

167 Chapter 167 Till death!

Author's POV 1

"Tell me everything you know about hunters, Pete" Max said while the rest of the gang and all the alphas that came looked at him.

"They will feel us when we will come closer to them. My father can feel a werewolf from one mile away.

"Father?" an alpha from Mexico asked.

"Yes , alpha." Pete said with dignity. "I am Michele Manganiello's son." and everyone stood on their feet ready to kill him but Pete said.

"I am a werewolf and I hate my father. All I want is this to end and serve my alpha!" and he looked at Max, without caring that on his back some of the alphas were making plans to kill him.

"The hunters have an additional sense, if I could name it this way. Is not the smell it is something I can't explain in words, but I would say that is similar with the mate bond. Their entire being reacts when they meet a werewolf. The more powerful a werewolf is, the more turned on the hunter becomes."

"So what are you telling us?" James asked. "If we wait for them there will they know?"

“Yes, and they will run.” and Pete thinks of something but Landon is faster than he is.

“What if we'll find a human to help us? Someone crazy enough to risk his life for some money but to be our eyes and ears there.”

“That could work,” they heard a man saying somewhere in the back.” My daughter is a witch and she could protect herself if something is not going right, and she doesn't need your money, alpha Quinn!”

“Manganiello has senses for witches too?” the man asked Pete, fearing for his daughter's safety.

“No , alpha, he has an “crush” on werewolves” and everyone relaxed a bit hearing him.

And they prepared, took weapons, looked on maps and stood far enough from the place where Meredith will face Manganiello, so that their presence would be a surprise.

In the evening when the time came, the witch sent the alarm.

“They are here alpha! And the royal wolf too. “ but they all heard her on speaker.

“She is the most beautiful wolf I have ever seen , dad...”

“Hide yourself!” Max said and signaling to everyone they encircled the place.

"They know that you are here!" the witch said.
"They panicked and looked around for a place to run or hide."

"Just hide!" Max and her dad commanded.

"I can't . She needs help, dad!" the woman cried.

"They will kill her!"

And Max's heart just stopped. Stark almost died and everything went back.

"You didn't hear anything!" Carter shouted in his face. "You must move and save her!"

"Max!" Sam and Luke and Francois yelled, and that was the last straw. Carter punched him in the face making him become focused again.

"Save her, stupid!" Carter shouted at him.

Max looked around at all the alpha that came with him and jumping in the air he let Stark take control.

"Holy goddess!" the alphas said. "He is huge!" and felt a little bit complexed by his stature, but when Francoise transforms himself and lets Avi run after Max they are even more shocked. Carter, James and Landon follow them, and also the entire crowd and in the end they reached the place where Meredith is, they are in shock.

Right there, above the Punchbowl is something like a meadow, and there in that open space

Meredith is fighting with at least twenty hunters at the same time, while Manganiello just stays and watches her with astonishment.

"Holy fucking shit!" the alphas said, and without losing another second they throw themselves in the middle of the hunters and it is really as Max said, a fight one to one.

"Meredith!" Max growled, seeing her encircled by hunters but she is so focused that she is not able to speak right now. She is fighting with twenty hunters, but she killed another twenty at least.

"Mer" he mindlink her "I am sorry!" he whispered.

"Max.." she cried from the middle of the hunters, while Max tried to reach to her, killing hunter after hunter, until he came face to face with Manganiello.

"I am so sorry. I was a jerk. I am so sorry for what I said." and he looks into Manganiello's eyes, who takes out his knife and wipe his blade on his shirt.

"Nice fur" Manganiello laughed. "I will make a nice hat with it.

"Mer.." Max whispered looking straight in Manganiello's eyes, knowing that this could be the end.

"I love you!"

And that made Meredith stop and turning her head she sees Max attacking Manganiell, who jumps over Max and digs his knife in Max's back.

"Nooo!" Sam, Carter...Luke...everyone yelled but Meredith felt that she would die.

She looked at all the hunters that encircled her like some fucking hyenas and beyond them she only sees Max, bleeding and Manganiello trying to him him again. And that's the point where the mind went crazy and any normal human would pray for something to happen.

"Moon Goddess!" she yelled and revolted.

"What's so good about being a royal or a primordial wolf if I am for no use right now!" Are you fucking mocking me?" and she runs directly to Manganiello , killing in her way everyone, while the rest of the alphas remain with their mouths wide open. They came here to fight, and yes in less than ten minutes Meredith killed in fury half of those hunters.

"Give me my power, Moon Goddess!" Meredith yelled and jumping in the air she hit Manganiello with Artemis's paws in his head and his back, making him fall to the ground.

"You will regret not accepting my proposal!" Manganiello said. "We would have been a great couple. You would have liked me" and he lifts himself from the ground.

"I like you dead!" Meredith growls at him and watches Max, who starts to crawl from there.

Manganiello is waving his knife around trying to intimidate Meredith, but she is completely furious right now.

"James and Francois" she commands them. "Help Max. Take him from here." and hearing her Manganiello tries to reach Max again, but this time Meredith is prepared and as soon as he touches her Meredith jumps in his head and transforms in human form, She circled her arms and legs around his neck and suffocate him.

"Help Max!" she shouted again and he held Manganiello like this until they take Max away, and only when she feels that he is safe she lets Manganiello go.

"You have some guts for a woman," Manganiello said holding his neck with his hand.

"More than your parents. They weren't a match for me. Just as your alpha was down from the first touch."

"I will kill you," Meredith said, but this time she is smirking at him, because Artemis is the one who is controlling her.

"Keep dreaming woman!" Manganiello said and looking around he sees that at this moment he is alone. All his hunters are dead. He sees Pete and Carter's side and he knows that his own son sold him.

"You and me," Meredith said. "I win, you will die. You win, I will die!" and hearing her Max wants to stand up but the wound made by that knife is very deep as he is just whispering.

"No Mer"

"You and me, Manganiello!" Meredith repeated, ignoring everyone.

"You and me!" and this time it was Manganiello who said it. "Till death!"
