

151 Chapter 151 No one can hurt you again

Author's POV 1

"Are you feeling better?" Sam asked, holding Cara in his arms and carrying her in bridal style back to their condo.

"Yeah. " she whispered thinking about baby Amadeo. "He was so tiny..."

"Cara, let it go. Don't think about our loss, please." Sam said, almost crying, because he understand her pain but all this time he tried to be strong for her.

"Is not about that, Sammy" she said and he smiled hearing her calling him this way. He likes it when she uses sweet names for him.

"I lost my baby , and I resigned myself to it long ago." and she just puts a hand over her belly caressing it a little but she also frowns.

"Meredith was right, my tummy is harder than usual"

"What?" and Sam just stops and looks at her and he turns back and starts to walk with quick steps back to the hospital.

"Where are we going, Sam?" Cara asks, looking at him.

"back to the hospital!" he said. "You should have told me that you are no fine!"

"But I am, it's just that my tummy is very hardened today."

"JUST? Really Cara?" and he would like to put her with her ass up and beat her at her naked ass.

"Is nothing!" Cara whispers but Sam already mindlink all the doctors and Max, and Meredith and when they arrive at the hospital the whole gang is already there, even the Navarro's and Cassel's.

"Sam!" Cara said. "I told you that is nothing!"

"That's something that only the doctor could say!" and he takes her in his lap and waits for the doctor to come but in just five minutes Sam yells. He was staying with her in his lap when suddenly he felt wet all the way down his legs.

"What the hell, Cara?" and he looks at her , and she is completely pale. "Did you pee on my lap?"

But the poor Cara is so scared and she can only repeat :

"It's too soon...it's too soon...Sam, it's too soon..."

"I can't believe it" Sam said, raising with her in his arms but Meredith stops him.

"Don't move Sam." and looking at Max she said

"Call the doctor and tell to him that her water just broke."

"What?" Sam said and held Cara carefully. "But it is too soon!"

"Shut up, Sam!" Luke yells at him "You are scaring her!" and the poor Sam is paler than Cara is and both of them sit embrace , crying their hearts out.

"I don't want to lose them, Sam. I can't survive to another lose" and he just holds her at his chest trying to calm her, because he will suffer losing another baby but losing Cara will kill him.

"Where is she?" the doctor said and seeing her he commands to Sam.

"Beta, let us take her!"

"NO, Sam" yelled "Where she goes, I go too!" and he just mindlink the doctor telling him that if he doesn't let him go with Cara he will break his neck.

"We need to go now." and he starts to run but Cara cries.

"I want Meredith with me too. Please" and Sam just nods for the doctor to lead them.

"It's too soon!" Cara cried again.

"Is not" the doctor tried to calm her down. "You have twins and with all the stress you had is normal. I will be here for you and my team too."

And he looks at Cara with sympathy but she has very bad memories with the hospitals and the doctors here and she is damned scared. They ignored her and abused her when she was just a helpless omega in this pack.

"I am here" Sam whispers in her ear, feeling her emotions. "No one can hurt you again. I am here and I am not leaving you alone." and he puts his arms around her.

The doctor put her in a hospital bed and Sam gets on her back helping her sit between his legs.

"Hold my hands, love!" he said kissing her temple, while Meredith runs and comes with some wet towels and wipes her forehead.

"Everything will be fine, Cara" she said. "I promise you that everything will be fine."

"You can't promise me that!" Cara cries as soon as a contraction hits her out of nowhere.

"What was that?" Sam asked in panic, making Meredith and the doctor smile.

"That would be one of the many contractions that will come." the doctor said.

"Stop them. She is suffering!" and he starts to cry seeing Cara in this state.

"We can't stop them, Beta. It's a part of this process called birth."

"WHAT?" and looking at him in horror he said.

"Make her a C-section!"

"No!" Cara screamed between two contractions.

"Don't you dare!" but she can't say anything else because the pain is so bad that she just holds Sam hand until she heard some bones cracking.

"I am so sorry" and she cries even harder knowing that she broke Sam's hand.

"Is just a hand," Sam whispered and looked at Meredith.

"Do something, help her please" he begged looking in her eyes.

"I am not a doctor, Sam." and Meredith just looked at the poor man.

"But we are royals and the primordial wolf too, and we have some undiscovered powers" Artemis said. "At least we could try something to help her. What could go wrong?"

"I will never let you suffer like this!" and he kissed Cara's face. "I promise! You will never suffer like this again!"

"SHUT UP, Sam!" and Cara yelled again "Holy fucking shit, that's really hurts!" and seeing her like this Meredith approached and puts a hand over her tummy and tells the babies using a mindlink.

"Will you calm down a little? Your mommy is suffering here." and suddenly Cara starts to breathe a little bit more normally.

"What did you do?" she asks through her tears.

"I've just told your boy to calm down, this was going to fast. You need time to breathe, " And she signals to the doctor.

"I can see the baby's head!" the doctors said.

"This is really too fast!" and everyone starts to run and bring the warm water, the towels, the scissors and everything that was needed for a birth.

Cara's babies came into the world like a hurricane. It took them twenty minutes to salute the world with their cries. When everything was finished she just stayed between Sam's legs , while he was holding her, and she was holding her babies at her breast feeding them.

" They are so beautiful," Meredith whispered , almost having tears in her eyes. "Can I call Max in?" she asked the newly parents.

"Of course you can" Cara said but Sam, if he could he would have pushed Meredith outside just to be alone with Cara and his pups.

"Hey there" Max said smiling and coming in with Theo in his arms.

"oh...Sam! You are a dad!" he said laughing.

"I am Max...I am a dad" and he bursted in tears for the first time since he lost his first baby.

"Shit, I was so scared that I would lose those babies too, I didn't want to scare Cara, so I just held it for myself. I can't believe that I am a dad."

"You are , man. And you are going to be a cool dad. Not as cool as I am , but nearly" and he started to laugh.

"So?" Meredith asked after some time. "What will you call them?"

"I already told you, Maxwell and Mary Edith" Sam said looking at his babies.

"There is no need to do that. "Max and Meredith said at the same time and they looked into each other's eyes and smiled.

"You can choose any name you like. I will be their godfather no matter what."

"Samuel Elias " Cara said looking at the boy. "I really like this name" and turning her head just to see Sam with the corner of her eye she asks "Don't you think that is beautiful?"

"He is" Sam whispered but his eyes were on his baby girl. "He is just as beautiful as you are".

"What about your daughter?" Max asked him.

And Sam whispered, caressing the forehead of his baby girl " Cara Isabelle. She will be my Bella. Now I have two girls, my Cara (means darling) and Bella (means beautiful). I am rich!"
