and that nurse and the start arguing.

"Okay," Meredith said, "zoom in on nine. I want to see Pete's face!" and I escape a growl unintentionally.

"Are you for real, Max?" she asks me without looking at me while she just stares at Pete.

"He will die for making her look like this at him," Stark said.

"He will, believe me" I tell him laughing.

The nurse takes a syringe and wants to put something in Veronica's IV but Pete stop's her and takes the syringe and throws it on the bin, but Mark punches him directly in his face.

"Look where the rogue was!" Stark said "I will give him a rogue until he will not be able to walk!"

Pete simply caught him by his neck, while the nurse grabbed by his arms hitting him but the man is strong. Shit he is acting during the trainings if he is able to control Mark with one hand and hold that nurse with the other one, he throws them out of the door and comes back to Veronica.

"I will kill him!" Sam said seeing him bends over her while she tries to hide from him.

"Where is he?" Castellano yells. "Bring him here and I will kill him!" and Luke barely holds him from not running out and searching for Pete.

"You will kill no one, Castellano!" Meredith commands and he just stays there looking at her with his mouth open.

"Take that sucker!" Stark said and I don't know what's wrong with him but today he is like a werewolf teen in heat." Give me the iPad, Max" Meredith tells me and she puts the device so that anyone can see what is happening.

Pete caress Veronica's face and goes to the sink and take a cold compress to help her to smooth the pain from her face , after that jerk slapped her.

"What the fuck is going on here?" I ask, looking at Meredith.

"I honestly don't know" Meredith said " but it looks for me that we don't have one traitor, we have at least three, and one of them is very kind-hearted but he lies with nonchalance."

"So what are we going to do?" Luke asks and he is very stressed right now, and how not to be when his top warriors are the one who put our asses on fire?

"Bring them here!" Meredith said. "And that shitty nurse too."

"What about Veronica?" Castellano asked all sweeting.

"She's safe for now. Go to the hospital to see your baby. We will discuss later because for now your mate stays here, no matter what!"

Sam walks with Luke and Castellano and his beta also leaves the room running to the hospital to see his alpha's baby and I just Meredith I ask her.

"What is happening , Mer?" and I take her to my chest, while mom and dad just watch us.

"We just walked into a hornet's nest here, Max. " Meredith said and puts her head on my shoulder, holding me. "And you know the worst thing? We fed them, we raised them...The saddest thing about betrayal is that it never comes from your enemies"

"It doesn't matter" I whisper to her while I signal to my parents to leave us alone .” I should look at betrayal as a gift”

“Would you?” she asks looking in my eyes and making my heart tremble.

“Yeah. It makes it that much easier to sweep the evil up and toss it out with the rest of the trash. We already knew that someone betray us. Now we have the whole image.”

“No” she tells me. “We don’t.”

And I lift her chin and kiss her.

“What do you mean, Mer?”

“We have only the traitor! We don’t know the full story.”
