

164 Chapter 164 She left me...

Maximillian Cruz's POV 1

"I suggest you stay away from me?" Stark asked and he is so furious with me right now that you could say that he is possessed by a demon.

"Why would she expose like that? Huh? Tell me if you are so smart, Stark? Why would she risk everything?" and I punched the glass wall from the shower so hard that immediately it went to pieces and my hand was full of blood.

"Shit!"

"You fucking bastard!" Stark growled. "If she is upset because of you, I will break your legs!"

"Which are also your legs?" I said and exited the shower, I took a towel wrapped around my wound.

"I am damned scared, Stark. I am so scared that I will lose her tomorrow and this is something that is killing me. Only the thought that Manganiello could do something against her makes me go crazy."

"I am scared too" and this time Stark is not growling at me anymore, "but this is not a reason to speak with her like this. You just rejected her, you stupid jerk. Go and talk with her”

“She will cut my balls!” I say laughing.

“You won’t be needing them any more if you don’t go and speak with her right now, because you will be dead, Maximillian Cruz!” and I think that I just saw a new level of fury at Stark. I bet that he is foaming at the mouth right now.

“Shut up, Stark.” and I take a deep breath. “Of course I will talk with her. I feel like crap for talking with her like that. I was just furious because she did that giving me no chance to say no. It was only her decision. She didn’t give me the chance to protect her.”

“Go now...please” Stark howled. “I need to know that she is fine and that she is not hating us because of your words.”

I open the door of the bathroom and the first thing I notice is that she is not here.

“Mer” I mindlink her crawling.

Where is she.?

“Mer?” I asked again but there was no mindlink open. “Meredith!” I yell.

If this is a joke I will be fine , but I am sure it is not because she will not be like that. I know her. No matter how upset she is, she will never ignore me.

"Holy shit! This can't happen!" and I ran directly to Theo's room. She is sleeping but Mer is not here.

"Meredith!" I call her again, but nothing so I have no other chance but I mindlink Sam and Luke.

"Tell me that Meredith is with you" I said commandingly.

"She's not. I thought that she was with you." and Luke asks without a second thought:

"What did you do to her?"

"We had a fight" I simply say and right when I was ready to leave my floor to search for her in the pack I came face to face with Pete.

"Alpha," he said, almost crying. "Can you tell Luna that I didn't do anything, please?"

"What the fuck are you talking about, Pete?" I say pushing him to pass him.

"She came to me and took my phone and she was very upset" Pete said and my heart stopped right there. No, Meredith...you didn't...

"What did you say?" I asked and turn around and looked directly in Pete's eyes.

"She came to my room and commanded me to give her my phone. I tried to explain to her that I didn't do anything, but she was furious and took my phone. She can search everywhere she will not find any..." but I am not interested anymore in what he is saying and I mindlink dad and the boys and when they found me in my office they looked in panic at me.

"What the fuck happened with you?" dad asked .

"WHAT?"

"She left me!" I yell and hit everything around, breaking in pieces all the furniture, the book, my laptop. Even my windows are now in pieces.

"SHE LEFT ME!" and I start to tremble and that's the last thing I know because after that the darkness took me in his arms.

"Max!" I hear dad calling me.

"Brat! Open your eye" Grandpa said with a lot of calm and I started to blink.

"He's coming back. Let him breath" dad said. A lot of steps are moving around me and when I open my eyes I see that I am laying on my office floor.

Why am I laying on this floor? I need to find Mer.!

"Did you find her?" I ask while I find the strength to stay on my knees and my head down. "Tell me that she is back!"

"Find who, max?" Dad asked "What is going on here?" but I am not able to say another word and the panic got me for good right now.

"Meredith" I whispered "She left me..." and I started to cry. I cry so hard that I feel that the entire pack feels my emotions and they start to panic.

Mom comes in a rush in my office, and also the girls.

"Who died?" Vivienne asks and that's the last drop.

"Why are you looking like that?" I start to yell. "Find her! She left me and went alone after Manganiello!" and I start to break everything around me again, and everyone is just looking at me with pity.

"We will talk later about why she left you" Grandpa said and looking at Sam he said. "Bring your laptop Sammy. Do your magic and find her. If she is wearing the bracelet from your grandma, we will find her."

"She took Pete Silverstone's phone. Can you track it?" I ask, trying to breathe, but I just can't do it.

"I can track any device if it's open." and I see Sam opening his laptop and looking at something. "James installed this software in my laptop too, this should work.” and he does a little typie-type on the keyboard and looks at me, he said.

“I found her!” and then looking at Grandpa he starts coughing “You will not like this.”

“Where is she?” I asked growling.

“Mount Tantalus!”

“Let’s find her!” I command and signal everyone to follow me but I just realize something.

“Grandpa , you will stay here and call Landon and James. You will not come and risk your life with those hunters. Meredith would kill me if something happened to you. And you!” and I look at Sam. “Stay here and watch her position. Search everything you can about her. “

“I will man” he said even if I know that he is not agreeing with that.

“Let’s go, Stark! Let’s find her!” and that’s the last thing I said before to transform in our wolf form and run to Mount Tantalus with dad and Luke and all our warriors. All. Including Pete.
