

155 Chapter 155 Capo di tutti capi

Author's POV 1

“What hell is going on here?” Max growled, coming into the dining room where a big commotion happened and Meredith followed him immediately.

“What is he doing here?!?!?” Françoise growled seeing Vincenzo Castellano and his beta just staying calm, because James sent after him.

“I need to speak with him, because I am leaving this morning. What’s your problem Françoise? And James is damned furious right now. As a human François was tolerated but as a werewolf he really needs to know where his place is .

But François just jumps to hit Castellano.

“Stop right now!” Max commands him, using his alpha command and making Françoise to remain there , shivering in fury because he can’t oppose Max.

“All this time he stayed here, James. All this time after he hurt Leia and Cara, he was here in dungeons, after that on the warriors' floor, running around as if nothing happened. And now he came here? For what?’ he growls, shocking everyone.

"I commanded you to shut the fuck up, Francois?" Max said, looking straight at him.

"Why are you still talking?"

"Because I want to!" Françoise growled at Max shocking everyone, because at the beginning it seemed that he submitted to Max.

"What the hell is going on here?" Carter and Grandpa Cruz said at the same time looking at Françoise, who is fuming like a steam engine.

"I am sorry Max," Françoise said. "You are my alpha but this!" and he pointed to Castellano. "He has no right to be here. To torment my mate with his presence!" and he starts to walk to Castellano to drag him out of the room and why not...go give him some punches in account of Leia.

"How the fuck is he opposing you?" Sam asks and jumps in front of Françoise to stop him from hurting Castellano. Even himself can't believe that this happened, that he is defending Castellano but as soon as he tries to stop Françoise, he is pushed so hard by him that he flies two meters from there and hits the ground.

"FRANCOIS!" Leia yelled and ran to him, holding him in her arms to stop this madness.

"What the fuck is going on here?" Carter asks again. "This shouldn't be possible! Max is his alpha!" and all the eyes are on Francois.

"Please, Franco" Leia whispered, holding him in her arms. "Please leave him alone. You are disrespecting Max and this will have consequences. Please" and she starts to cry, scaring him.

Max just looks at him, and he is still throwing arrows full of hater to Castellano but at least he doesn't move anymore.

"You fucking jerk!" Sam yelled and coming near he punched Francois in his face. But just when the second punch was ready to come, Francois just caught his arm and twisted it behind his back, making Sam scream.

And that's it. Meredith goes near and touching Francois arms he just whispers "Calm down, Francois"

"Please, Francois" Lela cried her heart out. "Sam is right. This is disrespecting" but under Meredith's powers he can't do anything and he just lets Sam go, but still looking ugly to Castellano.

"Again..." And Carter came near Francois. "How is something like this possible?"

"I have a few ideas." Max said looking at him without hater, somehow he understands Francoise, but he is a member of his pack. He can't just challenge his command in front of everyone even if he is what Max thinks.

"James," he said, looking at his brother-in-law and best friend, and James started to walk to Castellano.

"You will come with me and starting from today you will be a member of my pack." James said but Castellano growled at him.

"I will not leave my mate here, and my son also just because this new werewolf can't control his anger. Where my mate is, I will stay too".

"And me too!" Craig said, also growling at James.

"Will you shut the fuck up?" Meredith yelled, shocking everyone.

"You didn't tell him anything last night?" she asks, looking at James.

"No, after dinner and our discussion I focus just on Lori" James said and looked at Lori who is watching him a little bit panicked.

"Goddess!!!" she said.

"Look Vincenzo," she said. "You will go with my brother, You, Craig, Veronica and baby Amadeo. All of you will live in my former pack. Here is no place for you anymore and I am sure that you know why. Your simple presence hurts a lot for some of my friends and I want a happy pack. Is better for you too to go with James."

"So Veronica and Amadeo will come with me?" he asks, almost unbelieving.

"They will, but if you try something, anything in my brother's pack I will kill you with my own hands, Castellano. This is your only chance to live normal again. Your former pack doesn't exist anymore. James went to Seattle after you ran and helped them find where to stay. Some of them become lone wolves and they are leaving with the humans, but some of them followed James."

And she just watched in the room at Cara and Lela when she said.

"Go and take Veronica and leave this place. And remember, I am watching you!"

"Yes, I will..." he said, visibly emotional. He takes a few steps but he turns suddenly and starts to run to Meredith.

"Watch out!" everyone yelled in panic, when they see Meredith caught by Castellano", Max growls and also catches Castellano but just when he wants to pull him after Meredith she touches his arm and mindlink him.

"I am fine, this stupid is just crying" and she lifts her gaze and watches Max.

“He is touching you.” Max growls.

“Just let him have this and after this he will be history in our pack.”

Everyone just stays there and watches Vincenzo Castellano the “capo di tutti capi” when it comes about rogues, mobs, crimes and all the bad things from werewolves world, how he just stays there and cries in repentance.

“I am so sorry for everything. I was a stupid. I needed to lose everything, even my human part to understand that I should have stopped Vincenzo a long time ago. I am so sorry” he whispered and letting Meredith go he just watched Cara and Leia.

“So, so sorry” but the poor women just stay there unbelieving that this is real.

“Just take Veronica from here. Is best for everyone. In my brother pack you will be simple members. There will be no status for either of you but the other option is to become rogues and risk your life daily.”

“I will go with your brother, of course I will go with him” and he walks near James and bows his head, but just before leaving he said.

“Our world lost a lot, losing its royals. You would have been a great queen, Meredith Cruz. You are just a perfect being!” and he exists leavening everyone with their mouths open.

“What the fuck was that?” Luke asked, because all this time he was just holding Vivi in his arms, who’s heart was so scared.

“The end of a horrible chapter” Meredith said and signaled everyone to sit and eat but Max just looks at Francois and says growling:

“Francois Cassel!”

“Shit!” Luke and Leia said at the same time.

“Alpha, he doesn’t know the werewolves laws, please don’t punish him. I will speak with him” Leia said almost bursting in tears.

“man” both Sam and Luke said. “She is right, give him another chance” and Sam holds his nose because Francois broke it when he punched him in the face”

“Give him a chance?” Max asked, looking at Meredith who nodded to him.

“You and me Francois, after breakfast in the training room. I will give you the chance to explain by yourself what happened here!”
